1st Week Wrap-up

Frosh Week

Although the 13th did not fall on a Friday this month, it did have evil connotations—the beginning of “Frosh Days” at Venango Campus. Members of the Freshman class were put through a variety of somewhat diabolical punishments: several torrid love scenes, singing and dancing of the highland fling with original costuming, a frog hunt and air raids.

During Frosh Days all Freshmen were privileged to wear the beloved and traditional dink along with their name sign and Frosh customs book. Friendship was promoted by greetings of “Hi” to everyone the freshmen met. Their respect was demonstrated by addressing all upperclassmen as “Ma’am” and “Sir.”

In addition all Frosh were required to walk up the driveway, use only the main entrance, and walk single file through the halls. They were not permitted to smoke anywhere in the building except the smoke shack which was erected in the multi-purpose room.

Frosh Rules

Due to expanded facilities at the campus, Frosh rules were made to carry out the spirit and tradition in the dormitories and dining hall. Upperclassmen were served and entertained by the freshmen during meals. In the boys' dormitory, there was a chorus of “Good Morning Dear Sophomores” each day, and greetings expressing their delight that they could be of service to upperclassmen for two weeks.

Things were a bit more sadistic in the girls' dormitory. They engaged in 3 a.m. exercises, cold showers at midnight and a shoe scramble.

Kangaroo Court was instituted to decide the fate of foolhardy Frosh who attempted to defy their superiors. The judges were Sam Cangemi and Denny O'Neil. John Chronowski did his best to impartially defend the Frosh. The somewhat scathing prosecution was provided by Jon Kallmyer. The jury was comprised of kind-hearted and generous sophomores.

“Frosh Days” was climaxed by the annual “De-Dinking” ceremony which was held at Venango Campus on September 24.

All freshmen were required to attend.

Class Officers and Senate

On Wednesday, September 8, the sophomore class under the advisement of Mr. John Cliff, instructor in Mathematics, elected its officers for the year.

Those chosen include: president, Larry Schwabenbauer; vice president, Paul Kemble; secretary, Jane Stiglitz; and treasurer, Pam Kelly.

This year's student senate members include: president, Denny O'Neil; secretary, Kathy Spangler; Robin Morris, Nancy Hoover, and Jon Kallmyer.

Freshmen class officers and senate members will be determined in the near future.

Student Workshop

Student leaders at CSC considered ways to break communication barriers at their eighth annual Leadership Workshop on Sept. 3, 4, and 5.

Addresses were given by Dr. David A. Hilton, Dr. Roger Hufford, Mr. Kenneth G. Vayda, and Mr. Willard M. Mecklenburg.

Following each speaker, discussion groups probed ideas presented by the speakers. A new feature was a student-faculty panel which considered how to quicken Clarion's social life.

Dr. Allan R. Elliott, dean of students, spoke at a buffet dinner for participants of the workshop.

The three-day meeting involved 74 Clarion student leaders and faculty members concerned with student affairs.

Grants and Gifts

Grants and gifts totaling $371,697 were received by CSC from four federal programs to augment and initiate educational and financial aid requirements of CSC students.

An H.E.W. grant of $18,000 provides for five senior traineeships in the field of education for handicapped children. Another H.E.W. grant of $33,549 is for the extension of a demonstration of uses of programmed instruction materials for selected high school students in rural and semi-rural high schools.

The $84,198 available through the college Work-Study Program grant aided 1965 student summer employment and the 1965-66 academic year.

Student loan programs based on local matching funds of $19,950 was augmented by $175,950, of which $33,862 has been received.

EXPECTANT FANS began early to fill the new Clarion State College Stadium in anticipation of Saturday's game. The weather—it was hot.

Casualties Sustained

Bombers Capture Victory Despite Strong Defense

The score went against Clarion's Golden Eagles when they lost to the Ithaca Bombers 7-0, Saturday, Sept. 18. But able Eagle defenders kept the game from becoming a rout.

The contest was the first game held at the new Clarion State College stadium before a crowd of approximately 3,600 fans.

The Golden Eagles loss was mainly to injuries prior to the game, and during the first half. Two severe injuries—Alex Arth with a broken leg, and Harry George with a fractured nose—eliminated two key starters in the Golden Eagle's defense.

Also contributing to the loss was the sweltering 90 degree weather and the skilled ball-control style of Coach Dick Lyon's Bombers.

The only touchdown in the game was scored in the first quarter on a half-back option pass of 14 yards by James Harris, the Bomber's quarterback to Frank Fazio. Fazio kicked the extra point.

During the remaining quarters, the Golden Eagles maintained a strong defense against the Bombers.

Key man in that defense was Bob Garritano. Due to his powerful tackling and the teamwork of other Clarion linemen, they were able to form a human wall which prevented the Bombers from getting within scoring range during the last three quarters.

The Golden Eagles came within scoring distance three times in the fourth quarter. But they were unable to break through the Bombers' determined defense.

A five-yard penalty against Clarion, when they were within two yards of a first down, killed their final attempt to score.

Ithaca gained a total of 226 yards rushing and passing compared to the Golden Eagles' 205 yard total. But Clarion outpassed Ithaca by a total of 86 to 62 yards.

Dark horse Don Hohman proved to be one of the outstanding players. Though he was not a starter, he accumulated 62 yards rushing and receiving. This, added to Mike Giunta's 57 yards and Jim Miller's 40 yards, contributed to the Golden Eagles' drive for a possible victory.

There were also alert reactions on fumbles on the defensive squad by Frank Grundler, Alex Arth, Tom Reiber and Bob Crystal.

The Golden Eagles, even though they lost their first game, expect to present a strong threat to any other opposition. A good season is anticipated by Coach Al Jacks and his squad.

3M Company Presents Teaching Aids to CSC

The Visual Products Department of the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing has presented a grant of $2,000 to CSC. This is the second such grant received by CSC.

The gift will be used under the direction of Prof. Leonard A. Pfaff, director of audio-visual education, to add to the present course of study in the use of new teaching tools and methods offered at CSC.

The $2,000 grant package includes the 3 M visual communications system and the materials to help teachers properly utilize the system.

Included in the grant are: a copier and transparency maker, classroom overhead projector, portable overhead projector, transparency film and related accessories.

The aim of the project is to communicate knowledge more efficiently and to increase the dynamic force of each teacher, by making possible the easy production of supplementary textual materials.

R. H. Herzog, 3 M vice president, said that “3 M feels strongly that industry has a responsibility to support the U.S. educational system and that the new program seeks to do this through providing better training for teachers.”

DUTIFUL FRESHMEN spilled gallons of sudsy water in their efforts to wash the stadium seats in preparation for Clarion's first varsity game.

Suit Case College — A Disease to Fight

CLARION

Oh Clarion, dear Clarion,
Oh high school on the hill
To all the joys of weekend life
Our hearts have never thrilled
To home and "joy" and "happiness"
I'm sorry—schedule's filled.

Oh Clarion, dear Clarion,
We hedge our faith to you,
With lasting loss—nonloyalty
In servitude to blue.
For you dear old "Doria"*
We'll be like rats—untrue.

*The liner Andrea Doria

In case you do not know the original version, it can be found on page fifty-nine of that student handbook.

Our campus is suffering from a malignant disease: The Runs home and back. Like all malignant diseases it grows and festers—infecting not only old tissue but new as well. Like monkeys in a laboratory experiment the new imitate the old, the "Samsonite disease" is solidly in control, dictating how one's weekends are not to be spent.

At five p.m. (Post Mortem) every Friday, the hearts pump, the pulse rate rises, the hands perspire, and the only cure available is the concentrated coddleism found only by ridding oneself of the negative dose of the campus community and being inoculated with homebodyness.

As vaccine could never have been discovered without each component in the cyclic process, neither can a campus function or thrive without its main component—the student body. Yet each weekend and indeed much of the time, Clarion must try to pull through on its own without much student help.

"Where do you go to school?" In a small, mousy, low-volumed voice, wishing you could sink away, you hedge, then drop the information like a rotten egg; "oh, a small college, Clarion State." Do we students actually work for Clarion State full time? Have you ever found yourself proclaiming to others with the zeal of Mercury, "I go to Clarion State, a progressive school with a great future!" Or do you talk about Clarion with the inactivity of a fat, dormant pack rat? Do you ever think of Clarion as something more than chattel slavery, which owes you so much? Indeed, do we as students give so much?

Two thousand eight hundred students are now in transient on our campus what are we, captains or crew, cats or rats, enlisted men or deserters? It is our hope that we will all be energetic boosters of that "College on the hill." After all, if one suffers from that malignant disease, if one is ashamed of our school, perhaps he should change. There are schools where perhaps they will accept non-contents, disease spreaders, and the student "without a school."

New and Old Mingle on Clarion Campus

Once again, we, the students at Clarion State College, are beginning a new semester. There are many new faces on campus, on the faculty, in the administration, and on the Call staff. The Call staff welcomes the new faces and extends best wishes to returning students, faculty, and administration.

With many new staff members, new editors, and a new advisor, the Call will embark on several new ideas. Our new ideas will attempt to improve the format of the paper and also to make it an up-to-date bulletin of student activities and future events. As students of the college, we will appreciate constructive suggestions and comments.

New Cafeteria Opening Anticipated

January of 1966 will bring about the induction of a spacious new dining location for students of Clarion State College.

The construction, which can be seen taking place on the site above Egbert Hall, will result in what has been termed "one of the best dining halls in any small college in this state." The plans for this edifice were on view at the New York World's Fair.

The new hall will possess a seating capacity of 1,400, as opposed to the capacity of 310 in Becht Hall. Students will form four lines to receive the meals prepared by an increased labor force with the aid of completely new machinery. Private dining areas will be available for special faculty, fraternity or sorority dinners.

Along with the above facts, the management of the present dining hall states that a change in price will not accompany the change in location. Information pertaining to requirements of residence and dress have not yet been disclosed.

A truly American sentiment recognizes the dignity of labor and the fact that honor lies in honest toil.

Music for the event was furnished by the Phil Runzo Combo, a local organization.

Investigation of the CSC Book Store burglary which occurred between the night of March 29 and early morning of March 30, 1965, has continued throughout the summer and is still in progress.

During the summer, the investigation had continued with interviews of many individuals, without any significant evidence established. However, on August 6, some evidence pertaining to the burglary was uncovered and upon investigation of this evidence by the State Police and Mr. Thaddeus Droast, CSC director of security, physical evidence was obtained. This physical evidence is currently being processed at the Criminal Investigation Laboratory of the Pa. State Police, Harrisburg, Pa.

The processing of this evidence is being done by Lieutenant Joseph Dussia with the Bureau of Detectives, Pa. State Police. The investigation is pending the results of the laboratory.

Venango Campus News

Three sophomores and five freshmen comprise the newly named student library staff of Mrs. Mary E. Williams, librarian of the Venango Campus of CSC.

Dennis Lavery, Paulette Loper, and Cheryl Rosenberry are the returning sophomores who will aid Mrs. Williams in her library duties.

The remainder of the staff is made up of the following freshmen: Randa Adams, Cynthia Folmeyer, Norma Osterling, Elaine Reynolds and Janice Rifenberrick. To enlarge the capacity of the library to approximately six thousand volumes, one double faced stack and one single faced stack have been ordered. Air conditioning has also been installed in the library and is expected to be in operation soon.

A microfilm reader has been purchased and microfilms of such periodicals as: The New York Times, Life, Saturday Review, Time and U. S. News and World Report, are now available to the students at Venango Campus for the first time.

To aid the students in keeping up with the latest books acquired by the library, Mrs. Williams suggested that each student consult the main bulletin board of the campus where some of the book jackets are posted along with a list of new books. The list also calls attention to guides for the college student's reading. These include: Books for a College Student's Reading, Good Reading, and The College and Adult Reading List.

Now being highlighted in the library's display case is a display of the written works of Mark Twain and mementoes of his life. Much of the material for the display was graciously loaned to the library by Mr. John Reinhardt, assistant professor of English at Venango Campus who is an ardent Mark Twain enthusiast.

Featured with the display are two long play albums, Hal Holbrook and Mark Twain Tonight, which may be played by students on the library's record player during school hours.

The boy of today is the citizen of tomorrow.

National Teacher Exams Scheduled

College seniors preparing to teach school may take the National Teacher Examination on any of four different dates announced by Educational Testing Service.

Dates scheduled are: December 11, 1965; and March 19, July 16, and October 8, 1966. The tests will be given at nearly 500 locations throughout the United States.

Results of the National Teacher Examinations are used by many large school districts as one of several factors in the selection of new teachers. Several states use these scores for certification or licensing of teachers.

Some colleges also require all seniors preparing to teach to take examinations.

Lists of school systems which use the examination results are distributed to colleges by ETS, a nonprofit, educational organization which prepares and administers the examinations.

On each day of testing, prospective teachers may take the Common Examinations, which measure the professional and general preparation of teachers and one of 13 Teaching Area Examinations (formerly called Optional Examinations) which measure mastery of the subject they expect to teach.

Prospective teachers should contact the school systems in which they seek employment, or their colleges, for specific advice on which dates tests should be taken.

A bulletin of information containing a list of test centers and information about the examinations, as well as a registration form, may be obtained from college placement officers, school personnel departments, or directly from National Teachers Examinations, Box 911, Educational Testing Service, Princeton, New Jersey.

Play Opening Set

The College Players are presently in production of Jean Anouilh's play, "The Lark."

The play deals with the life and death of Joan of Arc and the cast is led by Carol McDonald in the title role of Joan. Mr. Bob H. Copeland is directing the production and sets are being designed by Mr. Adam Weiss. Both men are instructors in the Dept. of Speech and Dramatic Arts.

The play will be presented October 20-23 in the College Chapel.

Best of luck to brothers Ken McCall and Bob Hudak who are student teaching this semester.

Larry Martin, athletic chairman, has entered our teams in intramural football and bowling. Good luck to these teams.

John Silinsh, Region Two Vice President, visited our colony and while here consulted with the brothers concerning housing for the coming semester.

DELTA ZETA

The sisters of Delta Zeta congratulate Judy Gamble, Judy Tuminella and Elaine Daniels, who are active Clarion cheerleaders this year. Judy Gamble is this year's captain.

At the close of last year, the Delts enjoyed a lovely evening at the Hilton Hotel in Pittsburgh for their annual dinner dance.

The Delts wish success to their following sisters who are student teaching this semester: Lois Evans, Lois Petrovich, Toni Martinelli, Marlene Scardamalia, Barbie Shaw, Polly Ritts, Connie Wool-slayer, and Kathy Ward.

THETA XI

We hope the freshmen enjoyed Kangaroo Court with Brother Bob Janone as prosecutor.

The Brothers are pleased to have with us this year our new housemother, Mrs. Hale. Her presence has already made many noticeable changes, such as girls in the house and a clean lounge.

To the brothers who are student teaching, the Chapter says good luck. Congratulations to Brother Heinricher, a graduate of 1965, on his acceptance to Bucknell Graduate School.

Congratulations to Brothers Miller and Brennan for winning the Theta Xi Scholarship Awards.

To all Brothers participating in intramural sports, the Chapter wishes you success in all events.

SIGMA DELTA PHI

The Sisters of Sigma Delta Phi are most proud and happy to announce that we have been accepted into Alpha Sigma Tau national Sorority and are anxiously awaiting the beginning of our pledge period.

One of our first projects this year will be a bake sale, to be held September 25 in front of Penneys'. On sale also will be a dessert cookbook. The drawing for our raffle, a $10 gift certificate for selection at Jerri's or Crooks will be held Friday, the 24th.

Congratulations to Donna Kahle for making majorettes.

The Sisters welcome back Becky Stewart and Donna Brown, who for the past year have been studying in France.

Much success is wished to our sisters who are now beginning their student teaching.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

ALPHA CHI RHO

Brothers Dan John and Joe Eckhardt attended Leadership Workshop and assisted in planning a Greek weekend for the second semester.

Brothers Joe Eckhardt and Dennis Raymer attended the National Convention in Syracuse this year. One of the most important results of the Convention was that the fraternity has taken on a National Service Project in which all the chapters will participate. This is being done to show that fraternities do have a definite value in areas other than social activities.

Good luck to Brothers Bill Benson, Vaughn Garvin, Mike Maloney and Ed Edder who are student teaching.

IFC Approves New Rush Policy

At a meeting held September 20, the Inter-Fraternity Council of CSC unanimously passed a new rush policy.

The new policy, as drawn up by a committee composed of members of four fraternities reads as follows:

(1) Rushing will begin at the beginning of the semester and continue on a year round basis.

(2) To be eligible to pledge, a man must be a full time member of the college with at least a 2.00 overall average. Transfer students are eligible as soon as they register on this campus, providing they have the required average. A Freshman may pledge during his first semester here IF he has attended summer school previous to that semester, taking at least 12 credits and has attained the necessary average.

(3) A man may be pledged at any time during the semester, but a list of pledges for the semester must be handed in to the IFC on or before a determined deadline. The deadline is set at such a time so as to allow a fraternity to run an entire pledge program terminating before the end of the semester.

(4) The number of rush parties and smokers held by each Fraternity will be up to the individual groups. However, all Fraternities will be required to participate in an IFC Smoker Night, at which time, each fraternity will hold a Smoker and the IFC will invite all eligible men to attend it. Such a smoker will be held on Monday evening, September 27.

(5) Failure to submit a list of pledges to the IFC on or before the deadline will disqualify that fraternity from taking pledges for that semester.

(6) Pledging of a man without the required average will cost the guilty Fraternity $100 (one hundred dollars), and the depledging of the man in question will be required.

(7) Pledges may also be taken during the summer providing the man has a 2.00 average and is a full time student of the college. His name should be included on the list for the next semester.

We hope that by this new policy, more men will see their way clear to go Greek.

Housing Trouble

The advent of a new term has brought several inconveniences to the resident students here in Oil City.

Until the new dormitory is completed in early October, the men and women are living at the local Y's. The women seem to be experiencing more problems. Their beds, which will be used in the new dorm, are placed on the gym floor of the YWCA.

The dining room of the YW is the counterpart of the multi-purpose room at the campus. It serves as a dining hall, study room for girls, and on weekends, it acts as a student union for all residents.

The deadline for this semester is November 1. Only the men on these lists will be considered as pledges for the semester. The averages will then be checked by the IFC rushing committee. A man pledged after the deadline can only be considered as a pledge for the following semester, and the IFC should be informed of such pledges.

(4) The number of rush parties and smokers held by each Fraternity will be up to the individual groups. However, all Fraternities will be required to participate in an IFC Smoker Night, at which time, each fraternity will hold a Smoker and the IFC will invite all eligible men to attend it. Such a smoker will be held on Monday evening, September 27.

(5) Failure to submit a list of pledges to the IFC on or before the deadline will disqualify that fraternity from taking pledges for that semester.

We hope that by this new policy, more men will see their way clear to go Greek.

Frats Seek Houses

Two fraternities at the present are not located in houses.

Alpha Gamma Phi Fraternity has no house because the alumni group which was leasing the house on Wilson Avenue dissolved.

Theta Chi Fraternity was financially unable to renew its lease for this semester.

The Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity house didn't meet with the off-campus housing regulations so the Phi Sigs are living in the house on a temporary basis until the renovation now in progress is completed and approved.

Forty-one male CSC students are now living in the Wilson Avenue Dormitory and 28 are living in the former Theta Chi house.

Mr. Charles Thomas, dean of men, is working for "a good fraternity system which can make a contribution to its membership and to the student body as well."

Lecture Series Begins

The British Culture Center at CSC began this year's series of programs at the Chapel with an address by Dr. Winthrop Francis on "Varieties of English," Sept. 22 at 8 p.m.

Dr. Francis, professor at Brown University, Providence, R. I., is a long-time scholar of linguistics and director of the Commission on the English Language.

She is corresponding secretary for Delta Zeta Sorority. In high school, she was a cheerleader for four years and this is her second year as a CSC cheerleader. Sorority, PSEA and the Council of Exceptional Children. Swimming, tennis and reading are Judi's favorite activities.

Cheerleading tryouts will be held this week and three regular cheerleaders will be chosen, plus a substitute cheerleader.

PSEA Visits Allenberry

The Clarion State College chapter of the Pennsylvania State Education Association has begun its fall activities with the participation of four delegates in the Leadership Conference at Allenberry, Pa.

Attending the two day conference were Robert Drescher, president, Ruth Pushkar, vice president, Linda Dorn, secretary, and Dr. Mildred E. Ross, faculty advisor for PSEA.

The central theme for the conference was entitled "Leadership: If Not I, Who? If Not Today, When?" Workshop session discussions centered on purpose and status of PSEA, program planning, and publicity and membership campaigns. In addition, there were many noteworthy speakers, and a symposium conducted by Walter J. O'Brien, Executive Secretary, Philadelphia Teachers Association. The delegates discovered many useful ideas and suggestions which will help make PSEA and its 415 members the most active organization on campus.

CSC Debaters to Pit Skill Against Cambridge U. Team

Nancy Caldwell and Jean Elliot will represent Clarion State College in a parliamentary debate with the Cambridge University debate team in the College Chapel on Monday, November 8.

The resolution the team will discuss is that "American Culture is Debased and Debasement."

An Oil City native, Nancy Caldwell, a junior, is majoring in elementary education. She was a member of the CSC team which placed third in the state in 1963.

Jean Elliot, a sophomore, majoring in English and speech, is from Knox. She was a member of the CSC varsity team which tied for third place in a championship meet sponsored by Pi Kappa Delta National Tournament in Tacoma, Washington.

Both Nancy Caldwell and Jean Elliot were members of last year's team which tied for second place in the preliminary rounds.

The Cambridge University students who will participate are John Christopher H. Davies and Norman S. H. Lamont. Both men are graduates of Cambridge University and have been active in student extra curricular activities.

Mr. Davies, who holds a B.A. degree in economics and sociology, hopes to become a university lecturer in sociology. A career in politics and journalism is the goal of Mr. Lamont who holds a degree in economics.

One of the highlights of Clarion's Homecoming 1965 will be the dedication of the new college stadium by the Honorable William W. Scranton, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The $432,000 Stadium, with a seating capacity of 4,000 will be dedicated during halftime of the Homecoming football game.

In addition to Governor Scranton's dedicatory address, there will be an invocation by the Rev. David Lutz, Protestant Campus Counsel, a welcome address by Dr. James Gemmell, Clarion College President, and an acceptance speech by Mr. E. Clinton Stitt, President of the Board of Trustees. The College Band, under the direction of Stanley F. Michalski, will also entertain during the halftime.

Prior to the football game, ceremonies will be held at the Stadium at which Frances Martinelli will be crowned Homecoming Queen by Bob Garritano, Captain of the Golden Eagle football team. Miss Martinelli, a senior from Harrison City, is an elementary education major and is presently student teaching in New Bethlehem. Her senior attendants are Lois Evans, of Export, and Kathleen Homitz from Burgetstown.

Other class representatives in the Homecoming court are: Juniors Elke Christine Stevens of Levittown and Sandra Falloretta of Ambridge; Sophomores Judi Darnofall of Cory and Melanie Martin of Muncie; Freshmen Patty Drugman of Bridgeville and Judith Karabinos of Moon Run, and from Venango Campus, Sophomore Nancy Hoover of Franklin and Janice Kay of New Castle.

The Queen will be escorted by John Cuthbertson, vice president of Student Senate. Senior Dale Frye is the chairman of this Homecoming event.

Homecoming Day will begin with the annual Autumn Leaf Festival

FRANCES MARTINELLI

Parade. The theme is "Main Street U.S.A." and floats will be decorated in accordance with this theme.

The College Marching Band will be the lead band in the parade, and the Homecoming Queen and her court will follow in convertibles.

Many campus organizations will be represented in the parade by floats or cars. Participating groups are the sororities of Alpha Sigma Tau, Beta Chi Upsilon, Delta Zeta, Sigma Sigma Sigma, and Zeta Tau Alpha. Participating fraternities are Alpha Chi Rho, Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Tau Gamma, Theta Chi, and Theta Xi, also the Newman Club, Student Christian Association, P.S.E.A., and the Venango Campus Student Senate.

Regarding Alumni Association news, Mr. Ernest Aharrah, CSC State Council Alumni representative, was elected STATE Alumni Council President.

Mr. Merle Streebell has accepted the chairmanship of a committee to organize a Venango County Chapter of the Alumni Association. Venango County alumni will be hearing from Mr. Streebell and his committee very soon.

Dr. Mervin Streebler is giving our Association aid in organizing a Washington, D. C., area chapter. There are other chapters which need organizing, so why not give us your help in organizing your area? With area chapters, we could exchange ideas and plans throughout the year, not just on Homecoming or Alumni Day.

Mr. Frank Campbell, Alumni Bulletin editor, needs news about you and articles for our bulletin. You can give us these in person at our booth or write us. The news will be published in our next spring bulletin.

Again we welcome you and hope your visit is an enjoyable one.

Homecoming -- A Group Effort

Once again, Clarion and Clarion State College have cooperated to celebrate the Autumn Leaf Festival and Homecoming. The college organizations are proud to participate in this event which is climaxed by the annual Homecoming football game and the crowning of the queen.

This year's Homecoming is especially meaningful because Governor William Scranton will preside at the official dedication of the new stadium. We appreciate the Governor's attendance and are proud to welcome him to Clarion.

The student body would like to take this opportunity to thank the Governor and all those who have participated in Homecoming, and especially the returning alumni for whom it is planned.

Present Housing Conditions Make Adjustment Necessary

Any time an institution is growing and developing as rapidly as Clarion State College is at present, a certain amount of adjustment and inconvenience is inevitable.

Not only is there the short term dislocation caused by torn-up sidewalks, relocation of offices and excavations on the campus, but housing is crowded as well.

All who are concerned with CSC women's housing are painfully aware that difficult situations exist in some of the dormitories because of overcrowding. In such circumstances what would otherwise be normal activities and normal noise, cause difficulties. As a result, additional patience and forbearance is called for from all persons involved.

Newspaper Week Proclaimed

President Lyndon B. Johnson made the following comments on newspapers of the United States:

Too often taken for granted, America's countless daily and weekly papers have been vital guardians of her time-honored traditions and eloquent spokesmen for the cherished ideals of her freedom-loving people. Taken together, our nation's newspapers constitute the world's most responsible and effective organ of current information.

It is up to us to safeguard the freedom of our papers, to inquire, to criticize, to express divergent views, and to stand as sentinels for the public wherever the public's business is being transacted. Newspapers and their readers are partners in freedom, and, if we fail to defend the freedom of our press, we neglect our own.

Governor William W. Scranton issued the following, proclaiming the week of October 10-16 as National Newspaper Week in Pennsylvania:

"The public's right to know is one of the most vital factors in our American democracy.

"Newspapers are and have always been one of the important media by which the vast American public is kept thoroughly informed daily of events throughout the world.

"The wide influence of the American press on public understanding of major issues cannot be overemphasized.

"The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has a great many outstanding newspapers which serve our people with accuracy and integrity and are deserving of our tribute during Newspaper Week.

"It is appropriate that Pennsylvanians pause once each year to join the observance of this Week and give due recognition to journalism as an important medium of public information.

CAMPUS POST

Editor:

Sept. 25th's Call presented the case of the "suitcase fever" which is affecting the student body in general.

Perhaps it would be good to look at some of the underlying causes for this "illness."

Look at the "Activities Calendar." Is there much scheduled to entice the student body to stay over a weekend? A close look at this phase might give some revealing answers and if the cause is found, maybe the cure could also be discovered.

The calendar, as it stands, offers little to hold students on campus. Granted there will be activities which could not be planned far enough ahead to be placed on the calendar. This might be one reason for a rather dull schedule of events.

Another might be more complex. In the past years, there have been many dances with well-known orchestras. There were none of these planned this semester. Why? Because for almost every one of those dances, at least one if not all, of the fraternities planned a party at the same time to compete with the dance. The result of this: the dances were termed "a flop" because of poor attendance and lack of interest. What well-known orchestra or band would want a performance at an almost empty house?

It would seem that if the administration should schedule these affairs and be backed by the student body (since we do pay for them with our activity fee), then on weekends when no college function is planned, the individual organizations could hold their parties and activities we would have a very busy calendar of events. If the private organizations work with instead of against the administration, maybe there is a cure for this "suitcase fever."

KACY CRAMER

Editor:

May I express my appreciation for the excellent coverage of the Clarion-Ithaca game of Saturday, Sept. 18.

We in the music department are pleased and grateful for the generous recognition given to Stanley Michalski and the CSC Band. I would like, however, to correct a few misstatements made during the halftime show by the announcer for WWCH. Namely, "Clarion State College has no music program and no music majors; any student wishing to major in music or study music seriously would probably go to another state college that specializes in music."

Until very recently, these statements would have been entirely true. However, as of May 1964, CSC does have a program for music majors within the liberal arts curriculum. Future plans include degrees both in music (B.M.) and music education (B.S. in Music Education.)

Currently the music department is being expanded and developed to achieve the highest excellence in curriculum, faculty, and physical facilities.

Our curriculum has been redesigned to provide our students with the breadth and depth of background, experience and skill in music theory, history and literature, applied music and ensemble music necessary to prepare them for further graduate study.

I am calling attention to these facts because I believe that as a major source of information to the public and as a supporter of CSC, you should be aware of them.

The department of music needs and appreciates your continued assistance in making known to the residents of this area what we are trying to build.

—Dr. Robert S. Van Meter

Editor:

As a former member of the "Call" staff, I wish to congratulate you on the improved editions. Comparatively speaking, this newspaper has definitely shown a marked progress—longer editions, wider scope of coverage, and directive attention to the Venango Campus.

In reference to the editorial of September 25, 1965, "Where do you go to school? Oh, a small college, Clarion State," I do not think that enough students take a zealous pride in their College. Since I have graduated from CSC, I have had many opportunities to meet people and be on the campuses of other state colleges; and I can justly say that even though we may not have the most attractive campus, we certainly do have the friendliest and better-mannered students.

Therefore, I sincerely urge those attending CSC never to be chastened over their small "college on the hill." If it is criticized, defend it. For only through faith in its progress and benefits (educational and social) can Clarion's reputation be changed.

A proud alumni,

Little Sisters Attend Mad Hatter's Party

The annual Big and Little Sister Party was held September 21, in Harvey Gymnasium.

The theme of the party was "Mad Hatter's Party" and this idea was followed by having the big and little sisters making and wearing matching hats.

The hats were judged on the basis of originality by Dean Gareis, Mrs. Robinson, head resident of Becht and Mrs. Wolfe, head resident of Ralston. First prizes were won by Judy Jones and her little sister and second prizes were won by Pam Warwick and her little sisters.

Entertainment was provided in the form of skits by the freshmen from each dormitory. Refreshments followed the skits.

Chairman of the party and of the big, little sister program for this year was Gwen Hummel. She was assisted at the party by Jacqueline Lloyd, Carol Kourkoulis and Rosemary Dilling.

In 1860, only four states in the Union were without newspapers. They were Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and North Dakota.

The first news syndicate was started in New York City in the fall of 1884, by Samuel Sydney McClure as the McClure Syndicate.

Eagles Chalk Up Two Wins, One Loss in Three Attempts

The score is now two wins and one loss for the Clarion Golden Eagles.

Saturday, October 2, at Reeves Stadium in Beaver Falls, Pa., the Eagles swooped down to catch a victory of 32 to 14 over the Golden Tornadoes of Geneva State College.

One week earlier, on September 25, the Golden Eagles battled fiercely for a 13 to 7 decision over the Mansfield Mountaineers.

In the Geneva match, CSC gridder Lou Panion dashed across the goal line in a 35-yard run for a touchdown in the second quarter. Zaccari scored the extra point.

The game was then tied in the third quarter when Golden Tornadoes' Larry Matrazzo threw a six-yard pass to Jim Campbell, followed by a pass from Matrazzo to Jim Hallas who kicked the extra point.

But Clarion got the upper hand late in the third quarter when Mike Giunta, the Eagles' halfback, dashed four yards for a second Clarion touchdown. Zaccari again scored the extra point.

Once more the game was close when the Tornadoes recovered a fumble on our own 35-yard line. Then a 33-yard pass by Clarion quarterback Mike Zaccari to end Jim Miller carried the ball to the 2-yard line.

Three unsuccessful plunges by Don Hohman failed to drive the ball home. Then Zaccari made an unorthodox end run, covered by a fake handoff by Don Hohman to a fullback.

Clarion gained possession of the ball in the fourth quarter when 231 pound Tom Reiber recovered a fumble on our own 35-yard line.

Then a 33-yard pass by Clarion quarterback Mike Zaccari to end Jim Miller carried the ball to the 2-yard line.

Three unsuccessful plunges by Don Hohman failed to drive the ball home. Then Zaccari made an unorthodox end run, covered by a fake handoff by Don Hohman to a fullback.

Clarion gained 331 yards compared to Mansfield's 301, and the Eagles out-passed the Mountaineers by 156 to 69 yards.

Outstanding yardage gainers for the Eagles were Mike Giunta with 106 yards rushing, and John Kriceri who gained 96 yards passing. Jim Miller and John De Rigg gained 67 and 56 yards pass receiving.

Contributing to the Golden Eagles' success was excellent tackling by Bob Garritano and Ken Gaudi. yards, Jim Miller—86 yards. Outstanding quarterback was John Kriceri who gained 154 yards passing.

Players with the most tackles accumulated on the defensive squad were Bob Garritano and Bob Crystol.

A Close Shave

In the Mansfield game, the score went against the Eagles in the first quarter when an 83-yard drive by the Mountaineers carried the ball within six inches of a touchdown. The play was completed by Doepeke on a quarterback sneak, after which Whitman scored on the conversion for the Mountaineers.

It was not until the third quarter that the Golden Eagles were able to score when Mike Giunta, five foot eight, 155 pound freshman from Butler, Pa., crashed the Mountaineers' defense and, along with two key blocks, galloped 56 yards for Clarion's first touchdown.

Zaccari then tied the game 7 to 7 with a conversion.

Clarion gained possession of the ball in the fourth quarter when 231 pound Tom Reiber recovered a fumble on our own 35-yard line.

Then a 33-yard pass by Clarion quarterback Mike Zaccari to end Jim Miller carried the ball to the 2-yard line.

Clarion Freshman Team Routs Indiana

Clarion's freshman football team shut out Indiana's freshman team 26-0 Monday afternoon, Oct. 4, at Miller Stadium, Indiana, Pa.

The freshmen Golden Eagles, led by quarterback Jim Becker, were inside the ten yard line several times but were unable to overcome the Indian's defense. The score at the end of the first half remained scoreless.

In the third quarter of play, Becker ended the stalemate with a 40-yard pass to Ed Tappe to score the Golden Eagles' first touchdown of the game.

Late in the third quarter, quarterback Jim Becker, behind a wall of blocks, raced by the Indians' defensive stronghold on a 55-yard touchdown run.

The Indians were forced to punt from their own territory in the fourth quarter. Unfortunately for the Indians, Clarion's Tom Kurtz received the punt and steamed 70 yards for the Golden Eagles' third touchdown. The point after the touchdown was made by Fred Wickstrom on a run play.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON

The Brothers of Phi Sigma Epsilon, Phi Eta Chapter, extend belated greetings to the freshmen and transfer students on the CSC campus for the '65-'66 term.

Last week the Phi Sigs held their annual "Open Smoker" and "Rush Party." Thank You to all those who attended both events. We hope the guests enjoyed themselves as much as the Brothers did.

Deepest thanks go to Rick Haskins, national executive officer of Phi Sigma Epsilon, for devoting his time and energies to matters concerning our house. As an outcome of negotiations between the National Fraternity and CSC, Deans Elliott and Thomas, the Phi Sigs will retain their living quarters on a temporary basis until spring. At this time, the House With Red, must pass state housing inspection laws, or the premises will be evacuated. Listings of house improvements have been made, and deadlines set for the work to be completed. When all requirements are fulfilled, total newness will best describe the Phi Sig House.

Good luck and continued success to the "MUFAS" in Intramurals. An overall trophy may be in the near future.

The Phi Sigs lend their support to Coach Al Jacks and the Golden Eagles, planning to fire the cannon frequently, both home and away. Good luck this season!

Congratulations to the brothers who recently became alumni, and best wishes to the great number student teaching this fall.

Congratulations to President Jimmy Miller on a fine catch and T.D. at the away game with Geneva on October 2.

The current officers of Phi Sigma Epsilon are: president, James Miller; vice president, George Turks; recording secretary, Ed Sarver; corresponding secretary, Tom Cramer; and treasurer, Tom Hamilton.

A hardy welcome goes to the Phi Sig's house mother, Mrs. Ida Porter.

ALPHA CHI RHO

The two weeks before Homecoming are always hectic, but they were especially hectic for us Crows because our float construction materials were delayed. Also, the garage where we built our float (monstrosity) couldn't have been worse; it had no door, no water, no light, and no heat.

In the midst of Homecoming preparations came the IFC "Smokers." We were quite pleased with the results and have already pledged two men, Paul Baer, and Herb Guenther, who we feel confident are the first of a large pledge class.

For a final touch to our Homecoming plans, we chose Miss Charlotte Demme as the Alpha Chi Rho Fraternity representative in the Homecoming Parade.

BETA CHI UPSILON

The sisters of Beta Chi Upsilon Sorority send congratulations to the following new pledges: Marica Stamm, Alana Gazetki, Edwina Coughlan, Sharon Walsh, Joyce Hawk, Rebecca Keafer, Chris Dorn, Betty Kinskey, and Karen Radaker.

Best of luck to Peggy Garthwaite, Carol Rogers, Mary Lechner Elliott, and Linda Kean who are student teaching.

Due to the lateness of elections, we were unable to formally send congratulations to Kathy Trella, secretary of the band, and Jan Gilloft, A.W.S. contact.

The Betas are proud to announce that Peggy Garthwaite, Mary Ann Gallmeyer, and Evelyn Barnes made the Dean's List for last semester.

The sisters are selling chocolate candy bars with almonds once again.

A Peek at Greeks

DELTA ZETA

Pink roses go to Frances (Toni) Martinelli, who is the 1965 Clarion Homecoming Queen.

Pink roses also go to Lois Evans, Senior Homecoming attendant, and Sandra Falloretta, Junior Homecoming attendant, and recently elected Junior Class treasurer, also congratulations to Elaine Daniels for being chosen Sigma Tau Gamma Homecoming Queen.

Jackie Sabol was elected president of House Council and Sharon Weyer was elected as a member of Referral Board. Good luck to both sisters.

The Sisters of Delta Zeta extend a sincere welcome to their new pledges in their bonds of sisterhood. They are: Mary Jane Binashesky, Patty Dorning, Nancy Kellet, Sandra Koska, Maria Santorelli, Shirley Skantzios, and Nancy Stearns.

Pink roses go to our new pledge Shirley Skantzios, who was chosen as a member of the CSC Varsity Cheerleaders.

Tran Van Chuong, Vietnamese Diplomat, Speaks On Crisis

Former South Vietnamese Ambassador to the United States, the Hon. Tran Van Chuong, who resigned his diplomatic post in Washington after eight years and publicly broke with his daughter, Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, in protest against the policies of the Diem regime, will speak here on October 25, 1965 at the College Chapel under the auspices of the Clarion Students Association at 8:00 p.m.

He will discuss the present critical situation in his homeland and the American involvement there in combatting Communistic aggression.

Long one of the most respected members of President Diem's regime, Dr. Chuong resigned his embassy post in Washington on August 22, following the intensification of the Diem government's harsh policy against the Buddhists.

In a cable sent August 22 to President Diem, he stated, "This difficult war will be won only by the reconciliation and sincere union in liberty of all anti-Communist Vietnamese forces and by the utilization of all available talents and not by copying totalitarian regimes."

Born June 2, 1898, at Ph Ly in what is now North Vietnam, Ambassador Chuong is a member of a distinguished South Vietnamese family and has spent most of his life in Saigon.

In 1922, he took his doctorate in the faculty of law at the University of Paris. For many years he was the senior Vietnamese lawyer, first in Saigon then in Hanoi, now the capital of North Vietnam.

He was President of the Grand Council for Economic and Financial Interests in Indochina in 1940, and in 1945 was made Minister of Foreign Affairs. Later he served as judge in the French-Vietnamese court, which approximates the U.S. Supreme Court.

In 1954, he was made Minister of State in the then new nationalist government of Ngo Dinh Diem, and was appointed Ambassador to the United States a year later. His wife, the daughter of another leading South Vietnamese family, who was educated at the French Lycee in Hanoi, served as her country's official observer at the United Nations from 1958. She resigned her position at the UN at the same time that her husband gave up his embassy post.

Dr. and Mrs. Chuong still make their home in the Washington area near Chevy Chase, Maryland.

Tickets will be necessary and can be obtained in the Dean of Students Office.

DR. GEMMELL greets Gov. William W. Scranton. Onlookers are: Mrs. Grace Sloan, Senator Frame, and Genevieve Blatt.

Dr. James Gemmell Renamed Head of Advisory Committee

Dr. James Gemmell, president, Clarion State College and chairman of the Advisory Committee of Invest-in-America has urged that the committee concentrate on economic growth and capital formation.

Dr. Gemmell, recently renamed as head of the Advisory Committee, says that Invest-in-America should presently concentrate its efforts on what can be done to encourage a better understanding of economic growth and capital formation among secondary school teachers and students.

An effort is needed in the immediate future to procure excellent texts, and to disseminate information through the mass media. A pilot project could be sponsored through the media to encourage conferences in selected cities to determine if areas of need exist at pre-service and in-service levels of teacher preparation.

The proposed conferences would bring together top school and university officials, representative business and professional people, and a representative from the state school system. A local university would be chosen for the site.

The purpose of such meetings would be:

—Exploration of the treatment of economic growth and capital formation in the high school curriculum.

—Exploration of the treatment of economic growth and capital formation in the teacher-training program.

—Discussion of the quantity and quality of available publications in the area of capital formation.

It is hoped that such research conferences could enable I-in-A to gain background information which will serve as guides in the preparation of new publications and other teaching aides.

The educational materials Dr. Gemmell envisions include: texts and supplemental illustrative materials for secondary students, teacher handbooks for preparation of lesson plans, textual materials for use in teacher training, and publications with wide appeal dealing with the role of voluntary savings in the capital formation process, which can be adopted for use as lecture materials and for general distribution at lecture presentations.

Dr. Gemmell also listed numerous activities being used by one or more I-in-A groups, such as: fellowships for graduate work, teacher institutes on finance in conjunction with local universities, workshops for business teachers at a high school and junior college level, industry education meetings between teachers and representatives of industry.

Basie Visits CSC

COUNT BASIE, discusses a musical score with Mr. Stanley Michalski, Cara Huffman, and Barb Keller.

Basie, Jazz Group Perform at CSC

The Clarion Students Association presented Count Basie and his Orchestra October 18, 1965 in the Clarion Area High School Auditorium.

William "Count" Basie was born in Red Bank, New Jersey, in 1904. He played the piano since childhood, studying at first with his mother. After working around New York with Sonny Greer and June Clark, Count toured with a theater unit. When the tour broke up in Kansas City, he went to work in a silent movie theater. Soon after he joined Walter Page's Blue Devils and later, Benny Moten, whose band he took over when Moten died in 1935.

The Basie Orchestra won the Down Beat Critic's Poll in 1954 and the Down Beat Readers' poll in 1955.

The band has long playing records of many of its numbers.

A truly great honor was bestowed on Count Basie when he was personally invited to play at the Inaugural Ball for President-Elect Kennedy. Basie cherishes this engagement as the highlight of his career.

Faculty Trio To Perform

The Clarion College Faculty Trio will be the featured performers at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association in New Castle, Pa., on Friday, October 29.

The Trio, composed of Miss Helen Poulos, violin, Mr. Vahe Berberian, cello; Mr. Robert Van Meter, piano, will perform the Trio in D Major, Opus 70, by Beethoven. This is one of Beethoven's major works. It has become known as the "Ghost" Trio because Beethoven made extensive use, in the slow movement of the trio, of a theme which he originally composed for the witches' scene in Shakespeare's Macbeth, when he was contemplating the composition of incidental music for the Shakespearean play.

This performance marks the professional debut of the Clarion College Faculty Trio, which will be performing extensively this year in Western Pennsylvania, and which will present several concerts on campus later in the year.

Project Plans Get Approval

The Urban Renewal Administration has conditionally approved the final plan of the 36-acre Clarion State College Urban Renewal Project.

U. S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., reports that a federal capital grant of $1,135,472 is being held in reserve. This will cover approximately three-fourths of the net cost.

The area scheduled for renewal is mainly residential and is adjacent to the main campus of Clarion State College.

As the project progresses, a number of local actions must be completed for the project to comply with federal law. One of these is the holding of public hearings on plans for the project.

Class to Present Plays

On Sunday afternoon, October 31, a group of one act plays will be presented in the Chapel at 2:00 p.m.

The plays will be directed by students in the directing class of Mr. Bob Copeland.

The student directors are: Barry Bright who will direct "Fumed Oak"; Bill Fletcher, "Clod"; Ray

Forquer, "Monkey's Paw"; Kirby Kissel, "Zoo Story"; and Dick Locke, "Boor."

Ted Olson will direct "Here We Are"; Bill Sike, "Two for the Seesaw"; Joe Thomas, "The Game of Chess"; Chuck Titus, "Suppressed Desires"; and Naomi Schaltenbrand, "Crawling Arnold."

The public is invited.

Homecoming, A Great Success

Homecoming 1965 featured cooperation in many forms. Governor William Scranton arrived in a helicopter before the Clarion-Lock Haven grid game began. The weather was cool and rain fell at times lightly and hard by unexpected turns.

Students huddled under umbrellas, blankets, plastic and anything available to keep dry. Many students who had no protection at all sat unconcerned and watched the game which was equally difficult for the players because they slid, fell and missed passes because of wet hands and an elusive pigskin.

At half time the band marched through its paces though the rain poured down unmercifully. They stood in formation on the field throughout the half hour dedication program.

At half time Governor Scranton dedicated the New Stadium and complimented the spectators, "You're the most rugged people I've ever seen and I take my hat off to you." The Governor also gave the CSC football team his best wishes in a victory which he was assured would be gained in the second half. (We won 21-14).

In a letter to Dr. James Gemmell, Governor Scranton wrote: "I was delighted to be with you at the ceremonies marking the dedication of the new College Athletic Field."

"It was certainly a privilege to participate in this important occasion and I am extremely grateful to you for inviting me."

"Pennsylvania is indeed proud of Clarion State College. Please congratulate the Board of Trustees, administration, staff and student body of the College."

"It was great that the team won. I was sure they would!"

Comments were also made on the fine performance of the band throughout the entire game, not just on the field, but in the stands. In spite of the downpour, the band led cheers, played a special number (Bugler's Holiday) and other tunes to keep the diminishing crowd and the football team in the spirit of victory.

One person said concerning the band, "I thought you performed admirably on Saturday from beginning to end. In view of the conditions, nobody would have blamed you if you had picked up your instruments and gone home, but by George, you performed like real troopers."

The Dedication Committee headed by Mr. Joseph R. Spence also did an excellent job.

Because of the cooperation of the groups mentioned and many others, homecoming was a real success.

The Senator's Notebook

Like all government agencies the Student Senate is besieged with financial matters. As of Oct 12, the Senate is not appropriating any funds until a standardized procedure for application is approved by the administration and faculty.

The most pressing financial matter is the purchase of a new Student Association car or the repair of the present car. The present car has 70 thousand miles on it with at least an additional four thousand miles scheduled for November. The car needs a motor overhaul, tires, a coat of paint, and other repairs. With all the requests for the car, it may be beneficial to buy a new one and repair the old one.

RIFLES REQUESTED

Mr. Galen Ober, the rifle team advisor, has requested a supplemental grant for the rifle team to purchase five new rifles to replace the rifles stolen between September 28 and October 1. The Senate favored this grant.

Dr. Gilbert Neiman, advisor to "The Clarion," the literary magazine, has requested $800 to cover the cost of printing more material and more copies of "The Clarion." The $800 will pay for the printing of 1,000 copies, doubling last year's number. The matter was tabled to give the Senate time to read and evaluate "The Clarion."

MONEY VOTED

President Marterer presented a memo from Mr. Atchison requesting $368 to cover administration expenses for student activities. After discussion the Senate decided not to pay the $30 for activity cards, but it would pay the remaining $338. The vote was five for, one against, Crawford, Schuricht, and Waring abstaining.

The Association of Commuting Students is to be commended on its cooperation with the Senate and wrestling team. Because of crowded conditions this year's wrestling team was hard pressed for a practice room. The commuting students have agreed to vacate the day room at four o'clock so the custodians can clean the room and lay the mats for practice. This arrangement is temporary until another room in Davis Hall can be fixed to accommodate the team.

Construction Never Ends At Clarion

At times the campus looks like a few oversized moles had invaded, but most of the digging, pouring, and pounding is connected with the cafeteria construction.

Behind Science Hall, a new boiler house is being constructed; a new teardrop water tank will supplement the more familiar "old tanks" capacity; the new cafeteria is showing all of the outward signs of completion; and all over campus ditches quickly appear and disappear and new sidewalks are once again laid to cover the pipelines being installed.

Strangely enough, these are all interrelated and by January each piece will be fitted to give us the long anticipated dining facilities. The purpose of the boiler house is to provide the cafeteria with the power it will need. The new water tank will supply present needs and additional needs for the new kitchen. The water lines are the connecting links between these three buildings.

Forest Builders Inc. is handling the contract for the new power plant and the completion date is set for December 15.

As one project seems to be nearing conclusion, others are well underway; the new gymnasium and science building contracts are to be awarded this fall.

CSC Shares Search For A-V Method

Teacher educational specialists are currently developing a new concept in audio-visual media as an aid to undergraduate students in elementary and secondary education.

Two Clarion State College faculty members, Dr. Harold Simmons, director of professional studies, and Kenneth G. Vayda, director of special education are cooperating in the Inter-University film project. Founded by the U.S. Office of Education, the project is developing a series of 20 special problem classroom films.

The goal is to provide realistic settings for teacher education. Several ways to provide realism in teacher education are through internships in classrooms, service as teacher aides, and volunteer work in social agencies. But it is not always feasible to obtain such direct experience, or to set up situations because of time factors and difficulty in administration, especially in larger institutions.

Therefore, an alternate approach is through the use of carefully designed films which pose open-ended problem situations that are actually arising in classrooms.

In the present project, the goal is to develop a medium and technique which will contribute significantly to teacher education. It will employ such instructional methods as: discussion, role-playing, self-instruction, small group analysis and decision making.

The films are designed to be problem-centered and open-ended, but will purposely leave the entire problem unsolved. The intent is to provide an opportunity for the instructor and the students to bring concepts and understandings to bear in making decisions.

A pilot film, "Backfire," has been in use for approximately two years, and has proven successful in stimulating teacher decision-making.

The hope is that developing these films through inter-university cooperation a bridge can be found between teaching theory and practice.

Unique in the project is the inter-university cooperation, and the empirical selection of the study problems.

Through the inter-institutional approach more specialists can contribute their thinking and experience, hence adding depth and breadth to the project. Many ideas are necessary to assure obtaining a broad sample of realistic problems. Also such cooperation will help assure more flexible and varied ways of using the films.

Highly concentrated attention to the development of each film is necessary. Validity must be checked in relation to actual teaching situations. Then too, a guide must be prepared which includes questions, techniques for role-playing and reading references.

It is also possible that unique evaluation instruments must be developed for each film.

Institutions cooperating in the project are: The University of Missouri at Kansas City, Clarion State College, the University of Florida, Indiana University, North Texas State University, Syracuse University and Ohio State University.

Difficult times bring out one's true character, just as darkness brings out the stars.

Happiness is not a station you arrive at, but a manner of traveling.

CAMPUS POST

Editor:

Innovation is a word that is enjoying a bit of popularity in our society today. Big Business is depending on this word to bring new profits for them. But Big Business has no corner on this idea of introducing something new.

The Protestant churches in Clarion have been the innovative force in bringing to Clarion State College the concern for the spiritual life of the campus community in a realistic way. In the early spring of 1965 the Clarion Ministerial Association met with College officials to share their feelings and aspirations with regard to the launching of a full time campus ministry program.

This hope has been realized and the Protestant churches have employed a Director of Campus Ministry on a full time basis. The man chosen for this work was Mr. David J. Lutz, an ordained clergyman of The Methodist Church. Mr. Lutz maintains an office at 8 South Eighth Avenue here in Clarion. He is available as counsel for the local churches in their programming for college groups, and will always be available as friend and counsel to student and faculty alike.

CSC Seniors Student Teach

One department which interests every college student, especially as he progresses from freshman to senior status, is the Office of Student Teaching and Placement. Headed by Dr. William J. Page, this office is located in the main floor of the Administration Building.

The services of the department this term appear to be bigger and better than ever before. The present semester sees for the first time the addition of an Assistant Director of Student Teaching and Placement. He is Mr. Raymond K. Giering, formerly the College Supervisor of Elementary Student Teachers. There is now a total of 270 seniors doing their student teaching in various public school student teaching centers throughout the state.

Of these students, 120 are majoring in Elementary Education, and 150 are in Secondary Education. The Secondary majors consist of the following areas of specialization: 19 in Library Science, 11 in Biology, 28 in English, 3 in French, 15 in Geography, 16 in Mathematics, 8 in Science, 40 in Social Studies, and 10 in Speech.

The placement service is now giving attention to setting up opportunities and interviews for Liberal Arts majors who will be graduating soon.

The department also reports that for the first time the required course for student teachers, Practicum, is being taught both on and off campus. In addition to two classes being taught at Clarion, sessions are held at: Kittanning, DuBois, Kane, Oil City, Penn Hills, Baden-Economy, and Johnstown.

This service, as many other administrative offices on campus, is rapidly expanding.

Homecoming, 1965

A Pictorial Review

FIRST PRIZE sorority float was "Clarion's Key to Tomorrow" by Beta Chi Upsilon. Second prize fraternity float was "Interstate 80—Horn of Plenty" by Alpha Chi Rho Fraternity.

On Parade

Homecoming Floats Display Talents of CSC Organizations

The floats of Theta Xi Fraternity and Beta Chi Upsilon Sorority were awarded the top prizes in the categories for college fraternities and sororities in the Annual Autumn Leaf Festival Parade, October 9.

The theme of the parade was "Main Street U.S.A.—Interstate 80." The floats were designed with this idea in mind. Theta Xi entitled its float "Uncle Sam's Golden Link" and Beta Chi Upsilon called its float "Clarion's Key to Tomorrow."

The runners-up in the fraternity division were: Alpha Chi Rho, "Interstate 80—Horn of Plenty"; Phi Sigma Kappa, "Gateway to the Future"; Sigma Tau Gamma, "It's Time to Awake"; and Theta Chi, "Progress Improves the Past."

In the sorority division, runners-up were: Delta Zeta, "Clarion Blossoms Via Interstate 80"; Alpha Sigma Tau (formerly Sigma Delta Phi) "The Rebirth of a Road"; Sigma Sigma Sigma, "Unity through Progress"; and Zeta Tau Alpha, "Bridging the Gap."

There was also a division for college clubs and organizations. The winners in this category were the Student Christian Association and the Venango Campus Student Senate.

Judges for the event were Mr. R. G. MacDonald, executive vice-president of West Penn Power in Greensburg, Mr. R. D. Harman, vice-president of United Natural Gas Company in Oil City and Mr. John A. Ghrist of the art department at Indiana State College.

Sororities Serve as Aides at Football Games

A precedent has been set at the initiation of Clarion State College's new stadium.

In addition to new facilities, the five sororities are participating as usherettes.

These sorority members volunteer their services for each home football game as a sorority project, and also to assist Clarion State College in general.

The five sororities are: BETA CHI, UPSILON, Terry Rohal president; ZETA TAU ALPHA, Patricia Palmer, president; SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA, Phelomena Galek president; DELTA ZETA, Karen Gahagan president; and, ALPHA SIGMA TAU, Marlene Lewis, president.

For each home game, nine members participate, with the exception of Homecoming; Zeta Tau Alpha and Alpha Sigma Tau assisted at this game.

The girls are attired in their sorority colors and make colorful addition to these events.

The co-ordinator for these activities is Mr. Thaddeus P. Droast.

FIRST PRIZE fraternity float was won by "Uncle Sam's Golden Link," built by Theta Xi Fraternity.

Pick Three Winners, Count The Pennys

It just isn't fair! You have been misled. Sure there is a statistic involved with the Autumn Leaf Festival floats, and to be a winner is really something. However, to be associated with three winners is without doubt astronomical. That is what happened:

Douglas Penny was "Teacher" on the Keystone High School float which won first place.

Alice Penny was Patroness of the Beta Chi Upsilon float which won first place.

Dr. Penny is sponsor of Theta Xi Fraternity and their float won first place.

To say the least, it is unusual for all the members in one family to be connected with three separate entries in a single event such as the Autumn Leaf Festival with its keen competition in floats, and to have each of these associations win first place in the competition.

SECOND PLACE sorority float was Delta Zeta Sorority's "Clarion Blossoms Via Interstate 80."

THIRD PLACE fraternity float was Phi Sigma Kappa's "Gateway to the Future."

Editorially Speaking

Homecoming, A Great Success

Homecoming 1965 featured cooperation in many forms. Governor William Scranton arrived in a helicopter before the Clarion - Lock Haven grid game began. The weather was cool and rain fell at times lightly and hard by unexpected turns. Students huddled under umbrellas, blankets, plastic and anything available to keep dry. Many students who had no protection at all sat unconcerned and watched the game which was equally difficult for the players because they slid, fell and missed passes because of wet hands and an elusive pigskin.

At half time the band marched through its paces though the rain poured down unmercifully. They stood in formation on the field throughout the half hour dedication program.

At half time Governor Scranton dedicated the New Stadium and complimented the spectators, "You're the most rugged people I've ever seen and I take my hat off to you." The Governor also gave the CSC football team his best wishes in a victory which he was assured would be gained in the second half. (We won 21-14).

In a letter to Dr. James Gemmell, Governor Scranton wrote: "I was delighted to be with you at the ceremonies marking the dedication of the new College Athletic Field."

"It was certainly a privilege to participate in this important occasion and I am extremely grateful to you for inviting me." "Pennsylvania is indeed proud of Clarion State College. Please congratulate the Board of Trustees, administration, staff and student body of the College."

"It was great that the team won. I was sure they would!" Comments were also made on the fine performance of the band throughout the entire game, not just on the field, but in the stands. In spite of the downpour, the band led cheers, played a special number (Bugler's Holiday) and other tunes to keep the diminishing crowd and the football team in the spirit of victory.

One person said concerning the band, "I thought you performed admirably on Saturday from beginning to end. In view of the conditions, nobody would have blamed you if you had picked up your instruments and gone home, but by George, you performed like real troopers."

The Dedication Committee headed by Mr. Joseph R. Spence also did an excellent job.

Because of the cooperation of the groups mentioned and many others, homecoming was a real success.

The Senator's Notebook

Like all government agencies the Student Senate is besieged with financial matters. As of Act 12, the Senate is not appropriating any funds until a standardized procedure for application is approved by the administration and faculty.

The most pressing financial matter is the purchase of a new Student Association car or the repair of the present car. The present car has 70 thousand miles on it with at least an additional four thousand miles scheduled for November. The car needs a motor overhaul, tires, a coat of paint, and other repairs. With all the requests for the car, it may be beneficial to buy a new one and repair the old one.

RIFLES REQUESTED

Mr. Galen Ober, the rifle team advisor, has requested a supplemental grant for the rifle team to purchase five new rifles to replace the rifles stolen between September 28 and October 1. The Senate favored this grant.

Dr. Gilbert Neiman, advisor to "The Clarion," the literary magazine, has requested $800 to cover the cost of printing more material and more copies of "The Clarion." The $800 will pay for the printing of 1,000 copies, doubling last year's number. The matter was tabled to give the Senate time to read and evaluate "The Clarion."

MONEY VOTED

President Marterer presented a memo from Mr. Atchison requesting $368 to cover administration expenses for student activities. After discussion the Senate decided not to pay the $30 for activity cards, but it would pay the remaining $338. The vote was five for, one against. Crawford, Schuricht, and Waring abstaining.

The Association of Commuting Students is to be commended on its cooperation with the Senate and wrestling team. Because of crowded conditions this year's wrestling team was hard pressed for a practice room. The commuting students have agreed to vacate the day room at four o'clock so the custodians can clean the room and lay the mats for practice. This arrangement is temporary until another room in Davis Hall can be fixed to accommodate the team.

Construction Never Ends At Clarion

At times the campus looks like a few oversized moles had invaded, but most of the digging, pouring, and pounding is connected with the cafeteria construction.

Behind Science Hall, a new boiler house is being constructed; a new teardrop water tank will supplement the more familiar "old tanks" capacity; the new cafeteria is showing all of the outward signs of completion; and all over campus ditches quickly appear and disappear and new sidewalks are once again laid to cover the pipelines being installed.

Strangely enough, these are all interrelated and by January each piece will be fitted to give us the long anticipated dining facilities. The purpose of the boiler house is to provide the cafeteria with the power it will need. The new water tank will supply present needs and additional needs for the new kitchen. The water lines are the connecting links between these three buildings.

Forest Builders Inc. is handling the contract for the new power plant and the completion date is set for December 15.

As one project seems to be nearing conclusion, others are well underway; the new gymnasium and science building contracts are to be awarded this fall.

CSC Shares Search For A-V Method

Teacher educational specialists are currently developing a new concept in audio-visual media as an aid to undergraduate students in elementary and secondary education.

Two Clarion State College faculty members, Dr. Harold Simmons, director of professional studies, and Kenneth G. Vayda, director of special education are cooperating in the Inter-University film project. Founded by the U.S. Office of Education, the project is developing a series of 20 special problem classroom films.

The goal is to provide realistic settings for teacher education. Several ways to provide realism in teacher education are through internships in classrooms, service as teacher aides, and volunteer work in social agencies. But it is not always feasible to obtain such direct experience, or to set up situations because of time factors and difficulty in administration, especially in larger institutions.

Therefore, an alternate approach is through the use of carefully designed films which pose open-ended problem situations that are actually arising in classrooms.

In the present project, the goal is to develop a medium and technique which will contribute significantly to teacher education. It will employ such instructional methods as: discussion, role-playing, self-instruction, small group analysis and decision making.

The films are designed to be problem-centered and open-ended, but will purposely leave the entire problem unsolved. The intent is to provide an opportunity for the instructor and the students to bring concepts and understandings to bear in making decisions.

A pilot film, "Backfire," has been in use for approximately two years, and has proven successful in stimulating teacher decision-making.

The hope is that developing these films through inter-university cooperation a bridge can be found between teaching theory and practice.

Unique in the project is the inter-university cooperation, and the empirical selection of the study problems.

Through the inter-institutional approach more specialists can contribute their thinking and experience, hence adding depth and breadth to the project. Many ideas are necessary to assure obtaining a broad sample of realistic problems. Also such cooperation will help assure more flexible and varied ways of using the films.

Highly concentrated attention to the development of each film is necessary. Validity must be checked in relation to actual teaching situations. Then too, a guide must be prepared which includes questions, techniques for role-playing and reading references.

It is also possible that unique evaluation instruments must be developed for each film.

Institutions cooperating in the project are: The University of Missouri at Kansas City, Clarion State College, the University of Florida, Indiana University, North Texas State University, Syracuse University and Ohio State University.

Difficult times bring out one's true character, just as darkness brings out the stars.

Happiness is not a station you arrive at, but a manner of traveling.

CAMPUS POST

Editor:

Innovation is a word that is enjoying a bit of popularity in our society today. Big Business is depending on this word to bring new profits for them. But Big Business has no corner on this idea of introducing something new.

The Protestant churches in Clarion have been the innovative force in bringing to Clarion State College the concern for the spiritual life of the campus community in a realistic way. In the early spring of 1965 the Clarion Ministerial Association met with College officials to share their feelings and aspirations with regard to the launching of a full time campus ministry program.

This hope has been realized and the Protestant churches have employed a Director of Campus Ministry on a full time basis. The man chosen for this work was Mr. David J. Lutz, an ordained clergyman of The Methodist Church. Mr. Lutz maintains an office at 8 South Eighth Avenue here in Clarion. He is available as counsel for the local churches in their programming for college groups, and will always be available as friend and counsel to student and faculty alike.

Mr. Lutz is in no way directly affiliated with any one organization on campus or in the local church. His is an ecumenical ministry functioning largely outside of the institutional church. Indeed this new ministry is an innovation for our community—both town and gown.

P-Jobb Mural On Display In Library

Now on display in the Venango Campus library is a painting by Mr. Andor S. P-Jobb, judo art instructor at Clarion State College.

The painting was loaned to the Campus library by its owner, Mr. Delaney, so that students may learn about possible interpretations of present life and everyday life of people and their offsprings.

Having been done in the social comment style and social realism, the twelve-foot long, three-foot wide mural should not be related to socialist realism.

Various subjects are covered in the large canvas including: education, politics and Utopia, executions, religion, and hope for the future. Shown in the painting is an actual portrait of a thirteen year old boy from Rovena, Ohio, who as a result of his careless and disinterested parents, was forced to drop out of high school.

The artist, Mr. P-Jobb, escaped from Budapest, Hungary, in 1956, with his brother, his brother's wife, and their child. In order to become a student at the Communist Art Academy of Budapest, Mr. P-Jobb was forced to join the Communist Party, which paid his tuition. He was one of the students to revolt against the Hungarian puppet leadership which had ruled since 1945.

After fleeing from Hungary, Mr. P-Jobb came to the U.S.A. and became a citizen in 1962. Prior to acquiring his citizenship, he graduated from Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, with a Master's Degree in fine arts.

Mr. P-Jobb taught art in elementary and junior high schools before coming to Clarion in 1963, where he finished his painting, "Down the Hill."

Enrollment Ups Sharply At Venango

A total of 303 full-time and part-time students are registered at Venango Campus for the fall semester.

This marks the largest enrollment since the Campus first opened four years ago. Of this total, the freshmen number 162. There are 71 returning sophomores, 5 juniors, and 65 part-time students.

The greatest number of students are commuters from Venango County, but the Allegheny and Pittsburgh areas are running close seconds. Along with two out-of-state students, Venango campus also has 22 other Pennsylvania counties represented.

Venango Campus of Clarion State College

Students Weather Hectic Dormitory Life

There is never a dull moment at Oil City's YWCA where forty-eight Venango Campus dorm students are spending the first six weeks of school.

The day begins at 6 a.m. when forty-eight alarm clocks start going off at two minute intervals. One by one their curler bedecked owners click them off and scurry downstairs in an attempt to be first in the slightly undersized bathroom.

By 7:15 all forty-eight girls are dressed and ready to join the boys for breakfast. There follows a mad rush to catch the busses which have to be at the Campus by 7:45. Lunch is served at the "Y" at 11:50 a.m. giving the students just enough time to gulp down a bite to eat and catch the bus back to school.

At 4:30 the place starts humming with the excitement of getting ready for dinner.

Between 6:30 and 7:00 the "Y" is in an uproar. Girls are warbling to the banging of the stage piano, strumming out-of-tune guitars, and running up and down stairs trying to collect themselves for the evening's doings. Others are writing letters, dropping books, and even attempting to study, which requires quite a bit of effort.

But even after lights go out, there is always something going on. The fans whir; the night exit lights glare; someone calls out in her sleep. A girl sits on her bed curling her hair by flashlight munching an apple while somebody clatters up the stairs scattering a multitude of bobbi pins as she stumbles over a bed. And things really get exciting when sophomores decide to liven things up by staging a midnight marshmallow fight.

Life at the YWCA is, to say the least, hectic. But its amusements more than compensate for its inconveniences.

Venango students enjoy an evening of dancing at the semi-formal Fall dance

"Autumn Leaves" Dance Features Harris Quintet

The first semi-formal dance of Venango Campus was held October 2 at Holiday Inn, Oil City.

The Cootie Harris Quintet provided music for this "Autumn Leaves" dance. The ballroom was decorated with colored leaves, acorns and lighted tapers in autumn hued glass protectors.

The dance was planned by the Social Committee under the chairmanship of John Kallmyer, assisted by Kathy Spangler, Terry Shaugnessy, Penny Umbreit and Sam Cangemi.

Mrs. Mary Williams and Alastair Crawford were faculty advisors.

Moses Publishes Paper On Phonics Development

"Rapid and vast developments have been noted in the field of phonics in the past 20 years."

This is the report of Dr. Elbert R. Moses, Jr., chairman of the Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts, in a paper presented to the Pennsylvania Speech Association and published in the September issue of the Pennsylvania Speech Annual.

Yet, Dr. Moses noted that much of the advanced literature has been produced not by phoneticians, but by engineers, electricians, and psychologists. "It is safe to say," Dr. Moses writes, "that within the next decade there will be startling new and significant developments."

Already speech synthesizers have been developed. The first machine of any consequence was devised in 1953 by W. Lawrence.

It works on the principle that speech frequencies could be duplicated by electronic resonators.

Improvements in speech synthesis now make it possible to produce a "fairly high quality speech." Another speech generator, developed by the Royal Institute of Technology in Stockholm, Sweden, which was demonstrated at a meeting of the Acoustical Society of America in 1961 synthesized speech of such quality that many in the audience had difficulty in distinguishing it from true speech.

Speech synthesis has vital practical applications because it enables us to learn about the specific sound components of the voice.

This Goes On at Oil City Campus

For those of you who have never seen or heard of Venango Campus, here, in brief, is exactly what goes on here.

Venango Campus is a bureaucratic institution integrated with a larger bureaucratic institution, the Clarion State College. The Campus, located in Oil City, was financed by the civic-minded people of this area. Our modern building boasts classrooms, laboratories, a library, a recreation room, and administration offices. It is located on a scenic sixty-acre wooded area overlooking the Allegheny River.

Venango Campus offers courses in teacher training and liberal arts, both of which are identical to those offered on the main campus.

In addition, there are many extracurricular activities to keep the 300 students occupied. The social committee sponsors dances, movies, and excursions for all. Each has an opportunity to join organizations such as the madrigal choir, or the publicity, cultural, athletic, or student organizations committee. Students can also work as assistant librarians or secretaries in the administration offices.

Along with the main building, the Campus also boasts a new dormitory which will house 210 students. It offers clean modern facilities and a student lounge.

So if you have never been to Venango Campus of Clarion State College, a hearty welcome is extended to all.

That is, the isolation of specific overtones and other characteristics enables telephone and other audio devices to be designed which accurately produce vocal sounds. This in turn promotes greater clarity of electronically transmitted speech.

He Claims His Wife Is a Witch

You know, if there's anything that bugs a loving husband, it's when he comes home from a hard day at the office and finds a platter of cold ham for his dinner. Imagine! I can't see it; I just can't see it! And the reason for this gross imposition? Simple—my wife is a witch.

This year Bertha's assigned precinct is a spot on the map called Clarion State College. Therefore, beginning the last week of October, off flies my baby in black on her rose-petaled broomstick. What a pussycat!

Right now Bertha is drawing up the plans for her trip. She has stops at various places on the CSC campus, and she is assigned a duty at each. The first is at Becht Hall. We understand there is somewhat of a shower problem there, so my angel of mercy will help them out by simply removing all the showerers. Funny thing, the last time Bertha did that the house and its occupants were suddenly condemned, but I guess this one is, already.

Bertha will do Jefferson, McKean, and Elk Halls a favor by supplying broomsticks for the kiddies to help crush the transportation problem. If there aren't enough to go around, there will have to be co-educational travelling. Whee!

Bertha has heard that Given Hall is rather congested, so from there she will select one girl from each room to be admitted to the AFUWAGCCW (Academy for Undesirable Women and Girls—Commonly Called Witches). Big Bert never stops recruiting. She also has a keen desire to come to the rescue of some poor, needy fraternity member. (If there is such a thing). Therefore, she will be on hand the entire week to solve any problems they might have.

Isn't my gal something? She is all heart, I tell you. And all she wants in return for her toil is an opportunity to help out Coach Jacks and his boys on October 30. She's great at those flyin' passes, fellows. But, seriously, I wish you would encourage her to stay home that day: a guy has to spend some time with his mate—even if she is a witch.

Bids Anticipated

Two buildings, the largest yet to be attempted on Clarion State College campus, are soon to be opened for bids, according to Mr. Joe Spence, director of college development. They are a new gymnasium and a science building.

At present tentative dates for bid openings have been set. It is hoped that these buildings will be ready for full term occupation in 1967. Spring occupation seems virtually assured.

A Peek at Greeks

ALPHA CHI RHO

Homecoming is past and things have settled down a bit for the Greeks. All the hard work and expense paid off when our float won second prize.

We want to send our congratulations to Beta Chi Upsilon and Theta Xi for their excellent floats.

We are proud to announce another addition to our pledge class, Bill Thompson, who was formally pledged after Council last Monday evening.

We were honored a week ago by a visit from our National Secretary, Mr. Henson Watchorn. "Hense" made many concrete suggestions for the betterment of our chapter.

Mr. Charles Klammer, a graduate Brother of our fraternity, is starting a graduate chapter. It will help maintain the friendships which usually fade after graduation and will also offer moral and financial help to the resident chapter. Contacts with graduate brothers have been made and the response so far has been favorable.

Right now we are awaiting a visit from the pledge class of our chapter at Penn State. Dave Blisard, a former member of our chapter who transferred, is leading the expedition to CSC.

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

The men of Alpha Gamma Phi would like to thank the members of I. F. C. for allowing the pledges of the red and black to pledge on campus this semester. It is our hope to instill the college spirit on this campus through a constructive and creative pledge period. We should also like to create a new image for the men of Alpha Gamma Phi.

The gentlemen of this semester's pledge class are: Lynn Armstrong, Jack Derlink, Bill Faiello, Jim Finerty, Wayne German, Sam Intrieri, Stan Landowski, Dave Lauder, Al Ruffo, Mike Samko, and Bob Sellari, Bob Thomas, and Bill Vigan.

Social members have also been chosen this year: Bob Castagna, Ed Cisek, Fred Harkness, Jim Pape, Paul Simonie, Jack Wall, and Mike Zaccari. The pledges will be under the leadership of pledgemaster Tom English.

The officers for the Gammas this semester are: President, Ken Warnick; Vice President, Lyno Colangelo; Treasurer, Earl Highlands; Secretary, John Kriceri; Guard, Pat Shaugnessy; Chaplain, Tony Catanese; Parliamentarian, Paul Kennedy; Historian, Ralph Cutrzola; Social Chairman, Tom English; Athletic Chairman, Bill Sacco; and I.F.C. Representatives, John Catanzano and Don Mikus.

Good luck is extended to our Gang intramurals teams. The brothers would like to see a winning season.

Alpha Gamma Phi wishes the best of luck to Coach Jacks and his team. The Gammas are behind you 100 percent as has been shown at all the away games this semester.

Get well wishes go to Brother Mikus who fractured his elbow in a soccer game.

DELTA ZETA

On October 14, the Sisters of Delta Zeta had their pledge initiation. We welcome to our sisterhood our seven new pledges.

Venango Campus News, Views

"DOWN THE HILL," a painting by Mr. Andor P-Jobb, owned by Mr. Delaney, pictures a boy forced to drop out of school because of his disinterested parents. This painting is on display in the Venango library.

P-Jobb Mural On Display In Library

Now on display in the Venango Campus library is a painting by Mr. Andor S. P-Jobb, judo art instructor at Clarion State College.

The painting was loaned to the Campus library by its owner, Mr. Delaney, so that students may learn about possible interpretations of present life and everyday life of people and their offsprings.

Having been done in the social comment style and social realism, the twelve-foot long, three-foot wide mural should not be related to socialist realism.

Various subjects are covered in the large canvas including: education, politics and Utopia, executions, religion, and hope for the future. Shown in the painting is an actual portrait of a thirteen year old boy from Rovena, Ohio, who as a result of his careless and disinterested parents, was forced to drop out of high school.

The artist, Mr. P-Jobb, escaped from Budapest, Hungary, in 1956, with his brother, his brother's wife, and their child. In order to become a student at the Communist Art Academy of Budapest, Mr. P-Jobb was forced to join the Communist Party, which paid his tuition. He was one of the students to revolt against the Hungarian puppet leadership which had ruled since 1945.

After fleeing from Hungary, Mr. P-Jobb came to the U.S.A. and became a citizen in 1962. Prior to acquiring his citizenship, he graduated from Kent State University, Kent, Ohio, with a Master's Degree in fine arts.

Mr. P-Jobb taught art in elementary and junior high schools before coming to Clarion in 1963, where he finished his painting, "Down the Hill."

Enrollment Ups Sharply At Venango

A total of 303 full-time and part-time students are registered at Venango Campus for the fall semester.

This marks the largest enrollment since the Campus first opened four years ago. Of this total, the freshmen number 162. There are 71 returning sophomores, 5 juniors, and 65 part-time students.

The greatest number of students are commuters from Venango County, but the Allegheny and Pittsburgh areas are running close seconds. Along with two out-of-state students, Venango campus also has 22 other Pennsylvania counties represented.

Venango Campus of Clarion State College

Students Weather Hectic Dormitory Life

There is never a dull moment at Oil City's YWCA where forty-eight Venango Campus dorm students are spending the first six weeks of school.

The day begins at 6 a.m. when forty-eight alarm clocks start going off at two minute intervals. One by one their curler bedecked owners click them off and scurry downstairs in an attempt to be first in the slightly undersized bathroom.

By 7:15 all forty-eight girls are dressed and ready to join the boys for breakfast. There follows a mad rush to catch the busses which have to be at the Campus by 7:45. Lunch is served at the "Y" at 11:50 a.m. giving the students just enough time to gulp down a bite to eat and catch the bus back to school.

At 4:30 the place starts humming with the excitement of getting ready for dinner.

Between 6:30 and 7:00 the "Y" is in an uproar. Girls are warbling to the banging of the stage piano, strumming out-of-tune guitars, and running up and down stairs trying to collect themselves for the evening's doings. Others are writing letters, dropping books, and even attempting to study, which requires quite a bit of effort.

But even after lights go out, there is always something going on. The fans whir, the night exit lights glare; someone calls out in her sleep. A girl sits on her bed curling her hair by flashlight munching an apple while somebody clatters up the stairs scattering a multitude of hobbi pins as she stumbles over a bed. And things really get exciting when sophomores decide to live things up by staging a midnight marsh-mallow fight.

Life at the YWCA is, to say the least, hectic. But its amusements more than compensate for its inconveniences.

Venango students enjoy an evening of dancing at the semi-formal Fall dance

"Autumn Leaves" Dance Features Harris Quintet

The first semi-formal dance of Venango Campus was held October 2 at Holiday Inn, Oil City.

The Cootie Harris Quintet provided music for this "Autumn Leaves" dance. The ballroom was decorated with colored leaves, acorns and lighted tapers in autumn hued glass protectors.

The dance was planned by the Social Committee under the chairmanship of John Kallmyer, assisted by Kathy Spangler, Terry Shaughnessy, Penny Umbreit and Sam Cangini.

Mrs. Mary Williams and Alastair Crawford were faculty advisors.

Moses Publishes Paper On Phonics Development

"Rapid and vast developments have been noted in the field of phonics in the past 20 years."

This is the report of Dr. Elbert R. Moses, Jr., chairman of the Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts, in a paper presented to the Pennsylvania Speech Association and published in the September issue of the Pennsylvania Speech Annual.

Yet, Dr. Moses noted that much of the advanced literature has been produced not by phoneticians, but by engineers, electricians, and psychologists. "It is safe to say," Dr. Moses writes, "that within the next decade there will be startling new and significant developments." Already speech synthesizers have been developed. The first machine of any consequence was devised in 1953 by W. Lawrence.

It works on the principle that speech frequencies could be duplicated by electronic resonators.

Improvements in speech synthesis now make it possible to produce a "fairly high quality speech." Another speech generator, developed by the Royal Institute of Technology in Stockholm, Sweden, which was demonstrated at a meeting of the Acoustical Society of America in 1961 synthesized speech of such quality that many in the audience had difficulty in distinguishing it from true speech.

Speech synthesis has vital practical applications because it enables us to learn about the specific sound components of the voice.

This Goes On at Oil City Campus

For those of you who have never seen or heard of Venango Campus, here, in brief, is exactly what goes on here.

Venango Campus is a bureaucratic institution integrated with a larger bureaucratic institution, the Clarion State College. The Campus, located in Oil City, was financed by the civic-minded people of this area. Our modern building boasts classrooms, laboratories, a library, a recreation room, and administration offices. It is located on a scenic sixty-acre wooded area overlooking the Allegheny River.

Venango Campus offers courses in teacher training and liberal arts, both of which are identical to those offered on the main campus.

In addition, there are many extra-curricular activities to keep the 300 students occupied. The social committee sponsors dances, movies, and excursions for all. Each has an opportunity to join organizations such as the madrigal choir, or the publicity, cultural, athletic, or student organizations committee. Students can also work as assistant librarians or secretaries in the administration offices.

Along with the main building, the Campus also boasts a new dormitory which will house 210 students. It offers clean modern facilities and a student lounge.

So if you have never been to Venango Campus of Clarion State College, a hearty welcome is extended to all.

That is, the isolation of specific overtones and other characteristics enables telephone and other audio devices to be designed which accurately produce vocal sounds. This in turn promotes greater clarity of electronically transmitted speech.

He Claims His Wife Is a Witch

You know, if there's anything that bugs a loving husband, it's when he comes home from a hard day at the office and finds a platter of cold ham for his dinner. Imagine! I can't see it; I just can't see it! And the reason for this gross imposition? Simple—my wife is a witch.

This year Bertha's assigned precinct is a spot on the map called Clarion State College. Therefore, beginning the last week of October, off flies my baby in black on her rose-petaled broomstick. What a pussycat!

Right now Bertha is drawing up the plans for her trip. She has stops at various places on the CSC campus, and she is assigned a duty at each. The first is at Becht Hall. We understand there is somewhat of a shower problem there, so my angel of mercy will help them out by simply removing all the showers. Funny thing, the last time Bertha did that the house and its occupants were suddenly condemned, but I guess this one is, already. Bertha will do Jefferson, McKean, and Elk Halls a favor by supplying broomsticks for the kiddies to help crush the transportation problem. If there aren't enough to go around, there will have to be co-educational travelling. Whee!

Bertha has heard that Given Hall is rather congested, so from there she will select one girl from each room to be admitted to the AFUWAGCCW (Academy for Undesirable Women and Girls—Commonly Called Witches). Big Bert never stops recruiting. She also has a keen desire to come to the rescue of some poor, needy fraternity (if there is such a thing). Therefore, she will be on hand the entire week to solve any problems they might have.

Isn't my gal something? She is all heart, I tell you. And all she wants in return for her toil is an opportunity to help out Coach Jacks and his boys on October 30. She's great at those flyin' passes, fellows. But, seriously, I wish you would encourage her to stay home that day; a guy has to spend some time with his mate—even if she is a witch.

Bids Anticipated

Two buildings, the largest yet to be attempted on Clarion State College campus, are soon to be opened for bids, according to Mr. Joe Spence, director of college development. They are a new gymnasium and a science building.

At present tentative dates for bid openings have been set. It is hoped that these buildings will be ready for fall term occupation in 1967. Spring occupation seems virtually assured.

A Peek at Greeks

ALPHA CHI RHO

Homecoming is past and things have settled down a bit for the Crew. All the hard work and expense paid off when our float won second prize.

We want to send our congratulations to Beta Chi Upsilon and Theta Xi for their excellent floats.

We are proud to announce another addition to our pledge class, Bill Thompson, who was formally pledged after Council last Monday evening.

We were honored a week ago by a visit from our National Secretary, Mr. Henson Watchorn. "Hense" made many concrete suggestions for the betterment of our chapter.

Mr. Charles Klamer, a graduate Brother of our fraternity, is starting a graduate chapter. It will help maintain the friendships which usually fade after graduation and will also offer moral and financial help to the resident chapter. Contacts with graduate brothers have been made and the response so far has been favorable.

Right now we are awaiting a visit from the pledge class of our chapter at Penn State. Dave Blisard, a former member of our chapter who transferred, is leading the expedition to CSC.

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

The men of Alpha Gamma Phi would like to thank the members of I. F. C. for allowing the pledges of the red and black to pledge on campus this semester. It is our hope to instill the college spirit on this campus through a constructive and creative pledge period. We should also like to create a new image for the men of Alpha Gamma Phi.

The gentlemen of this semester's pledge class are: Lynn Armstrong, Jack Derlink, Bill Faiello, Jim Finerty, Wayne German, Sam Intrieri, Stan Landowski, Dave Lauder, Al Ruffo, Mike Samko, and Bob Sellari. Bob Thomas, and Bill Vigan.

Social members have also been chosen this year: Bob Castagna, Ed Cisek, Fred Harkness, Jim Pape, Paul Simonic, Jack Wall, and Mike Zaccari. The pledges will be under the leadership of pledgemaster Tom English.

The officers for the Gammas this semester are: President, Ken Warnick; Vice President, Lyno Colangelo; Treasurer, Earl Highlands; Secretary, John Krieger; Guard, Pat Shaughnessy; Chaplain, Tony Catanes; Parliamentarian, Paul Kennedy; Historian, Ralph Cutrzola; Social Chairman, Tom English; Athletic Chairman, Bill Sacco; and I.F.C. Representatives, John Catanzano and Don Mikus.

Good luck is extended to Our Gang intramurals teams. The brothers would like to see a winning season.

Alpha Gamma Phi wishes the best of luck to Coach Jacks and his team. The Gammas are behind you 100 percent as has been shown at all the away games this semester.

Get well wishes go to Brother Mikus who fractured his elbow in a soccer game.

DELTA ZETA

Bios Club Conducts Field Trip To Ontario

The Bios Club visited Algonquin Provincial Park, Ontario, Canada October 14 to 17, to study biotic communities not available locally.

The group included 18 people, 14 students and 4 faculty members: Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Williams, Mrs. Russell Yeany and Dr. Bruce Dinsmore.

Departure time was 5:25 a.m. October 14 and arrival at the Park was 4:45 p.m. On arrival four tents were pitched on the shore of the Lake of Two Rivers. At this campsite Loon ducks and Canadian geese were found. Also, a 10 point buck, raven, grey jay and unexpected robins were seen. Algonquin Park has some 3000 square miles.

The next day, Friday, the group met with the Park Naturalist, Mr. Rutter in the Park Museum. The Park was closed, but arrangements had been made to meet with him.

The group then visited the Wildlife Research Laboratory where the staff and students from Toronto University and other institutions do graduate studies in wolf research and aquatic studies.

The group was shown a coy-dog, a cross between a coyote and a collie.

There are estimated some 300 wolves in Algonquin Park which average 65 to 70 pounds and stand 5 to 6 feet on their hind legs. The group heard the wolves howl several times and described it as a strange experience. Each wolf has a different and pure note which it holds for several minutes.

On Saturday there was a bird walk for the early risers before breakfast. After breakfast they hiked around Provoking Lake—a distance of 8 miles.

All members decided to go to town which was Huntsville, population 3,000 and 50 miles from camp. The only places open, however were a drug store and restaurant.

Sunday, camp was broken at 10:00 a.m. and after a stop at Niagara Falls, arrival at Clarion was 11:15 p.m. for a total mileage of 1,073 miles.

Venango Club Holds First Meeting

The Venango Campus discussion group known as "The Philosophes" held its first meeting of the semester. The group met at the home of Professor Alastair T. Crawford. The Philosophes drew up a list of topics to be hashed-out during the semester. Among those were listed: Foreign Policy—How should it be changed? Can the UN survive? What do teen-agers expect of marriage? How practical is censorship?

The group was organized last semester by Mr. Crawford who, along with Professor John F. Reinhardt act as faculty advisors. Dennis Lavery and Karen Kennelly are president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

The Philosophes will be holding meetings at the homes of the two advisors and at the Campus after the new dorm is opened.

The Sports Scene Eagles Win One; Lose One!

Despite the elements of rain and 43 degree weather, Clarion's Golden Eagles on a tremendous effort in the second half scuttled the Bald Eagles of Lock Haven in their first conference game 21-14.

Lock Haven scored their first touchdown in the first quarter on a 1 yard run by fullback, James Blacksmith, and their second touchdown early in the second quarter on a 5 yard run by halfback Chris Klinger. Both conversions were scored on kicks by Michael Williams.

Clarion with 50 seconds remaining in the first half, scored their first touchdown on a 12 yard pass from quarterback, John Kriceri to end, Glen Ridinger. Jim Miller kicked the extra point for a score at the end of the first half Lock Haven 14 Clarion 7.

At half-time, the Golden Eagles a bit discouraged by the score, were hammered with what must have been a most inspirational and ardent pep talk by coach Al Jacks, which proved to be the determining factor for the Golden Eagles.

With the start of the third quarter and a little more rain, Clarion was on the move. The decisive "Battle of the Eagles" was now set.

In the third quarter a completed pass from quarterback John Kriceri to end Jim Miller on a fourth down play after driving 60 yards was ruled caught out of the end zone.

Clarion still disappointed over the third quarter but still determined in the fourth, scored their second touchdown of the game on a 24 yard pass from quarterback, John Kriceri to end Glen Ridinger. The extra point was kicked by Mike Zaccari to tie the game.

Late in the fourth quarter with interceptions by Jim Levey and Tom Kurt's and a fumble recovery by team captain Bob Garritano, the Golden Eagles were able to maintain control of the ball and with a drive of 75 yards scored the winning touchdown of the game on a 1 yard run by Mike Catello. The extra point was kicked by Mike Zaccari to leave the score at 21-14.

Clarion gained a total ground yardage of 333 to Lock Haven's 192 yards. The Golden Eagles out passed the Bald Eagles in yardage gained by 184 to 87 yards.

Outstanding players of this game were: halfback Mike Catello and quarterback John Kriceri. Catello with tremendous running ability even through mud and rain accumulated 187 yards rushing which may be a new PSCAC record. Along with ground yardage, Catello accumulated 47 yards on passes received and scored the winning touchdown of the game. Kriceri, Clarion's ace quarterback, passed 21, connected 9, for a total of 163 yards. Kriceri also gained 21 yards rushing and passed two touchdown passes to Glen Ridinger.

Other outstanding players with total yardage gained were: halfback, Don Hohman 114 yards, halfback, John DeRiggi 2 for 45 yards on kick-off returns and 1 for 21 on a punt return, and end, Jim Miller 51 yards on passes received.

Outstanding defensive players are: safety, Ken Gaudi with 12 tackles and 1 for 25 yards on a punt return, Frank Grundler with 10 tackles, and Jim Levey with 1 pass interception and 8 tackles.

The Clarion Golden Eagles lost their second game of the season and first in conference action on Sat., Oct. 16 when Edinboro, the state's number one defensive team, fought Clarion to a standstill in the first half but almost crumbled in the second.

Edinboro scored their only two touchdowns of the game when Mickey Walker ran for a 61 yard touchdown in the first quarter and John Mickovich ran with a 45 yard punt return in the third quarter. Clarion was not able to block the extra point attempts by Joe Lukac who kicked both conversions.

At the beginning of the second half Clarion trailed 7-0. Quarterback John Kriceri was out of action with a leg injury. The stage was set for Clarion's Mike Zaccari to man the helm.

Quarterback Mike Zaccari inspired by John Kriceri's efforts to move the team in the first half, opened up the second half with a massive attack by air, but it wasn't until the fourth quarter that Clarion was able to score.

Clarion's halfback Don Hohman, on a 1-yard plunge early in the period, scored Clarion's first touchdown. Later on a 12 yard pass from quarterback Zaccari, Hohman scored a second touchdown. Zaccari completed the first of two conversion attempts. The second was blocked by Edinboro's 6'2", 245 lb. tackle, Steve Nishnick, leaving a final score at 14-13.

Outstanding players in this game were quarterback, Mike Zaccari; halfback, Don Hohman; end, Jim Miller and safety, Jim Levey. Zaccari, with a blitz-krieg of passes, threw 21 and completed 16 with 1 touchdown pass in the second half for a total of 198 yards gained.

Halfback, Don Hohman, on the receiving end of the passes, caught 13 for a yardage gain of 123 yards and 1 touchdown. Hohman also accumulated 37 yards rushing to score a second touchdown. Jim Miller also on the receiving end, caught 6 passes for a gain of 102 yards. Safety Jim Levey, with his magic toe, kicked four punts holding an average of 54 yards, and also ran a kick-off return for 17 yards.

Clarion's season record now stands at 3 wins 2 losses with a 1 win 1 loss record in conference action.

Today, Saturday, Oct. 23 at 2:30 p.m. the "Golden Eagles" will travel to Indiana for their third conference game of the season.

Want a Job in Europe?

Grand Duchy of Luxembourg—Every student in America can get a summer job in Europe and a travel grant by applying directly to the European headquarters of the American Student Information Service in Luxembourg. Jobs are much the same as student summer work in the U.S. with employers offering work periods ranging from three weeks to permanent employment.

Lifeguarding, office work, resort-hotel jobs, factory, construction, camp counseling and farm work are only a few categories to be found among the 20,000 jobs ASIS has on file.

Operators of farm vehicles are urged to be especially careful at hours of dusk and after darkness falls. If your vehicle must use any public highway after dark—be sure that lanterns or other lights are used to warn approaching motorists.

Think twice before you say an unkind word—then don't say it.

Watch Those Fuses, Girls Newsmen's Special Tongue

By ERWIN ENDRESS

Blown any fuses lately? Perhaps not if you do not live in Becht Hall but, in this colonial mansion of our campus, this happening is a regular occurrence.

To aid in the removal of this hindrance, the administration has officially handed down the following helpful suggestions: (1) there are to be no unnecessary electrical appliances used (such as lights, toothbrushes, clocks, hairdryers, radios, and etc.). (2) there will be only one hot plate located on the third floor at which time it is in use, there will be no irons in operation. (3) there will be one iron per floor (approximately eighty girls) and must be used sparingly during which time the third floor hot plate is not in operation. (4) there will be no cooking in the rooms. Our campus should be rid of this eyesore and the girls released from the dreaded fear of the word "fire." Blown any fuses lately?

A newspaper city room is a place where "caps" are not hats, and where to "kill" is not to murder—except when a writer believes peerless prose has been massacred.

It is a place where, when something "breaks," nothing is shattered.

In this strange world, a "rock-er" is not for your Aunt Mathilda, and a review of "body type" is not a study in the female figure. In a city room, a "cut" requires no medical treatment. A "slug" causes no pain. No need to duck a "bullet."

A "take" has no relationship to thievery, and a "makeover" has nothing Pygmalion about it, except in a rather broad sense.

It is all part of the jargon of newspapering—a language so ingrained with those in the business that they scarcely know they speak it.

In a city room, there is no food in a "galley," no meat in a "chop." An editor may decide to "jump" without leaving the floor. There is no ambulance call when someone has a "head indented."

A "crop" has nothing to do with a harvest and a "button" is not the predecessor of the zipper.

You can have a "bold face" without being impudent. And you can have a "boxed head" without being a square.

Eyebrows may be raised by the fact that many a "pickup" occurs in a city room. But reputations thereby are not tarnished.

Here, as anywhere, a "tombstone" is to be avoided. But life being what it is, all news items eventually go to the "hellbox."

Editors talk of the "flag" and the "banner." They are not for waving.

Neither is a "mat" for sleeping or a "hold" for wrestling.

A man may "follow style" while being otherwise completely out-of-date. And a "beat man" may be not in the least exhausted.

But, like anywhere else, inhabitants of city rooms may rue the day when they head for the last "roundup."

MR. FRANKLIN TAKEI, CSC philosophy teacher, and Mr. Tran Van Chuong, former ambassador to the U. S. A. from Viet Nam, discuss the U. S. position in the Vietnamese War.

Former U. S. Ambassador Discusses Vietnamese War

"The secret in the success of the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam was only in its treachery and in our own reluctance to strike back at the aggressors' sanctuaries." This statement was made in the lecture given by Tran Van Chuong, former ambassador to the USA from Viet Nam, at the College Chapel Oct. 25, in response to the question, "What Next in Viet Nam?"

Dr. Chuong stated that he have stopped losing the war in Viet Nam because of two important moves by the United States:

- (1) "That the United States has had to strike back at the aggressors' sanctuaries in both North and South Viet Nam," and;
- (2) "The United States has had to (actively) enter the war in Viet Nam in order to effectively honor its defensive commitments."

He said that these two major moves on the part of the United States "will continue to change the course of the war; they will turn defeat into victory and lead to real peace by showing Communists that the United States is no 'paper tiger' and that they (the Communists) must not count on such wars to conquer the world."

This stand which we have taken has been very recent and before we can turn defeat into victory "we must be patient, we must persevere, and we must not allow ourselves to be lured into easy and false solutions."

Lecture Cancelled

The lecture by Mrs. Amita Sher, Pakistani social worker and wife of the Brigadier General Sher of the Pakistan Army, scheduled for November 15, has been postponed until a future date to be announced.

Mrs. Sher is unable to give this lecture, sponsored by the Concert Lecture Series, because she has returned to Pakistan to aid her country.

Although the United States has become actively involved in this war, most of the fighting is being done by the Vietnamese. Dr. Chuong related that there were 3,000 Vietnamese killed in the past four months as compared to 275 Americans.

Dr. Chuong justified the American involvement in the war in his homeland by comparing the underdeveloped countries of Asia and Africa to sail boats "which have to look where the wind blows." And if the wind blows only from the Communist countries, they will easily follow.

Coleman Blumfield, Class Officers Pianist, Coming Selected For 1965-66 Year

Clarion State College has scheduled Mr. Coleman Blumfield, pianist, to appear in the College Chapel, Monday and Tuesday, November 16 and 17 at 8 p.m.

Mr. Blumfield, a student of Vladimir Horowitz, is appearing under the auspices of the Job Corps Program, with the cooperation of Clarion State College.

The program Tuesday is for the enjoyment of the students and faculty and staff of surrounding high schools.

Mr. Blumfield, a graduate of Curtis Institute of Music, Philadelphia, was born in Chicago, Ill. He has performed as a soloist with the Detroit, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Washington, Buffalo, Denver, Tampa, Savannah, Symphony Orchestras. He has held recitals throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, and done special performances for President Eisenhower, the Voice of Firestone, and numerous television programs.

Dr. Robert Van Meter, acting chairman of the Music Department, CSC, stated that Blumfield, so far as he knows, is the only student accepted by Horowitz, and his appearance at CSC is truly a rare opportunity.

In 1940, the Honorable Tran Van Chuong was vice president of the Grand Council for Economic and Financial Interest in Indochina, and in 1945, he was made Minister of Foreign Affairs. In 1954, Dr. Chuong was made Minister of State in the then new Nationalist government of President Diem. He was appointed Ambassador to the United States in 1955.

In August, 1963, Dr. Chuong publicly broke with his daughter Mme. Nhu in protest against the policies (particularly concerning the harsh action against the Buddhists) of the Diem regime.

C. S. C. Bookstore Burglaries Solved

Clarion State College's Director of Security, Thaddeus P. Droast, announced that after a long and extensive investigation three former Clarion State College students were apprehended for a series of Bookstore burglaries. All former students were charged with burglary; two men on three (3) counts, and one man on one (1) count.

Mr. Droast, with aid from Trooper Vern E. Smith of the Pennsylvania State Police, also recovered several hundred dollars worth of valuables.

Through a continued investigation of nearly eight months, evidence was finally obtained which led to the responsible individuals. According to Mr. Droast, "There are still many avenues of exploration remaining and the possibility of additional apprehensions. Other incidents at the Bookstore remain pending and this investigation will continue until all matters are clarified."

Presently the former students have been released on $1,500.00 bond for their appearance in court.

No additional information was made available by Mr. Droast because of pending court procedures. The names of the individuals were not released by College Officials.

A BIG DRINK OF WATER

THE CRANE adds another piece to the 158 foot water spheroid to be completed by December 15.

Campus Tower Reaches Skyward

Construction of a water spheroid near Given Hall has been underway since the beginning of the fall semester.

The spheroid will hold 500,000 gallons of water which will be pumped by two electrical centrifugal pumps, each pump capable of pumping 450 gallons per minute.

The complete structure consists of a cone-shaped base, a slender column and the spheroid. A ten-inch pipe extends from the base to the spheroid.

The spheroid is 56 feet in diameter and the entire structure is 158 feet high.

The cement base, sunk many feet in the ground was constructed by the McGosson Company. The actual structure is being constructed by the Chicago Bridge and Iron Company composed of a nine-man working crew.

Completion date is set for December 15.

Editorially Speaking

A college yearbook, or any school yearbook, serves as a chronicle of events and people of the previous year. It is leafed through eagerly each spring when the students receive it. At the time, it seems like a review of events with no future use.

Many students, however, fail to recognize the technical use of a yearbook. In future years, a professor may refer to the yearbook to identify a former student who is now requesting recommendation or verify the participation of that student in college activities.

Last year there were over two hundred seniors who will remain without a face in their Sequels. Perhaps they didn't want to take the time and effort to have their picture taken, but in the end, they are the ones who will lose.

To avoid this same occurrence, any senior can submit a 2" x 3" glossy picture to the yearbook by November 15, for his senior picture. This includes both student teachers and those seniors on campus.

Don't become a name without a face, submit a picture as soon as possible.

Two CSC Students Are Killed

LOIS PETROVICH

A skid followed by a head-on collision took the life of Lois Petrovich, second semester senior at Clarion State College, Thursday, Oct. 28.

Miss Petrovich, who was en route to a night class from Ford City, where she was doing her practice teaching, skidded almost directly into the path of an oncoming vehicle at about 7:35 p.m. She died later the same evening of chest and pelvic injuries.

Miss Kathleen Ward, senior, from Sarver, Pa., and a passenger, sustained a broken leg and severe eye injuries.

Miss Petrovich would have graduated in January.

The funeral was held November 1 at St. Mary's Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church.

Lois was active in many activities on campus.

She was vice-president of Student PSEA (1963-64); during that same year she was also a Student Resident at Ralston Hall. Lois was a member of Delta Zeta Sorority, Women's Athletic Association, Waiter's Club, and Association of Women Students.

CARL CHAPAITIS

Carl Paul Chapaitis, 19, CSC student from Plum Boro, New Kensington, was killed Monday night, Nov. 1, in a one car accident eight miles south of Clarion on a rain slicked highway.

Carl went home early Friday due to an illness in his family. A friend, George W. Beattie, 21, of New Kensington and driver of the car, was bringing him back to classes when the accident occurred.

In attempting to pass another vehicle, Beattie's auto ran off the soft berm of the highway, tore out two guard rails, then somersaulted, coming to rest on its top in a ravine at the bottom of a four foot embankment. Carl was thrown from the vehicle and was pinned beneath it.

Carl was a sophomore and resided at McKean Hall. He was a member of Saint Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, New Kensington. He was a center on the CSC varsity squad.

On Clarion's campus, Carl, a liberal arts major, participated in football, basketball, baseball and was presently pledging Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity.

The men of Sigma Tau Gamma had complete attendance at the funeral Friday morning in New Kensington. The brothers who are on the varsity football team served as pall bearers. They were: Jim Dobranci, Harry George, Bill Eder, Lou Vodopivec, Glenn Riding, Rich Sneebold, and Roy Smeltz.

The fraternity will have a Mass said at a later date at the Immaculate Conception Church, Clarion, in remembrance of Carl.

The Senator's Notebook

Student Senate has made its recommendation concerning the purchase of a new Student Association car. It has, on the recommendation of the Car Committee, decided to purchase two eight-passenger dark blue station wagons. Bids have been sent out by Mr. Atchison. The vote was eight for and one against.

The Senate has decided to advertise the present Student Association car after the purchase of the new cars.

CSC Professor Attends Meeting

Dr. George R. Lewis, mathematics professor, was invited to participate in a meeting of the State Advisory Committee on Mathematics in Harrisburg, November 18.

Topics to be considered at the meeting are a K-14 program for mathematics education, programs of pre-service and in-service teacher education, and the use of computers in mathematics education.

CSC Oral Interpretative Reading Group Competes In, Holds Invitational Festival

MICHIGAN FESTIVAL

Three members of Clarion State College's Oral Interpretative Reading Guild attended an Oral Interpretative Reading Invitational Festival October 23-26, at Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant, Michigan.

Clarion's representatives were: Patricia McQuiston, President of the OIR Guild and a junior from Mercer, who read excerpts from George Bernard Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell" and Christopher Fry's "A Sleep of Prisoners"; Richard Anderson, a senior from Turtle Creek, who read "Puddinghead Wilson" by Mark Twain; and Larry Miller, a senior from Rew, who was the featured reader in a group presentation of John Hershey's "The Child Buyer."

Miss Amelia Hoover, associate professor of speech, attended the festival as a critic and judge.

This festival was not competitive and therefore did not award prizes or trophies. The participating student readers were given evaluatory critiques on their reading interpretation. Clarion's readers received excellent ratings.

Clarion was the only college representing the Eastern part of the United States. The other schools participating were Purdue University, Southern Illinois University, Bowling Green University, Hillsdale College, Otterbein College, and Central Michigan University, the host school.

CSC FESTIVAL

The second annual Oral Interpretative Reading Invitational Festival, sponsored by the Clarion State College Oral Interpretative Reading Guild and the Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts, will be held on November 11, 12, and 13 in the College Chapel.

Presently, Clarion is one of the few colleges or universities in the United States which holds a competitive oral reading festival.

On the first day of the festival, a contest for local high schools will be held with competition in Dramatic and Poetry Readings. Awards will be presented that afternoon.

The remainder of the festival will be devoted to area colleges and universities which have been invited to compete for trophies in the categories of Dramatic, Poetry, and Prose Readings. Last year Duquesne University won the trophy for Poetry, Chatham College won in the Prose division, and Penn State, DuBois Campus took the Dramatic trophy.

The grand award trophy, presented to the school with the highest point rating for the entire festival, was shared by Clarion and Duquesne University. Duquesne held the trophy for the past year and it will be placed in competition once again this year.

Any college or university who wins this award for three consecutive years, retains the trophy and it is retired from competition.

Clarion's entries in the competition are: Poetry Readings—Richard Anderson reading Herod's Speech from Auden's Christmas Oratorio; Dramatic Readings—Patricia McQuiston reading excerpts from Shaw's "Don Juan in Hell" and Fry's "A Sleep of Prisoners"; and, Prose Readings—excerpts from Hershey's "A Child Buyer" with Judy Berasi, Larry Miller, Patricia McQuiston, Joan Ruffo, and Richard Anderson as featured readers.

Prior to the Dramatic Reading Contest on Friday evening, the Clarion O. I. R. Guild will present excerpts from Auden's Christmas Oratorio, "For the Time Being."

Judging for the festival will be done by the faculty representatives from various high schools and other institutions and area businesses.

The college administration, faculty and students, and the general public are invited to attend.

Students Occupy New Dormitory

Venango Campus students moved into the new college dormitory last week.

Over 100 students are housed in the attractive colonial, white brick, four-story structure, located west of the classroom building of the campus.

Fifty four women students moved into the dorm last Thursday from their temporary quarters at the YWCA. Fifty-six male students, previously housed at the YMCA moved into the dorm that Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Monaco of Indiana, head resident, will supervise the dormitory.

William McGinley, business manager of Dor-May Company of Murrysville, the firm which owns the dormitory, stated that there will be a group lounge for both men and women. Separate recreation rooms are being prepared for the residents along with separate laundries, ironing rooms, and storage rooms.

The dormitory will have a central dining hall. The kitchen installation will not be completed yet, another week. Food will be served cafeteria-style. Until the dining facilities are ready, students are being transported to the YWCA by bus for meals.

Mr. McGinley also said that there will be two students assigned to each room. The housing capacity of the dorm is approximately 220 students. While total facilities will not be utilized this year, Mr. McGinley said it is expected that the residence will be filled at the beginning of the fall semester in 1966.

The rooms are 12 by 14 feet and are equipped with cherry wood veneer furnishings, Arlyn-Craft, manufactured by the Dor-May Company. To conserve space, closets and vanities are built-in.

Other furnishings include single beds, individual study desks with study lamps and chairs, and the floors of the room are of asphalt tile.

Each wing of the new structure has a central bath and separate shower room.

Construction of the residence hall began last June, and formal dedication, according to Mr. McGinley, will be held on a date in mid-November, to be announced.

In keeping with the policy of Clarion State College, students attending the Campus and not commuting from home must stay in the new residence hall.

HEAD RESIDENT of the new Venango dormitory, Mrs. Mary Monaco, and Karen Kennelly discuss the long awaited move.

New Residence Appreciated

The first week in the new dormitory at Venango Campus has now passed. It was with great relief that students moved from their temporary residence to the new building. There have been a few problems since the new residence was established, but they have been minor and were readily solved.

Several students have commented on the dorm.

Brad Brown, sophomore: "After spending one week in the new dorm, I can truly say it's great. This place really seems like a hotel after nearly two months at the Oil City YMCA with one room shared with twenty-five guys. I never thought just having my own desk and closet could mean so much!"

Judy Levy, freshman: "The dorm is quite a change after living in the YWCA. The rooms provide privacy and tranquility from the hub-bub of our communal bedroom."

Dan Kaufman, freshman who attended summer school on the main campus: "I have lived in the dorms at the main campus and was quite pleased to find the rooms here much better constructed than those at the main campus."

Connie Magnuson, freshman: "It's just wonderful and really worth waiting for! I'm sure we will have the most beautiful and modern dorm at Clarion State College."

Karen Kennelly, sophomore: "The new dorm is beautiful and it gives me a thrill to know that I

Dormitory Council Chiefs, Referral Board Named

Recently Venango Campus dormitory students elected delegates to the two governing dormitory councils, the House Council, and the Referral Board.

The elections were held under the direction of the head resident, Mrs. Mary Monaco, who is also the advisor for the House Council.

The House Council is broken into two divisions, one for the women and one for the men. Five women were chosen: Linda Allhouse, Connie Magnuson, Peggy Hall, Robin Morris, and Sandy Leonberger. The men chosen were: Tom Bass, Chairman; Marty Kirschner, house manager; Albert DeJulio, secretary; Andy Brletic, fire captain; Joe Robosky, Don McElravy, and Tom Wulk.

The official duty of the House Council is to promote and maintain the best conditions possible in the residence hall.

Established to handle infractions of residence hall rules is the Referral Board. This group determines the final judgment of the offender before referring the student to either Dean Thomas, Dean of Men, or Dean Gareis, Dean of Women.

Terry Howell, sophomore, is chairman for the Referral Board; Ed Sadosky and Ron Dalby act as floor representatives. Women on the board include Sherry Leonberger, Carole Reis, and Mickey Pond.

In the near future, the joint council, consisting of the Referral Board and the House Council members, will meet and elect the President of the residence hall who will direct both bodies.

Library Features Children's Week

October 31 to November 6, is Children's Book Week. The display case in front of the library is now exhibiting award winning children's books. Included is the Caldecott Winner, May I Bring a Friend, by Beatrice Schenk de Regniers; and the Newbery Award Winner, Shadow of a Bull, by Maia Wojciechowska.

The "Best of the 19th Century British Illustrators" is the title of the exhibit located in the showcase inside the library. These older prints and books show the works of a number of illustrators. Among them are, Walter Crane, Randolph Caldecott, and Leslie Brooke.

Illustrations by John Tenniel from the book Alice in Wonderland and Beatrix Potter's The Tale of Benjamin Bunny are also in the case.

ALPHA CHI RHO

In the last two weeks, the Brothers of AXP have welcomed one more brother and two more pledges into the Fraternity. Edward Eder, who was pledged last year, officially became a Brother, being initiated on October 25. Rounding out our pledge class for this semester are two more men, Jim Rhoads, and Ernie Muro. We're very proud of our pledges and feel that we're going to add a fine group of capable men to "our strong band."

Tonight you may see a number of Arabs headed for the Moose Hall in Clarion. These will be the Brothers and guests, and their dates attending our Cairo Party. This is a sort of a tradition in our National Fraternity and many Chapters have an annual Cairo Party carrying out a Middle East desert oasis theme. Besides the inevitable dancing and eating, we also have some entertainment and a mummy-wrapping contest planned. Anyone looking for a good time is invited to come down to the Moose Hall and join us.

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

Pledging period has officially ended for the men of Alpha Gamma Phi. Fourteen new members have been taken in this semester, and the Gammas are looking forward to a bigger pledge class next semester.

We would like to thank the brothers of Theta Xi for sponsoring an open party for the entire campus. Many of the brothers enjoyed the occasion.

Happy birthday wishes go to Brother "Bo" Garritano who will celebrate his 21st birthday this Saturday.

We also extend good luck wishes to those brothers who are student teaching this semester. They are: Brothers Persi, Tuminella, Lowry, and Mills.

Congratulations also go to Brother Cleary who recently took first place in a sports car rally held in Mechanicsville several weeks ago.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

The Sigma Delta Phi sorority, organized on the Clarion campus for the last thirty-five years, came to an end Tuesday, October 26, with the formal pledging of its members into Alpha Omicron chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau National Sorority. The pledging ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Robert Wales, District President, and Mrs. Joseph Steen, past District President. A pledging party followed the ceremony in the sorority suite.

Our membership consists of thirty-four collegiate members. Senior members and alumnae will join at our initiation ceremony temporarily set for January.

Our pledging will last for eight weeks, during which the sisters will study the sorority's history and contribute to local as well as national projects.

Alpha Sigma Tau was founded November 4, 1899, at Eastern Michigan College, in Upsilon, Michigan. Since then the Alpha Sigma Tau name has spread, now belonging to twenty-nine collegiate chapters across the United States. Four of these chapters are found in Pennsylvania, at: Lock Haven, Mansfield, Indiana, and now Clarion State College.

Our Alpha Tau colors are emerald green and gold, our flower is the yellow rose. The pin is a six-pointed shield of black enamel and gold, bordered with pearls and displaying the Greek letters in the center.

Our first pledge class includes: Connie Brant, Peggy Person, Patricia Hubler, Beverly Kessler, Betsy McClure, Barbara Mahovic, and Sharyn Yothers.

The Alpha Tau's, on October 29, enjoyed a combination Informal Initiation and Halloween Party in the suite, at this time Big Sisters and Little Sisters exchanged gifts.

Congratulations go to Patricia McQuiston, for the fine job done at the Central Michigan University's Oral Interpretative Reading Festival and Workshop.

Yellow roses go to Patricia McQuiston also, for her work as chairman of our prize winning Homecoming float.

BETA CHI UPSILON

The Beta Chi Upsilon sorority celebrated their sixth birthday on November 2. The sorority was founded on this campus in 1959.

"Archaeological Frontiers" Unfold

Students Aid In Archaeological Discoveries

VARIOUS ACTIVITIES take place at the archaeological site: digging, sifting, measuring and sketching, as well as the division into sections.

Anthropology and archaeology are two new fields at Clarion State College.

Until two years ago, little archaeological information about the Upper Allegheny Valley was available, the area north of Kittanning being one of the last "archaeological frontiers" in western Pennsylvania.

With the appointment of Dr. Gustav A. Konitzky as professor of Anthropology at Clarion, archaeological exploration began with a series of scientific excavations of Indian sites along the Allegheny and Clarion Rivers. Archaeological field work is a slow and meticulous process requiring attention and some basic skills. One only has to observe the student volunteers, many of them members of the Clarion State College Archaeological Association, excavating a site, to realize that modern archaeological techniques are a refined tool to retrieve information.

Excavation of each site is done scientifically and thoroughly. The sites are generally located in the shelter of a large rock. Using the rock as a starting point, sections five feet square are marked with stakes and string. One person usually works in a section and digs the area out keeping it all at the same level. When a bucket is filled with earth, it is sifted to obtain any particles which are missed the first time. Flint chips are numerous and indicate the production of tools.

ranging in time from 6,000 B.C. to 1600 A.D., for Indians roamed in western Pennsylvania before the Egyptians built their first pyramids!

Dr. Konitzky, who has done archaeological work both in the United States and in Europe, is also preparing a teaching film under the title "Information from the Earth" to show how archaeologists work, what can be learned from an excavation, and how finds are properly recorded. This film is scheduled for completion in the spring of 1966.

Asked whether any Clarion student might participate in archaeological work, Dr. Konitzky stated: "We don't have a monopoly and any student is welcome as a volunteer member of the crew. Archaeology is an exciting business, combining elements of research with the excitement of prospecting, and besides, it is a great outdoor activity!"

SKETCHES are made after every six-inch level showing the rock formations and changes.

A. C. E. Offers Study Program in Great Britain

The Association for Cultural Exchange, a British non-profit organization, has offered a novel approach to spend the summer in England.

Last summer, students from 36 colleges and 21 states participated in archaeology "digs" in England. They helped in excavating a Roman villa and a deserted medieval village as just two of the many sites. This same offer will be available to students in 1966. This program is offered to help students earn credits, make international friends, and receive valuable training in archaeology.

Volunteers first join a three-week seminar for training in British archaeology and excavation techniques at Westminster College, Oxford. They then split up into small groups for three or more weeks "digging" on an archaeological site. Total cost of the program is $675 including round-trip air transportation from New York. Part scholarships are available to suitable students with a "B" plus average.

Write now for further details to: Ian A. Lowson, Association for Cultural Exchange, 539 West 112th Street, New York, N. Y. Closing application date is expected to be January 1, 1966.

SECTIONS ARE EXCAVATED separately after being divided by stake and string markers.

SIFTING THE EARTH is the last step to find fragments not discovered during the digging.

ALPHA CHI RHO

In the last two weeks, the Brothers of AXP have welcomed one more brother and two more pledges into the Fraternity. Edward Eder, who was pledged last year, officially became a Brother, being initiated on October 25. Rounding out our pledge class for this semester are two more men, Jim Rhoads, and Ernie Muro. We're very proud of our pledges and feel that we're going to add a fine group of capable men to "our strong band."

Tonight you may see a number of Arabs headed for the Moose Hall in Clarion. These will be the Brothers and guests, and their dates attending our Cairo Party. This is a sort of a tradition in our National Fraternity and many Chapters have an annual Cairo Party carrying out a Middle East desert oasis theme. Besides the inevitable dancing and eating, we also have some entertainment and a mummy-wrapping contest planned. Anyone looking for a good time is invited to come down to the Moose Hall and join us.

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

Pledging period has officially ended for the men of Alpha Gamma Phi. Fourteen new members have been taken in this semester, and the Gammas are looking forward to a bigger pledge class next semester.

We would like to thank the brothers of Theta Xi for sponsoring an open party for the entire campus. Many of the brothers enjoyed the occasion.

Happy birthday wishes go to Brother "Bo" Garritano who will celebrate his 21st birthday this Saturday.

We also extend good luck wishes to those brothers who are student teaching this semester. They are: Brothers Persi, Tuminiella, Lowry, and Mills.

Congratulations also go to Brother Cleary who recently took first place in a sports car rally held in Mechanicsville several weeks ago.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

The Sigma Delta Phi sorority, organized on the Clarion campus for the last thirty-five years, came to an end Tuesday, October 26, with the formal pledging of its members into Alpha Omicron chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau National Sorority. The pledging ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Robert Wales, District President, and Mrs. Joseph Steen, past District President. A pledging party followed the ceremony in the sorority suite.

Our membership consists of thirty-four collegiate members. Senior members and alumnae will join at our initiation ceremony temporarily set for January.

Our pledging will last for eight weeks, during which the sisters will study the sorority's history and contribute to local as well as national projects.

Alpha Sigma Tau was founded November 4, 1899, at Eastern Michigan College, in Upsilon, Michigan. Since then the Alpha Sigma Tau name has spread, now belonging to twenty-nine collegiate chapters across the United States. Four of these chapters are found in Pennsylvania, at: Lock Haven, Mansfield, Indiana, and now Clarion State College.

Our Alpha Tau colors are emerald green and gold, our flower is the yellow rose. The pin is a six-pointed shield of black enamel and gold, bordered with pearls and displaying the Greek letters in the center.

Our first pledge class includes: Connie Brant, Peggy Ferson, Patricia Hubler, Beverly Kessler, Betsy McClure, Barbara Mahovic, and Sharyn Yothers.

The Alpha Tau's, on October 29, enjoyed a combination Informal Initiation and Halloween Party in the suite, at this time Big Sisters and Little Sisters exchanged gifts.

Congratulations go to Patricia McQuiston, for the fine job done at the Central Michigan University's Oral Interpretative Reading Festival and Workshop.

Yellow roses go to Patricia McQuiston also, for her work as chairman of our prize winning Homecoming float.

STUDENT works diligently to clear and excavate his section.

A formation of rock which appears to be placed in a certain position indicate many possibilities and sketches are made of the shape and location of these formations.

Projectile points and tools have been dated back as far as 4,000 years. Although it seems hard to imagine, one Indian site was inhabited while the Egyptians were building the pyramids.

The academic offerings at CSC have grown from one course in Anthropology to almost ten and the growth in Sociology is similar, making Clarion the only state college in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania offering a major in this field. One of the unique offerings is a summer course in Field Archaeology which provides three weeks of actual field experience during pre-session.

The Archaeological Laboratory on the third floor of Science Hall is the place where the material from the excavations is cleaned, sorted, restored, catalogued and finally stored after a preliminary field report on the excavation has been prepared. Here on the shelves are several thousand specimens ranging in time from 6,000 B.C. to 1600 A.D., for Indians roamed in western Pennsylvania before the Egyptians built their first pyramids!

Dr. Konitzky, who has done archaeological work both in the United States and in Europe, is also preparing a teaching film under the title "Information from the Earth" to show how archaeologists work, what can be learned from an excavation, and how finds are properly recorded. Eagles Mix Victory, Defeat

Lose One

The Golden Eagles of Clarion lost their third game of the season, 34-33, Oct. 30, in a touchdown for touchdown battle.

Clarion scored its first touchdown early in the first quarter on a 3-yard pass from quarterback Mike Zaccari to end, Jim Miller. Clarion, again within the first five minutes of the first quarter, scored its second touchdown on a 1-yard run by halfback, Mike Giunta. Quarterback Mike Zaccari attempting both conversions, made one and missed one for a score early in the first quarter, Clarion 13, California 0.

California State, a very determined and aggressive team, scored two touchdowns in the remaining ten minutes of the first quarter. Their first touchdown was on a 3 yard run by Mike Yandell and their second touchdown was also on a 3 yard run by Robert Oliver. On the extra point attempts, John Terlingo successfully kicked two for a score at the end of the first quarter, California 14, Clarion 13.

Clarion, also playing a very aggressive game, scored their third touchdown in the second quarter on a 12 yard pass from quarterback, Mike Zaccari to end, Jim Miller. Zaccari added the extra point for a score at the end of the first half, Clarion 20, California 14. In the third quarter, the Golden Eagles continued their drive with another touchdown by halfback Mike Giunta on a 4-yard run. Zaccari's attempt on the conversion was unsuccessful, for a score of Clarion 26, California 14.

Later in the third quarter California's Mike Yandell intercepted a pass and in turn threw a lateral pass to Paul Giamales who went for a 51-yard touchdown. John Terlingo's attempt for the extra point was unsuccessful, for a score at the end of the third quarter, Clarion 26, California 20.

Early in the fourth quarter California's fullback Jim Boggio plowed through the Clarion defense for a 27-yard touchdown. John Terlingo's kick on the extra point attempt made the score California 27, Clarion 26.

Clarion's quarterback, John Kriceri, on Clarion's own 26 yard line with ten minutes left in the game, threw a short screen pass to halfback Tom Kurts who then dashed for a 74 yard touchdown. The extra point was kicked by Jim Miller for a score of Clarion 33, California 27.

The Vulcans of California, a bit dismayed at Clarion's performance, opened up with their last thrust to score when quarterback Bill Lee threw a completed pass to end Ettore Perri in the end zone for California's fifth touchdown. John Terlingo kicked the extra point for the final score California 34, Clarion 33.

Win One

The powerful offensive of the Golden Eagles, supplemented with key plays by Mike Zaccari, Don Hohman, and Mickey Catello, gave Clarion a 18-9 victory over the Indians of Indiana in Clarion's third conference game.

As the game got under way, Clarion kicked off to the Indians. The spirited defensive gridders stopped the Indiana drive early in the first quarter and forced them to punt. The Golden Eagles offensive unit immediately took possession of the ball but fared no better and found themselves in a similar punting situation. The Indians took possession of the ball on their own 20 yard line after a tremendous 70 yard punt by Clarion's Jim Levey. Indiana with continuous air assaults, was halted when Clarion's Jim Levey intercepted a pass ending all attempts to score in the first quarter.

Indiana began the second quarter play deep in Clarion territory. With a 1-yard plunge fullback Dave Cessna scored Indiana's first TD. Skip Sharp kicked the extra point for a score early in the second quarter Indiana 7-0.

The Golden Eagles determined to score in the second quarter, gave halfback Don "The Mule" Hohman possession of the ball. With a drive of 51 yards by Hohman, the Golden Eagles, with little time remaining in the first half, came to within field goal range where quarterback Mike Zaccari relieved Hohman of his duties and successfully split the posts on a field goal attempt. The score at halftime was Indiana 7, Clarion 3.

Following halftime intermission, Clarion's Ed Cisek booted a high 60 yard end-over-end kick to the Indians. With a fumble recovery by Clarion's Al Prenovitz and a pass interception by Fran Siranni, the Golden Eagles maintained control of the ball. Halfback Mickey Catello on a 12 yard pass from quarterback Mike Zaccari scored Clarion's first TD. Zaccari kicked the extra point for a score in favor of Clarion 10-7.

Clarion's Ed Cisek booted another high end-over-end kick-off to the Indians which this time was bobbled by an Indiana player and rolled into the end zone for a Clarion safety. The score at the end of the third quarter was Clarion 12-7.

In the fourth quarter, Clarion with their backs against the posts on their own end zone, left Zaccari in a trip play giving Indiana a safety. Later in the fourth quarter injuries retired fullback Lou Vodopivec and halfback Don Hohman, two Clarion players. With a fumble recovery by Clarion's tackle Tom Reiber, the Golden Eagles regained possession of the ball in Indiana territory. Quarterback Mike Zaccari trapped by four Indiana players, played a game of dodge ball with the Indians and suddenly, running in the wrong direction with poor visibility, hurled a 30 yard pass in the right direction to Clarion's Tom Kurts who was standing on the end zone. Kurts then scored Clarion's second TD. Zaccari, failed from his dodging exhibition, failed in his attempt to kick the extra point, leaving the score at Clarion 18, Indiana 9.

Outstanding offensive players of this game were: halfback Don Hohman with total ground yardage of 91 yards, quarterback Mike Zaccari with a 6 for 13 on passes including two TD connections, safety Jim Levey with a punting average of 58 yards on 4 punts, and end Ed Cisek with a kick-off average of 45 yards on 6 kicks.

Outstanding defensive players are: Jim Levey with 1 interception, Fran Siranni with 2 interceptions, Al Prenovitz and Tom Reiber both with a fumble recovery, Ken Gaudi, Bob Garritano, Bob Crystol, and Frank Grunkler with 10 tackles apiece.

Clarion's season record now stands at 4 wins 2 losses with a 2 win 1 loss record in conference action.

'65 Veteran, Novice Debaters Score High In Tournaments

Clarion's top debate team of sophomore Jean Elliott and junior Barbara Artuso started their season impressively last weekend with an undefeated record at the Rosemont varsity tournament in Philadelphia.

Elliott and Artuso finished last season by tying for 3rd in the Pi Kappa Delta national tournament in Washington. The girls defeated King's, Villanova, Temple, Lehigh, and Seton Hall to finish 5-0 in the tournament.

Jean Elliott was the fourth ranking speaker in the tournament, finishing just one point behind a three-way tie for first between two speakers from King's and one from Seton Hall (both of whom were beaten by the Clarion team in the tournament).

Clarion lost out on the tournament trophies when the negative team of Cathy Edner and Nancy Caldwell lost to University of Pennsylvania in the 4th round of the tournament.

Georgetown finished in first place with an 8-2 record, followed by King's in second, and Pennsylvania in third with 7-3. Clarion's overall 6-4 record was a tie for fourth place among the twenty-eight colleges entered from eight states and the District of Columbia.

Banyay and Feriane on the affirmative had a 3-3 record. They had wins over Wake Forest, West Georgia, and West Carolina, and losses to Army, University of Virginia, and Wilmington.

Helsinki University Chorus Presents Concert at Clarion SC

The Helsinki University Chorus, under the direction of Dr. Ensti Pohjola, presented a concert at the Clarion Area High School on November 2.

The Chorus presented: "Loitsu" by Axel Tornudd, "Saarellapala" by Jean Sibelius and "Finlandia" by Jean Sibelius, plus many other selections.

Featured soloists in the program were Usko Viitanen and Pertti Saurola.

This is their third North American Tour made possible by the patronage of His Excellency Urho Kekkonen, President of the Republic of Finland.

Finland's outstanding musical ensemble is rich in the traditions of that country. Founded in 1883, when Finland was ruled by the Czar of Russia and when Swedish was the language of the educated classes in Finland, the Helsinki University Chorus was among the first of the cultural groups to oppose the Czar's attempts at "Russification" by performing choral works in Finnish.

While the Ylipilaskunnan Laul-ajat, as the chorus is known in Finland, has been primarily geared toward furthering the nationalistic spirit of its country, it has also increased its repertoire of internationally known masters.

The chorus has made regular concert tours of Europe, Hungary, Italy, the Baltic countries. Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Germany and Belgium.

Eagles Mix Victory, Defeat

Lose One

The Golden Eagles of Clarion lost their third game of the season, 34-33, Oct. 30, in a touchdown for touchdown battle.

Clarion scored its first touchdown early in the first quarter on a 3-yard pass from quarterback Mike Zaccari to end, Jim Miller. Clarion, again within the first five minutes of the first quarter, scored its second touchdown on a 1-yard run, by halfback, Mike Giunta. Quarterback Mike Zaccari attempting both conversions, made one and missed one for a score early in the first quarter, Clarion 13, California 0.

California State, a very determined and aggressive team, scored two touchdowns in the remaining ten minutes of the first quarter. Their first touchdown was on a 3 yard run by Mike Yandell and their second touchdown was also on a 3 yard run by Robert Oliver. On the extra point attempts, John Terlingo successfully kicked two for a score at the end of the first quarter, California 14, Clarion 13.

Clarion, also playing a very aggressive game, scored their third touchdown in the second quarter on a 12 yard pass from quarterback, Mike Zaccari to end, Jim Miller. Zaccari added the extra point for a score at the end of the first half, Clarion 20, California 14.

In the third quarter, the Golden Eagles continued their drive with another touchdown by halfback Mike Giunta on a 4-yard run. Zaccari's attempt on the conversion was unsuccessful, for a score of Clarion 26, California 14.

Later in the third quarter California's Mike Yandell intercepted a pass and in turn threw a lateral pass to Paul Giamales who went for a 51-yard touchdown. John Terlingo's attempt for the extra point was unsuccessful, for a score at the end of the third quarter, Clarion 26, California 20.

Early in the fourth quarter California's fullback Jim Boggio plowed through the Clarion defense for a 27-yard touchdown. John Terlingo's kick on the extra point attempt made the score California 27, Clarion 26.

Clarion's quarterback, John Krieger, on Clarion's own 26 yard line with ten minutes left in the game, threw a short screen pass to halfback Tom Kurts who then dashed for a 74 yard touchdown. The extra point was kicked by Jim Miller for a score of Clarion 33, California 27.

The Vulcans of California, a bit dismayed at Clarion's performance, opened up with their last thrust to score when quarterback Bill Lee threw a completed pass to end Ettore Perri in the end zone for California's fifth touchdown. John Terlingo kicked the extra point for the final score California 34, Clarion 33.

Win One

The powerful offensive of the Golden Eagles, supplemented with key plays by Mike Zaccari, Don Hohman, and Mickey Catello, gave Clarion a 18-9 victory over the Indians of Indiana in Clarion's third conference game.

As the game got under way, Clarion kicked off to the Indians. The spirited defensive gridders stopped the Indiana drive early in the first quarter and forced them to punt. The Golden Eagles offensive unit immediately took possession of the ball but fared no better and found themselves in a similar punting situation. The Indians took possession of the ball on their own 20 yard line after a tremendous 70 yard punt by Clarion's Jim Levey. Indiana with continuous air assaults, was halted when Clarion's Jim Levey intercepted a pass ending all attempts to score in the first quarter.

Indiana began the second quarter play deep in Clarion territory. With a 1-yard plunge fullback Dave Cessna scored Indiana's first TD. Skip Sharp kicked the extra point for a score early in the second quarter Indiana 7-0.

The Golden Eagles determined to score in the second quarter, gave halfback Don "The Mule" Hohman possession of the ball. With a drive of 51 yards by Hohman, the Golden Eagles, with little time remaining in the first half, came to within field goal range where quarterback Mike Zaccari relieved Hohman of his duties and successfully split the posts on a field goal attempt. The score at halftime was Indiana 7, Clarion 3.

Following halftime intermission, Clarion's Ed Cisek booted a high 60 yard end-over-end kick to the Indians. With a fumble recovery by Clarion's Al Prenovietz and a pass interception by Fran Siranni, the Golden Eagles maintained control of the ball. Halfback Mickey Catello on a 12 yard pass from quarterback Mike Zaccari scored Clarion's first TD. Zaccari kicked the extra point for a score in favor of Clarion 10-7.

Clarion's Ed Cisek booted another high end-over-end kick-off to the Indians which this time was bobbled by an Indiana player and rolled into the end zone for a Clarion safety. The score at the end of the third quarter was Clarion 12-7.

In the fourth quarter, Clarion with their backs against the posts on their own end zone, left Zaccari in a trip play giving Indiana a safety.

Later in the fourth quarter injuries retired fullback Lou Vodopivec and halfback Don Hohman, two Clarion players. With a fumble recovery by Clarion's tackle Tom Reiber, the Golden Eagles regained possession of the ball in Indiana territory. Quarterback Mike Zaccari trapped by four Indiana players, played a game of dodge ball with the Indians and suddenly, running in the wrong direction with poor visibility, hurled a 30 yard pass in the right direction to Clarion's Tom Kurts who was standing on the end zone. Kurts then scored Clarion's second TD. Zaccari, tired from his dodging exhibition, failed in his attempt to kick the extra point, leaving the score at Clarion 18, Indiana 9.

Outstanding offensive players of this game were: halfback Don Hohman with total ground yardage of 91 yards, quarterback Mike Zaccari with a 6 for 13 on passes including two TD connections, safety Jim Levey with a punting average of 58 yards on 4 punts, and end Ed Cisek with a kick-off average of 45 yards on 6 kicks.

Outstanding defensive players are: Jim Levey with 1 interception, Fran Siranni with 2 interceptions, Al Prenovietz and Tom Reiber both with a fumble recovery, Ken Gaudi, Bob Garritano, Bob Crystol, and Frank Grunkler with 10 tackles apiece.

Clarion's season record now stands at 4 wins 2 losses with a 2 win 1 loss record in conference action.

CSC Wrestlers Begin Training For Mat Season

The Clarion State wrestling team is looking forward to another great year, with the return of all the veterans of last year's State Championship Team.

Coach Frank Lignelli's matmen have not lost a dual match in the past three years.

At 123 is Don McCollum from Kittanning, a junior undefeated in dual competition and third in the State.

At 130 is Rich Gilmore, from Peters Township who was ineligible second semester, but was first in Western Pennsylvania Regional Competition.

At 137 is Ken Warnick from Blairsville, a senior, undefeated in dual competition and was first in the State.

At 145 is Tony Catalano from Greenville, a senior who took fourth in State.

At 160 is Jerry Kemp from Mt. Lebanon, a senior who finished third in the State.

At 167 is Bob Tweedy, from Johnstown a junior, undefeated in dual competition who took third in the State.

At 177 is Dale Frye from Tyrone, a senior who finished second in the State.

Others who have a chance of making the team are John Crust, 130, Dan Raneri, 123, Jim Manuel, 177, Bill Mathews 123, and Ed Bradley, at Heavyweight.

Promising freshmen include, Ray Day 115, Woody Yauk at 123, Jerry Wood 123, John Dominich 137, Dick Locke 145, Doug Knibble 152, Bob Schmitz 160, and Doug Hamrock at 177.

A new weight, 152, has been added this year, to offer another chance to make the starting lineup.

Exam Announced

CSC seniors may participate in the Federal Service Entrance Examination which will be given on campus November 20.

Complete details and application forms are available at the Placement Office.

The exam covers only verbal abilities and quantitative reasoning, no specific subject matter knowledge is required to qualify. However, the national passing rate for college graduates is slightly over 50 percent.

Scholarship Given

The Department of Public Instruction, Division of Testing, Harrisburg, announces that John W. Heffer, of Fryburg, Pa., is the recipient of an $800 State Scholarship. Mr. Heffer, a freshman, is enrolled at CSC this fall.

Unhappiness is in not knowing what we want and killing ourselves to get it.

Copeland Directs Experimental Plays

On November 19, two one-act plays directed by Mr. Bob H. Copeland were presented in the College Chapel with Chuck Titus as student stage manager.

"Deathwatch" by the controversial French playwright Jean Genet was presented by the acting class. The play is a study of three criminals, imprisoned in the same cell, who have no desire to return to society.

The players were Barry Drandakis as Green Eyes, Kirby Kessel as Maurice, Clint Best as Lefranc and Bob Bickart as the Guard.

THE ZOO STORY

The other play was "The Zoo Story" written by Edward Albee. This two-character play revolves around the encounter, in Central Park, of Peter, an apparently substantial citizen, and Jerry, a psychopath. Their meeting builds tension and ends in an explosion.

Peter was played by Bob Jannone and Rich Lewis portrayed Jerry.

Singing Group Makes 1st Show

The Madrigal group of CSC made its debut for this year November 17 at the Rocky Grove Junior-Senior High School. Two performances were made, one for the junior high and one for the senior high.

Included in the program were While by My Sheep, Mexican Christmas Procession, A Christmas Cradle Song of the 14th Century and I Wonder as I Wonder with Sandy Stratton, a freshman from Philadelphia, singing the solo part.

The Madrigal group is made up of a proportionate number of sopranos, altos, tenors, and basses with all the work being done A Cappella. Members of the group are: Sopranos—Marilyn Studley, Sandy Stratton, Mary Kirby, Kay Mitchell, Sandy Schlachter, and Sallie Nolf. Altos—Jackie Gerard, Jayne Logan, Janet Borchert, Amy Woody, Lynne Mason, Jill Pierce, and Jan Peters. Tenors—Dick Slater, Dick Locke, Chris Daniels, and Lee Mock. Bases—Jack McGuire, Dennis Huff, Bill Demma, Don Kress, and Bob Brown.

The group is conducted by Mr. Olaf Malmn and meets for two hours every Monday. Their next performance will be December 13, 1965, when they will present the second half of the Choral Christmas program at the Clarion High School Auditorium.

The purpose of this presentation was experimental in nature. In the past 20 years the one-act play has been banished from the professional stage and relegated to the off-beat theater. These two plays illustrated that a short play can have all the dramatic suspense and social or psychological impact of a longer play with its gradual build-up.

Discussion of the plays followed the presentation.

Clarion State College, Clarion, Pennsylvania

Sat., Nov. 20, 1965

OIR PARTICIPANTS from CSC pose after winning the grand award for overall excellence in selection of material, performance, and point evaluation in the November 11-13 Festival.

Clarion, California Vie For OIR Festival Rank

Clarion State College and California State College tied for first place in the dramatic reading contest at the invitational Oral Interpretative Reading Festival staged November 12 and 13 at CSC.

Clarion's representative in poetry reading, Richard Anderson, placed first. Also sharing first place honors were Patricia McQuiston, CSC, and Kathy Rossi of California.

The schools involved in the festival were: State University College, Brockport, N. Y.; California State College; Clarion State College; Duquesne University; and Penn State University — DuBois Campus.

Archaeology Find Crucial

An archaeological team of undergraduate students from CSC has made a significant contribution to knowledge of the prehistory of the Allegheny Valley.

In the course of a routine investigation of an archaeological site, the group, under the leadership of Mr. Guido Riccadonna of Penfield, Pa., came upon evidence which documents the presence of an early hunting population in Venango County. The tentative identification of a javelin point of lanceolate shape indicates that the camp was occupied about 8,000 years ago, or shortly after the final recession of the ice further north.

The identification was made by Dr. Gustav A. Konitzky at the Archaeological Laboratory at Clarion. Full interpretation of the finds must wait until all material recovered can be analyzed.

This new evidence, the first to be recovered by a systematic excavation in this area, confirms information obtained from previous surface finds made by amateurs.

It is likely that small Indian hunting bands roamed over much of western Pennsylvania as early as 10,000 years ago.

Adding to the drama of the contests was a first place tie in prose reading, which took place Saturday. Once again, Clarion State College shared first place honors with Brockport, with a cutting from John Hersey's, "The Child Buyer."

The grand award for overall excellence in selection of material, performance and point evaluation of the judges was presented to Clarion State College. In the 1964 contest the latter award was shared by Duquesne University and Clarion State College. If won three years in succession by any one university or college, the grand award trophy may be retired by that school.

Contest judges were: Mrs. Esther Dinny, instructor, English, Cranberry High School; Donald Dinny, professor, head of the Department of Speech, Venango Campus; J. Thompson George, instructor, speech and English, Rocky Grove High School; Miss Bertha Nair, retired chairman, Department of English, Clarion State College; Mrs. William Hearst, Clarion.

Dr. Moses is Chairman of the Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts at Clarion State College and the author of Phonetics History and Interpretation published by Prentice-Hall.

ion Newspapers, Inc.; Meral Pratt, instructor, English, Clarion Area High School; and Raymond Duttan, station manager, WWCH Radio Station, Clarion.

Greetings were extended to the 2nd Oral Interpretative Reading Festival Banquet by President James Gemmell; Dean of Instruction, Dana Still; and Dr. Elbert R. Moses, chairman, Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts, who spoke briefly on "Why Study Oral Interpretation."

Work, Study, Travel Offered

Encouraged by the success of previous conferences, the Office of Cultural and Educational Exchange will again hold a university-wide conference on the opportunities for study, travel and work abroad during the summer months. This year the "Summer Opportunities Abroad" conference will be held on Saturday, December 4, 1965, at 9:30 a.m. in the Supper Room of the Student Union Building.

The following organizations have been invited to this conference: Council on Student Travel, U.S. National Student Association, Experiment in International Living, The Lisle Fellowship, Operation Crossroads Africa, and the Institute of International Education. After the panel discussions, these representatives will be available for individual talks with interested students.

OCEE maintains an up-to-date library on overseas travel and extensive files on study and work opportunities abroad. Mrs. Ursula El-Waziri, the Advisor on Study Abroad, provides realistic advice to anyone interested.

Curriculum Class Visits Penn Hills Elementary School

The fall semester classes in Modern Curriculum at CSC visited the school district of Penn Hills Township, suburban Pittsburgh, on November 4, 1965.

The Penn Hills school district with a population of 58,000 is an independent second class school district. There are fourteen school buildings to provide an enriched program for its students.

The class totaling approximately 100 will be made aware of the needs, responsibilities, and challenges that face the elementary school teacher today.

The trip is under the direction of Dr. Alpha E. Bernard, chairman of Elementary Education at Clarion State College, and Dr. Mildred E. Ross, Dr. of Education.

He also presented two papers, "The Evaluation of Judges" and the "Rhetoric of Ambiguity: Gladstone on Home Rule" in Pittsburgh, Friday and Saturday, October 22 and 23, at the Pennsylvania Speech Association Convention.

Dr. Hufford was elected vice president of the Pennsylvania Speech Association Convention.

Coach Frank Lignelli's matmen have not lost a dual match in the past three years.

Exam Announced

CSC seniors may participate in the Federal Service Entrance Examination which will be given on campus November 20.

Complete details and application forms are available at the Placement Office.

The exam covers only verbal abilities and quantitative reasoning, no specific subject matter knowledge is required to qualify. However, the national passing rate for college graduates is slightly over 50 percent.

Scholarship Given

The Department of Public Instruction, Division of Testing, Harrisburg, announces that John W. Heffer, of Fryburg, Pa., is the recipient of an $800 State Scholarship. Mr. Heffer, a freshman, is enrolled at CSC this fall.

Copeland Directs Experimental Plays

On November 19, two one-act plays directed by Mr. Bob H. Copeland were presented in the College Chapel with Chuck Titus as student stage manager.

"Deathwatch" by the controversial French playwright Jean Genet was presented by the acting class. The play is a study of three criminals, imprisoned in the same cell, who have no desire to return to society.

The players were Barry Drandakis as Green Eyes, Kirby Kressell as Maurice, Clint Best as Lefranc and Bob Bickart as the Guard.

THE ZOO STORY

The other play was "The Zoo Story" written by Edward Albee. This two-character play revolves around the encounter, in Central Park, of Peter, an apparently substantial citizen, and Jerry, a psychopath. Their meeting builds tension and ends in an explosion.

Peter was played by Bob Jannone and Rich Lewis portrayed Jerry.

Singing Group Makes 1st Show

The Madrigal group of CSC made its debut for this year November 17 at the Rocky Grove Junior-Senior High School. Two performances were made, one for the junior high and one for the senior high.

Included in the program were "While by My Sheep, Mexican Christmas Procession, A Christmas Cradle Song of the 14th Century and I Wonder as I Wonder with Sandy Stratton, a freshman from Philadelphia, singing the solo part.

The Madrigal group is made up of a proportionate number of sopranos, altos, tenors, and basses with all the work being done A Cappella. Members of the group are: Sopranos—Marilyn Studley, Sandy Stratton, Mary Kirby, Kay Mitchell, Sandy Schlachter, and Sallie Nolf. Altos—Jackie Gerard, Jayne Logan, Janet Borchert, Amy Woody, Lynne Mason, Jill Pierce, and Jan Peters. Tenors—Dick Slater, Dick Locke, Chris Daniels, and Lee Mock. Bases—Jack McGuire, Dennis Huff, Bill Demma, Don Kress, and Bob Brown.

The group is conducted by Mr. Olaf Malmin and meets for two hours every Monday. Their next performance will be December 13, 1965, when they will present the second half of the Choral Christmas program at the Clarion High School Auditorium.

The Library display cases feature original illustrations

The purpose of this presentation was experimental in nature. In the past 20 years the one-act play has been banished from the professional stage and relegated to the off-beat theater. These two plays illustrated that a short play can have all the dramatic suspense and social or psychological impact of a longer play with its gradual build-up.

Discussion of the plays followed the presentation.

Editor Offers Poetry Prizes

He spoke for the University of Missouri Press, the Kansas City Jewish Community Center, Hallmark Cards, Inc., and The Kansas City Star, sponsors and administrators of the contests.

An outgrowth of community wide interest in poetry, the prizes will be of four different kinds. The major prize is the Devins Memorial Award for a full length book manuscript to be published and distributed by the University of Missouri Press. A $500 cash guarantee advance on royalties will be presented to the winning poet at the time of the award.

Next in individual monetary importance are six Honor Awards to college students. The six $100 prizes for individual poems are offered by Hallmark Cards, Inc.

Editorially Speaking

The Need To Adjust

By ED SCHWARTZ

Students are often urged to "adjust."

With the collapse of the educational philosophy of an entire decade at Berkeley and elsewhere, college administrators are going to have a few adjustment problems of their own. Higher education has changed. It is no longer a savored luxury of the elite, as it may have been 25 years ago. Nor is it the protracted guidebook for technocrats encouraged in the '50's. The numerous popular attacks on specialization have succeeded sufficiently that even students are beginning to value liberal arts in the classroom and open discussion outside of it. This has come as a shock to those accustomed to the complacency of the "ivory tower intellectual" for whom a university was little more than a lab, a library, a classroom, and a bunk. It's time they recovered.

In the days of elite education, there would have been some merit to the administrative contention that powerful student governments or vocal undergraduate political organizations were not an essential part of a campus. Learning was pursued either "for its own sake" or for a job. Even today, Dean Griswold of Harvard Law School could boast to a group of Oberlin alumni that "our students are too busy worrying about torts to get concerned about their role in the decision-making process." His was the clearest statement of what I would call the "our Negroes are happy" school of college administrators.

Undergraduate schools do not benefit from such laissez-faire policies. They boast large programs of extra-curricular activities to develop qualities of citizenship. They strive to uphold the moral standards of those enrolled. They may require that a student live in a college dorm, eat in a college dining hall, and obey a long list of college rules reprinted in a college handbook or tacked on a college wall. They may hire psychologists, special counselors, administrators of extra-curricular activities, even social directors. By their own admission, classroom education is only one part of their relationship to the student.

When an undergraduate accepts this premise, however, that student's involvement in policy is equally necessary to develop "qualities of citizenship" and that student action in local communities is a desirable adjunct to courses in the social sciences, the same administrators will revert to the elitist argument that "education should be confined to the classroom—you have no business doing any of these things."

I do not object to a university which seeks to provide extra-curricular as well as classroom programs for its students. Indeed, as higher education is made available to large numbers and as course material replaces vocational training with "broad development," opportunities for action will be necessary for students to test conflicting theories through participation. But a university cannot confuse development with indoctrination, participation with manipulation, and expect a person trained in critical thought to accept.

Therefore, the administrator must adjust. If he wants the American campus to become a laboratory for the "leaders of tomorrow," he must create a campus community in which qualities of leadership can be developed—one which guarantees that a student opinion has some chance of implementation and which enables a student politico to work in the "real world" with the university's blessings. Otherwise, the administrator will discover that the student has learned his lessons too well.

(Schwartz, a graduate of Oberlin College, is a graduate student in communications at New York University.)

Silence Is Golden

The library is a place to study, or at least that is one of the basic purposes for which it was established.

Instead, it has become a social meeting place. It's the best place to go to meet your friends, discuss the latest gossip, and disturb students who are trying to study or do research.

The librarians in the library have enough work to do without acting as policemen for college students. By the time a student reaches college, he is expected to know how to conduct himself properly in any situation.

As fellow students, we should consider the rights of others and not disturb their efforts to study. If one must visit, there are other places than the library where this is more appropriate and proper.

Debate Team Competes In Tournaments

Last weekend two units of Clarion debaters finished high in the tournament standings in tournaments at Hiram College in Ohio and Susquehanna University in Pennsylvania.

A varsity unit finished in fourth place among 18 teams entered at the Hiram tournament. Clarion finished in a six-way tie for second place, just one win behind first place University of Pittsburgh's 6-2 record. When the tie was broken on speaker points Western Reserve was awarded the second place trophy, Hiram was ranked third, and Clarion fourth.

Liz Stallings and Twila Yates had wins over Kent State and John Carroll, and losses to West Virginia University and third place Hiram. John Mann and Merrillyn Naugle had a 3-1 record on the negative, with wins over Ohio State, St. Vincent's, and Kenyon, and a loss to Akron. Both Yates and Naugle were tied for 5th place in speaker points among the 72 debaters entered in the tournament.

At Selinsgrove the novice team of Bernice Chovanec and Linda White finished in third place among the 14 teams entered. Chovanec and White had wins over Temple and Towson State of Maryland, and a single loss to undefeated King's College, the tournament winners.

The negative team of Bob Lucas and Ken King had a 1-2 record at Selinsgrove, with a win over Villanova and losses to Bucknell and the University of Maryland.

Chicago University

On November 6, six Clarion varsity debaters competed with students from 84 colleges from 25 states at the University of Chicago debate tournament. Teams came from as far as California, Washington, Vermont, and South Carolina for the tournament.

In the two-man switch sides division, sophomore Jean Elliott and junior Barbara Artuso defeated Army, Notre Dame, and Illinois State, but lost to University of Vermont, University of New Mexico, and Loyola University of Chicago. Army, Vermont, and Loyola all reached the octafinal round of the tournament. Northwestern University won the division by defeating University of South Carolina in the finals.

Best record for Clarion was compiled by Cathy Edner and Nancy Caldwell, who won five out of six debating on the negative in the four-man varsity division. Edner and Caldwell had wins over Tennessee Tech, DePaul, Illinois College, St. Vincent's, and Western Michigan University. Their sole loss was to Michigan State University.

John Mann and Merrillyn Naugle had a 3-3 record on the affirmative in the four-man division, with wins over Central Michigan, Wayne State, and the University of Detroit, and losses to University of Chicago, Pittsburgh, and Loyola University of Chicago.

The Senator's Notebook

Two matters have been before the Student Senate: the purchase of a new Student Association car and finances.

The car committee (Herb Crawford and Jeanne Kiehl) presented the results of the bids submitted by district car dealers. The result was as follows:

Plymouth Fury II $3,200; Plymouth Fury III $3,300; Mercury $3,350; Buick $3,350; Ford $3,375.

The Student Senate recommended that the bid for one Buick station wagon from the Homestead Buick Company be considered by the Budget Committee.

At the meeting of November 16, the Finance Committee recommended earlier that the Senate purchase two new station wagons and sell the present car, but because of an over-estimate of income, only one car can be purchased and the present one repaired now. Plans for the purchase of a second wagon at a later date has not been ruled out.

More trash cans are being secured for the new football field. This is in hopes that the blowing litter that marred the California game will be eliminated.

A new procedure governing expenditures from the Clarion Students' Association Activity Fund has been proposed. The budget to finance all student activities shall be prepared by the Student Senate and forwarded to the President of the College for approval.

Preparing the Budget

The budget to finance all student activities shall be prepared by the Student Senate and forwarded to the President of the College for approval. The procedures for developing and maintaining this budget shall be as follows:

1. All student organizations approved by the Student Senate and the Office of the Dean of Students may submit a request for financial support to the Finance Committee of the Student Senate.

2. All requests for funds must show itemized expenses accompanied by a complete justification.

3. All requests will be analyzed by the Finance Committee of the Student Senate. Hearings will be scheduled between February 1 and March 1 when any member of a recognized organization or its faculty sponsor requests an opportunity to defend its budgeted items.

4. All requests for the ensuing year must be submitted to the Dean of Students by the faculty sponsor for each organization no later than February 1.

5. After the series of hearings and after a careful analysis of all the budgets submitted, the Finance Committee will prepare its recommendations for Student Senate action.

6. Prior to submitting its recommendations to the Student Senate, the Finance Committee will confer with the President of the College and the Dean of Students.

7. The Student Senate, at a regularly scheduled meeting, shall be responsible for formulating the final budget allocations including a contingency account for unforeseen Student Senate expenses of all Clarion Students' Association Funds to be then submitted to the President of the College for review and approval.

8. Following such approval by the President of the College, all student organizations shall be notified of final budgetary allocations and actions of the Student Senate.

9. All subsequent requests for additions, amendments or changes of budget allocations will be governed by and subject to all of the above conditions and procedures.

Moses Attends Conference

The National Advisory Committee for the Exchange of Teachers will meet Thursday, December 2, in Washington, D.C. Dr. Elbert R. Moses, chairman of the Department of Speech, Clarion State College, will attend as a past president.

Teacher exchange programs evolved in 1946 with the passage of the Fulbright-Hays Act, and have been responsible for the international exchange of thousands of teachers among the participating nations.

The following countries have developed important exchange programs. They are: the United Kingdom, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Iceland, Norway, Denmark, Sweden, the United States, Germany, Austria, and others.

In recent years, the teacher exchange program has suffered somewhat because rising costs have caused attrition of funds, and unsettled political situations in Eastern Europe have made interchange difficult in Romania, Bulgaria, and Czechoslovakia. The program with Russia provides for seminar grants and the exchange of students.

A PEEK AT GREEKS

ALPHA CHI RHO

Our Cairo Party was considered a success. People arrived in everything from authentic costumes to bedspreads. The outfits of some of the girls, however, were the most interesting. The Brothers especially wish to thank Miss Ruth Weber for adding to the atmosphere with her rendition of an Arab dance.

Brother Dan John recently received notification from the Peace Corps that he has been accepted. He will start training this summer and will probably be sent to Africa. Brother John is the second of our Brothers to join the Peace Corps.

Thanksgiving came early to Brother Ken Roadman while hunting recently. He sighted a huge turkey and it was all over. After a ferocious struggle, he managed to overcome the beast, and its cleaned and dressed remains are now on display in a refrigerator awaiting next Thursday. So far he's the only one of the Brothers who has had any luck hunting.

Last week two of our pledges, Herb Guenther and Paul Baer took the National test for admission to the Fraternity. Both did well and may be initiated early next month.

This past weekend, Brothers Joe Eckhardt and Dan John and Pledge Paul Baer visited our Chapter at Penn State where they enjoyed a very "spirited" weekend.

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

Good luck is extended to Coach Frank Lignelli and his matmen this year. The men of the red and black would like to see another state title come our way. The brothers who will be wrestling for this semester will be: Ken Warnick, Jerry Kemp, Don McCollim, and Jim Cignetti.

Brothers Jack Derlink, Alex Dempster, James David Griffin, Earl Highlands, and Jack Wall will be out to play basketball for Coach John Joy's team. The best of luck is also extended their way.

The Gammas were surprised by several visitors over the past weekend. Brothers Ron Ripaski, Louis Jumbercotta, Wayne Norris, and "Butchy" Dunlay came up for the football game.

The brothers took part in a community project this past Sunday at Brookville Country Club by helping the owners to prepare the course for the coming winter.

Congratulations are extended to brother Joe Tumlinella who celebrated his 21st birthday.

Brothers Crystal, Pape, Wall, and Sellari have formed a singing group and have been performing in the Clarion area. Their group under the supervision of Brother Intregi are known as the "Jade II."

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

The sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau congratulate Dr. and Mrs. Max Nemmer on the birth of their daughter on November 12. Mrs. Nemmer, one of our sorority's sponsors, and daughter, Christine, are coming along fine.

Our sisters are working very hard during the pledge period, which is now in the fourth week.

Yellow roses go to Pat McQuiston for placing first in the Oral Interpretative Reading Festival in the area of Drama. Congratulations to the Oral Interpretative Reading Guild for taking first place in the competition.

The Alpha Tau volleyball team is yet unbeaten. Keep up the good work!

We are proud of Coach Jacks and the team for the fine games played this season.

To the faculty and student body, the Alpha Taus wish to extend to everyone a Happy Thanksgiving.

The Sisters of the Beta Chi Upsilon Sorority are proud to announce that the following girls have fulfilled their pledge obligations and are now sisters. They are Christine Dorn, Becky Keifer, Betty Kinskey, Edwina Coughlan, Alana Gozetske, Joyce Hawk, Karen Radaker, Marcia Stamm, and Sharon Walsh. The ceremony was ended with a party in the banquet room of the Modern Diner.

Peppermint carnations go to our sisters Barbara Gresso and Jane Hodge as they celebrate their birthdays.

The sisters wish to thank Mrs. Raymond Giering and Mrs. William Grosch for baking cakes for their birthday.

We were happy to see so many freshman women attending the sorority tea on November 9.

Congratulations to Coach Jacks and the team on their winning season.

We wish everyone a Happy Thanksgiving and a good vacation.

DELTA ZETA

The sisters of Delta Zeta welcome their new patronesses: Mrs. Wein, Mrs. Mellon, and Mrs. Kellet.

Following the Freshman Tea a party was held in their honor, presenting each with a pink rose.

For a money-making project, the Deltas are selling candy bars.

The Delt pledge class put on a skit for the last pep rally. It was enjoyed by all.

Congratulations to sister Peggy Smith who recently got married to Karington Lewis from Grove City College. Best of luck!

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

The Region II Conclave of Phi Sigma Kappa National Fraternity was held on November 5, 6, and 7, in Philadelphia, Pa.

Brothers Rich Shevchik, John Boston, Wes Semple, Keith McKinney, Mike Falvo, and Bob Griffen were Clarion Colony delegates. At the Conclave were Chapter representatives from 18 colleges and universities located in the Middle Atlantic States.

Special guests were present from Phi Sigma Pi, local fraternity, Edinboro State College. The brothers of Phi Sigma Pi are petitioning to become a chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa.

A reception and a party were held at Mu Chapter, University of Pennsylvania. An Awards Dinner was held at the Sheraton Motor Inn. Alvin S. Rudisill, National President, addressed the assembled brothers.

On Sunday, November 7, Open House was held at Phi Sig National Headquarters, Drexel Hill, Pennsylvania. A significant event for all the brothers at Clarion Colony took place at Headquarters. The Brothers and the National Officers witnessed the signing of the lease for the new home of Phi Sigma Kappa at Clarion. The house located at 703 Wood Street, will be called "home" by the Phi Sigs of Clarion Colony as of January 24, 1966.

The confirmation of housing plans for second semester necessitated the appointment of a house manager. Don Bailey was elected house manager. He has already begun the extensive planning required for our move.

The prospect of a March 1966 induction of Clarion Colony as a Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa has been thoroughly discussed with several Phi Sig National Officers and Hebert L. Brown, Executive Director. A committee for the preparation of a petition to the National has been established.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

The Sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma wish to thank everyone who supported our spaghetti dinner.

Special thanks go to our sponsors Miss Margaret Wiant, Miss Irwin, Mrs. Perry, Mrs. Corle, and Mrs. O'Hara for their help. We are happy to report that the fund-raising dinner was a success. The profits have been given for the care of our adopted Greek child, Constatine, and his family.

Coach Jacks and the team can be commended for an exciting season. We are very proud of the Eagles.

The Sisters were happy to meet all the freshman women who attended the Panhellenic Tea and are anxious to know each one better as the season progresses.

Shaker Sweaters have arrived. Please pick your order up in the Tri Sigma Suite.

THETA CHI

Theta Chi would like to congratulate Coach Al Jacks and his staff, along with the entire football team for their successful season. We also extend a special congratulatory note to Brothers Joseph Kiesel and Charles McKinney for their fine performance on the gridiron.

A post-game party was held affording a pleasurable evening to the brothers, pledges, and guests. The brothers are looking forward to the Delta Zeta-Theta Chi mixer which will be held sometime before Thanksgiving.

THETA XI

On Friday, November 12, the second annual Theta Xi Roman Toga party was held in our party room. Proper attire for the evening was togas, of course, and we're sure all who attended had a good time.

Congratulations to our fine horse-show team for placing first in intramural competition. Keep up the good work, men!

Congratulations also to Coach Al Jacks and the Golden Eagles for a fine effort this season.

Clarion State Enlarges Library Facilities to Meet Ever Growing Academic Needs of Student Body

Head Librarian Dan Graves outlined improved facilities which are available or will be available at the library in the near future.

Mr. Graves said, "Due to the increased use of microfilm, we have obtained a reader-printer which enables us to make a copy from microfilm which can be read without the aid of mechanical devices." This facilitates notetaking. The library staff will be in charge of operating this machine.

Another new machine is the Vico

II Automatic Copier which is coin operated. Such things as pages of books, reports, letters, photographs, and maps can be copied by this device. Students may purchase copies at a price of 10 cents per exposure.

In preparation for a graduate program at Clarion, the library will be expanding its reference service and adding greater depth to its collections. In English Literature, for instance, books of criticism will be bought to supplement the present emphasis on the works of authors.

To simplify the handling of a larger collection, each book will have a unique call number. Three hundred new subscriptions of periodicals will begin second semester. Many new journals will also be added in the future.

Mr. Graves and his staff are working to improve library facilities to meet the growing academic requirements of the college.

Women Attend Freshman Tea

Given Lounge was the scene of the Tea for Freshman Women held by the sororities of Clarion State College on November 9.

Freshman women were met by a receiving line which included the Dean of Women, sorority advisors, and sorority officials.

The various sororities presented descriptions and songs of their respective sisterhoods.

MONTGOMERY HALL

MR. J. G. MONTGOMERY

Venango Campus Names Dormitory Montgomery Hall

At the annual Golden Deeds Award dinner on November 10, in Oil City, Mr. J. G. Montgomery was unexpectedly surprised when a petition to name the new Venango Campus dormitory "Montgomery Hall," signed by 110 Venango Campus students, was presented to Mr. Montgomery.

The announcement of this honor came from Dr. James Gemmell, president of Clarion State College. Mr. Montgomery is president of Venango Campus, Inc., and chairman of the Campus advisory group to the Board of Trustees of Clarion State College.

Mr. Montgomery, who retired July 1, 1961, as president of the United Natural Gas Company, has been active in community affairs for many years. One of his fondest memories concerned the organization of the "Hub Club" for teenagers at the YWCA in the early days of World War II. He was also active in three major civic areas: the United Fund which he served as president; the Hospital Board, also as president; and the Oil City Planning Commission.

Joseph Barr, mayor of Oil City, dealt at length with Mr. Montgomery's contribution in bringing college opportunities to Oil City through establishment of the Venango Campus.

Student Senate to Support International Relief Fund

The Student Senate of Venango Campus has undertaken a drive to care for a Vietnamese child for one year.

The Senate voted unanimously to support this drive. The need of the starving Vietnamese is great, but the International Relief Fund, under whose direction the drive is being conducted, is easing the burden of the unfortunate victims of Communist aggression.

Wherever the Viet Cong have struck or threaten to strike—and this covers most of the country—right up to the edge of Saigon—the Vietnamese people are uprooted, homeless, hungry, ill, or wounded.

On Saturday, November 13, the Sophomore Class of Venango Campus sponsored a record hop at the Campus.

The theme for the event was "Musical Moments to Remember." The dance featured the hit records of the late fifties and early sixties. The disc jockeys were Larry Schwabenbauer and Dick Radmore.

One of the highlights of the evening was the revival of such "ancient" dances as the stroll, the twist, and the stomp. Pizza and pop were served to the 125 students and guests.

The chaperones were Mr. Ronald Shumaker, and Mr. and Mrs. Merle Kribbs.

Indeed, the truth of Viet Nam today is that the Vietnamese are a nation of refugees.

In Viet Nam today there are more than 100,000 orphans as a result of the war. Many of them are torn, brutalized and ravaged. The children's hospitals in Saigon and Cholon are jammed with youngsters, two or three to a bed. They are in need of the essentials of life—food, clothing, shelter, medicine, medical care, and skilled help.

Not since the Berlin Airlift of 1949 and the fight for liberty in Budapest in 1956, has the International Rescue Committee faced such a total, massive challenge as the one in Viet Nam today. The IRC has set the highest emergency fund goal in its history to meet this challenge.

VENANGO SELECTS

CHEERING SQUAD

Venango Campus will have a cheering squad for its basketball team this year.

The four girls selected for the squad are: Linda Kestner of Butler, Janice Day of New Castle, Maureen Myers of Pittsburgh, and Virginia Scalco of Connellsville.

Norma Osterling of Renfrew, Butler County, has been named alternate.

Vulcans Begin Year

The Venango Campus basketball team, the Vulcans, will open its second season on December 4, when it travels to the DuBois Campus of Penn State in DuBois.

Last year the Vulcans dropped two games to DuBois, but both the scores were within four points of each other. Other games this season include encounters with Robert Morris Jr. College, Behrend Center, Shenango Center of Edinboro State College, the Shenango Valley Campus of Penn State, and the Clarion State freshman basketball team.

This year's team members include Sophomores George Kern and Dave Bunnell, and Freshmen Tom Wulk, Lennie Morello, Chuck Snyder, Fran Harlan, Ed Wozniak, Ed Amos, Chuck Christ, Paul Oberdorf, Joe Moeholk, Jim McElroy, Bud Hogue, and Steve Jez.

Mr. Clement Urban, history teacher and assistant football coach at Oil City Senior High School, will again coach the team.

A leader is best
When people barely know he exists
Not so good when people obey and acclaim him,
Worse when they despise him.
"Fail to honor people,
They fail to honor you,"
But of a good leader who talks little,
When his work is done, his aim fulfilled,
They will say, "We did this ourselves."

Today, the need for more classroom space, more library facilities and more physical education facilities is emerging, and it is a sure bet that he will supervise the planning and construction.

Basketball Team Set For New Season

How is Clarion's basketball team going to fare this year? According to Coach John Joy it is going to be another close one with California and Edinboro being our closest competitors for the title. Indiana and Slippery Rock are also expected to give us some trouble.

The strategy will be based on the speed of the team which this year is said to be the fastest team Clarion has ever posted. Due to the fact that Clarion's tallest man is only 6'3", we will have to rely on the fast break for our points. CSC's 80' by 42' gym makes this play a difficult one. The fast break calls for the ball to be thrown to the middle of the court, carried to the basket and the attempt made before a defense can be set up by the opposing team. All other state colleges, with the exception of Lock Haven, have a regulation court. The difference in court sizes will be felt in endurance on the larger court, and not enough time to move the fast break on the smaller court.

It is believed that the return of Jack Derlink will be a great asset to the team if he can regain his former potential. Concerning graduated Terry Thompson, Coach John Joy replied "It's hard to replace an excellent shooter like Terry. He made 48 percent of his attempted baskets and was rated 41st in the nation of over 2,000 other schools. He carried a point average of a little over 22 points per game."

Clarion is carrying the largest schedule ever with 20 games and two exhibitions slated. Two new schools, Waynesburg and Geneva, have been added. The first game will be with Grove City at home on December 4.

Two Students Spend A Year In France

Cherie Lowe of DuBois and Bill Potter of Johnstown departed from New York City, October 8, aboard the liner "United States" to represent Clarion State College in the third "Junior Year Abroad" program.

This project is sponsored by West Chester State College at the University of Besancon, France, and is directed by Mr. Rene du Gard, assistant professor of Romance languages at West Chester.

Two of 32 students from 14 colleges and universities in Pennsylvania, New York, and California, Cherie and Bill were met at Le Havre, France, by a chartered bus. They toured along the Seine River and French National Highway the first day, stopping overnight at Orleans in Central France before arriving at Besancon the second evening.

The American students are housed in students' residences on the Besancon campus or in private homes nearby. Each has a French roommate.

They study in the Institute of French Language and Civilization, in cooperation with the Faculte des Lettres et Sciences Humaines and the Faculte Libre de Droit et des Sciences Economiques of the University.

Cherie and Bill attend classes with regular French undergraduates. Their classes meet five days a week, and include courses in French language and literature, seminars on European and French Civilization, and formal lectures on other related subjects.

Extracurricular activities feature frequent discussion groups with French and the University faculty, dramatics, sports, and visits with French families and relatives of students on weekends. There will also be excursions to points of interest in the Besancon region, and a brief visit to Switzerland. Besides this, there will be extended tours during the Christmas holidays to Paris, and an Easter vacation visit to the French Riviera. Besancon is a picturesque city with a population of 100,000 in the old French province of Franche-Compte in east-central France. It is about 40 miles from the Swiss border, and 200 miles southeast of Paris.

The "Junior Year Abroad" participants will return to the United States early next summer.

Language Now Being Studied In This State

Is the new audiolingual method of teaching foreign languages in a language laboratory more effective than the traditional method emphasizing reading, grammar and vocabulary; or is a combination of methods best?

What kind of language laboratory should be used to achieve the best results with any method?

The Bureau of Research will seek answers to these and related questions in a two-year research project for which the U.S. Office of Education has recently made a $159,525 grant.

Approximately 120 teachers of French and German and 3,600 students in Pennsylvania schools are participating in this study. Some teachers are instructing in the traditional method, while others are using either the audiolingual or modified audiolingual methods in one of three types of language laboratories.

A total of 75 school systems are participating in the study.

Nothing matters to a man who says nothing matters.

Elliott, Artuso Place First Among 30 Colleges

Last weekend at the University of Pittsburgh sophomore Jean Elliott of Sligo and junior Barbara Artuso of Arnold won the Jones and Laughlin Trophy awarded annually at the Pitt Cross Examination Tournament to the first place negative team.

Holiday Queen Elected at Dance

The annual Christmas Dance was held Friday, December 10, from 8:30 to 12:30 a.m. featuring the Buddy Lee Orchestra. Refreshments were served.

A queen was elected at the dance to reign over the Holiday Festivities. Women who attended the dance had two o'clocks.

MR. WALDO TIPPIN is finishing up his thirtieth year at CSC as athletic director.

Tippin Announces June Retirement

Mr. Waldo S. (Tip) Tippin, one of Western Pennsylvania's most prominent sports figures, will retire next June. Teacher, coach and athletic director at Clarion State College since 1935, Tippin submitted his resignation to Dr. James Gemmell, college president.

A graduate of Geneva College in 1922 where he played basketball and football, Tippin began his coaching career at Rochester, Pa., High School. In 1925 Coach Tippin became coach at Meadville, Pa., High School where his football teams won 4 Northwestern Pennsylvania championships and his basketball teams won 3 district PIAA championships. In 1932 he was appointed coach at Allegheny College.

Women Students Fund Hospital

The Association of Women Students sent a check for $206.20 to KDKA for the Children's Hospital Fund on December 4.

This money was raised through the "Penny Late Nites" which A.W.S. sponsored in November and December. It was required that one penny be paid for each minute a woman stayed out past her usual permission (with a 12 o'clock limit). The leading dormitory on both nights was Jefferson Hall.

Plans are now being made to have additional "Penny Late Nites" next semester, with the proceeds going to the Clarion County branch of the American Red Cross.

On the night of the Christmas Dance, there were luminaries placed along the sidewalks leading to the dance. In Mexico, luminaries are set out to welcome the Christ Child; in Clarion, they welcome in the Christmas season.

From Dec. 11 to 16 A.W.S. will be playing Christmas Carols on campus from 5 to 10:45 p.m. each evening. Many campus doors will be decked with angels, choir boys, snowmen and Santas.

The judging of door decorations in the women's dormitories has been a custom at Clarion and will occur again this year. Judging will be from 2 to 3 p.m. on Sunday, December 12. A five dollar first prize and a two dollar second prize will be awarded in each dormitory. Everyone is invited to visit the women's dorms from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday to see the door decorations.

Tip, as he is called by his many friends and associates, began his duties at Clarion State College in 1935 as coach of the football and basketball teams. In the period of the state colleges' history when coaches were few in number, Tip coached practically every sport at Clarion. His undefeated and untied football team of 1952 played and won the Lions' Club Bowl game in North Carolina.

As athletic director at Clarion since 1935, the genial, white-haired Tippin has guided the athletic rise at Clarion State. His last coaching job was that of golf coach, a position he relinquished in 1961. From 2 sports of football and basketball, Tippin initiated baseball, tennis, golf, rifle and wrestling programs at Clarion as well as supervising a well-rounded intramural program.

Mr. Tippin graduated from Clay Center, Kan., High School in 1918. He took graduate work at Columbia University and received a Masters degree in 1934.

A one-time sports official, Tippin was president of the Tri-State Officials' Association. He is a past president of the Pennsylvania State Colleges Athletic Conference (1957-59). Geneva College honored Tip with an outstanding alumnus award in 1963. After holding many district and national offices in the NAIA, Tippin was accorded national honors in 1962 for meritorious service to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Edinboro Player Ineligibility Causes Standings Shakeup

First place conference standing faded into last place when it was ruled last Tuesday that player ineligibility disqualified Edinboro from holding the Western Division championship in the Pennsylvania State College Football Conference.

Conference officials meeting in Harrisburg disqualifed Edinboro for using five ineligible players and awarded the title to defending champion Indiana.

Under a resolution passed by the conference, Edinboro not only loses its division title, but must forfeit six conference games, giving it an 0-6 league record.

Unofficially this revision of conference standings puts Clarion in second place, and just one more win could have boosted the Eagles over the top.

CSC Madrigal Choirs Set For Yule Concert

The Clarion State College Concert Choir and the Madrigal Group, under the direction of Mr. Olaf G. Malmin, will present the annual Christmas Choral Concert on December 13 at the Clarion High School Auditorium.

The program includes pieces from the 16th century up to the 20th century. The opening selection of the choir will be a Fanfare for Christmas Day, by Martin Shaw.

This will be followed by Ab Oriente (From Eastern Lands), a 16th century motet by Jacob Handl and All Hail to Thee, O Blessed Morn, a setting of Philipp Nicolais famous Chorale, Wie schon leuchtet der Morgenstern.

From the Liturgy of the Russian Orthodox Church comes Salvation is Created by P. Tschesnokoff.

Three 20th century American works, The Christmas Symbol by F. Melius Christiansen, Come to the Manger by Richard Kountz, and Prayer on Christmas Eve by Flor Peeters. This section of the program will close with a 17th century German carol, "While by my Sheep, arranged by Hugo Jungst.

Christmas folk songs and carols from various countries will be sung by the Madrigal Group. These include: A Mexican Christmas Procession, arranged by Paul Christiansen; Joseph Dearest, Joseph Mild, a German carol in a 16th century harmonization by Erhardt Bodenschatz, Allan Gay, Gay Bergeres, by Guillaume Costely, a 16th century French composer; Now it is Christmas Time, a Swedish folk song arranged by Marie Pooler; I Wonder and I Wander, an Appalachian folk song arranged by Niles-Horton; and A Wassail Song, arranged by Catherine Davis.

The program will close with Benjamin Britten's A Ceremony of Carols, a series of eight Medieval poems set for choir and piano. Among the selections in this work are Wolcum Yole, There Is No Rose, Balulaw, As Dew in Aprille, This Little Babe, and Deo Gracias.

Mr. Malmin is new to Clarion this semester. He is a native of Tacoma, Washington, and attended Pacific Lutheran University in Tacoma, and the University of Iowa, where he is currently a candidate for a Ph.D. degree in Choral Literature and Conducting. His past musical experience included solo performances in voice, piano and violin, participation in choral and instrumental groups and work with church choirs.

Plans are now being made to have additional "Penny Late Nites" next semester, with the proceeds going to the Clarion County branch of the American Red Cross.

On the night of the Christmas Dance, there were luminaries placed along the sidewalks leading to the dance. In Mexico, luminaries are set out to welcome the Christ Child; in Clarion, they welcome in the Christmas season.

From Dec. 11 to 16 A.W.S. will be playing Christmas Carols on campus from 5 to 10:45 p.m. each evening. Many campus doors will be decked with angels, choir boys, snowmen and Santas.

The judging of door decorations in the women's dormitories has been a custom at Clarion and will occur again this year. Judging will be from 2 to 3 p.m. on Sunday, December 12. A five dollar first prize and a two dollar second prize will be awarded in each dormitory.

Everyone is invited to visit the women's dorms from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday to see the door decorations.

MR. WALDO TIPPIN is finishing up his thirtieth year at CSC as athletic director.

Tippin Announces June Retirement

Mr. Waldo S. (Tip) Tippin, one of Western Pennsylvania's most prominent sports figures, will retire next June. Teacher, coach and athletic director at Clarion State College since 1935, Tippin submitted his resignation to Dr. James Gemmell, college president.

A graduate of Geneva College in 1922 where he played basketball and football, Tippin began his coaching career at Rochester, Pa., High School. In 1925 Coach Tippin became coach at Meadville, Pa., High School where his football teams won 4 Northwestern Pennsylvania championships and his basketball teams won 3 district PIAA championships. In 1932 he was appointed coach at Allegheny College.

Tip, as he is called by his many friends and associates, began his duties at Clarion State College in 1935 as coach of the football and basketball teams. In the period of the state colleges' history when coaches were few in number, Tip coached practically every sport at Clarion. His undefeated and untied football team of 1952 played and won the Lions' Club Bowl game in North Carolina.

As athletic director at Clarion since 1935, the genial, white-haired Tippin has guided the athletic rise at Clarion State. His last coaching job was that of golf coach, a position he relinquished in 1961. From 2 sports of football and basketball, Tippin initiated baseball, tennis, golf, rifle and wrestling programs at Clarion as well as supervising a well-rounded intramural program.

Mr. Tippin graduated from Clay Center, Kan., High School in 1918. He took graduate work at Columbia University and received a Masters degree in 1934.

A one-time sports official, Tippin was president of the Tri-State Officials' Association. He is a past president of the Pennsylvania State Colleges Athletic Conference (1957-59). Geneva College honored Tip with an outstanding alumnus award in 1963. After holding many district and national offices in the NAIA, Tippin was accorded national honors in 1962 for meritorious service to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Editorially Speaking . . .

Association Needs Student Support

An alumni association is a great asset to any college. While the students of our campus realize the existence of the Clarion State College Alumni Association, they are not aware of its importance to them as students.

For this organization to be truly successful it needs not only the interest of our alumni but the interest of those of us who anticipate becoming future alumni of Clarion State College.

The Alumni Association has goals to reach. It keeps the graduates informed of what is going on in the campus and the progress which is taking place. It tries to maintain an interest in the college. It acts as a connection between alumnae and the school. It encourages the support of alumnae for the development of a strong public relations with the school.

Financial help in the name of the alumnae gives aid to the school in setting up loan funds, purchasing books for the library and buying equipment for the college that state funds do not provide.

But how does this apply to those of us who still maintain the status of students? It is through the students' interest in the college that we who are still present on the campus can extend our interest to those who have already left it. The alumnae have branched out in all directions and we, the present students, can reach them in a way in which the "Organization" itself cannot reach them.

Since we are in a position to have a more personal contact with CSC graduates encountering them in situations away from the confines of the campus. And the enthusiasm we show for our college can have a contagious effect on their interest.

We must ourselves be interested in our college, our Alumnae Association—we are future alumni of Clarion State College!

Konitzky Gets Recognition In Sociology

Dr. Gustav A. Konitzky, professor of anthropology and sociology, CSC, has been invited to serve as a member of the Library Resource Committee of the Regional Council for International Education. This committee held its first meeting at the University of Pittsburgh on December 3, 1965.

The grant is designed to establish an Iroquois exhibit at the museum and to record current practices of Iroquois craftsmen and artisans. The initial grant is $500 and is renewable from year to year until the project is completed.

Another grant from the Uebersee Museum at Bremen, Germany, also provides for the collection of North American Indian materials which will be placed in their collection. This grant is specifically designed to obtain materials for a Plains Indian exhibit.

In addition, The Uebersee Museum has invited Dr. Konitzky to serve as advisor in the preparation of a major special exhibit on "Stone Age Man" which is planned for 1967. The exhibit, which will run through the summer, will include both archaeological and surviving stone-age cultures.

Eagle Cagers Capture Season's First Victory

Clarion's Golden Eagles captured their first victory of the basketball season Saturday, December 4, with a final score of 88 to 83, in a close and fast-moving contest with Grove City.

Their opponents had played Slippery Rock and Geneva before meeting the Eagles on the floor of Harvey Gym at CSC, and provided powerful opposition.

Not until the final buzzer sounded was it really certain which team would win. Yet the records of the game showed that the Golden Eagles played a strong contest.

Jack Derlink, Clarion's high scorer, achieved a percentage rank of 40 on field goals. Highlands, another starting lineup player, scored 55 percent or 6 for 11 field goal tries.

Griffin, Jones and Pendelton made 50, 36, and 29 percent respectively. The team percentage stood at 39.5 for field goals and 61 or 22 out of 36 for foul shots. Outstanding player, Derlink, not only was high point man, but was the leading rebounder. Earl Highlands of Jeanette was a valuable defensive player with a plus seven record of six recoveries and one assist.

High scorer for Grove City was Jeff Claypool of Lexington, Ohio, with 9 field goals and 7 free throws, for a total of 25 points.

The Venango Campus Vulcans dropped their opening game to DuBois Saturday evening 76-52. The DuBois campus proved a formidable opponent as Clark tallied 27 points to lead all scoring.

High scorer for the Vulcans was Joe Molhoek as he hit for 15 points on 6 buckets and 3 for 7 at the foul line.

Also scoring in the double figures for the Campus were George Kern, 15 points, and Chuck Crist as he added 10 markers.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

The pledge class of Sigma Sigma Sigma has been very active putting together a basket of food for a family as a service project. They are also completing various other projects and are awaiting their initiation which will be soon. Purple violets go to Sisters Philomena Galek, Alpha Gamma Phi's representative for Holiday Queen, and Kerry Markwell, Tri-Sigma's candidate.

Purple violets also go to Kerry Markwell for being selected for Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Because of the demand, we are again receiving orders for shaker sweaters. Contact any Tri-Sigma to place your order.

The Sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma extend to all their wishes for a very Merry Holiday Season!

ZETA TAU ALPHA

White violets go to Sister Peggy Lou Norris on being chosen to represent Phi Sigma Epsilon as their candidate for Holiday Queen at the Christmas Dance.

We are pleased to announce that the Best Pledge Award for the fall pledge class has been presented to Kathy Best.

As a service project, the Sisters are sending Christmas gifts to soldiers serving in Viet Nam.

The Sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha extend wishes for a winning season to the basketball and wrestling teams.

ALPHA CHI RHO

Two of our Brothers have had good luck hunting lately. The buck season was about an hour old when Brother Ed Edder bagged a 6 point buck. Other than the slight problem of what one does with a dead deer in off-campus room, he was quite proud of his buck since it is his first.

Brother Vaughn Garvin's luck came through for him, too, as he bagged a black bear recently.

Congratulations to Brother Garvin who pinned Miss Donna Brown, of Alpha Sigma Tau last week.

On December 6, two more Brothers entered the Fraternity as pledges Paul Baer and Herb Guenther were initiated. We look forward to initiating our other pledges before the end of the semester.

For our Christmas Service Project, the Brothers have decided to have a party for underprivileged children. The local merchants have been very generous in supplying us with various toys that they haven't been able to sell quickly or which are the last in stock of that variety. These will be distributed by "Santa Claus" when he visits the party.

Since we needed someone to represent us as candidate for Queen of the Christmas Dance, the Brothers spent last week looking over the beauties. They chose Miss Veronica Wzbowski from New Brighton and we are satisfied with our choice.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

All of the Phi Sigs wish the students and faculty of Clarion State College a joyful holiday season.

The Brothers thank Miss Rita Rittelman, Alpha Sigma Tau, for being Phi Sig representative for Holiday Queen at the Christmas Dance.

Tonight the Phi Sigs will hold a Christmas party at Stonecrest Lodge. Music will be provided by "The Redeemers." Our appreciation goes to brother Buzard for his many hours spent in preparation for our parties. Thanks, Jack.

Annual big game season brings the congratulations of all the Phi Sigs to brother Lou Trentini for his really big kill.

Sunday evening, December 12, is the date chosen by the Brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa to hold a Christmas party for the guests of the Grandview Convalescence Home, Clarion. A traditional evergreen tree will be decorated, carols will be sung, games will be played, and small gifts will be distributed.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

November 12, the Brothers put the pledges through their paces at the informal initiation. Thus, the pledges ended their six weeks of pledging.

On November 5, they were formally initiated. We are proud to have these hard-working pledges as Brothers. New members of the Fraternity are: Mal Anderson, Jack Baum, Harry George, Terry McElhattan, Jerry Rea, Dick Slater, Ray Smetz, Harry Stephens, and Skip Schwartz.

Our annual Gay Nineties Party was held Nov. 13, in the house. Music was provided by the Redeemers. During intermission, Brother Frank Campbell played the honky-tonk piano as well as chaperoned the party.

Good luck to Brother Rich Canterna, a member of the varsity basketball team.

Congratulations to Brothers "Tiger" Jones and Dave Ravotta who each shot a buck last week and Brother Art Kennedy shot a bear and a buck.

Congratulations to Brother Darrell Smith and his wife, Gail, on the birth of their son.

Students Present Holiday Festivities

On Friday, November 19, a dance entitled, "A Happening," was held in the lounge at Venango Campus.

The dance was sponsored by the Campus Social Committee with Jon Kallmyer acting as disc jockey. Our first happening, a term borrowed from the American contemporary theater, makes a farce out of some serious event on the stage.

The theme was carried out by a group of men students here at the Campus who have collectively been dubbed, "The Hock." They carried out a Thanksgiving theme which was in accordance with the holiday decorations designed by Sam Cangemi, a sophomore.

"The Hock" presented each woman student with a small bottle of "My Sin" perfume imported directly from France. Faculty members present for the evening were Mrs. Mary E. Williams, Mr. John F. Reinhardt, and Mr. Ronald Shumaker.

On Friday, December 10, the annual Christmas dance was held at the Venango Country Club from 8:30 to 12:30. The Social Committee, under the advisement of Mrs. Mary E. Williams, sponsored the semi-formal dance which had as its theme "Christmas Memories."

The Quadmen, a popular local band, provided the music for the evening, and Carol Lowrey and Randa Adams were in charge of the decorations.

Discussion Group Opens Meetings

"The Philosophes," the discussion group here at Venango Campus, held an open meeting Sunday evening after the movie, "Raisin In The Sun."

Faculty members present included Mr. John F. Reinhardt, Mr. Ronald Shumaker, and Mr. Alastair Crawford. Immediate members as well as associate and interested students attended.

The topic discussed concerned the stepped-up American action in Viet Nam. Most of the students and all of the faculty agreed that the United States should continue to step up action until the war is won. A few argued against this while others stated that an all-out war should be declared. A lively debate continued.

V. C. Conducts Opera Party to Mosque

On Saturday evening, December 4, an opera party of approximately 80 Venango Campus students travelled to Pittsburgh's Syria Mosque to view one of Puccini's most famous operas, "La Boheme," which is founded on Murger's novel, La Vie Boheme.

The party, which left the Campus at 5:30, was chaperoned by Mrs. Charlotte Boyles, Mrs. Mary Monaco, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bromley, and Mr. Ronald Shumaker.

The opera, which is in four acts, depicts life in the Quartier Latin, or the Students' Quarter, in 1830. "La Boheme" was first produced at the Teatro Regio, Turin, February 1, 1896, under the direction of Toscanini. One of the most successful productions was at the New York Metropolitan in 1907 with Caruso, Sembrich, and Scotti.

The pit orchestra, which is made up of selected members of the world-famous Pittsburgh Symphony, was directed by Richard Karp. General and Musical director of the Pittsburgh Opera Association.

The win for the Golden Eagles came in the first season they had been invited to compete in the tournament.

Clarion opened its regular season schedule Dec. 8, by hosting St. Francis College. December 11 Clarion will defend its title at the pre-Christmas tournament held at Slippery Rock State College, and on Dec. 15, Clarion will host Lock Haven State College in what is expected to be a most interesting match.

Clarion Student Takes U. S. Citizenship Oath

Elke Christine Stevens became Clarion State's newest American citizen on Friday, December 17, 1965.

The oath of citizenship was administered to her and thirty-six others by U. S. District Judge Louis Rosenberg at the U. S. Courts and Post Office Building in Pittsburgh.

Chris is a native of Munich, Germany, and came to the United States in 1959. Her family lived in several states before settling in Levittown, Pa., where they now make their home.

Prior to becoming a citizen, Chris had to reside in the United States for five years and had to take a citizenship test, which she did on January 22, 1965. After taking the oath, the new citizens were presented American flags and given a reception at the Rotary Club of Pittsburgh.

Chris is a junior in elementary education with a major in German. Since coming to Clarion she has been helping to teach German at the Training School on campus.

After graduation she would like to go into government service in some capacity, preferably as an interpreter. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority and participated in the 1964 and 1965 Miss C. S. C. competition.

In 1964, she was a contestant in the Bucks County Beauty Pageant in which she was chosen "Miss Congeniality."

When asked how she felt about her new citizenship, she replied that she is very happy she chose to become an American and is extremely proud of her new country. She readily attributed her desire to become a citizen to the friendliness and kindness shown to her by the students at Clarion.

Clarion Wrestlers Capture Tournament

Coach Frank Lignelli's dedicated wrestlers of Clarion pulled another first Saturday, November 27, when they walked away with the Hiram College Holiday Wrestling Tournament held at Hiram, Ohio. Clarion compiled 98 points to runnerup Hiram College with 78 points.

Clarion, along with West Virginia University and Miami University of Ohio, were the top choices to take the tournament.

The win for the Golden Eagles came in the first season they had been invited to compete in the tournament.

Clarion opened its regular season schedule Dec. 8, by hosting St. Francis College. December 11 Clarion will defend its title at the pre-Christmas tournament held at Slippery Rock State College, and on Dec. 15, Clarion will host Lock Haven State College in what is expected to be a most interesting match.

According to Linda, that evening was the most exciting event of her reign as Miss CSC. On February 12 at the Clarion High School Auditorium, Linda will crown the new Miss CSC of 1966.

As Miss CSC, Linda represented Clarion State in the Laurel Festival in Brookville last April. In this pageant the contestants were judged in three categories: evening gown, bathing suit and talent. For the talent competition, Linda played "Theme from the Warsaw Concerto" on the organ, the same piece which helped her gain the title of Miss CSC. The winner of this competition went on to compete for the title of Miss Pennsylvania.

Miss CSC was present at the President's Tea for the freshmen in September to help welcome the incoming frosh. She also participated in the Autumn Leaf Festival Parade, riding a float provided by the Clarion Chamber of Commerce.

Linda is a junior from Glenshaw majoring in elementary education with an art specialization. Being secretary of the junior class, a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority and president of the Panhellenic Council keeps her busy in her free time.

Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity has recently entered Linda as their candidate for their fraternity's national title of "Moonlight Dream Girl."

PCEP will subsidize approximately half of the student's total salary. Scheduling and salary arrangements may be arranged to the mutual convenience of employer and intern and are subject to approval by the PCEP.

Students may also apply for internships in the office of the Governor of Pennsylvania and with the Democratic or Republican state committees.

Students interested in the Congressional internship program should write directly to their Congressman.

Internship proposals must be submitted by March 15, 1966.

Off Broadway Show Coming To CSC Campus

Coming to Clarion State College campus is a musical comedy which was first produced in a 135-seat off-Broadway theater in 1960. The show filled the house every night for four years, and then became an international success in Europe, South America, and the Near East and Australia.

It will show February 14 through 19 at 8:30 p.m.

This is "The Fantasticks," a harlequinade written by two young men from Texas, Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt. It is based on a half-forgotten old French romance.

The Gallic original was "Les Romantiques," Edmond Rostand's first play, written in 1894 when he was 26 years old. It was somewhat of a buried footnote to the career of the man who later wrote "Cyrano de Bergerac." Later Jones and Schmidt dug it up as a plot for "The Fantasticks."

This plot is about a boy and girl in love. It was the mockingly sophisticated style of telling their romantic story that captivated the show's audiences around the world. The boy and girl are separated by a wall built by their seemingly hostile parents. The necessity to climb trees on each side of the wall to have their secret meeting, the need to plot behind the backs of their feuding fathers, only adds piquancy to their romance.

Their fathers are the best of friends who fondly hope that their children will marry; but they forbid meetings of their progeny out of the certainty that youngsters will be contrary. They expound this wisdom in one of the show's hit numbers, "Never Say No," which states that children will always insist on doing what they're forbidden to do.

In order to find a way in which their pretended objections can be overcome, they hire some actors to stage an attempted abduction of the girl in the moonlight, so that her beau can gallantly rescue her. This will make the girl see her suitor in an even more romantic light than ever, and force the "reluctant" parents to consent to the match.

After this moonstruck episode goes off as planned, the musical transfers its principals to a world of bright, disillusioning sunlight. Youngsters and fathers grow irritated with one another. The boy and girl can only find happiness after they discover that the world is not composed entirely of moonlight and honeysuckle, and the theme is developed that "without a hurt the heart is hollow."

Anna Jo Montana and Bill Fletcher of Clarion will be seen as the pair of sweethearts, Dave Caldwell of Clarion, and Dick Locke of North East, as their fathers. Olaf Malmin, music instructor of CSC, doubles as the Narrator and the hired abductor. Mike Pope, Pittsburgh, in the long but non-speaking role of the man who arranges the scenery and props and is himself a prop at times (his arms form the wall separating the lovers during one of the songs).

Bob H. Copeland, associate professor of speech, is director of this mid-summer night's impromptu. Adam Weiss, assistant professor of speech, will arrange the backdrops for its shenanigans. Vocal direction is by Olaf Malmin and instrumental direction is by Wayne Schuricht, student, of New Kensington.

Senate Buys Station Wagon

A new, dark blue, 1966 Buick sport eight capacity station wagon was delivered to representatives of the Clarion State College Student Senate January 12. The car was purchased from Homestead Buick in Pittsburgh at a cost of $3,300, the most satisfactory of 12 bids offered.

This vehicle is designated for use by student organizations for travel involved in activities such as debate trips, athletic events, visits to other schools and field trips.

The use of the vehicle is governed by Student Senate regulations among which are the following:

1. The car must be given a thorough course of maintenance including necessary check-ups after each trip.
2. A faculty advisor must accompany all trips.
3. One student may be assigned as driver in charge in addition to the faculty member.

Interfraternity Council

At a recent meeting of the Interfraternity Council, it was found necessary to elect a new vice president. Elected was John Catanzano of Alpha Gamma Phi. Since it was deemed too difficult to hold a joint IFC Smoker, it was decided that each Fraternity will hold individual smokers on Monday night, the 14th of February. All men are invited to visit any or all of these smokers and meet the Fraternities. The location of these smokers will be announced during the next week.

PCEP Arranges Summer Jobs

Applications for the 1966 political internship program of the Pennsylvania Center for Education in Politics may now be obtained from the PCEP campus advisor, Professor Jay Van Bruggen.

Under the PCEP program, students may arrange summer and fall internships with state legislators, candidates for the legislature, local political organizations and/or citizens' groups. PCEP will subsidize approximately half of the student's total salary. Scheduling and salary arrangements may be arranged to the mutual convenience of employer and intern and are subject to approval by the PCEP.

Students may also apply for internships in the office of the Governor of Pennsylvania and with the Democratic or Republican state committees.

Students interested in the Congressional internship program should write directly to their Congressman.

Internship proposals must be submitted by March 15, 1966.

Developmental Reading will meet each Thursday from 8:00 to 10:30 p.m. Dr. Betty Slater will teach the class.

These courses are in addition to courses in methods in teaching reading in both the elementary and the secondary schools scheduled during the 10 class periods during the day.

Additional teachers for the methods courses this semester are Mrs. Dale (Betty) McElhattan and Mrs. John F. (Ann V.) White in the absence of Paul Terwilliger, on leave to pursue doctoral studies at Penn State.

Off Broadway Show Coming To CSC Campus

Coming to Clarion State College campus is a musical comedy which was first produced in a 135-seat off-Broadway theater in 1960. The show filled the house every night for four years, and then became an international success in Europe, South America, and the Near East and Australia.

It will show February 14 through 19 at 8:30 p.m.

This is "The Fantasticks," a harlequinade written by two young men from Texas, Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt. It is based on a half-forgotten old French romance.

The Gallic original was "Les Romaniques," Edmond Rostand's first play, written in 1894 when he was 26 years old. It was somewhat of a buried footnote to the career of the man who later wrote "Cyrano de Bergerac." Later Jones and Schmidt dug it up as a plot for "The Fantasticks."

This plot is about a boy and girl in love. It was the mockingly sophisticated style of telling their romantic story that captivated the show's audiences around the world. The boy and girl are separated by a wall built by their seemingly hostile parents. The necessity to climb trees on each side of the wall to have their secret meeting, the need to plot behind the backs of their feuding fathers, only adds piquancy to their romance.

Their fathers are the best of friends who fondly hope that their children will marry; but they forbid meetings of their progeny out of the certainty that youngsters will be contrary. They expound this wisdom in one of the show's hit numbers, "Never Say No," which states that children will always insist on doing what they're forbidden to do.

In order to find a way in which their pretended objections can be overcome, they hire some actors to stage an attempted abduction of the girl in the moonlight, so that her beau can gallantly rescue her. This will make the girl see her suitor in an even more romantic light than ever, and force the "reluctant" parents to consent to the match.

After this moonstruck episode goes off as planned, the musical transfers its principals to a world of bright, disillusioning sunlight. Youngsters and fathers grow irritated with one another. The boy and girl can only find happiness after they discover that the world is not composed entirely of moonlight and honeysuckle, and the theme is developed that "without a hurt heart is hollow."

Anna Jo Montana and Bill Fletcher of Clarion will be seen as the pair of sweethearts, Dave Caldwell of Clarion, and Dick Locke of North East, as their fathers. Olaf Malmn, music instructor of CSC, doubles as the Narrator and the hired abductor. Mike Pope, Pittsburgh, in the long but non-speaking role of the man who arranges the scenery and props and is himself a prop at times (his arms form the wall separating the lovers during one of the songs).

Bob H. Copeland, associate professor of speech, is director of this mid-summer night's impromptu. Adam Weiss, assistant professor of speech, will arrange the backgrounds for its shenanigans. Vocal direction is by Olaf Malmn and instrumental direction is by Wayne Schuricht, student, of New Kensington.

Senate Buys Station Wagon

A new, dark blue, 1966 Buick sport eight capacity station wagon was delivered to representatives of the Clarion State College Student Senate January 12. The car was purchased from Homestead Buick in Pittsburgh at a cost of $3,300, the most satisfactory of 12 bids offered.

This vehicle is designated for use by student organizations for travel involved in activities such as debate trips, athletic events, visits to other schools and field trips.

The use of the vehicle is governed by Student Senate regulations among which are the following:

1. The car must be given a thorough course of maintenance including necessary check-ups after each trip.
2. A faculty advisor must accompany all trips.
3. One student may be assigned as driver in charge in addition to the faculty member.

Interfraternity Council

At a recent meeting of the Interfraternity Council, it was found necessary to elect a new vice president. Elected was John Catanzano of Alpha Gamma Phi. Since it was deemed too difficult to hold a joint IFC Smoker, it was decided that each Fraternity will hold individual smokers on Monday night, the 14th of February. All men are invited to visit any or all of these smokers and meet the Fraternities. The location of these smokers will be announced during the next week.

STUDENT SENATE members Judy Shrum, Tom Hilton, Jeanne Kiehl, Carla Burgason, Wayne Schuricht, Don McCollim and Jerry Marterer inspect the new CSC '66 Buick, as Mr. Herzberg of Homestead Buick gives the key to Senate President, Jerry Marterer.

Good Piece of Line Blocking

Students often ask, "What does the Student Senate do for us, the students?" With the adoption of the official dress regulations for the new cafeteria, many students will still be wondering. These "unbearable" rules are much less stringent than the proposed administration's policy and the student body has the Senate to thank.

Originally "dress" meals were Monday through Saturday and twice on Sunday. This meant that men were required to wear suits or sports jackets to every evening meal and the noon meal on Sunday. The Senate felt that the "dress" meals should only be Monday through Thursday and noon Sunday because of the relaxed atmosphere on weekends and because of the cold cut, potato salad Sunday night meal which does not warrant elaborate dress.

The policy on jeans was also changed by the Senate. Before, boys in wheat jeans were not to be admitted for breakfast or lunch. The Senators brought up the point that many men wear them to class and it would be impractical to require them to change before lunch.

None of the decisions the Senate made concerning dress were done without much discussion and research. The Senators informally questioned students on their reactions to current dress standards and proposed future standards. The Student Senate realized that they were not being as liberal as some students wanted, but they felt that the dress standards should be high since it affects a body of adults.

The next time you are at the evening "dress" meal, look around and examine the picture of a well-dressed student body. Doesn't it make you feel proud that this is what the V.I.P.'s and other visitors will see? Boys, the next Saturday night when you are at the cafeteria, remember if it weren't for the Senate you would be struggling to keep your tie out of your flock. Girls, on the next snowy afternoon, look at your dress slacks and the blowing snow and be glad there is a Student Senate.

Responsibilities Must Be Met

There is perhaps no immediate question that is any more vital to students than that of their present and future draft status. In an article by Mrs. Betty Vetter, Executive Secretary of the Scientific Manpower Commission, it is emphasized that both the College and students have responsibilities which must be taken seriously.

Few will question the need of the United States Government for a strong and well-manned armed forces, and many recognize that the need for such an organization in our society sometimes is in serious conflict with personal aims, goals and vocational plans. But to make the duty of military service less onerous, a system of deferment has been established and used since World War I. Because of their potential value to the country, students frequently have been deferred in order to complete their educational training.

The privilege of asking for such deferment places important obligations both on the college and the student. The question which must be satisfied by the Selective Service Board is: Does the particular student show sufficient promise in his training to warrant deferment? If not, according to the judgment of the board, he is subject to immediate induction. Therefore, in order to continue on in higher education, a student needs not only to excel in his studies, but to satisfy several specific Selective Service requirements.

In brief he must: (1) keep the local board informed regarding his status and his local address, (2) request the college to verify his status as a student. (It is not sufficient for an unsubstantiated student statement to be submitted.) (3) Notify the student's local board when he leaves college, (4) take immediate action in the event he is classified 1-A, only 10 days are allowed for appeal, which starts with the original mailing.

Students have both rights and responsibilities in relation to the draft, and if they are in doubt it is necessary that they seek information from the Selective Service Office in the student's local community.

MISS ELLEN ALLEN shows third graders pictures in What Whiskers Did.

Third Graders Participate In National Writing Contest

The third grade in Thaddeus Stevens Training School wrote a text for the book, What Whiskers Did, by Ruth Carroll, and published by the Henry Z. Walek Publishing Company, Inc., N. Y.

This book consists of pictures concerning the adventures of a grey poodle. A contest is being sponsored by the publishing house, for third graders only, in the United States. In this contest children will try to write a creative story which will tell of the adventures of Whiskers, the poodle.

On December 14, each child in the third grade was given a new notebook, pencil, and was accompanied by his teachers to the elementary library room. There the book, What Whiskers Did, was placed in an opaque projector in order that all in the class might be able to see the illustrations. This procedure was followed: a page containing a picture was shown to the children on a screen; after they had looked at it carefully, the lights were turned on and each one wrote in his notebook what text he thought was appropriate for the page. In this manner, text for about one-fourth of the book was written at one time. Then the children read what they had written after which they started again at the beginning; looking at the pictures, editing or adding to what they had already written.

Library Notes

Glenn E. Estes, former librarian in the Akron Public schools, Akron, Ohio, is joining the Department of Library Science, CSC.

Estes, who earned his masters degree in library science at Kent State University (1965) served as clerk for the Akron Public Library prior to his teaching post with the Akron Public schools from 1956-62.

A member of Monroe Presbyterian Church, he served as director of music from 1960-66.

He is a member of the American Library Association, American Association of School Librarians, Ohio Library Association, Ohio Association of School Librarians, Ohio and National Educational Associations.

Estes has served as Library In-Service Coordinator, Akron Public Schools, on Book Adoption Committee, and as an undergraduate served as a member of Akron University Yearbook staff.

This process was repeated several days until the entire book of pictures was viewed and the text written.

The next step in the writing of this creative story was proofreading of the different stories written by the children.

The finished stories were sent to the publishers on Friday, Jan. 15, 1966, to be entered in the national contest. Then the long wait begins until the final winners are announced by the publishing house in May 1966.

Demonstration teacher is Mrs. Pearl Bonner. Miss Ellen Allen is the student teacher.

Debaters Win Another Round

On January 8, Clarion's varsity debate team of Cathy Edner, Falls Creek, Pa., Nancy Caldwell, Oil City, Pa., John Mann, Irwin, Pa., and Twila Yates, Cannonsburg, Pa., received an excellent award at Illinois State University, where they finished with an 8-4 record, one win short of a tie for first place.

Teams finishing above Clarion with a 9-3 record were University of Wisconsin, Purdue, Northwestern, Illinois, Augustana, Detroit, and Kansas. Kansas was awarded first place when the tie was broken on the basis of speaker points.

Edner and Caldwell had wins over University of Iowa, Purdue, Illinois State, and Canton Community College, and losses to Wisconsin State at Oshkosh and Western Illinois.

Mann and Yates defeated University of Illinois, Northern Illinois, Hamline, and Monmouth, and lost to first place University of Kansas and Albion. John Mann also received an excellent certificate in oratory.

In the championship cross examination division, Jean Elliott and Barbara Artuso had a 2-4 record on a rugged schedule. Elliott and Artuso defeated University of Pittsburgh and Western Illinois, but lost to the Michigan State team that took first in the division and the Wayne State team that took second, and also lost tie debates to University of Kansas and Southeast Missouri.

Currently on exhibit in Carlson Library, CSC, are approximately 20 figures in bronze, steel, wood, stone, wax and plaster. They are the work of members of a first semester class in sculpture conducted by Alfred B. Charley, assistant professor of art.

The work of the class represents a wide range of the skills involved in sculpturing, including the difficult process of actually casting the bronze in what is known as the lost wax process. For this part of the bronze sculpting, Charley and the class members use an improvised foundry near the west end of Clarion Borough.

Bronze work is the most intricate displayed by this class as it includes the formation of an original wax model, which must be invested, or prepared for molding in a reinforced plaster cast. Once plaster is poured completely around the figure connected to a maze of wax strands and hardened, the mold enclosing the figure is heated in a kiln to melt and burn the wax completely away.

Many modern sculpturers carry the work only to the point of making the molds, and have the bronze poured by commercial foundries.

The lost wax process is traceable to the bronze casting of ancient Greece, and makes use of a mixture of beeswax blended with a resin. In this process the original figure is sacrificed and instead a casting is produced, which must be carefully finished.

The works in wood and plaster involve techniques as individualized as those used in bronze casting, but are less intricate to produce as the pieces do not have to go through a casting process.

Those displaying pieces are: Alfred Charley of Clarion with a bronze bust of Professor Waldo Tiffin and a bronze organic form; Jim Walaski of Marienville with a fired clay called Man With Hat; Professor and Mrs. Francis Baptist of Clarion with a glazed clay statue of a nude couple; Mary Keifer of Oil City with a plaster free form; Mrs. Clair Dennis with three bronze, a cypress and a welded steel piece; John Osborn of Currensville with a classic head in fired clay; James Smith of Beaver Falls with a plaster form; Nancy Poole of Verona with a mother and child in fired clay; and Barbara Koch of Ridgway with a head in fired clay.

Several other pieces which were not identified include displays of wax death masks and plaster abstract three dimensional forms.

Venango Campus News Campus Cagers Top Shenango

Oil City, Jan. 29—The Venango Campus cagers, of Clarion State College, recorded their first win of the season by outscoring Shenango Center of Edinboro, 93-81. With the use of a full-court press, the V.C. five were able to go into the locker room at half time with a twelve-point lead.

In the second half, the Vulcans' lead was shaved to only three points and again coach Urban resorted to the full-court press. The press forced Shenango into making many mistakes which the Vulcans were able to capitalize on and restore their lead to thirteen points.

As the game's end drew near, the Vulcans "froze" the ball forcing their opponents to foul.

Dominating the Vulcans' scoring were Bob Amos (20), Dave Henzel (18), Joe Molhoek (18). Sailer and Rankin, each with twenty three points, were high scorers for the losers. Molhoek and Amos also tallied the most rebounds in the game.

Foreign Student Attends Venango

For the first time in its history, Venango Campus boasts a foreign student, Rahman Mohammadi, of Iran's capitol city, Tehran.

Ray, who is in the liberal arts field, is majoring in math and minoring in physics. Some day Ray hopes to be an engineer in his native land.

Before coming to Venango Campus he attended college in Vermont where he studied engineering and English.

Rahman stated that the non educational schools in Iran offered more difficult courses and that the price of an education is one eighth as much as in the United States.

He finds college life very stimulating and is pleased with the friendliness and sincerity of his fellow students.

Morisset, Bouchard Present Concert

On Wednesday evening, February 2, a contingency of Venango Campus students, attended a community concert presentation of Renee Morisset and Victor Bouchard. This husband and wife team both studied in Paris for several years after having first attained First Prizes in piano at the Conservatory of Music in their native city of Quebec.

Movies, Dances Are Scheduled

This semester Venango Campus is offering its students a multitude of activities.

Besides a host of "dorm dances," there will be several record hops, a valentine's dance, and the annual spring formal.

In addition the Cultural committee will be presenting a series of films in the student's lounge. Among those to be shown include: "The Trial," "Advice and Consent," "Grapes of Wrath," and "Citizen Kane." And an operetta, "Auntie Mame," will be presented in the spring.

On Sunday evening, January 30, a movie, "Requiem For a Heavyweight," was presented to approximately 60 campus students. Faculty members present were John F. Reinhardt and Ronald Shumaker, both members of the English department.

Then on Thursday, February 24, about 100 Campus students will be traveling to Pittsburgh's Syria Mosque to see the opera, "Faust."

This semester should prove socially and culturally rewarding to the interested student.

Welcome Wagon

Dance Held

Saturday evening, January 29, the Social committee of Venango Campus sponsored a record hop entitled "The Welcome Wagon" which was held in the Student Lounge from 8:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m.

The dance's purpose was to welcome all new students and those returning from last semester.

The decorations, which were made by Carol Lowry, John Chronowski, and Jon Kallmyer, included a covered wagon, cowboy hats, cactus, and boots. A highlight of the decorations was "Boot Hill" bearing gravestones of such notorious outlaws as Jesse Morgan, John R. and Alastair C. Dalton, Belle Williams, Queenie Boyles and Wild Bill Shumaker.

Disc jockey for the event was Tom Wenskowski. Refreshments were served, and numerous prizes, ranging from Clarion sweatshirts to cowboy hats, were awarded.

Approximately 175 students and guests attended while John F. Reinhardt chaperoned.

The Band Tunes Up

CSC Graduates Join Work Force

With January graduates soon to enter the work force many people want to know the job market supply and demand situation.

According to Mr. Ray A. Giering, assistant director of placement, Clarion State College, the placement record of recent graduates has been good; with the most favorable month for jobs being August. While there are openings at other times during the year, especially in January for teachers, many of them are of an emergency nature.

Currently elementary placement has been active because of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. Through its provisions teaching staffs have been increased to supply remedial instruction.

But high school students thinking through their career plans in future years should note the predictions for the supply and demand of teachers. William Steif, a writer for the Pittsburgh Press, has noted that: "... The annual national shortage of 83,000 teachers soon

"No one can be perfectly free till all are free; no one can be perfectly moral till all are moral; no one can be perfectly happy till all are happy."

MISS ELLEN ALLEN shows third graders pictures in What Whiskers Did.

Third Graders Participate In National Writing Contest

The third grade in Thaddeus Stevens Training School wrote a text for the book, What Whiskers Did, by Ruth Carroll, and published by the Henry Z. Walek Publishing Company, Inc., N. Y.

This book consists of pictures concerning the adventures of a grey poodle. A contest is being sponsored by the publishing house, for third graders only, in the United States. In this contest children will try to write a creative story which will tell of the adventures of Whiskers, the poodle.

On December 14, each child in the third grade was given a new notebook, pencil, and was accompanied by his teachers to the elementary library room. There the book, What Whiskers Did, was placed in an opaque projector in order that all in the class might be able to see the illustrations. This procedure was followed: a page containing a picture was shown to the children on a screen; after they had looked at it carefully, the lights were turned on and each one wrote in his notebook what he thought was appropriate for the page. In this manner, text for about one-fourth of the book was written at one time. Then the children read what they had written after which they started again at the beginning; looking at the pictures, editing or adding to what they had already written.

Library Notes

Glenn E. Estes, former librarian in the Akron Public schools, Akron, Ohio, is joining the Department of Library Science, CSC.

Estes, who earned his masters degree in library science at Kent State University (1965) served as clerk for the Akron Public Library prior to his teaching post with the Akron Public schools from 1959-62.

A member of Monroe Presbyterian Church, he served as director of music from 1960-66.

He is a member of the American Library Association, American Association of School Librarians, Ohio Library Association, Ohio Association of School Librarians, Ohio and National Educational Associations.

Estes has served as Library In-Schools Coordinator, Akron Public Schools, on Book Adoption Committee, and as an undergraduate served as a member of Akron University Yearbook staff.

This process was repeated several days until the entire book of pictures was viewed and the text written.

The next step in the writing of this creative story was proofreading of the different stories written by the children.

The finished stories were sent to the publishers on Friday, Jan. 15, 1966, to be entered in the national contest. Then the long wait begins until the final winners are announced by the publishing house in May 1966.

Demonstration teacher is Mrs. Pearl Bonner. Miss Ellen Allen is the student teacher.

Debaters Win Another Round

On January 8, Clarion's varsity debate team of Cathy Edner, Falls Creek, Pa., Nancy Caldwell, Oil City, Pa., John Mann, Irwin, Pa., and Twila Yates, Cannonsburg, Pa., received an excellent award at Illinois State University, where they finished with an 8-4 record, one win short of a tie for first place.

Teams finishing above Clarion with a 9-3 record were University of Wisconsin, Purdue, Northwestern, Illinois, Augustana, Detroit, and Kansas. Kansas was awarded first place when the tie was broken on the basis of speaker points.

Edner and Caldwell had wins over University of Iowa, Purdue, Illinois State, and Canton Community College, and losses to Wisconsin State at Oshkosh and Western Illinois. Mann and Yates defeated University of Illinois, Northern Illinois, Hamline, and Monmouth, and lost to first place University of Kansas and Albion. John Mann also received an excellent certificate in oratory.

In the championship cross examination division, Jean Elliott and Barbara Artuso had a 2-4 record on a rugged schedule. Elliott and Artuso defeated University of Pittsburgh and Western Illinois, but lost to the Michigan State team that took first in the division and the Wayne State team that took second, and also lost tie debates to University of Kansas and Southeast Missouri.

Currently on exhibit in Carlson Library, CSC, are approximately 20 figures in bronze, steel, wood, stone, wax and plaster. They are the work of members of a first semester class in sculpture conducted by Alfred B. Charley, assistant professor of art.

The work of the class represents a wide range of the skills involved in sculpturing, including the difficult process of actually casting the bronze in what is known as the lost wax process. For this part of the bronze sculpting, Charley and the class members use an improvised foundry near the west end of Clarion Borough.

Bronze work is the most intricate displayed by this class as it includes the formation of an original wax model, which must be invested, or prepared for molding in a reinforced plaster cast. Once plaster is poured completely around the figure connected to a maze of wax strands and hardened, the mold enclosing the figure is heated in a kiln to melt and burn the wax completely away.

Many modern sculpturers carry the work only to the point of making the molds, and have the bronze poured by commercial foundries.

The lost wax process is traceable to the bronze casting of ancient Greece, and makes use of a mixture of beeswax blended with a resin. In this process the original figure is sacrificed and instead a casting is produced, which must be carefully finished.

The works in wood and plaster involve techniques as individualized as those used in bronze casting, but are less intricate to produce as the pieces do not have to go through a casting process.

Those displaying pieces are: Alfred Charley of Clarion with a bronze bust of Professor Waldo Tiffin and a bronze organic form; Jim Walaski of Marienville with a fired clay called Man With Hat; Professor and Mrs. Francis Baptist of Clarion with a glazed clay statue of a nude couple; Mary Keifer of Oil City with a plaster free form; Mrs. Clair Dennis with three bronze, a cypress and a welded steel piece; John Osborn of Curwensville with a classic head in fired clay; James Smith of Beaver Falls with a plaster form; Nancy Poole of Verona with a mother and child in fired clay; and Barbara Koch of Ridgway with a head in fired clay.

Several other pieces which were not identified include displays of wax death masks and plaster abstract three dimensional forms.

Venango Campus News

Campus Cagers Top Shenango

Oil City, Jan. 29—The Venango Campus cagers, of Clarion State College, recorded their first win of the season by outscoring Shenango Center of Edinboro, 93-81. With the use of a full-court press, the V.C. five were able to go into the locker room at half time with a twelve-point lead.

In the second half, the Vulcans' lead was shaved to only three points and again coach Urban resorted to the full-court press. The press forced Shenango into making many mistakes which the Vulcans were able to capitalize on and restore their lead to thirteen points.

As the game's end drew near, the Vulcans "froze" the ball forcing their opponents to foul.

Dominating the Vulcans' scoring were Bob Amos (20), Dave Henzel (18), Joe Molhoek (18). Sailer and Rankin, each with twenty three points, were high scorers for the losers. Molhoek and Amos also tallied the most rebounds in the game.

Movies, Dances Are Scheduled

This semester Venango Campus is offering its students a multitude of activities.

Besides a host of "dorm dances," there will be several record hops, a valentine's dance, and the annual spring formal.

In addition the Cultural committee will be presenting a series of films in the student's lounge. Among those to be shown include: "The Trial," "Advise and Consent," "Grapes of Wrath," and "Citizen Kane." And an operetta, "Auntie Maimie," will be presented in the spring.

On Sunday evening, January 30, a movie, "Requiem For a Heavyweight," was presented to approximately 60 campus students. Faculty members present were John F. Reinhardt and Ronald Shumaker, both members of the English department.

Then on Thursday, February 24, about 100 Campus students will be traveling to Pittsburgh's Syria Mosque to see the opera, "Faust."

This semester should prove socially and culturally rewarding to the interested student.

Welcome Wagon

Dance Held

Saturday evening, January 29, the Social committee of Venango Campus sponsored a record hop entitled "The Welcome Wagon" which was held in the Student Lounge from 8:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m.

The dance's purpose was to welcome all new students and those returning from last semester.

The decorations, which were made by Carol Lowry, John Chronowski, and Jon Kallmyer, included a covered wagon, cowboy hats, cactus, and boots. A highlight of the decorations was "Boot Hill" bearing gravestones of such notorious outlaws as Jesse Morgan, John R. and Alastair C. Dalton, Belle Williams, Queenie Boyles and Wild Bill Shumaker.

Disc jockey for the event was Tom Wenskowski. Refreshments were served, and numerous prizes, ranging from Clarion sweatshirts to cowboy hats, were awarded.

Approximately 175 students and guests attended while John F. Reinhardt chaperoned.

The Band Tunes Up

CSC Graduates Join Work Force

With January graduates soon to enter the work force many people want to know the job market supply and demand situation.

According to Mr. Ray A. Giering, assistant director of placement, Clarion State College, the placement record of recent graduates has been good; with the most favorable month for jobs being August. While there are openings at other times during the year, especially in January for teachers, many of them are of an emergency nature.

Currently elementary placement has been active because of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. Through its provisions teaching staffs have been increased to supply remedial instruction.

But high school students thinking through their career plans in future years should note the predictions for the supply and demand of teachers. William Steif, a writer for the Pittsburgh Press, has noted that: "... The annual national shortage of 83,000 teachers soon will turn into a surplus of 21,000. This means that teachers' pay won't be rising so fast as in recent years."

In other words, during the past 20 years, the market has been a sellers' market. It is now expected to become more of a buyers' market. That is, teachers may have to become more mobile and accept positions where they are available.

Peace Corps Test

Clarion State College students will have an opportunity to take the Peace Corps Placement Test on campus on Feb. 8. It will be given in B52 Administration Building at 7 p.m.

The application form (Volunteer Questionnaire), rather than the Placement Test, is the most important factor in the selection of Volunteers. Students or others available for service or advance training visits the next year must fill out a Volunteer Questionnaire before taking the test. The Questionnaire, which is submitted to the tester, can be obtained in advance from Dr. Elbert R. Moses, Jr.

The Placement Test takes about an hour and a half. An optional French or Spanish achievement test requires another hour. Both tests are non-competitive and require no preparation.

Enrollment Dips

Clarion State College has enrolled 2,417 full time students at its main campus, James Moore, dean of instruction, has announced. Venango Campus in Oil City will instruct 339 students this spring.

This is a decrease of 50 compared to the fall enrollment of 2,796 over all.

Evening and part-time enrollments are not quite complete, but a close estimate indicates that 137 will be enrolled at Clarion and approximately 50 at Venango, or a total of 185.

Stuttering Explained

Mr. Gordon Schuckers, Director of Speech and Hearing Services in Westmoreland County Public Schools, explains a system of therapy for individuals who stutter. This presentation was made at the January meeting of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the honorary Speech and Hearing Fraternity at Clarion State College.

Mr. Schuckers explained that in rehabilitating individuals that stutter it is necessary that they accept the responsibility for their behavior and not continue to look for a "cure" and blame their stuttering on some unreasonable cause. A movie that was filmed in the Westmoreland County Summer Speech Program was presented to illustrate this therapy procedure.

Forty Sigma Alpha Epsilon members participated in the discussion which followed Mr. Schuckers presentation. There were eight Speech Pathologists from Clarion, Clearfield, Jefferson, Venango and Westmoreland Counties attending the meeting.

This intelligence-testing business reminds me of the way they used to weigh hogs in Texas. They would get a long plank, put it over a cross-bar, and somehow tie the hog on one end of the plank. They'd search all around till they found a stone that would balance the weight of the hog and they'd put that on the other end of the plank. Then they'd guess the weight of the stone.

$2,000,000 Dining Hall Swings Into Full Service

Long awaited, dining service was begun in the new $2 million dining hall completed earlier this month at CSC. As it was opened during the between-the-semesters lull only 150 students were served Sunday evening, January 23.

However, Mr. Earl Zerfoss, dining hall manager for the Servomation-Mathias Co., caterers operating the facility, anticipates that its combined 1,000 capacity dining rooms will be used nearly to full capacity now that second semester is in full swing.

Zerfoss says that not only will the serving be faster, but the students will be receiving tastier meals. In part, this is because adequate kitchen facilities permit preparation of food on a much shorter deadline basis. No longer will hamburgers have to be baked in sheet pans. They will be grilled, 300 at a time, "the way hamburgers are supposed to be cooked." And french fries, instead of being done in 10 pound batches, will be fried 60 pounds to the batch.

Zerfoss also stresses that greater choice in menus will be offered. While students were being served in Becht Hall, the old dining facility, limited kitchen space permitted the preparation of only one kind of meat, one vegetable, one form of potatoes per meal. Now two vegetables, two salads, two meats will be offered cafeteria style, and fresher preparation and same-day use of baked goods will improve flavors.

In keeping with the newness of the building is the newness of all utensils, dishes, serving trays, all designed to be coordinated with the rapid high-volume serving required by the 1,350 students eating currently in the dining room which must be served in a space of two hours. It is anticipated that 1,600 will need food service next September.

Some of the kitchen equipment items are: two dishwashers with automatic conveyors which handle up to 7,000 pieces per hour, six 60-gallon steam kettles, two rotary ovens, the largest of which will bake 75 turkeys at once; and 12 high pressure steamers of 30 pounds capacity each (for cooking vegetables).

There is a fully equipped bakery and food storage plant in the basement. Compared to the single refrigerator and three ice cream storage freezers used in Becht Hall, the former dining hall, for frozen vegetable and cold storage, the six new walk-in refrigerators and two walk-in freezers provide vastly increased storage area.

And instead of the single slow-moving line, plus a temporary one used in Becht, three are now in use in the new facility, and a fourth is being held in reserve for future growth.

No matter which measure one makes, the new dining hall represents a three-to-four-fold capacity increase in the food service at CSC. With the growth in recent years which seriously taxed the 330-capacity dining room in Becht Hall, the new dining hall provides a badly needed adjustment, which will be used at a good rate of capacity from its first day of use.

One of the Four Dining Areas

Year of Progress Cited

Work done in archaeology at Clarion State College represents the first concerted attempt to unravel the prehistoric occupation of the Upper Allegheny Valley by man.

Work gained momentum during 1965, was well publicized, and resulted in improved cooperation between field teams and local residents.

Dr. Gustav A. Konitzky, professor of anthropology in a review of the year's work, states in a year-end report that surveys by archaeological teams from CSC have resulted in the discovery of several new sites. The surveys also emphasize the need for quick, comprehensive excavation work, since archaeological sites are rapidly disappearing because of vandalism.

"It is regrettable that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has made little or no effective effort to safeguard its archaeological heritage," Dr. Konitzky says.

Resources and equipment available to the students have been minimal, yet the 1965 campaign demonstrated conclusively that archaeological field work can be carried out effectively by undergraduate crews at a minimum cost per site.

A number of significant sites were fully excavated and a slide lecture was prepared. Close cooperation with Carnegie Museum was established, library exhibits were prepared, reconnaissance and excavation accelerated.

Outstanding among the sites studied was the Crawford Shelter in Venango County, which proved to have been occupied from early Archaic times to the Late Prehistoric period. Since the site was vital in the interpretation of the prehistory of Little Scrubgrass Valley, selected teams were busy from August 9 to November 27 in an attempt to complete the excavation before the onset of winter. Other crews excavated sites on Westminster Highlands in order to gain information on the lower reaches of the same valley.

Several private collections were acquired through donation by interested citizens, among them the Kizer Collection from Elk Township which represents the only available information on a vital site destroyed by coal stripping.

The season's work indicates the need for quick and comprehensive excavation work, since archaeological sites in this area are rapidly disappearing because of vandalism.

An important archaeological collection has been given to CSC through the dedicated efforts of the Woman's Club of Clarion. The collection represents a number of key archaeological sites in Clearfield County and was first brought to the attention of Dr. G. A. Konitzky, professor of Anthropology at Clarion by Guido Riccadonna, a student from Penfield, Pa.

The importance of this addition to the materials in the Archaeology Laboratory lies in the fact that the artefacts cover a considerable span of time ranging from the early Archaic Period (4000 B.C.) to the Late Prehistoric Period (around 1500-1600 A.D.) Moreover the collection contains evidence of cultural influences from the lower Susquehanna, a clear indication that northwestern Pennsylvania has received cultural ideas from as far away as the Atlantic seaboard at various times during the prehistoric period.

Mrs. Elbert Moses, Jr., chairman of the Cultural Heritage Committee of the Woman's Club of Clarion was instrumental in arranging for an acquisition of this collection by the Woman's Club and its subsequent presentation to the College.

Peace Corps Representative States Volunteer Need

On her Jan. 13 visit on Clarion State College campus, Miss Betty Parsons of Mt. Union, Pa., Peace Corps staff member working in the office of University Public Affairs observed that at present the Peace Corps has need for 10,500 volunteers, five thousand of these are needed in education alone.

Miss Parsons, who has been a member of the Peace Corps since November 1962, stated that 5,000 teachers are currently needed for 1966 in English, mathematics and sciences. There are also situations open in psychology, political science, German and other foreign language teachers at the university level.

Over 300 different kinds of skills are presently needed by the Peace Corps.

In addition to community development, which involves public health, sanitation, construction, conservation, farm improvement, there are many other major categories of service.

Persons with all kinds of skills are needed, for instance, there are presently openings for bricklayers, farmers, persons with varied mechanical skills, and many others.

Eighty-six percent of the people in Peace Corps have been exposed to college, and a large portion of them are graduates. We are glad to get these people, but we can also use non-college trained people with good vocational skills.

A tour of duty is two years, including 12 weeks training, and can be extended one year in the same project. However, it is possible for a person to re-apply for work on another project after completion of the tour of duty.

A somewhat lower number of applicants is available to the Peace Corps than was the case in the beginning of the program, Miss Parsons indicates, but the number ready for training has increased.

Also, Miss Parsons observed that service in this organization in no way substitutes for military obligations, but deferments are often granted during involvement in a Peace Corps project.

CSC Aids in Job Search

An important aspect of the service offered by Clarion State College is its work in assisting new graduates in finding their first full-time jobs.

In charge of this function is Ray K. Giering, who was named assistant director of student teaching and placement in September, 1965. Giering works in cooperation with Dr. William Page, director of student teaching and placement.

Job opportunities, according to Mr. Giering, are especially good at present in the fields of: library science, foreign language, elementary and special education, and speech correction.

Following his graduation from CSC, Mr. Giering was awarded a master of education from Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa., and has since done postgraduate work at Pennsylvania State and Temple U.

Students, administrators and personnel directors are encouraged to contact Mr. Giering with respect to all matters of permanent job placement.

Many opportunities with state and federal offices, businesses and industry are available.

Student teaching appointments are directed by Dr. William Page, and inquiries related to student teaching should be directed to him.

Noted Astrophysicist Lectures At Clarion, February 10-11

Coming to Clarion State College as a visiting professor, Dr. Peter Pesch of the Warner and Swasey Observatory, will lecture Thursday and Friday, Feb. 10 and 11.

Dr. Pesch, a leading astrophysicist, will present three lectures: "Surface of the Moon," "Crank Astronomy," and "Sirius B." The discussion on "Crank Astronomy," to be presented at 7:30 p.m. Thursday evening in the College Chapel will be a public meeting.

Dr. Pesch, born in Switzerland, came to the United States in 1939 because of fears that Swiss neutrality would be violated during the impending war. He resided in Chicago until 1950, when he moved to Puerto Rico, finished high school, attended the University of Puerto Rico and married. In 1953 Dr. Pesch went to University of Chicago, where he earned his B.S. and M.S. in physics and a PhD in astronomy.

During his graduate years at Yerkes Observatory, University of Chicago, Dr. Pesch worked with Dr. W. A. Hiltner on development of image tubes for astronomical applications. Since earning his doctorate in 1960 Dr. Pesch has served as assistant professor of astronomy at Case Institute of Technology, doing research in stellar evolution and galactic structure.

ALPHA CHI RHO

We Crows have been very busy since our last article. Directly after our return from Christmas vacation, elections were held for the year 1966. Those elected were Brothers: Paul Baer, president; Bill Flegel, vice president; Joe Eckhardt, ritual officer; Vaughn Garvin, chaplain; Herb Guenther, treasurer; Bruce Howarth, secretary; Ed Edder, guard and pledge chairman. Many other minor offices were also filled. We are confident that the Fraternity is now in very capable hands.

This semester Brothers Garvin and Edder return to us from student teaching, while Brothers Dan John, Dennis Raymer, and Glenn Roadman go out student teaching. Brother Bill Benson graduated in January and is now teaching in a section of Pittsburgh.

Our congratulations go to President Paul Baer who was selected to serve as a student resident in Elk Hall. Further congratulations go to Brother Joe Eckhardt who recently became engaged to Miss Judith Housler.

Our best wishes go to Rev. Brother Carl G. Ziegler, the last living founder of our Fraternity who was ninety years old on January 29.

The Brothers are pleased to announce that Miss Karen Johnson, a sophomore, has been selected to represent the Fraternity as a candidate for Miss Clarion State College.

With this semester we are one step closer to getting a house as most of the officers have been able to find a quite satisfactory place where they can live together. This makes for much more efficient management of the Fraternity. We have recently had some encouragement in the possibility of getting a house for the entire Chapter as soon as our membership is a bit larger.

Closely connected with this, are our recent rushing efforts. Four freshmen, Wayne Downs, Bob Furman, Cal Hale, and Jeff Wildman, have been pledged to date, and we are confident that they are only the start of our largest pledge class yet. On February 14, Alpha Chi Rho will hold an open Smoker in room 707 Davis Hall, from 7 till 10 p.m. We wish to extend a cordial invitation to all men interested in Fraternities to drop by and meet the Brothers.

BETA CHI UPSILON

The sisters of the Beta Chi Upsilon sorority proudly announce that the following women have become our new patronesses: Mrs. Pope, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Crawford, Mrs. Joy, and Mrs. Smathers.

We wish the best to Sisters Linda Lasik, Joan Moody, and Cindy Waley who are student teaching this semester.

The Sorority went to the Clarion County Home as our service project for Christmas. We would like to thank all who helped to make it a success.

Congratulations to Peggy Garthwaite, Mary Lechner Elliott, and Linda Kean on their graduation.

Congratulations to our sponsor, Mrs. William Grosch and Mr. Grosch on their baby girl, Wendy.

Peppermint carnations to Alana Gazetki, Linda McKiernan, Betty Kinskey, Judy Alcorn, and Terry Rohal on their birthdays.

DELTA ZETA

The Sisters of Delta Zeta would like to welcome back Carol Siehak and the student teachers who are:

Lois Evans, Toni Martinelli, Marlene Scardamalia, Barb Shaw, and Lynn Shuck. We missed you girls and we're glad to have you back. We'd also like to extend the best of luck to the girls who are student teaching this semester: Mary Blawas, Cindy Gardina, Bev Mick, and Vivian Walker.

The new officers of Delta Zeta sorority will be initiated in May and until then, will be working in apprenticeship with the present officers. The new officers are: president, Jackie Sabol; 1st vice president, Mary Spence; 2nd vice president, Sharon Weyer; treasurer, Mary Jane Binashsky; historian, Anita Liposki; recording secretary, Sue Horvath; corresponding secretary, Cindy Bender; song leader and philanthropies, Doreen Allen; scholarship and activities, Janis Kemerer; social chairman, Dana Casoli; standard chairman, Shirley Skantzos; and press chairman, Patti Dorning. We all wish the very best to these girls and look forward to the same outstanding leadership our present officers are showing us.

The Deltas have two candidates in the Miss CSC Pageant this year: Judy Tuminella, who will represent Delta Zeta Sorority, and Elaine Daniels who will represent Theta Chi Fraternity. Everyone of our hearts are with you. Good luck!

Thursday, January 26, the Deltas participated in the Mother's March of Dimes canvassing the local area. The march was a great success and completed our philanthropic projects for this year.

Rush is finally here and it's the most important activity in the Delt suite. All the Sisters are working very hard to make this rush period a great success. We will hold our informal rush party on February 18 and our formal rush party on February 28. We're all looking forward to these parties.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

The brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa were proud to hold an open house January 29 for the students of CSC in our newly acquired house at 703 Wood Street.

Over one hundred people visited the house. The guests were greeted by our housemother, Mrs. Ruth Wenner, of Oil City. Later they were taken on tours of the house. We would like to thank all the people who came to our open house. All of the brothers extend a hearty invitation to everyone to stop and visit. Our special thanks to Mrs. Wenner for so graciously serving as our hostess.

A hectic week was spent by all of the brothers busy with registration, classes, and moving into the house. Several afternoons were spent in preparing the brothers' rooms for the open house.

Saturday evening a housewarming party was held by the brothers with many guests attending. The house was considerably improved by the varied gifts given by the housewarmers. Thanks everyone; we really appreciate your thoughtfulness.

The Phi Sigs wish to announce that Miss Priscilla Green is our candidate for the Miss Clarion State College Contest.

We would like to extend our thanks to Miss Priscilla Green, a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority, for representing our fraternity.

Best wishes for a successful experience go to brother Wes Semple, who is student teaching this semester at Brookville High School.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

The Sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma welcomed the following new initiates into the Sisterhood: Gloria Ann Brody, Kathleen Brown, JoAnne Girardi, Priscilla Green, Helen Marschinke, Karol Koman, Cheryl Thomas, Kathleen Sekelik, Sandra Wetzel. Priscilla Green was named as "Best Pledge" of the fall pledge class.

An enjoyable evening was spent at the formal dinner-dance held at the Holiday Inn in Oil City last Saturday night. Jim Leighton was chosen by the Sisters as their king. We wish to extend our appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Carnahan and Miss Wiant for their assistance in making this occasion such a successful one.

The Sisters are happy to have Barb Doroties back with us after student teaching last semester. Best wishes go to Kerryn Markwell, Loraine Colarossi, Mary Lou Stewart, Sue Zerbe, Andy Yanshank, Vonneth Duede and Jeanne Keihl who are now student teaching.

Sister Mary Himes has replaced Loraine Colarossi as corresponding secretary.

Our congratulations go to Karen and Rich Anderson on the birth of their son.

Purple violets go to Helen Marschinke, Theta Xi representative for the Miss Clarion State College contest, Priscilla Green, Phi Sigma Kappa representative, and Joan Toy, Sigma Sigma Sigma representative.

Because of the recent cold weather, the Sisters are again taking orders for shaker sweaters so that the students can combat the "Clarion Breeze." You can order a sweater from any Tri Sigma.

We are very happy to have met each of the girls who attended our coke party and are looking forward to getting together with you at the up-coming mixer and parties.

THETA XI

The men of Theta Xi Fraternity are proud to welcome eleven new Brothers. These new brothers are:

Eric Blumensaudt, Bill Heckathorne, Bob Peters, Dave Rose, Keith Rosser, Bill Rudesill, Tom Sekelsky, Rick Smith, Francis Winkler, Dave Woods, and Allen Zepp. Congratulations and best wishes to our new Brothers.

At the end of the fall semester Theta Xi was in first place in the overall standing in intramurals. We are hoping to keep our rank as number one this semester also.

This Saturday afternoon there will be a Jammie in the Theta Xi house. It is open to the campus and entertainment will be furnished by "The Rogues." Starting time is 2 p.m.

On March 4, a fish fry will be held in the Theta Xi house. The price is $1.25 for all the fish you can eat. Tickets can be purchased from any brother.

Good luck to the Brothers who are doing their student teaching this semester. They are: Eric Blumensaudt, Kirby Kessell, Rick Lewis, Larry Miller, Ted Olson, and Jack Stanton.

The men of Theta Xi would like to extend congratulations to our sister sorority, Alpha Sigma Tau, on becoming a national sorority on January 29.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

The Brothers of Sigma Tau Gamma welcome all students back for the new semester and wish them luck.

Congratulations are extended to the Sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau who were initiated into their national sorority on January 29.

On January 3 the Brothers elected new officers for this semester. They are: president, Harry Elder; vice president, Terry Martin; secretary, Jack Scott; treasurer, Ron Kamada; assistant treasurer, Al Brown. Bob Nold was appointed commissioner and will take care of our cafeteria. We wish Bob a lot of luck and success since we are the only people permitted to eat off campus. Terry Martin will be pledge master and Jack Scott will assist him.

The Brothers are having a party Friday evening, February 4. Brothers Harry Stephens and John Pappum are in charge. The party is for prospective pledges who have invitations.

Congratulations are extended to the Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity on the opening of their house.

The Brothers would like to thank

Ruth Anne Swartzwelder for agreeing to represent them in the Miss CSC Pageant. Good luck Ruth Anne.

THETA CHI

The Brothers of Theta Chi congratulate the newly elected officers: Chuck McKinney, president; Bill Runkle, vice president; Ron Reed, secretary, and Bob Austen, treasurer.

Best of luck is extended to the Brothers who are student teaching this semester. Those brothers student teaching include: Rick Sheffer, Dennis Clinton, Bary Newill, Dennis Fisher, Joseph Kiesel, and Larry Neal.

Congratulations are also in order to Richard Murphy who recently announced his engagement to Donna Meek and to Sam McKnight who became engaged to Marita Kulich. Bob Hand and Mary Jane Krotz are pinned.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

White violets go to those sisters chosen to participate in the Miss Clarion State College Pageant: Barb Herschal, representing the junior class; Laura Hettinger, the senior class; and Karen Rebich, Zeta Tau Alpha. Good luck to all of you!

The Zetas wish success to those sisters who are student teaching this semester. They are: Adele Campbell, Barbara Keller, Carol Kourkoulis, Patty Graw, Mary Lou Mourer, Patty Blain and Kathie Homitz.

Congratulations to Sister Laura Hettinger on winning the Zeta Tau Alpha Foundation Scholarship.

Judo Students Practice

Judo Team Participates In Civic Club Program

For the tenth time in five semesters, Professor Andor S. P-Jobb represented Clarion State College with an exhibition on Monday, Jan. 10.

This exhibition involved a peculiar form of art called the "art of maximum efficiency with minimum effort," or more commonly known as the "art of Judo."

Mr. P-Jobb's Judo team was invited by the Clarion Civic Club to participate in a program entitled "Why Keep Physically Fit." Clarion College students participating in the program were: Joan Moody, senior, of Butler; Nancy Noel, junior, of Pittsburgh; John Egolf, senior, from Franklin; Ron Miller, sophomore, of Ridgway; and Dennis Pelhan, junior, from Cannonsburg.

These students represent a small group from the Clarion College Judo Club, and are candidates for the green and brown belt promotions which will take place during spring semester. Miss Moody and Miss Noel are "old timers" in the Judo Club. They began their study of the art of self-defense in the fall of 1963, since then taking home a number of victories from past matches. These two young ladies, needless to say, have demonstrated many times how well they have learned to take care of themselves. John Egolf, who has had five semesters of Judo training, is studying math at Clarion. Ron Miller and Dennis Pelhan appeared for the first time in the Judo exhibition and have surely secured their places for future shows. Both boys act as kandjis (assistant Judo instructors) on Thursday evenings at Clarion Area High School. Dennis Pelhan started Judo a year ago in the Venango Campus Judo Club which Mr. P-Jobb founded.

Clarion to Revive Track

Track is to be revived at Clarion State College after more than 30 years inactivity, it is announced by Coach Charles A. Ruslavage.

So far as the scanty records indicate, the last track meet was coached by John O. Jones in 1935, when Clarion lost to Allegheny and Grove City.

Practice will begin during the last week in February, immediately after the close of the winter sports season. "We're starting from scratch," Ruslavage says. "But there are a few students at Clarion with previous track experience."

An advantage this year will be the use of the all-weather track at the new stadium. "We hope to develop a really strong track program, and will welcome any and all candidates," Ruslavage says.

Examination of old records show that the 1934-35 season was the last at Clarion. A meet in 1931-32 showed Clarion making a score of 35 to Carnegie Tech's 25. In the Western Conference that year, Clarion scored 47½, Indiana 35½, Slippery Rock 24, and California State 17. Clarion ranked fourth in a state meet.

Going back still further, in 1930-31, Clarion scored 68 to California's 29. The Clarion freshmen scored 29 to Carnegie Tech's freshman score of 16.

A tri-meet between Clarion, Indiana and California was scored 52½, 28, and 27½.

In the 1929-30 season Clarion scored 67 to Indiana's 47.

The 1928-29 season yields no records, but the 1927-28 season lists Clarion as second in a tri-meet at Indiana.

Schedule for the 1965-66 season:
April 16—S—Slippery Rock
April 23—S—Indiana
April 30—S—at Geneva.
May 7—S—Edinboro (tri-meet with Edinboro and Indiana), at Edinboro.

May 10—T—at Slippery Rock.
May 13-14—F, S—State College Conference Meet, at West Chester.

Clarion Women Active in Sports

Men don't have a corner on athletics at Clarion State College.

Twenty-five teams of ten members each in the Woman's Athletic Association have been active in intramural volleyball since early November. Mrs. Betty Simpson, instructor in health and physical education and women's volleyball coach, says the teams have played excellent ball this season and have produced one undefeated team.

Following the volleyball season, a similar program of intramural activity is planned for women who enjoy playing basketball. Climaxing both seasons will be play-off games with women faculty members.

Other team sports available to women on Clarion Campus are badminton, ping pong, and tennis.

Intramural managers of the intramural volleyball program are Amy Woody and Carol Welch.

Basketball

Clarion State's Golden Eagles extended their winning streak last week to seven in a row by defeating St. Vincent 76-68 and Cleveland State University, formerly Fenn College, 93-64.

Clarion's Dave Griffin, scoring 27 points, was high man with Jack Derlink taking second place honors with 21 points.

The Golden Eagle's seventh victory in a row occurred Saturday, Jan. 29, when they hosted Cleveland State University in the Harvey Gymnasium.

Clarion's Jack Derlink, taking advantage of playing on his home wood led the Golden Eagles with a score of 31 points and an outstanding record of 23 rebound recoveries.

Clarion's Blaine Pendleton held second high honors by scoring 24 points, and Earl Highlands aiding in 14 valuable assists enabled Clarion to win their eighth victory of the season.

Coach John Joy stated that his team played a much improved game over Cleveland than they did against St. Vincent.

Miss CSC Crown To Elaine Daniels

Miss Elaine Daniels won the 1966 Miss Clarion State College Pageant held February 12, in the Clarion High School Auditorium.

Elaine is a junior majoring in elementary education, her minor being special education. Her hometown is Export. She is a member of Delta Zeta Sorority and is in her second year on the CSC cheerleading squad. She was a sophomore attendant in the Homecoming Queen's court.

Elaine wore a floor-length black velvet dress in the evening gown competition. For her talent, she gave a monologue entitled "What Is a Boy?"

Thirteen CSC women students competed in evening gown, swim suit, and talent competition.

Participants and their sponsors were: Elaine Daniels, Theta Chi; Priscilla Green, Phi Sigma Kappa; Helen Hastings, Alpha Sigma Tau; Laura Hettinger, senior class; Karen Johnson, Alpha Chi Rho, and Jo Marschinke, Theta Xi.

Also, Vivian Talaga, Beta Chi Upsilon; Joan Toy, Sigma Sigma Sigma; Judy Tuminella, Delta Zeta; Karen Rebich, Zeta Tau Alpha; Jamie Robinson, freshman class; Patti Store, Phi Sigma Epsilon and Ruth Anne Swartzwelder, Sigma Tau Gamma.

The finalists were: first runner-up, Jo Marschinke; second, Jane Robinson; third, Judy Tuminella, and fourth, Laura Hettinger.

The first and second runners-up, as well as Elaine, received trophies.

Linda Cooper, Miss CSC 1965, crowned Elaine as "Miss CSC 1966."

Mr. Jerry Marterer, Student Senate President, presented Elaine with red roses. The audience stood and sang the Clarion Alma Mater.

Mistress and master of ceremonies were Carol Mazza and Bob Janone. Donna Fogle was the organist. In addition, Carol served as pageant director.

Judges were: Mrs. Jerri Sefton, Miss Angela Cangemi and Mr. William J. Dye. Recordors were Dr. Fritzie Gareis and Mrs. Jeannette Wolfe.

THE SENATOR'S NOTEBOOK

The last two Student Senate meetings centered around the budget. The Senate is now allocating money for next year. This is the first Senate to be responsible for two budgets because they are in the process of changing the budget date from fall to spring, thus the money for next fall is being allocated now instead of in October.

Before, the new and inexperienced Senate was confronted immediately with the responsibility of allocating thousands of dollars to campus activities.

Weekend Yields Big Debate Trophy Bag

WILLIAM AND MARY

Two teams of Clarion debaters both won championships in varsity debate competition on February 5. This represents Clarion's greatest accomplishment ever in a single weekend of debating, and the debaters brought home six trophies as a record of their achievement.

At William and Mary, Cathy Edner, Falls Creek, and Nancy Caldwell, Oil City, were the only affirmative team in the tournament to post an undefeated record through seven rounds of debate, and thus received the silver bowl presented to the first place affirmative team. Second place on the affirmative went to Dartmouth, and third to University of North Carolina.

Edner and Caldwell teamed with the negative combination of sophomore Jean Elliott, Sligo, and freshman June Rudolph, Gibsonia, to place third among all the teams entered, for which they received another silver bowl. First place overall went to Dartmouth, second to Kearney, Neb., and in fourth and fifth place behind Clarion was George Washington University and Navy. The William and Mary tournament was national in scope, as teams attended from 13 states and the District of Columbia, from Maine and Florida along the Atlantic seaboard, and from as far west as Nebraska.

Meanwhile a second team of Clarion debaters, Merrilyn Naugle, Beaver Falls, and freshman Pat Dobson, Verona, on the affirmative, and John Mann, Irwin, and freshman Mike Feriane, Callery, Pa., on the negative, debating against varsity teams from seven states at St. John Fisher college in Rochester, N. Y., collected four more trophies: for first place affirmative team, for top speaker in the tournament, for first place four man team, and finally a traveling trophy for one year as top team in the tournament.

Dobson and Naugle took first place with a 5-1 record, with wins over St. Bonaventure, University of Vermont, Niagara, St. Anselm's, and Canisius, and a single loss to LeMoine. On the negative, Mann and Feriane had wins over Brockport, Suffolk, Canisius, Norwich, and LeMoine, and a single loss to Buffalo. Clarion's 10-2 record was good for a clear first place and the temporary and permanent trophies were awarded accordingly.

Several Clarion individual speakers were recognized at the two tournaments: Merrilyn Naugle was the top speaker in the tournament at Rochester, and received an engraved silver bowl for her effort. At William and Mary, Cathy Edner was the third highest rated speaker in the tournament, and Jean Elliott was also recognized as one of the top 10 speakers in the tournament. No awards were presented to individual speakers at William and Mary.

UNIVERSITY OF RICHMOND

On February 12, Jean Elliott, Sligo, and Barbara Artuso, of Arnold, narrowly missed the championship at the University of Richmond Invitational tournament, where they were in competition with a select field of 20 teams representing 12 states and the District of Columbia.

After six rounds, the top four teams went into semi-final eliminations, and all the teams reaching the elimination rounds were awarded trophies. No team went through the six rounds undefeated, and Wake Forest, Richmond, and Emory all had 5-1 records. As Richmond was hosting the invitational tournament, they were ineligible for the semi-finals. George Washington University, University of South Carolina, and Clarion were all tied at 4-2, but as only two of the three teams could go into the semi-finals, the tie had to be broken on speaker points, and on this basis, the Clarion debaters lost out.

Elliott and Artuso had wins over Army, Navy, William and Mary, and Duke, and losses to Richmond and Wake Forest (both of whom tied for first in the preliminaries).

In the novice division of the same tournament, Judy Brandalick of Bethel Park and Lee Calway, Bethel Park, had a 2-4 record, with wins over Army and Centre, and losses to Navy, Emory, University of Virginia, and Old Dominion.

A second team of Clarion debaters competed in a varsity tournament at Western Reserve University in Cleveland. Freshmen John Matviko, Arnold, and Linda White, Mars, had a 3-1 record on the affirmative, with wins over Western Reserve, John Carroll and Allegheny, and a loss to Ball State of Indiana. Merrilyn Naugle, Beaver Falls, and Twila Yates, Canonsburg, on the negative had a 1-3 record, defeating Wittenberg, and losing to Kenyon, John Carroll, and Duquesne.

DEBATERS Nancy Caldwell, Kathy Edner, June Rudolph, and Jean Elliott display their newly-won trophies.

Editorially Speaking . . .

No, Love is Not Blind

There is a time and place for everything and this is especially true for Public Display of Affection, commonly known as PDA.

Many couples on campus seem to think that "love is blind"—perhaps they are, but, the rest of the student body isn't.

Let's go through an average college day and check typical embarrassing encounters with PDA. First, you go to the cafeteria for breakfast and while you're waiting in line, a boy takes this opportunity to give his girlfriend a squeeze and a kiss. Then you sit down at a table in the dining room. The next display of PDA is over at the corner table, a girl puts her arm around her boyfriend. Breakfast over, you head for classes, but just as you step in the room, a boy kisses his girl good-bye at the door, after all, he might not see her until lunch.

After morning classes, you wait in the dining hall lounge fifteen minutes for lunch to begin. A casual glance around the room shows a couple hugging and kissing in the corner, a boy giving his girl a brief kiss in another corner and a girl tickling a guy right in front of you.

After lunch, you have a free period so you go to the library and look for a vacant study room, but though you've looked, you aren't sure whether there was one or not because the cases of PDA in them kept you going straight through at the fastest walk possible.

As you're waiting in line for supper, a couple ahead of you put their arms around each other, whisper in each other's ear and kiss.

When you go to get your coat, you must peek down the rows to make sure you don't run into kissing couples between the coat racks.

No, the campus is not the place for affection and no, campus lovers, we aren't blind and neither should you be, so open your eyes and see yourselves as others see you.

Alumni Notes

This column begins a regular feature of the Call with this issue. News submitted to the Alumni Office will be included and we are particularly interested in news of recent graduates. This feature of the Call will make it of continuing interest to students after their graduation. The Alumni Association is planning to make the Call available to you through your alumni dues.

Rick Richards, '65, was on campus to get assistance in applying for admission to the graduate school of the University of Colorado for this summer. Rick teaches Earth and Space Science in the Junior High School in Bradford.

Following Rick's visit a little checking shows at least three of his classmates and fellow geographers are now in graduate school. Dale Nichol is enrolled at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. Lennie Berlin is doing his masters work at Arizona State University at Tempe.

Ernest Aharrah Named to Post

Ernest Aharrah, assistant professor and biology instructor at the Clarion Area High School, has been named Executive Secretary of the Clarion State College Alumni Association.

The Alumni Office is open daily, 9 to 5. Aharrah, who teaches biology at Venango Campus, is available in the office Monday, Wednesday and Friday. It is located in Room 246, Science Hall.

A truth that's told with bad intent Beats all the lies you can invent.

Ariz. Lennie has an assistantship at Tempe and hopes to get another one at the University of South Carolina to complete his Doctor of Philosophy degree. John Hultquist is doing graduate work at the University of Cincinnati.

Among the very recent graduates, January '66, Alex Arth has accepted a position in Biology at Clarion Area High School. Alex will be remembered as the center who broke his leg in the first football game of the season. He completed his student teaching on crutches and started his new position with their aid. Alex and his wife are living on Eliss Street in Clarion.

Many other alumni are also teaching in the Clarion Area High School. All of the basketball coaches are graduates of Clarion State College. Head coach Robert Murphy graduated with the class of '57. J.V. coach Raymond Ganoie in '64 and Junior High coach Jack King in '61. These alumni consistently produce championship teams.

David Bevevino, '53; Donald McCord, '55; and Donald Hager, '61, are the mainstays of the History program at Clarion Area. In English, King and Mary Jane Miller, '62, are Clarion grads. Dorothy Rhoads, '63, and Mary Lou Russell, '51, teach math. Paul Kepple, '56, along with Arth and Ganoie make the science department completely CSC alumni.

Among the teachers of special subjects, Anne Wilson, '59, teaches special education; Paul Kapp, '43, industrial arts; Joyce Lignelli, '48, is librarian; William Brochetti, '50, is guidance director; and L. Robert Wiberg, '48, is high school principal.

It is very hard undertaking to seek to please everybody.

Hong Kong Student Likes Life on Clarion Campus

BOBBY SHEN from Hong Kong is a CSC student

A comparative newcomer to Clarion State and to the United States is Bobby Chung Teh Shen, a native of Kowloon, Hong Kong.

Bob decided to come to college in the United States because of the difficulty of getting into the one college in Hong Kong. He consulted a directory of American colleges and decided on Clarion State, partly because he has relatives living in the Pittsburgh area. He came to the U.S. in September. His first glimpse of the States was Hawaii, which he found quite beautiful. He then went on to San Francisco, Chicago, and Pittsburgh before coming to Clarion. The beautiful country in Clarion and the surrounding area greatly impressed him.

Before coming to the U.S. Bob had studied English for six years, so he has little difficulty with the language, as anyone can tell. He found the Clarion students both friendly and helpful in his adjustment to college life.

The biggest differences Bob noticed between the customs in Hong Kong and the U.S. were that here he has to pay taxes, the girls dress differently and the food is different. According to him, the food back home is much better.

Bob is a freshman with a Liberal Arts major in physics. This summer he plans to work and, if possible, attend school. After graduation he will remain in the United States and get a job since the American degree isn't recognized in Hong Kong.

Jeschke Appointed

Newly appointed to the English Department of CSC is Mr. Arnold L. Jeschke. Mr. Jeschke, formerly of Warren, Pa., had been serving as an instructor in English at Venango Campus.

Previously he was employed as sales and advertising manager by the Solar Electric Corporation and an assistant buyer for Metzger-Wright Co., both of Warren.

During the World War II Jeschke served as a wireless operator in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

I have often regretted my speech, never my silence.

Duquesne Faculty Member To Lecture in The Chapel

Nigeria will be the subject of a lecture by D. J. M. Muffett, O.B.E. on March 11, in the Chapel. Muffett's presently on the faculty of Duquesne University and is taking graduate work in anthropology at the University of Pittsburgh.

He was the recipient of a Ford Foundation award for summer, 1966 to return to Nigeria for research on a companion volume to his book on the British Occupation of Nigeria.

Muffett is the author of two books, the second one is a novel with a West Africa background, accepted for publication, but not yet released.

Muffett is well qualified to speak on Nigeria. He was appointed in 1962-63 to serve as Sole Commissioner to investigate and make recommendations regarding the financial affairs of the Kano Native Authority, the largest local government body in Africa with a population of some five million and a budget of 2.28 million pounds (about $6.284 million).

He has also held many other responsible government posts in the Nigerian government beginning as assistant district officer in Northern Nigeria in 1947, following his release from the British Army.

The meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m., is open to the public.

Venango Campus Cagers Hit Century Mark For First Time

VC vs. Warren Center
Venango Campus courtmen reached the century mark for the first time in the history of the Campus by tromping to a 110-66 win over Warren Center.

Fran Harlan was a constant menace to the Warren five in the first half by stealing the ball and tallying seventeen points for his efforts. Five other Vulcans also scored in the double figures. They are: Bob Amos, 18; George Kern, 14; Dave Hensel, 14; Joe Molhoek, 12; and John Grohol, 11.

Amos led the attack by dropping in outside set shots.

But it was the Vulcans' second string that was on the court when the century mark was broken.

The Vulcans, with a record of four wins and seven losses, have three games left. They will host Shenango Center of Penn State this Saturday, February 19.

VC vs. Grove City
Grove City, February 8—The final few minutes of the game told the tale for the Grove City J.V.'s as the Venango Campus Vulcans rallied to a 69-64 victory which was their third of the season.

Having been outscored from the field, 26 to 21, the cagers capitalized on fouls in the last three minutes to achieve their margin.

Three men scored in double figures for the Venango courtmen: George Kern, 17; Bob Amos, 15; and Joe Molhoek, 11. Hedglin and Riddle with 15 points each led the attack for Grove City.

Senate Holds First Meeting

The Student Senate Organization of Venango Campus recently held its first formal meeting of the second semester.

The newly elected members were introduced: Terry Shaughnessy, Rahman Mohammadi, and Gene Herritt. The other members of the Senate include: Dennis O'Neil, president; Judy Levy, secretary-treasurer; Jon Kallmyer, Nancy Hoover, Tom Swartz, and Kathy Spangler. Mr. Donald Dinniny, Instructor of Speech, is the faculty advisor.

The Senate members also selected the nominees for the vice-president's ballot, and the following day the student body elected Rahman Mohammadi, foreign student from Iran, to fill this position.

After committee bills were presented and approved, Denny O'Neil, president, urged that all committees hold separate meetings to propose their budgets for this semester. These new budgets are to be presented and acted upon at the next Senate meetings, which are held on the second and fourth Thursday of each month.

Currently the Student Senate is completing plans for the Venango Campus Student Union which they hope to organize shortly.

Carmen Gonzalos Venango Student

Carmen Gonzalos, foreign student from Mexico City, is a part time student at Venango Campus.

Carmen, who will be 18 in March, came here from the University of Mexico where she attended one semester. She attends classes at both Venango Campus and Venango Christian High School where she is taking biology, French, and English.

Although both her parents are medical doctors and her sisters and brother are interested in architecture and music, Carmen hopes to become a researcher in marine biology.

Carmen, who particularly likes Western Pennsylvania, is living with relatives, Dr. and Mrs. Esparguerras in Oil City.

Carmen's main goal is "not only to learn the knowledge of books but also the knowledge of life."

Venango Valentine Royalty — Judy Rodgers and Joe Kolinowski

King and Queen Crowned at Dance

What is hoped to be an annual event at Venango Campus was initiated at the Valentine's semi-formal dance, "Hearts and Flowers," on February 11, at the Belles Lettres Club from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

During the evening, two students were crowned the Queen and King of Hearts: Judy Rodgers of Rocky Grove, and Joe Kolinowski of Johnstown. The queen was presented a bouquet of roses by Jon Kallmyer, chairman of the Social Committee, then her majesty was crowned by Miss Carol Lowry. After the king's coronation, he was presented a set of cuff-links by our master of ceremonies.

Decorations were designed by Miss Randa Adams; and chaperones for the evening included Mrs. Mary Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Alastair Crawford, and Mr. John F. Reinhardt.

ALPHA CHI RHO

Since the last Call issue, the Fraternity has gained two more pledges for our ever-growing pledge class. Our two latest pledges are Carl Glass, and Dave Arandas, both freshmen.

Recently, as a result of a brainstorm, the brothers and pledges went together to purchase an old car for the Fraternity's use. When the pledges finish painting and lettering it in the Fraternity colors, and if we can get it inspected, you'll be seeing a lot of our "Bomb." Incidentally, it does not have a crow call for a horn.

Plans are under way now for our next party which will be February 26. This one will revolve around a French theme with lots of discotheque sounds, French foods, a line of Can-Can dancers, and a Chanteuse singer. As usual, the brothers, pledges, guests, and their dates, will appear appropriately attired for the occasion.

Our congratulations to Miss Elaine Daniels, who was chosen Miss Clarion State College.

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

The Brothers of Alpha Gamma Phi congratulate our newly elected officers: president, Felix Persi; vice president, John Kriceri, treasurer, Earl Highlands; secretary, David Krieger; parliamentarian, John D'Angelo; historian, Bob Cryston; guard, R. J. Cutruzzella; social chairman, Jack Cleary; song leader, Jack Wall; athletic director, Dan Stellute; press chairman, Bob Sellari; and chaplain, Tony Catanes.

Best of luck to the brothers who are student teaching this semester. They are: Bill Sacco, Tony Treonze, Bill Sykes, Don Mikus, Chuck Polacheck, Bob Garritano, Ken Gaudi, Jack Derlink, Bob Dominici, Guy Rippole, and Barry Drawdakis.

We also welcome back Vince Nola, Mike Stanovich and those who did their student teaching last semester: Joe Tuminiella, Felix Persi, Paul Lowry and Benny Basille. Congratulations to Coach John Joy and the entire basketball team for a fine season thus far. Congratulations also to Coach Lignelli and the matmen for their many victories.

We also congratulate the Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity on the opening of their house.

Congratulations to Elaine Daniels on becoming Miss CSC of 1966.

On February 14, the men of the Red and Black held their first smoker and we would like to thank all those who attended.

During semester break, many of the Brothers traveled far and near for their well deserved vacation. Brothers Bob Crystol and Bob Sellari gave a full report of their trip to Florida, and Alex Demster on his trip to Boston.

We are glad to see Brother Wall has recovered from his ulcer trouble.

Brother Cleary was glad to load his taxi up and travel to Slippery Rock to see the basketball game.

The Jade II, the Gamma singing group composed of Jim Pape, Bob Thomas, Bob Crystol, Bob Sellari, and Larry Dellapiza, recently sang at a Pittsburgh talent show and won first place.

We also congratulate Brothers Mikus and Fisher on their new family additions.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

On January 29, the oldest sorority on campus, Sigma Delta Phi, became the newest national sorority at Clarion, Alpha Sigma Tau. Sigma Delta Phi was founded in 1930 by 21 girls from Becht Hall. During the years, the sorority participated in all campus activities and functions.

Thirty four sisters were initiated into the Alpha Omicron Chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau by Mrs. Bernard McBee, National Editor, of Akron, Ohio; Cherry Reeve, a member of Alpha Lambda from Radford College in Virginia; and six sisters from the Delta Chapter at Indiana State College. The initiation service was held in the sorority room on second floor, Ralston Hall.

The Clarion Restaurant served a banquet during the evening. The guests attending the banquet included: Dean and Mrs. Allan Elliott, Dean Fritz Gareis, Dean and Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Andor P-Jobb, Dr. Betty Slater, and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McBee. After a short talk by Dean Gareis, Mrs. McBee spoke briefly and led the sisters and guests in the sorority candle lighting ceremony.

Alpha Sigma Tau is expanding in Pennsylvania with the initiation of a chapter at Mansfield State College this fall and the pin pledging of a new chapter at Slippery Rock State College this past weekend. This brings the number of active chapters of Alpha Sigma Tau to 31 with locations scattered widely throughout the United States.

Since our recent initiation, we have been quite busy preparing for Rush Season which is now under way.

Congratulations to Helen Hastings for her fine performance of "C'est Magnifique" at the Miss CSC contest. She represented our sorority.

It was recently the pleasure of two of the sisters of Alpha Omicron to help Mrs. McBee, National Editor, with the pin pledging of Alpha Pi Chapter at Slippery Rock State College.

Our officers for the following semester are: Marlene Lewis, president; Janet Mortimer, vice president; D'nis Lowe, recording secretary; Rita Rittelman, corresponding secretary; Mary Ann Sarnataro, treasurer; Alice Capp, chaplain; Ruth Pushkar, custodian; Patricia McQuiston, historian; and Al-eta Fink, editor.

DELTA ZETA

Pink roses go to our Miss CSC, Elaine Daniels, and finalist, Judy Tuminiella. We'd also like to congratulate the other finalists: Helen Jo Marschink, Janie Robinson, and Laura Hettinger and everyone who participated in the Miss CSC Pageant to make it a success.

Ten of our sisters accompanied our sponsors, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Grejda, to Alliance College last weekend to initiate the new Iota Gamma chapter into Delta Zeta. There were 32 active members initiated plus all their sponsors and alumni, bringing the number of initiates close to 50. A banquet was held at the David Mead Inn in Meadville following the initiation Saturday. A tea for the entire student body and visiting Delta Zeta Chapters was held Sunday afternoon.

We'd like to congratulate the basketball team and coaches on their win over California State last Friday. We all hope you can continue the good work and come out on top again Saturday against Lock Haven. Good luck boys!

The sisters have been working very hard on our informal and formal rush parties. We're looking forward to the informal Friday night and hope that all the rushees have an enjoyable evening.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON

Traditionally, each year, the Brothers of Phi Sigma Epsilon have sponsored a well known successful "jammie." This year will be no exception. This Saturday, Feb. 19, the student body, faculty, and administrators are formally invited to the Brothers' session. We are sure that this event will be again, an inevitable success, and urge everyone to attend.

Congratulations are extended to Miss Elaine Daniels on being crowned Miss CSC. The brothers also wish to express their personal thanks to Miss Patty Storie for representing the Phi Sig Epsilons so finely.

The fraternity wishes a unified "Good Luck" to the following Brothers: Dan Beiler, Tom Hamilton, and Dan Preuhs who respectively are running for the offices of senator, vice president, and president of the Student Senate.

Pledging period is again upon the Greeks, and the Brothers of Phi Eta are no exception. The Brothers extend good wishes to all men seeking a fraternity, and hope that all aspirations are realized. Phi Sigma Epsilon will take no small part in this realization in 1966.

Belated congratulations are extended by each brother to the following members recently married: Brothers Terry Plischke, Herb Crawford, John Platt, and Dan Orzech. More recently, Bells sounded for the marriage of Brother Jim Morrow to Miss Jeanne Westerberg, tri sig, and for Brother Ed Leszek wedded to Trevalynne Williams. Congratulations to Brother Jay Santoro on his engagement to Miss Rosemary Lousch. And, Good Luck to Brother Mike Miller upon his pinning to Miss Betsy Williams.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

A busy two weeks have been spent by the brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa. Don Bailey, Housemanager, has done a commendable job in getting the house organized and running smoothly.

On February 5, several brothers participated in a Recreational Therapy Workshop at the Grandview Convalescence Home. This is a part of the Phi Sig tradition of continuous participation in community affairs.

Valentine's Day was the predominant theme around which a large party was given at the house on February 11. The brothers and their many guests enjoyed dancing to the music of "The Reefers."

The brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa extend their congratulations to Miss Elaine Daniels, 1966 Miss Clarion State College. We would also like to congratulate the members of Theta Chi Fraternity on the success of their lovely and talented entry, Miss Daniels.

The "giant fiasco" held at our house Sunday afternoon saw the return of "The Reefers." The "fiasco" was a jamie open to the students for their dancing and listening pleasure. We were glad to have so many people attend despite the dreary weather. Highlighting the afternoon was the appearance of "Bat Man" and "Boy Wonder" who made off with the go-go girls for a ride around campus. Our thanks to Mrs. Robinson for participating in our Sunday afternoon musicale.

Two successful smokers have been held by the brothers. We are expecting an unusually active pledge class this semester. Pledge-master Bernard Roskov reports that there will be many innovations during the pledge period. Now that we are living in the house, pledging will be more easily organized and will function more effectively.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

The sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma would like to congratulate Miss Clarion State College, Elaine Daniels. She did a great job and we're sure that the students of Clarion are very happy with their new representative.

Congratulations to Helen "Jo" Marschink, first runner-up. Purple violets go to Priscilla Green and Joan Toy for giving such a fine performance.

Our Informal Rush Party which took place this past Wednesday was greatly enjoyed by the Tri Sigmas. This party has brought us to know the rushees much better.

This semester, the sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma were given a sorority room. We have been working hard to clean it up and we all feel that it is wonderful to be "in our room."

Congratulations to Jim and Jeanne Morrow. We wish them much happiness.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

The brothers of Sigma Tau Gamma held their Rush Party February 16, at the house. Hostesses were from the Delta Zeta Sorority, Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority, and Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority. Entertainment was provided by: Zeta Sextet, Delta Zeta dancers, Tau Troupe from Alpha Sigma Tau, and a singing group from Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority. We wish to thank all these girls for making our Rush Party a success.

The Brothers wish to thank Ruth Anne Swartzwelder for representing them so well in the Miss CSC Pageant.

On February 4, the Brothers held their annual "Go To Hell Party." Entertainment was provided by the Fables. The 12 foot high Devil which hung from the balcony was drawn by Joanne Mayhew. We are now looking forward to our Play-boy Party to be held March 5.

Congratulations to Elaine Daniels for winning the Miss CSC Pageant.

THETA XI

The men of Theta Xi are proud to announce 10 men who have been accepted as pledges: Dennis Marshall, Roy Lenzi, Lenny Mitchell, Dave Slater, Mick Deletto, Tom Phillips, Andy Banas, Bud Andrews, Tom Williams, and Craig McMeans. We are anticipating several more pledges after the rush party on Tuesday evening.

One of the outstanding social events at Clarion this year was the weekend with "The Rogues." Our thanks to brother Dave Woods and "The Rogues" for appearing at the house.

We would like to thank Miss Helen "Jo" Marschink for representing us so well in the Miss CSC Contest. Congratulations on being first runner-up. This was brother Bob Janone's second year as master of ceremonies for the Pageant.

Congratulations to the CSC rifle team for their victory over Duquesne. Five Xis were responsible for taking all five of the possible places: Jack Perry, Dave Rose, Allen Zepp, Tom Warner, and a pledge Dave Slater.

THETA CHI

The brothers of Theta Chi wish to congratulate Elaine Daniels for successfully representing us in the Miss CSC contest. Elaine, who was elected our "dream girl" earlier this year, captivated the audience with her magnificently done monologue on "What Is A Boy." She is the second "Theta Chi Dream Girl" to win the title of Miss CSC in the last three years and we know she will carry the title well.

Plans are now being made by our chapter for a large participation in the National's Coral which will be held later this semester. Each semester one chapter in the region sponsors a weekend known as Coral, for all of the Theta Chi chapters in this area. This year, Coral is being held by the Theta Chi Chapter at Kent State.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

The sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha congratulate Elaine Daniels on winning the title of Miss Clarion State College.

White violets go to sister Laura Hettinger on being chosen fourth runner-up in the Miss CSC contest, also to sister Karen Rebich for her fine performance.

On February 21, the Zetas will be the guests of our patroness, Mrs. George Wolfe, for a spaghetti dinner and ice skating party to be held at her camp in Cook Forest. We are looking forward to this, and thank Mrs. Wolfe for her invitation.

On February 15, 1966, we held our informal rush party at the Methodist Church. The theme of this year's party was "A Zeta Tea Garden." To go along with the oriental theme, the rushees were given kimonos to wear, and oriental food was served. We would like to thank Judi Darnofall, Sharon Bayuk, and Vivian Kramer for all their work to make the party such a success.

The sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha wish to welcome back those sisters who were student teaching last semester. They were: Laura Hettinger, Karen Martz, and Karen Connolly. It is good to have you back on campus.

At our last meeting, sister Kathy Loop was presented the scholarship award for raising her quality point average the most last semester. Congratulations Kathy. Keep up the good work.

Professor John McLain Notes Drop-Out Problems

Dr. John McLain, of Clarion State College, director of Educational Research and Regional Curriculum Development, in an address to county school boards delivered at Clarion Area High School, January 26, stated that, "There is substantial evidence that conditions of poverty or economic deprivation limit children's opportunity to learn. Hence, these children, educationally disadvantaged, become low-income earners."

Dr. McLain notes that in Clarion County a high percentage of the young people leave as soon as they graduate from high school; the number, he says, is well above the national average.

Clarion County also has a substantial drop-out problem.

There is too little offered young people for constructive use of leisure time. Furthermore, many high school graduates remain at home and do not seek employment. Also, many children in the county at the pre-school level are deprived of enriching experiences that a head-start program could provide.

All of these are problems which could be dealt with through a Community Action Committee. Money is available for well thought out plans designed to solve problems that are created by economic disparity.

"Schools today are educating a higher percentage of our children and doing a better job of it than ever before." Yet present conditions are demanding fundamental changes. Schools are not meeting the needs of technical society.

McLain noted that children of impoverished parents follow similar patterns, therefore they contribute to the "cycle of poverty." "Our schools as they presently function, help perpetuate this cycle." Because they are obsolete, they pressure human beings into the molds of yesterday's school.

McLain outlined four areas in need of examination: (1) the child as a functioning being, (2) the educational programs of the school, (3) resources to carry out the programs, and (4) the instructional staff.

While American schools have given "lip-service" to provision of adequate education for all children, they have in fact discriminated against children on the low end of the economic scale. He noted failure among educators to face up to the lack of readiness for educational experiences among poorer children. Because they lack travel, television, books, informed conversation, they have less to bring to school where they must compete with children having these advantages.

Also, the recent "get tough" tactic of assigning heavy homework loads works against these same children. Not only can they depend less on their parents for help, but they lack other home resources for education. The result, compounded disadvantage.

Even the lack of such social experience as birthday parties, retard their social development, and therefore, their educational advancement, McLain says. As the result of rejections by teachers and other pupils, emotional conflicts are set up which further mask learning ability. McLain says, "Emotional blocks frequently cause reading problems . . . Reading is a major factor relating to failure in school, because of our traditional teaching methods; a child must be able to read well to learn science, social studies, mathematics and language arts."

More of the same is not the answer if the schools are to educate today's children for adequate roles in their society, McLain says. "Congress recognizes that to achieve the necessary goals, the scope of the school must be broadened. It has, therefore, provided the Community Action Committee under the Office of Economic Opportunity to assist in coordinating community programs that incorporate the thinking and total resources of the community."

THE DIFFICULT SEED

And so it criticized each flower, This supercilious seed;

Until it woke one summer hour, And found itself a weed.

There is no season such delight can bring, As summer, autumn, winter, and the spring.

BASIC GEOGRAPHY and social foundations of education originate from the modern, spacious television studio.

New Instructional Center Now In Full Operation

The CSC audio visual closed circuit television instructional center completed early this year is in full operation.

Begun as one of several pilot projects in the Pennsylvania State College system, in educational television, under the direction of Ray H. Kuipers, formerly director of Audio-Visual Education, and the sponsorship of President James Gemmell, and the Department of Public Instruction, the center was conceived to investigate development in closed circuit educational television.

The starting point for Clarion State College was the renovation of the laboratory school in Davis Hall. The planners had two aims in mind: (1) direct teaching, and (2) observation of classroom situations by means of television circuits.

The first course taught by direct television was physical geography, taught by Norman Humphrey, associate professor of geography. The course was viewed by 350 students distributed among several classrooms equipped with viewers. Later social foundations of education was added, taught by Richard C. Skinner, associate professor of education.

Vital to behind the scenes operations is Mr. William Mushrush, staff assistant, who has been with the program since its inception in 1962 under its first director, Dr. Kuipers. It is his job to operate and service the electronic instruments necessary for the center's proper functioning.

Humphrey, who has taught his course for several semesters, says that the nature of the television medium actually forces him to deepen the depth of his course, and to improve his use of visual aids. "I like it, because every student has a front row seat," he says. "Also, the equipment we have such as slides and other visual aids makes it practical for a teacher to use these aids much more extensively."

It is planned to add other courses on closed circuit television, and to increase work presently being done in experimental methods of teaching reading.

Dr. Harold E. Simmons, director of professional studies, describes the center as "an application of technology to be used for the improvement of teaching techniques."

The following is a list of students who have secured a quality point average of 3.40 or better for the 1st semester of 1965-66. The list includes both Venango and Clarion Campus students. It is made up of approximately the upper eight per cent (8%) of the student body.

A PEEK AT GREEKS

ALPHA CHI RHO

Since the last Call issue, the Fraternity has gained two more pledges for our ever-growing pledge class. Our two latest pledges are Carl Glass, and Dave Arandas, both freshmen.

Recently, as a result of a brainstorm, the brothers and pledges went together to purchase an old car for the Fraternity's use. When the pledges finish painting and lettering it in the Fraternity colors, and if we can get it inspected, you'll be seeing a lot of our "Bomb." Incidentally, it does not have a crow call for a horn.

Plans are under way now for our next party which will be February 26. This one will revolve around a French theme with lots of dis-cotheque sounds, French foods, a line of Can-Can dancers, and a Chanteuse singer. As usual, the brothers, pledges, guests, and their dates, will appear appropriately attired for the occasion.

Our congratulations to Miss Elaine Daniels, who was chosen Miss Clarion State College.

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

The Brothers of Alpha Gamma Phi congratulate our newly elected officers: president, Felix Persi; vice president, John Kriceri, treasurer, Earl Highlands; secretary, David Krieger; parliamentarian, John D'Angelo; historian, Bob Cryston; guard, R. J. Cutruzzulla; social chairman, Jack Cleary; song leader, Jack Wall; athletic director, Dan Stellute; press chairman, Bob Sellari; and chaplain, Tony Catanese.

Best of luck to the brothers who are student teaching this semester. They are: Bill Sacco, Tony Treonze, Bill Sykes, Don Mikus, Chuck Polacheck, Bob Garriano, Ken Gaudi, Jack Derlink, Bob Domini, Guy Rippole, and Barry Drawdakis.

We also welcome back Vince Nola, Mike Stanovich and those who did their student teaching last semester: Joe Tuminella, Felix Persi, Paul Lowry and Benny Basille. Congratulations to Coach John Joy and the entire basketball team for a fine season thus far. Congratulations also to Coach Lignelli and the matmen for their many victories.

We also congratulate the Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity on the opening of their house.

Congratulations to Elaine Daniels on becoming Miss CSC of 1966.

On February 14, the men of the Red and Black held their first smoker and we would like to thank all those who attended.

During semester break, many of the Brothers traveled far and near for their well deserved vacation. Brothers Bob Crystol and Bob Sellari gave a full report of their trip to Florida, and Alex Demster on his trip to Boston.

We are glad to see Brother Wall has recovered from his ulcer trouble.

Brother Cleary was glad to load his taxi up and travel to Slippery Rock to see the basketball game.

The Jade H, the Gamma singing group composed of Jim Pape, Bob Thomas, Bob Crystol, Bob Sellari, and Larry Dellapizza, recently sang at a Pittsburgh talent show and won first place.

We also congratulate Brothers Mikus and Fisher on their new family additions.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

On January 29, the oldest sorority on campus, Sigma Delta Phi, became the newest national sorority at Clarion. Alpha Sigma Tau, Sigma Delta Phi was founded in 1930 by 21 girls from Beech Hall. During the years, the sorority participated in all campus activities and functions.

Thirty four sisters were initiated into the Alpha Omicron Chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau by Mrs. Bernard McBee, National Editor, of Akron, Ohio; Cherry Reeve, a member of Alpha Lambda from Radford College in Virginia; and six sisters from the Delta Chapter at Indiana State College. The initiation service was held in the sorority room on second floor, Ralston Hall.

The Clarion Restaurant served a banquet during the evening. The guests attending the banquet included: Dean and Mrs. Allan Elliott, Dean Fritz Gareis, Dean and Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Andor P-Jobb, Dr. Betty Slater, and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McBee. After a short talk by Dean Gareis, Mrs. McBee spoke briefly and led the sisters and guests in the sorority candle lighting ceremony.

Alpha Sigma Tau is expanding in Pennsylvania with the initiation of a chapter at Mansfield State College this fall and the pin pledging of a new chapter at Slippery Rock State College this past weekend. This brings the number of active chapters of Alpha Sigma Tau to 31 with locations scattered widely throughout the United States.

Since our recent initiation, we have been quite busy preparing for Rush Season which is now under way.

Congratulations to Helen Hastings for her fine performance of "C'est Magnifique" at the Miss CSC contest. She represented our sorority.

It was recently the pleasure of two of the sisters of Alpha Omicron to help Mrs. McBee, National Editor, with the pin pledging of Alpha Pi Chapter at Slippery Rock State College.

Our officers for the following semester are: Marlene Lewis, president; Janet Mortimer, vice president; D'nis Lowe, recording secretary; Rita Rittelman, corresponding secretary; Mary Ann Sarnataro, treasurer; Alice Capp, chaplain; Ruth Pushkar, custodian; Patricia McQuiston, historian; and Al-eta Fink, editor.

DELTA ZETA

Pink roses go to our Miss CSC, Elaine Daniels, and finalist, Judy Tuminella. We'd also like to congratulate the other finalists: Helen Jo Marschinke, Janie Robinson, and Laura Hettinger and everyone who participated in the Miss CSC Pageant to make it a success.

Ten of our sisters accompanied our sponsors, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Grejda, to Alliance College last weekend to initiate the new Iota Gamma chapter into Delta Zeta. There were 32 active members initiated plus all their sponsors and alumni, bringing the number of initiates close to 50. A banquet was held at the David Mead Inn in Meadville following the initiation Saturday. A tea for the entire student body and visiting Delta Zeta Chapters was held Sunday afternoon.

We'd like to congratulate the basketball team and coaches on their win over California State last Friday. We all hope you can continue the good work and come out on top again Saturday against Lock Haven. Good luck boys!

The sisters have been working very hard on our informal and formal rush parties. We're looking forward to the informal Friday night and hope that all the rushees have an enjoyable evening.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON

Traditionally, each year, the Brothers of Phi Sigma Epsilon have sponsored a well known successful "jammie." This year will be no exception. This Saturday, Feb. 19, the student body, faculty, and administrators are formally invited to the Brothers' session. We are sure that this event will be again, an inevitable success, and urge everyone to attend.

Congratulations are extended to Miss Elaine Daniels on being crowned Miss CSC. The brothers also wish to express their personal thanks to Miss Patty Storie for representing the Phi Sig Epsilons so finely.

The fraternity wishes a unified "Good Luck" to the following Brothers: Dan Beiler, Tom Hamilton, and Dan Preuchs who respectively are running for the offices of senator, vice president, and president of the Student Senate.

Pledging period is again upon the Greeks, and the Brothers of Phi Eta are no exception. The Brothers extend good wishes to all men seeking a fraternity, and hope that all aspirations are realized. Phi Sigma Epsilon will take no small part in this realization in 1966.

Related congratulations are extended by each brother to the following members recently married: Brothers Terry Plischeck, Herb Crawford, John Platt, and Dan Orcheck. More recently, Bells sounded for the marriage of Brother Jim Morrow to Miss Jeanne Westerberg, tri sig, and for Brother Ed Leszek wedded to Trevalynne Williams. Congratulations to Brother Jay Santoro in his engagement to Miss Rosemary Lousch. And, Good Luck to Brother Mike Miller upon his pinning to Miss Betsy Williams.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

A busy two weeks have been spent by the brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa. Don Bailey, Housemanager, has done a commendable job in getting the house organized and running smoothly.

On February 5, several brothers participated in a Recreational Therapy Workshop at the Grandview Convalescence Home. This is a part of the Phi Sig tradition of continuous participation in community affairs.

Valentine's Day was the predominant theme around which a large party was given at the house on February 11. The brothers and their many guests enjoyed dancing to the music of "The Reefers."

The brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa extend their congratulations to Miss Elaine Daniels, 1966 Miss Clarion State College. We would also like to congratulate the members of Theta Chi Fraternity on the success of their lovely and talented entry, Miss Daniels.

The "giant fiasco" held at our house Sunday afternoon saw the return of "The Reefers." The "fiasco" was a jamie open to the students for their dancing and listening pleasure. We were glad to have so many people attend despite the dreary weather. Highlighting the afternoon was the appearance of "Bat Man" and "Boy Wonder" who made off with the go-go girls for a ride around campus. Our thanks to Mrs. Robinson for participating in our Sunday afternoon musicale.

Two successful smokers have been held by the brothers. We are expecting an unusually active pledge class this semester. Pledge-master Bernard Roskov reports that there will be many innovations during the pledge period. Now that we are living in the house, pledging will be more easily organized and will function more effectively.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

The sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma would like to congratulate Miss Clarion State College, Elaine Daniels. She did a great job and we're sure that the students of Clarion are very happy with their new representative.

Congratulations to Helen "Jo" Marschinke, first runner-up. Purple violets go to Priscilla Green and Joan Toy for giving such a fine performance.

Our Informal Rush Party which took place this past Wednesday was greatly enjoyed by the Tri Sigmas. This party has brought us to know the rushees much better.

This semester, the sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma were given a sorority room. We have been working hard to clean it up and we all feel that it is wonderful to be "in our room."

Congratulations to Jim and Jeanne Morrow. We wish them much happiness.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

The brothers of Sigma Tau Gamma held their Rush Party February 16, at the house. Hostesses were from the Delta Zeta Sorority, Alpha Sigma Tau Sorority, and Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority. Entertainment was provided by: Zeta Sextet, Delta Zeta dancers, Tau Troupe from Alpha Sigma Tau, and a singing group from Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority. We wish to thank all these girls for making our Rush Party a success.

The Brothers wish to thank Ruth Anne Swartzwelder for representing them so well in the Miss CSC Pageant.

On February 4, the Brothers held their annual "Go To Hell Party." Entertainment was provided by the Fables. The 12 foot high Devil which hung from the balcony was drawn by Joanne Mayhew. We are now looking forward to our Play-boy Party to be held March 5.

Congratulations to Elaine Daniels for winning the Miss CSC Pageant.

THETA XI

The men of Theta Xi are proud to announce 10 men who have been accepted as pledges: Dennis Marshall, Roy Lenzi, Lenny Mitchell, Dave Slater, Mick Deletto, Tom Phillips, Andy Banas, Bud Andrews, Tom Williams, and Craig McMeans. We are anticipating several more pledges after the rush party on Tuesday evening.

One of the outstanding social events at Clarion this year was the weekend with "The Rogues." Our thanks to brother Dave Woods and "The Rogues" for appearing at the house.

We would like to thank Miss Helen "Jo" Marschinke for representing us so well in the Miss CSC Contest. Congratulations on being first runner-up. This was brother Bob Janone's second year as master of ceremonies for the Pageant.

Congratulations to the CSC rifle team for their victory over Duquesne. Five Xis were responsible for taking all five of the possible places: Jack Perry, Dave Rose, Allen Zepp, Tom Warner, and pledge Dave Slater.

THETA CHI

The brothers of Theta Chi wish to congratulate Elaine Daniels for successfully representing us in the Miss CSC contest. Elaine, who was elected our "dream girl" earlier this year, captivated the audience with her magnificently done monologue on "What Is A Boy." She is the second "Theta Chi Dream Girl" to win the title of Miss CSC in the last three years and we know she will carry the title well.

Plans are now being made by our chapter for a large participation in the National's Coral which will be held later this semester. Each semester one chapter in the region sponsors a weekend known as Coral, for all of the Theta Chi chapters in this area. This year, Coral is being held by the Theta Chi Chapter at Kent State.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

The sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha congratulate Elaine Daniels on winning the title of Miss Clarion State College.

White violets go to sister Laura Hettinger on being chosen fourth runner-up in the Miss CSC contest, also to sister Karen Rebich for her fine performance.

On February 21, the Zetas will be the guests of our patroness, Mrs. George Wolfe, for a spaghetti dinner and ice skating party to be held at her camp in Cook Forest. We are looking forward to this, and thank Mrs. Wolfe for her invitation.

On February 15, 1966, we held our informal rush party at the Methodist Church. The theme of this year's party was "A Zeta Tea Garden." To go along with the oriental theme, the rushees were given kimonos to wear, and oriental food was served. We would like to thank Judi Darnoff, Sharon Bayuk, and Vivian Kramer for all their work to make the party such a success.

The sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha wish to welcome back those sisters who were student teaching last semester. They were: Laura Hettinger, Karen Martz, and Karen Connolly. It is good to have you back on campus.

At our last meeting, sister Kathy Loop was presented the scholarship award for raising her quality point average the most last semester. Congratulations Kathy. Keep up the good work.

Professor John McLain Notes Drop-Out Problems

Dr. John McLain, of Clarion State College, director of Educational Research and Regional Curriculum Development, in an address to county school boards delivered at Clarion Area High School, January 26, stated that, "There is substantial evidence that conditions of poverty or economic deprivation limit children's opportunity to learn. Hence, these children, educationally disadvantaged, become low-income earners."

Dr. McLain notes that in Clarion County a high percentage of the young people leave as soon as they graduate from high school; the number, he says, is well above the national average.

Clarion County also has a substantial drop-out problem.

There is too little offered young people for constructive use of leisure time. Furthermore, many high school graduates remain at home and do not seek employment. Also, many children in the county at the pre-school level are deprived of enriching experiences that a head-start program could provide.

All of these are problems which could be dealt with through a Community Action Committee. Money is available for well thought out plans designed to solve problems that are created by economic disparity.

"Schools today are educating a higher percentage of our children and doing a better job of it than ever before." Yet present conditions are demanding fundamental changes. Schools are not meeting the needs of technical society.

McLain noted that children of impoverished parents follow similar patterns, therefore they contribute to the "cycle of poverty." "Our schools as they presently function, help perpetuate this cycle." Because they are obsolete, they pressure human beings into the molds of yesterday's school.

McLain outlined four areas in need of examination: (1) the child as a functioning being, (2) the educational programs of the school, (3) resources to carry out the programs, and (4) the instructional staff.

While American schools have given "lip-service" to provision of adequate education for all children, they have in fact discriminated against children on the low end of the economic scale. He noted failure among educators to face up to the lack of readiness for educational experiences among poorer children. Because they lack travel, television, books, informed conversation, they have less to bring to school where they must compete with children having these advantages.

Also, the recent "get tough" tactic of assigning heavy homework loads works against these same children. Not only can they depend less on their parents for help, but they lack other home resources for education. The result, compounded disadvantage.

Even the lack of such social experience as birthday parties, retard their social development, and therefore, their educational advancement, McLain says. As the result of rejections by teachers and other pupils, emotional conflicts are set up which further mask learning ability. McLain says, "Emotional blocks frequently cause reading problems... Reading is a major factor relating to failure in school, because of our traditional teaching methods; a child must be able to read well to learn science, social studies, mathematics and language arts."

More of the same is not the answer if the schools are to educate today's children for adequate roles in their society, McLain says.

"Congress recognizes that to achieve the necessary goals, the scope of the school must be broadened. It has, therefore, provided the Community Action Committee under the Office of Economic Opportunity to assist in coordinating community programs that incorporate the thinking and total resources of the community."

THE DIFFICULT SEED

And so it criticized each flower. This supercilious seed;

Until it woke one summer hour, And found itself a weed.

There is no season such delight can bring, As summer, autumn, winter, and the spring.

BASIC GEOGRAPHY and social foundations of education originate from the modern, spacious television studio.

New Instructional Center Now In Full Operation

The CSC audio visual closed circuit television instructional center completed early this year is in full operation.

Begun as one of several pilot projects in the Pennsylvania State College system, in educational television, under the direction of Ray H. Kuipers, formerly director of Audio-Visual Education, and the sponsorship of President James Gemmell, and the Department of Public Instruction, the center was conceived to investigate development in closed circuit educational television.

The starting point for Clarion State College was the renovation of the laboratory school in Davis Hall. The planners had two aims in mind: (1) direct teaching, and (2) observation of classroom situations by means of television circuits.

The first course taught by direct television was physical geography, taught by Norman Humphrey, associate professor of geography. The course was viewed by 350 students distributed among several classrooms equipped with viewers. Later social foundations of education was added, taught by Richard C. Skinner, associate professor of education.

Vital to behind the scenes operations is Mr. William Mushrush, staff assistant, who has been with the program since its inception in 1962 under its first director, Dr. Kuipers. It is his job to operate and service the electronic instruments necessary for the center's proper functioning.

Humphrey, who has taught his course for several semesters, says that the nature of the television medium actually forces him to deepen the depth of his course, and to improve his use of visual aids. "I like it, because every student has a front row seat," he says. "Also, the equipment we have such as slides and other visual aids makes it practical for a teacher to use these aids much more extensively."

It is planned to add other courses on closed circuit television, and to increase work presently being done in experimental methods of teaching reading.

Dr. Harold E. Simmons, director of professional studies, describes the center as "an application of technology to be used for the improvement of teaching techniques."

MUST TAKE NEXT TWO

C.S.C. Cagers Shooting for Western Division Crown

Clarion's Cagers stand a chance of capturing the western division crown. If they bag it, they must defeat Lock Haven Saturday, Feb. 19, and Edinboro on the 23rd.

First place in the finals depends on whether Edinboro defeats California, providing the Golden Eagles retain their winning streak.

One year ago, Clarion's Cagers stood in a similar position, but was bumped by Lock Haven. "It's a tight spot to be in," Coach Joy says.

Yet, the team has some really good timber this year.

Jack Derlink is leading the team in scoring with a 24.7 game average and 14 rebounds per game.

Blaine Pendleton, the second high man in scoring with a 18.5 game average, is a fast and able guard with skill in faking and rushing. In a one to one situation this makes Blaine a valuable asset in the back court.

The team's most consistent scorer, averaging 17.6 points per game is Dave Griffin. His big asset is an accurate left-handed jump shot from the side and corner. He is also an excellent defensive player.

As a playmaker and ball handler, Earl Highlands is rated as one of the best in the western conference. He is averaging over 14 assists per game with a game high of 17 against Lock Haven.

A new starter since the beginning of second semester, Rich Cantera is an excellent rebounder. At 6 feet 3 inches, he is the tallest man on the team. He stands a good chance of becoming the man in pivot position.

$15 Million For Buildings

CSC will receive $15 million for new building projects, according to the announcement made by Senator Richard C. Frame on January 5, 1966.

He said one of the final acts of the 1965 session of the general assembly on January 4, was the passage of the capital budget of the Commonwealth for the next two years.

It includes approximately $15 million for new projects at CSC as follows:

STUDENTS ABANDON TRAYS on tables and serving ends in the cafeteria during the blackout.

Clarion Has Blackout

Clarion State College had its own version of the New York City blackout on Thursday, February 10, from 5:50 to 7:50 p.m.

At the cafeteria, some of the students were eating and others were in line when the regular lights went off and dim emergency lights went on. Students in the serving lines could not get their meals because of the lack of light in the kitchen and serving lines. The blackout was a benefit to some boys who were at the head of the serving line and managed to come out with three plates of food.

Most of the 5:30 night classes were cancelled, but one professor found a candle and held class, much to the dismay of the students.

In the dorms, study and other activities were carried on by candles left over from Christmas, birthday parties and Halloween.

However, in Jefferson Hall, a defect in the emergency generator caused acid to leak and the girls were evacuated to the basement of McKean Hall.

Just as the students were adapting to this new situation, the lights went on at 7:50 p.m.—just in time for the 8 to 10:30 night classes!

During the blackout almost everyone remained calm and some students waited patiently in the cafeteria for their meals the entire two hours.

Later, it was learned that a defect in the Clarion power generator caused the blackout.

Golden Eagle Matmen Sustain Record

Coach Frank Lignelli's wrestling squad shows a remarkable record thus far this season and in the past three years, winning 40 out of the last 41 matches.

To start the 1965-66 season, the determined grapplers, being over-powering in this section of the state, walked off with the Western Pennsylvania State College Pre-Christmas Wrestling Tournament held at Slippery Rock Dec. 11 for their fifth consecutive year.

The victory wasn't enough to satisfy the Golden Eagles, so Coach Lignelli searched for a greater challenge early in the season and discovered that Hiram College was hosting the Hiram College Wrestling Tournament at Hiram, Ohio. The Golden Eagles packed up their bags and moved cautiously to Ohio seeking further conquest and emerged victorious over eight other colleges and universities.

Clarion's Tom Todd wrestling in the 117 pound class, Rick Gilmore in the 137 pound class, and Frank Grundler in the 191 pound class, took first place titles. Clarion also placed three men in the second place position and five men in third place for a team score of 98 points, 20 points more than that of the second place team, Hiram College, with 78 points.

To go even further into research of a powerful wrestling team, statistics show that out of the past 12 matches this season, the Clarion squad scored a total of 383 points against their opponents, averaging 31.9 per match. Even greater recognition should be emphasized on the fact that out of the previous 12 matches, Clarion held their opponents to 44 points averaging a mere 3.7 per match. Also in this 1965-66 season, the Clarion grapplers shut-out five opponents in a row and averaged three pins per match.

As far as this year's success is concerned, Coach Lignelli comments, "There is a tremendous amount of desire and determination on the part of every man on the team. The many hours of back breaking work and sacrifice by every wrestler contribute to the success of this team. The men maintain excellent condition, even though there is a lack of proper facilities, and they display this by their aggressiveness in every match."

On a personal interview of players on the team, the question was asked, "Why do you, as a student, sacrifice so much and work so hard, just to wrestle on the Clarion State College team?" The majority replied, "We feel thankful for Mr. Lignelli's assistance in inspiring us to enter college, not only to wrestle, but to obtain the valuable and necessary education needed today."

Four men have built up distinguished undefeated records over the past years for Clarion. They are:

123—Tom Todd—Tom is accredited for winning 29 consecutive matches remaining undefeated in the past three years. In 1964 Tom placed first in the Western Pennsylvania State College Pre-Christmas Tournament; second in the Pennsylvania State College Tournament in 1965, and first in the Hiram Tournament in Ohio in 1965.

145—Ken Warnick—Ken compiled 22 consecutive victories in the past two and one-half years, 14 of which were pins. Ken transferred from the University of Pittsburgh in his sophomore year and in 1964 placed second in the NAIA in the 137 pound weight class, losing by a slim margin of 6-4 to Dean Bauckmeyer from Dickinson College in North Dakota. In 1965, Ken placed first in the Pennsylvania State

Clarion's Cagers stand a chance of capturing the western division crown. If they bag it, they must defeat Lock Haven Saturday, Feb. 19, and Edinboro on the 23rd.

First place in the finals depends on whether Edinboro defeats California, providing the Golden Eagles retain their winning streak.

One year ago, Clarion's Cagers stood in a similar position, but was bumped by Lock Haven. "It's a tight spot to be in," Coach Joy says.

Yet, the team has some really good timber this year.

Jack Derlink is leading the team in scoring with a 24.7 game average and 14 rebounds per game.

Blaine Pendleton, the second high man in scoring with a 18.5 game average, is a fast and able guard with skill in faking and rushing. In a one to one situation this makes Blaine a valuable asset in the back court.

The team's most consistent scorer, averaging 17.6 points per game is Dave Griffin. His big asset is an accurate left-handed jump shot from the side and corner. He is also an excellent defensive player.

As a playmaker and ball handler, Earl Highlands is rated as one of the best in the western conference. He is averaging over 14 assists per game with a game high of 17 against Lock Haven.

A new starter since the beginning of second semester, Rich Cantera is an excellent rebounder. At 6 feet 3 inches, he is the tallest man on the team. He stands a good chance of becoming the man in pivot position.

$15 Million For Buildings

CSC will receive $15 million for new building projects, according to the announcement made by Senator Richard C. Frame on January 5, 1966.

He said one of the final acts of the 1965 session of the general assembly on January 4, was the passage of the capital budget of the Commonwealth for the next two years.

It includes approximately $15 million for new projects at CSC as follows:

Museum Chief On Lecture Bill

Dr. Don W. Dragoo, of Carnegie Museum, sponsored by the Social Studies Department, will lecture at Clarion State College on March 1, 8 p.m. in the Chapel. This is one of the regular programs of the Clarion Lecture Series.

Dr. Dragoo will discuss and illustrate man's occupation in the surrounding region ranging over a 15,000 year span. Particular emphasis will be given to cultures found in western Pennsylvania, and their relationship to others in eastern North America.

His lecture will interpret the results of extensive archaeological investigation undertaken by Carnegie Museum and other institutions in the Ohio Valley Region.

Dr. Dragoo earned his doctorate in anthropology-archaeology-cultural anthropology from Indiana University in Indiana in 1957. He has been Curator, Section of Man, Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh since August 1963.

Previously he served as associate professor of anthropology, Department of Anthropology, University of Pittsburgh. He served as a photographer for the U.S. Navy, World War II for 16 months in the Pacific.

Other positions include experience as: laboratory assistant in physical anthropology, archaeologist, chemical-biological analyst, and teacher of anthropology.

C. S. C. GRANTED STUDY FUND

Dr. Harold E. Simmons will take five representatives of CSC on a trip to the Allisonville School, on Oct. 7, to observe the program and services of a model elementary school library in action. A grant to cover travel expenses to one of the three such "demonstration centers" was awarded this team by the Knapp School Libraries Project, a five-year project funded with $1,130,000 by the Knapp Foundation, Inc., and administered by the American Association of School Librarians, a division of the American Library Association and a department of the National Education Association.

The Clarion team's final selection came as a result of a nationwide, open competition conducted by the Knapp School Libraries Project and testifies to the promise of Clarion State College's continuing effort to establish and develop excellent school library services for the Allisonville School system. Selection of the team to receive these funds from the Project was partly based on the team's descriptions of its aims as well as the acumen with which they had evaluated the present status of their own library program.

Dr. Harold E. Simmons, official leader of the team visiting the Allisonville School, explained the impact of this opportunity to view the "model" library's effect on the school's instructional program.

Dr. Simmons says, "Our purpose in making this visit is to become more knowledgeable concerning the innovating trends in library instructional materials centers to facilitate field work requested by public schools in Western Pennsylvania.

Represented on the team going to the Allisonville School are:

Miss Elizabeth A. Rupert, Director, Library-Science Education, Clarion State College; Mr. Charles Economou, Instructor, Library-Science Education, Clarion State College; Mrs. Eleanor D. Moore, Associate Professor, Library-Science Education, Clarion State College; Dr. William J. Page, director of Student Teaching and Placement, Clarion State College. Team leader: Dr. Harold E. Simmons, Dean, Division of Prof. Studies, Clarion State College.

Circle K Aim

When a student enters a college, he has normally several aims to achieve in the next four years. One of these is a high academic record, one to be accepted by his fellow classmates, another to develop a feeling of pride in the college, and another to be of service to the institution.

The latter aim is of great concern to the Circle K Club that services the student body, faculty and administration. Over the years, Circle K ushers at most college functions, conducts the semi-annual Red Cross Bloodmobile, assists the local Clarion Kiwanis Club in community projects, sponsors one of the most successful dances during the year with a King and Queen of Winterland, and started the recent Book Sale project.

Circle K this year needs to bolster its enrollment in order to continue its many service requests and next week will conduct its annual membership drive.

As one great American, President John F. Kennedy, said, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but ask what you can do for your country." With relevant paraphrasing, one can apply this appeal to Clarion State College.

A gala festival concert open to the public free of charge will be played in the Clarion Area High School Auditorium, Sat., Feb. 19, at 8 p.m.

Major works by Vivaldi, Handel, Mozart as well as works such as "Three Modern Moods" by Sosnik, "American Bolero," by Brown, and "West Side Story" by Leonard Bernstein will be featured.

Many of the participants in this program are planning professional musical careers. Several are slated to play in a Pennsylvania All-Star Orchestra later this season and will go on tour with an American High School Orchestra scheduled to tour Europe this coming summer.

THE FANTASTICKS, playing Monday through this Saturday, features Mary Montana, Dick Locke, Olaf Malm, David Caldwell, Mike Pope, and Bill Demma.

"MEET YOUR FRIENDS AT THE 5 & 10"

Vol. 37, No. 9

Clarion State College, Clarion, Pennsylvania

Sat., Mar. 5, 1966

Play Presented

The Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts presented Ionesco's play, "The Bald Soprano," on March 4, at 8:30 in the Chapel Theatre.

This play, as other plays dealing with the Theatre of the Absurd, had its basic theme piercing the metaphysical anguish and the absurdity of the human condition; of the senselessness of life; of the inevitable devaluation of ideals, purity, and purpose. The Theater of the Absurd has removed arguing about the absurdity of the human condition; it merely presents it in a flash of shocking symbolism and cutting satire. Which in turn creates, not only excellent entertainment, but gives a chance for humans to see themselves in action without a pair of rose colored glasses.

Ionesco's reason for creating "The Bald Soprano" stemmed from his conviction that society itself formed one of the barriers between human beings, that the authentic community of man is wider than society. He feels that no society has been able to abolish human sadness, or pain of living. Hence the need to break down the language of society, which is nothing but cliches, empty formulas and slogans, is necessary.

The purpose of this experimental studio and discussion forum is to develop an interest and understanding of this new avantgarde art expressed in the Theatre of the Absurd.

The cast for this play was as follows: Bob Miller as Mr. Smith, James Canelos as Mr. Martin, Niomi Schaltenbrandt as the maid, Lee Calway as Mrs. Smith, Nerissa Broad as Mrs. Martin, and Robert Bickart as the fire chief.

After the play, a discussion forum was held and coffee was served.

400-Car Lot Proposed

A 400-car student parking lot is proposed for the area located adjacent to Payne Street and the site of our future new gymnasium. This new lot will provide more than ample parking space for students who must have a car for transportation to and from the college.

It is also designated that along the Greenville Avenue side of our present track area a 75-car lot will be constructed to facilitate faculty parking.

At the present time parking is somewhat hindered because construction processes on the new science hall have taken much of the central parking area. However, it has been indicated by the Department of College Security that there is some parking space available to students in the areas designated around the Given and Ralston Residence Halls. Also the area around the new dining hall (Lot E) has been assigned as a staff parking area. These two locations will help alleviate the problem until the new lots are completed.

TOM TODD
Wins Wrestling Honor

Clarion Wrestler Named To All-American Team

Tom Todd, CSC wrestler, is the first student in Clarion's history to achieve honorable mention in the All American roster.

Todd, a junior from New Castle, has been undefeated in 32 matches during the past three years. He was runner-up in the State Tournament and winner in the Hiram Tournament for the past three years.

His coach, Frank Lignelli, says this 115-pounder really deserves the recognition. "He keeps himself in excellent condition. He is a hard worker and an outstanding wrestler."

Lignelli says some of his other wrestlers only narrowly missed receiving similar honors.

CSC To Host Speech Leader

Dr. Elbert R. Bowen, director of interpretative reading, Central Michigan University, will appear on CSC Campus March 8 at 8 p.m.

He will present a program sponsored by the Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts, Computers, Cyborgs and Creativity.

In addition to the public meeting in the Chapel at 8 o'clock, he will conduct a seminar on "Problems in Oral Interpretation during the afternoon."

A graduate from DePaul University in 1941, Dr. Bowen was awarded his masters degree in 1946 from the University of Denver. He received his PhD from University of Missouri in 1950.

In addition to publishing three books on the theater and related topics, he has published numerous articles.

New Science Hall To Be Completed

The old CSC football field is the construction site for the new science hall to be completed in November 1967.

The building will be 388 feet long and 70 feet wide and will contain four stories.

Bontempo is the architect and Montgomery and Sons of Grove City are the general contractors.

The ground floor which will be level with the football field, will house mathematics offices for 22 people (one office for two people), mathematics classrooms, computer room and a room for computer records.

Also, an animal room, aquarium room, workroom for animals and aquarium, radioactive storage room and storage rooms for science materials, equipment and general materials.

The first floor will house physics offices for 14 people, a science library with a capacity of 3,000 volumes; conference room for 50 people; three basic physical science laboratories for that required course (laboratory work will be an integral part of this course and is being worked out experimentally on 160 students this semester. Mr. Shoffestall and Mr. Lazaro are the professors working on this); two general physics, atomic physics, mechanics, optics and electrical laboratories.

Also, there will be a darkroom for the use of general physics classes for optical experiments, two photographic darkrooms and a machine shop with glass blowing equipment, two power saws, metal and wood lathes, and a drill press. Three classrooms will be located on this floor.

The second floor will house four basic biology labs, two advanced biology labs, two zoology labs, two botany labs, and two elementary science workshops and two classrooms. Also, there will be offices for 18 people on this floor.

The third floor will house labs for quantitative analysis, instrumental analysis, organic, biochemistry, cartography, and geology. There will be four classrooms on this floor.

On the roof will be a meteorology (weather) lab and the elevator power equipment.

The offices in the new building will be a combination office and research area which will enable students to do more work in problem solving and do it with the aid of a faculty member. This method of learning has been proved to be effective.

An interesting feature of the building will be the Foucault pendulum which will be suspended from the roof, through three stories, to the first floor. The pendulum will set on a graduated circular scale which will show Foucault's illustration of how the earth rotates.

Concrete aggregate will be used in the interior design to break up the monotony of red brick which will also be used.

The cost will be approximately $2,800,000.

Dr. Pearce, head of the science department, was instrumental in the realization of the science hall. He took a year's leave of absence and visited college science halls in many states in order to plan an ideal science hall for CSC.

Meetings of the science department were held, drawings made by members of the department, criticisms and changes were made until a basic plan agreed on by all was drawn up. At one point in the planning, the Pennsylvania State Department of Public Instruction called CSC and wanted to know the size of the proposed building. This information had been previously decided by the science department and was readily made available to the D.P.I. It was later learned that the ready availability of this information and the fact that CSC knew what it wanted, quickened work on the science hall.

In 1963 the plans went to the General State Authority and the location was to be across from Becht Hall, but the G.S.A. changed the location and delayed work on it for two and one-half years. Then the building was changed to its present construction site—opposite the gym.

In addition to the main building, plans were drawn for a greenhouse and lecture hall planetarium, but the bids ran over the state appropriation and no more money was available for it. It is possible that in the future, a federal grant will make the construction of this building possible.

Pianist to Perform

CSC will present Nicolas Constantinidis, concert pianist from Cairo, Monday, March 7, 8 o'clock in the Chapel.

Sightless since he was six years old, Mr. Constantinidis, 30, has been recognized in many principal cities in Europe as a pianist of the first rank.

At the suggestion of a friend, Constantinidis came to Akron in 1961 and began teaching piano with his wife. In 1963 he joined the faculty of the music school at Akron University. He has become well known in area music circles.

Constantinidis, son of a Greek tailor, Stelios Constantinidis, went blind from an eye disease when he was six. There was no school for the blind at Cairo. A war was being fought in Egypt at the time.

Not until he was 11 years old did he learn braille and become a student in a blind school in Athens. But he had had his sister read her textbooks to him. He discovered the piano at 13, and spent many hours daily practicing. It was one area where he could excel.

He gave his concert debut at 17. During the next two years, he presented 75 full concerts. In 1955 he was chosen to represent Egypt in the International Youth Festival in Warsaw, Poland. Of the 100 young pianists representing 35 nations, he was named one of six winners in the festival.

Through the aid of the U.S. Embassy in Cairo, he received a full scholarship from Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, Ohio.

School officials were shocked when Constantinidis stepped off the airplane in Cleveland. He didn't speak any English. Later they learned he didn't have a high school diploma, but he did have a goal.

They permitted him to enroll... but not in the regular program. By the end of his first year, Nicolas was working on a degree. He had earned all A's and B's. He spoke fluent English. He was allowed to continue with a full scholarship including tuition and living expenses.

Museum Chief On Lecture Bill

Dr. Don W. Dragoo, of Carnegie Museum, sponsored by the Social Studies Department, will lecture at Clarion State College on March 1, 8 p.m. in the Chapel. This is one of the regular programs of the Clarion Lecture Series.

Dr. Dragoo will discuss and illustrate man's occupation in the surrounding region ranging over a 15,000 year span. Particular emphasis will be given to cultures found in western Pennsylvania, and their relationship to others in eastern North America.

His lecture will interpret the results of extensive archaeological investigation undertaken by Carnegie Museum and other institutions in the Ohio Valley Region.

Dr. Dragoo earned his doctorate in anthropology-archaeology-cultural anthropology from Indiana University in Indiana in 1957. He has been Curator, Section of Man, Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh since August 1963.

Previously he served as associate professor of anthropology, Department of Anthropology, University of Pittsburgh. He served as a photographer for the U.S. Navy, World War II for 16 months in the Pacific.

Other positions include experience as: laboratory assistant in physical anthropology, archaeologist, chemical-biological analyst, and teacher of anthropology.

DR. DON W. DRAGOO

Circle K Aim

When a student enters a college, he has normally several aims to achieve in the next four years. One of these is a high academic record, one to be accepted by his fellow classmates, another to develop a feeling of pride in the college, and another to be of service to the institution.

The latter aim is of great concern to the Circle K Club that services the student body, faculty and administration. Over the years, Circle K ushers at most college functions, conducts the semi-annual Red Cross Bloodmobile, assists the local Clarion Kiwanis Club in community projects, sponsors one of the most successful dances during the year with a King and Queen of Winterland, and started the recent Book Sale project.

Circle K this year needs to bolster its enrollment in order to continue its many service requests and next week will conduct its annual membership drive.

Editorially Speaking . . . Time and Place

Pens on Paper, Not Desk Tops

With age comes responsibility. With the use of the word "adult" comes the responsibility of adult conduct.

Buildings at Clarion are furnished with the convenience of the student in mind. When students deface furnishings, they are only taking away from the beauty of something that is for their own enjoyment and convenience. It is puzzling why any "adult" would get enjoyment from writing on furniture, especially furniture that present Clarion students and future students must share. While we are students at Clarion State College it is our home. It goes without saying that few, if any, students would figure out his Q.P. on the kitchen table at home; yet one can find this on any number of tables in the student union. Few, if any, students would carve Greek letters into hard-finished wooden tables at home; yet one can also find this in any number of places at Clarion. There is writing and scribbling on chairs in the library, on chairs and tables in the dormitories, and even on tables in the new dining hall. You wouldn't think of letting your cigarette ashes drop on the floor in your home, yet this is frequently the case in campus buildings. Also many chairs have cigarette burns because of a careless smoker.

It's time that some of the students keep their pens off the furniture and on paper where they belong. The days have long passed when someone will stand over you and punish your misdemeanors so take the responsibility upon yourself to conduct yourself as an adult.

Artists in Hiding—Come Out

Clarion students have been accused of being conformists. This assertion is a generalization and is based on outward appearances. The individualism that is exigent on this campus, and in our larger culture, is non-conformity of thought. Absurdly distinctive attire and hair styles do not connote originality of thought or expression.

Persons who are conscious of their own inner individuality tend to seek a meaningful form of self-expression. Such persons exist here at Clarion. Some of these people have been discovered via The Clarion (a magazine of creative writings by the students of C.S.C.). Short stories, poems, and essays by students have revealed to alert inmates of this college that the theory "there is nothing new under the sun" might yet be destroyed.

If any person is capable of revealing a common world in an enlightening and unique style, it is the non-conformist; and the non-conformist who is able to express himself—who has sufficient self-discipline to express himself—is the artist. This campus is not void of artists, but many of them hide.

Thomas Mann has said that the artist is a person who realizes that he is different. Something exists within the artist which sets him apart from society. That is to say that an obstacle exists between the artist and the world; consequently, he can observe the activity and/or the non-activity, but he cannot be a participant. His creations, then, are attempts to communicate with his world.

Whether this college term will be another term full of average-Joe-citizens or not, depends on the number of confident individualists who have enough ambition to create. Recognition for the prowess of the non-conformist is attainable. Approximations from the Student Senate and a capable faculty advisor, Dr. Gilbert Neiman, have made this recognition possible. Now the students must contribute their share in the form of creative literature: short stories, poetry, essays, or plays. At the present time, the greatest demand is for poetry, but all work submitted will be given serious consideration.

Of course, the campus will always be cluttered with the mental-conformists who are content to plod through the motions of living and education, parroting back information, avoiding the proud minority of thinkers. Only this slice of Michele Sabin is worth offering in this case:

"Nothing to say, nothing to say.
Everything worthy of being said
Has been said,
By Millay."

Editor:

"There is a time and place for everything." "No, the campus is not the place for affection." These two quotes appeared in "Editorially Speaking" in the last issue of The Call.

If this is the case Miss Editor, then I and many others have a serious problem. We can't kiss, touch, tickle, or whisper, when in the presence of other intelligent beings.

What must we do, run to motels, apartments and backseats? Maybe I'm wrong, but I always thought that these were the places in which trouble started, not out in the open with an innocent "peck" or a whisper. This is all I've seen, although I must admit, I wasn't searching.

What must we be, emotionless and stagnant automatons, eating, sleeping and studying, with no thought for life and happiness?

Since you've accepted the post of "Chief Moral Advisor," and "Campus Censor," with your pen, taking it upon yourself to judge many of your fellow students, I would appreciate it if you would provide "us sinners" with an outlet for our emotions. One which holds no more danger for us than P.D.A., and which doesn't offend you or your peers.

In conclusion, I refer you to the (King James) Bible, The Epistle of Paul to Titus, 1:15. "Unto the pure, all things are pure, but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure."

Truly disgusted,
TERRENCE MOORE

Alumni Notes

In the last issue of the Call we mentioned some of our alumni who were attending graduate schools. Students should realize that many alumni attend graduate school and many receive from $2,000 to $3,000 in assistantships and fellowships while completing advanced degrees.

A number of recent graduates with majors in Special Education have received such aid. Sara Wiloughby, '64, has completed some 60 hours of graduate study at the University of Pittsburgh with a straight A grade. She is now teaching in a Head Start Program in the Pittsburgh Schools. Sara had both assistantships and fellowships to help finance her graduate studies.

Florence Eiler has completed her master's program at Pitt and is now teaching Special Education in Bethlehem, Pa. She was also a fellowship recipient. Larry Ashbaugh and Ed Green are now in graduate school. Larry, who had been teaching at Bellwood-Center, is now at Penn State. Ed is still teaching Special Education in Brockway and is a part-time student at Syracuse University. These three Alumni are '64 graduates.

Mr. Hartley reports that a number of 1965 graduates are taking graduate work in Speech Pathology and Audiology. Some of these, who have received very substantial assistantships and fellowships include Denny Hetrick and Millie Bichsel who are enrolled at Purdue. Mike Gulais at Kent State and Judy Symionoff Schuster is at Pitt.

Janie Bright, '65, has a Health, Education and Welfare fellowship at the University of Pittsburgh. Janie is majoring in Deaf Education.

Donald Stahlman, '65, stopped by the campus a short time ago. Don is a biology major now enrolled in Temple University School of Medicine. He is in a PhD program in the Department of Anatomy. Don is fully subsidized by the National Institute of Health. Upon completion of his work, he will seek employment with major drug companies or medical school teaching. He reports that the work is tough, but he is succeeding.

Steve Tarachak, Gary C. Smith, and Harold Reed are all attending Ohio State University. Steve is a major in Algology, the study of algae. Gary is in Animal Ecology, and Harold is in Botany. Elliott Reitz also attended Ohio State and is now teaching in Slippery Rock State College.

Dr. Robert Moore, '57, Professor in the Biology Department, will begin a new program this spring in association with the University of Pittsburgh. He will direct the research of a student at Pitt during the summer months. Tom Warring who will graduate this spring will be his first graduate degree candidate.

Donald Bishop, '63, is now a chemist with Medusa Technical Laboratories at Wampum, Pa. His wife, the former Dorothy McClelland, '64, is not teaching at the present time. Norman Johnson, another '64 graduate, is at the University of Akron on a Biology assistantship.

Advisors should be able to assist Senior students, who can qualify, in finding this type of financial assistance. Applications for most programs must be made quite early and competition is stiff, but many Clarion State College Alumni have succeeded and we are very proud of them.

We have been reminded of a recent graduate who is now employed as an instructor at her Alma Mater. Miss Sharon Grove, '65, never left Clarion, but upon graduation became associated with the computer center and the math department. Sylvia Shook, '66, has also remained at Clarion State. She is employed by Dr. McLain, Director of Research.

Clarion Debaters Capture Third Place at Buffalo V.

On February 19, teams of Clarion debaters competed with 21 teams from three states at the University of Buffalo varsity tournament. At the end of the five round tournament, both Clarion teams were tied with Canisius for second place with an 8-2 record. Duquesne took first place in the tournament with a 10-0 record. The second place tie was broken on speaker points, and the second place trophy awarded to Canisius and the third place trophy awarded to Clarion.

The varsity affirmative team of John Mann, Irwin, and Twila Yates, Canonsburg, had the best record for Clarion, being undefeated in five rounds. They defeated Cortland, Mount Mercy, Siena, Utica, and St. John Fisher. Mann and Yates were teamed with the varsity negative of Cathy Edner, Falls Creek, and Nancy Caldwell, Oil City, who had 3-2 record, with wins over Canisius, Utica, and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and losses to Vermont and Brockport.

Clarion's freshman affirmative team of June Rudolph, Gibsonia, and Pat Dobson, Verona, had a 4-1 record, with wins over D'Youville, Albany, Geneva, and Utica, and a single loss to first place Duquesne. Rudolph and Dobson were teamed with freshman Judy Brandalick, Bethel Park, and junior, Merrilyn Naugle, Beaver Falls, who also had a 4-1 record. Brandalick and Naugle had wins over second place Canisius, St. John Fisher, Oswego, and Cornell, and a single loss to Westminster.

Cagers End, 15-5

Feb. 15—Clarion 67, Grove City 68. Won in last seven seconds by G. C. on field goal by Bart Hersey. Highlands high with 17.

Feb. 17—Clarion 77, Waynesburg 67. Griffin high with 18.

Feb. 19—Clarion 82, Lock Haven 58. Pendleton high with 19.

Feb. 23—Clarion 79, Edinboro 83. Pendleton high with 21.

Derlink has a 24.6 points per game average.

Pendleton has a 18.7 points per game average.

Griffin has a 18.2 points per game average.

Highlands has a 8.7 points per game average and 14 assists per game average.

Canterna has a 7.9 points per game average.

The Edinboro game threw Clarion out of the State College race. Edinboro was the only team to beat Clarion on its own hardwood all year. Clarion ended the regular season with this game, setting a 15-5 overall record and a 7-3 league record. Clarion lost twice to Edinboro and once to California, all league losses. Other losses were at the hands of Geneva and Grove City. Edinboro was the only team to beat Clarion twice this year.

Jack Derlink, sidelined for the Waynesburg and Lock Haven games due to an injured left leg, was back in the lineup for the Edinboro game. The shoes left to be filled by the absence of Derlink in the lineup against Waynesburg and Lock Haven were filled quite well

Gemmell Elected

At a national meeting of college and university presidents held this week in Chicago, President James Gemmell of Clarion State College was elected to act for Pennsylvania as state liaison representative to the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

The AACTE is an association of more than 700 colleges and universities throughout the nation, and is regarded as the most influential voice for teacher education in America.

In his post as state representative, Dr. Gemmell will endeavor to keep presidents of Pennsylvania colleges and universities informed on national and state developments in teacher education, and will aid them in communicating their views on developments to the appropriate political, economic, or professional agencies.

Dr. Gemmell's election is for an initial period of two years.

Venango Campus

On Thursday evening, February 24, an opera party of approximately 60 Venango Campus students travelled to Pittsburgh's Syria Mosque to see Gounod's opera, "Faust."

Starring in the production were Mary Costa as Marguerite, a village girl; Pierre Duval as Faust, a German Philosopher; Norman Treigle as Mephistopheles, the devil; and Darlene Hurst as Siebel, a student.

The party, which left the Campus at 5 o'clock, was chaperoned by Mrs. Allene Masterson, Mrs. Charlotte Boyles, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dinny, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bromley, and Mr. Ronald Shumaker.

The pit orchestra, which is made up of selected members of the world-famous Pittsburgh symphony, was directed by Richard Karp, General and Musical director of the Pittsburgh Opera Company.

Because of the opera party, Mrs. Williams, head librarian, has arranged a display of famous opera record albums in the main display case in the library. Mr. Ronald Shumaker, instructor in English, donated the following operas: "La Traviata," "Boris Godunov," "Carmen," and "Electra." Included are librettos from these operas, one of which was autographed by Mary Costa for Mr. Shumaker.

Nothing is achieved before it be thoroughly attempted.

On Monday evening, February 21, a greatly-needed addition was added to Venango Campus—the Student Union.

The Union, opened on Monday, Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday nights, is held in the Student Lounge. Because of its great distance from town, the Union has great drawing power. Large crowds have filled the Lounge every evening since the Union has been open.

Due to this turnout it is possible that within the next few weeks the Union will be opened every night Monday through Saturday.

The hours of the Union are from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday; and from 7 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

All rules of the college pertaining to conduct are in effect in the Student Union. For the present, a chaperone has been employed who is responsible for the building.

Besides ping pong and card playing, a juke box was added for dancing.

The Student Union was planned and is operated by members of the Venango Campus student body and Student Senate. Known as the Student Union Board, they are responsible for keeping the Union operating smoothly. All rules for the Union were set up by the Board with the approval of Dean Elliot, Dean Thomas, and Dr. Morgan. Members of the Student Union Board are—Sam Cangemi, chairman; Dennis O'Neil, Caroe Reis, Jon Kallmyer, Judy Rogers, Judy Levy, Nancy Hoover, Gene Herriott, and Tom Swartz.

"The Philosophes," discussion group at Venango Campus, met on February 13 in the Student Lounge.

The topic discussed was the orientation of the freshman. Professors Alastair Crawford and Ronald Shumaker conducted a lively debate concerning the challenges of college adjustment.

Then on February 21, Professor John F. Reinhardt directed a symposium as a continuation of freshman orientation. This time the moral, social, cultural, and ethical problems of adjustment, along with the rebellion of the college student were discussed.

On February 28, "The Philosophes" again met in the Student Lounge where they discussed the United States position in Viet Nam. Professors on hand for the evening were Mr. Ronald Shumaker and Mr. John F. Reinhardt.

Topics to be discussed at future meetings include: modern trends in music, the economic situation in Viet Nam, and social taboos in America.

My friend, the human race is always trying this dodge of making everything entirely easy; but the difficulty which it shifts off one thing it shifts on to another.

Editorially Speaking . . . Time and Place

Editor:

"There is a time and place for everything." "No, the campus is not the place for affection." These two quotes appeared in "Editorially Speaking" in the last issue of The Call.

If this is the case Miss Editor, then I and many others have a serious problem. We can't kiss, touch, tickle, or whisper, when in the presence of other intelligent beings.

What must we do, run to motels, apartments and backseats? Maybe I'm wrong, but I always thought that these were the places in which trouble started, not out in the open with an innocent "peck" or a whisper. This is all I've seen, although I must admit, I wasn't searching.

What must we be, emotionless and stagnant automatons, eating, sleeping and studying, with no thought for life and happiness? Since you've accepted the post of "Chief Moral Advisor," and "Campus Censor," with your pen, taking it upon yourself to judge many of your fellow students, I would appreciate it if you would provide "us sinners" with an outlet for our emotions. One which holds no more danger for us than P.D.A., and which doesn't offend you or your peers.

In conclusion, I refer you to the (King James) Bible, The Epistle of Paul to Titus, 1:15. "Unto the pure, all things are pure, but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure."

Truly disgusted,
TERRENCE MOORE

Alumni Notes

In the last issue of the Call we mentioned some of our alumni who were attending graduate schools. Students should realize that many alumni attend graduate school and many receive from $2,000 to $3,000 in assistantships and fellowships while completing advanced degrees.

A number of recent graduates with majors in Special Education have received such aid. Sara Willoughby, '64, has completed some 60 hours of graduate study at the University of Pittsburgh with a straight A grade. She is now teaching in a Head Start Program in the Pittsburgh Schools. Sara had both assistantships and fellowships to help finance her graduate studies.

Florence Eiler has completed her master's program at Pitt and is now teaching Special Education in Bethlehem, Pa. She was also a fellowship recipient. Larry Ashbaugh and Ed Green are now in graduate school. Larry, who had been teaching at Bellwood-Center, is now at Penn State. A PEEK AT GREEKS

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

The Brothers of Alpha Gamma Phi announce their pledges for the spring of 1966. They are: Matt Porter, Bill Maxwell, Bob Fusco, Blair Brant, Paul Horvath, Don Dinell, and Bill Botti. Congratulations to these fine pledges.

Our final smoker was a huge success and we would like to thank the Zetas, the Tri Sigs, Miss Judy Tuminella, and brothers Crystol, Sellari, Pape, Cleary, and emcee Holman for their work in making it so. Also thanks go to the refreshment committee, led by brother Nola, for their fine job.

We would like to welcome those students from Venango campus, including Carlos DeRiggi, James Cleary, and especially Brian Wall who traveled all the way from Purdue for a visit to our campus. We hope they come again soon.

We thank the Theta Xi Fraternity for inviting some of the Gammas in for one of their recent parties.

Brothers Armstrong, Zaccari, DeRiggi, and Intrieri recently sang at a smoker, and their arrangement of "Pappy" was enjoyed by all those who attended.

Good luck is extended to the intramural team as they enter a basketball tournament in Brookville. So far this season, brothers Patterson, Cleary, Kriceri, Intrieri, Sellari, Pape, Kennedy, Armstrong, and Rabbit Thomas have compiled a 22-2 record in intramural competition. We hope they win the basketball division and add to our total number of points for the overall intramural trophy.

ALPHA CHI RHO

Our party of last week was deemed a great success by all who attended. After a few hours of dancing, we were entertained by a few French songs, and by Miss Joanne Scappara whose performance will not soon be forgotten by the brothers.

Later, while everyone was eating and drinking in the "Cabaret," we were entertained by an "Apache" dance performed by Brother Paul Baer and Ruth Weber.

Today our Chapter is hosting the Annual Scholarship Conclave for the Central District of the fraternity. Delegates from chapters at Slippery Rock, Thiel, Allegheny, Penn State, and Steubenville have been invited to attend, as well as delegates from each of the Fraternities on campus.

Both the morning and afternoon sessions are being conducted by Dr. Amos B. Horlacher, the National Scholarship Officer of the Fraternity. Dr. Horlacher is a Professor of English at Dickinson College. The intention of the National Fraternity in such an endeavor is to encourage scholarship by allowing students to discuss the various problems concerned, especially as they apply to scholarship in Fraternities. Any interested students, Greek, or non-Greek, are invited to attend the sessions.

Our congratulations go to our president, Paul Baer, who recently was pinned to Miss Barbara Niederritter, a student at St. Vincent's School of Nursing in Erie. On Friday, March 18, the Brothers and Pledges will sponsor a Hootenanny to be held in the Union. Besides several excellent campus groups who will perform, there will also be some well known professional groups from the Pittsburgh area who are currently appearing in Pittsburgh nightclubs. This will be presented free of charge and all students are welcome to attend.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

The sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau congratulate the Becht Unknowns for winning first place in volleyball intramurals and our own Alpha Tau team for placing second. We are looking forward to basketball season.

On Wednesday, we held our formal party, "Three Coins In A Fountain," at the Owen's Illinois Clubhouse. The refreshments included spaghetti, grape juice, and sherbet. Entertainment was provided by sisters displaying many varied talents.

We greatly appreciate the work done by Sharon Freed, chairman, and her committee in planning this party. The sisters enjoyed the time spent with the rushees and are looking forward to meeting our new pledges this afternoon at formal ribbon pledging. Many thanks to the men who helped provide transportation and special thanks to the brothers of Theta Xi.

We are looking forward to helping our national officers initiate Alpha Pi Chapter of Alpha Sigma Tau at Slippery Rock State College later this semester.

BETA CHI UPSILON

We congratulate Betty Kinsky on her appointment as the chairman of referral board for Ralston Hall.

The sisters are proud to announce that Mrs. Garborino has become our new patroness.

Red roses were sent to Vivian Talaga, our representative for Miss CSC.

Congratulations to Edwena Coughlan on becoming the new song leader for our sorority.

The sisters of Beta Chi Upsilon thank our patroness Mrs. Robert Crawford for the use of her house for our formal rush party.

The sisters congratulate Coach Joy and the basketball players on their winning season.

DELTA ZETA

Congratulations to Cindy Gardina for being this year's Delta Zeta Dream Girl. She received a dozen pink roses at our Formal Rush Party last Monday evening. The tradition of our Dream Girl is one we're proud of—a senior is chosen who we feel has done the most for the sorority throughout her college career. We're all very proud of you, Cindy.

Our Formal Rush Party was held at the Carriage Inn in Knox, Pa. We'd first like to thank the men of Theta Chi and Alpha Gamma Phi for their help with our transportation. About 70 girls attended our DZ pink heaven and we, sincerely hope a good time was had by all. Now that rush is over, we can't wait until pledging begins, and it is our wish that every rushee has found the one sorority that is best for her. It's been fun getting to know all the freshman girls—good luck to all of you!

Pink roses go to Lois Evans on her recent pinning to Bob Sellari; we're all very happy for both of them.

The dancers have been chosen for his year's musical, "Kiss Me Kate." Three Deltas are among them: Judy Tuminella who dances the lead, Sharon Weyer and Patti Dornring. They have a lot of practice ahead of them and we're all looking forward to the play.

PHI SIGMA EPSILON

The brothers of Phi Sigma Epsilon thank all those who attended the Phi Sig Ep "jammie" last Saturday, helping to make the affair a huge success.

Special thanks go to the "Vibra-Sonics" for a job well done in the social department. The Phi Sig Eps hope everyone enjoyed themselves.

The fraternity expresses special appreciation to Mrs. Porter, our housemother, for the worthy sacrifices and contributions she makes daily for the sake of all members of Phi Eta Chapter.

On February 28, new officers were elected for control of the fraternity. Succeeding Jim Miller, Larry Manula becomes president. As George Tanko vacates the vice president position, Bill Matthews is installed. Dave "Rat" Pollard replaces Tom Hamilton as secretary and present recording and corresponding secretaries Ed Sarver and T. Cramer are replaced by Dan Beiller and Lee Grimm.

The Phi Sig Eps announce the initial draft of pledges for the spring class of 1966. These men include: Vern Bennett, James Becker, Chad Hannah, John Dominick, Robert Murphy, Charles Sipe, Richard Groznik, Ronald Miller, Charlie Paine, Dewey Emanuel, Joe Thomas, and Jerry Wood.

From all appearances, the Phi Sigs have accepted an excellent group of pledging men. We are sure this opinion will be well born out in fact in the future.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

The newly formed "Sigma Quintet" made their debut at the Alpha Gamma Phi and the Phi Sigma Epsilon rush parties. The quintet consists of sisters: Barb Danvir, Marti Hemma, Karol Koman, Jo Marschinko, and Kathy Sekelik.

Sigma thanks to Mrs. Carnahan, Mrs. Duffy, and Mrs. Oakes for inviting the Sigma sisters for dessert which was held at the Carnahan residence. We thank these ladies for being such nice hostesses. The sisters had an enjoyable evening.

Get well wishes go to sister Billie Caramela. We hope she gets over her "Libra-phobia" by the end of this semester.

Purple violets go to Kathy Brown and Danny Stellute on their recent pinning. Purple violets also go to Eddie and Sleepy on their secret engagement! Purple violets go especially to Ruth McPherson and Tom Mason on their recent marriage. The sisters wish both of you a lifetime of happiness.

Congratulations to Coach Lignelli and his wrestling team for their impressive season record. Especially outstanding this year were the six undefeated matmen: Tom Todd, Sleepy, Ken Warnick, Frank Grundler, Jim Manuel and John Dornick. The Tri-Sigas send their best wishes to Coach Lignelli and his wrestlers that they may enjoy success in the state and national tournaments.

Tri Sigmas spring rush formal was held Thursday, March 3, at the Manor House. Melonie Martin was mistress of ceremonies and music entertainment was provided by the "Sigma Six" and the "Sigma Quintet." The sisters and rushees had a good time together.

On February 14, Gerald Marterer, president of Student Senate, and Wayne Schuricht, chairman of the senate budget committee, attended a special meeting of the Board of State College Student Body Presidents.

Besides discussing further organization of the Board, including objectives and powers, they also urged that this Board function as part of a state-wide program for the purpose of obtaining increased attention to higher public education in Pennsylvania.

"A master plan is needed to recognize the problems facing the 14 state colleges," said Jerry. "Students, alumni and trustees alike must function together as a group to achieve this."

This Board has been in existence since last April when it was formed during the annual conference of the Pennsylvania State Association of Student Governments (PSAG) at Edinboro.

Greek Weekend is well on its way to being the biggest Greek festival of this year.

Fraternities and Sororities are grouping their prowess to make a real showing on Greek Day, April 30. During Greek Day, the fearless, taunting teams of the various sororities on campus will meet in a battle of the bulge on the football field. Fraternities will show their might wrestling greased pigs? Well, would you believe building pyramids?

Independents and faculty are invited to watch these spectacles. Therefore, watch the Call for more dangerous and daring curves to be thrown your way.

ROY BURNS, percussionist, will appear with the CSC concert band in the March fourteenth concert.

Band Girds for Concerts

The Bands at Clarion are an integral part of the campus. Related directly to the Music Department, the personnel of the Band is selected by audition from the student body each September. Being selected for the Band is a distinct recognition of outstanding personal and academic qualifications as well as musical ability.

The College Band starts the school year as the 80 piece Golden Eagle Marching Band. To prepare for its fall performances on the gridiron, the band meets three times weekly and on Saturday mornings of home games, and has participated in many parades and festivals.

Soon after the close of the football season, the marching band is transformed into the Clarion State College Concert Band. Meeting three times weekly for a total of four and a half hours, the band members begin preparing for the annual Spring Concerts and Spring Tour.

The band's extensive, varied, and flexible repertoire is selected from all periods and styles of composition and transposition, and is designed to meet a variety of program responsibilities.

The Clarion State College Concert Band is an ensemble of 85 wind and percussion players. Of the 85, who come from 64 different communities, all but one have received their musical training in the public schools of the Commonwealth.

The Band is one of the most active groups on campus and is under the jurisdiction of the Department of Music. Inquiries are invited from prospective men and

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Archaeological Field Work Advances

CSC has just announced its third annual summer program in field archaeology especially designed to meet the needs and interests of graduate students. Applications are being accepted from interested undergraduate students who are currently enrolled in an academic institution.

In the selection of participants first preference will be given to students who are residents of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The first session will be held from June 6-24, 1966, while the second session is scheduled for June 27 to July 15, 1966.

Program participants will be engaged in the archaeological exploration of sections of the Allegheny Valley and its tributaries. They will learn about such field techniques as site survey, testing, mapping, trial excavation and regular field excavation. Laboratory sessions will concentrate on interpretation, restoration, cataloging and specimen photography. Each student will have an opportunity to work on at least two different sites during each of the three week sessions.

The program is offered as part of the academic summer offerings and carries four semester credit hours. A limited number of places have been set aside for public school teachers interested to further their knowledge in one field of the social sciences. Applicants should contact Dr. Gustav A. Konitzky.

SITES LOCATED

Survey teams from Clarion State College have begun work in the upper Allegheny valley attempting to pinpoint sites for eventual excavation. The emphasis will be on the sections of Forest and Warren Counties between Tionesta and Tidoute.

In close cooperation with property owners and managers of state-owned lands, student teams under the direction of Dr. Gustav A. Konitzky, professor of Anthropology at Clarion, have located a large number of previously known sites ranging from the Archaic period to historic Indian encampments. Steps have been taken to insure the preservation of these sites and to protect them from vandalism and destruction by amateur collectors.

Aside from limited work carried out by the Carnegie Museum in this area, this marks the first systematic attempt to salvage by scientific methods the prehistoric heritage of the region. All materials recovered will become property of the people of Pennsylvania with Clarion State College acting as curator. This new emphasis upon archaeological research is dependent upon the understanding and cooperation of land owners and other interested persons, who are urged to report known sites to the Archaeological Laboratory, Box 997.

The region's archaeological sites should be protected from further destruction by relic hunters in order to assure an orderly and scientific investigation. Many sites in western Pennsylvania have been needlessly destroyed by curio seekers bent on accumulating private collections which, because of their unsystematic gathering, have little scientific value.

Diaz Concert Well Received

Alirio Diaz, one of today's greatest exponents of the classical guitar, appeared on campus Monday, February 28, 8 p.m., in the Chapel. His visit here is one in a series he is making to several colleges and universities.

Alirio Diaz has uncovered a wealth of previously unknown music for his instrument in the libraries of Paris, London, Bologna, Brussels and Rome, written in very old notations of great musical interest. He plays these pieces frequently in his recitals not only for their historical interest, but for their intrinsic beauty.

His interpretations of such masters as Bach and Scarlatti have earned him renown in Europe and North America. Added to his musical wealth is his repertoire of Latin-American music.

The campus visit of Mr. Diaz was sponsored by the Arts Program of the Association of American Colleges. In addition to his recital, he talked informally with students about the guitar, its history and its rich musical literature.

This was a public concert of the Concert Lecture Series of CSC.

Clarion Call

Vol. 37, No. 11 Clarion State College, Clarion, Pennsylvania Sat., Mar. 19, 1966

RICHARD BONFANTI (right), originator of "Green Beret Day," shakes hands with Darl Groves, a former member of the Green Berets.

Student Originates Idea; Salutes Armed Services

It all came about, Green Beret Day, that is, after Richard Bonfanti, of Johnstown, Pa., read the novel, "What Does It Take to Rate a Green Beret?" and heard Barry Saddler sing "The Green Beret." He put it all together and got an idea, why not combine a day of honor for U.S. military forces with the traditional St. Patrick's Day?

Bonfanti, a junior in speech pathology and audiology at Clarion State College, says, "It came about partly from talking to my friend, Darl Groves, also a Clarion student, who recently returned from Viet Nam and a former member of the Green Berets.

Armed with an idea, Bonfanti mentioned it to Jerry Agnew, director of personnel of Owens-Illinois, and Paul Rattan, director of WWCH, both of Clarion. "They both thought it was a good idea, and supported a request to the Clarion County Mayors to proclaim St. Patrick's Day, Green Beret Day," Bonfanti said.

The proclamation that resulted reads: "1966 finds our nation in physical and ideological conflict with communism. Our youth in all branches of the service are combating a deadly enemy to their fronts and a demoralizing movement; to their backs."

Then the idea began to catch on.

Bowen Lectures

Dr. Elbert R. Bowen, director of interpretative reading at Central Michigan University, in a seminar held on March 8, lectured on "Problems in Oral Interpretation."

Dr. John Mellon, dean of liberal arts, lectured on "Computers, cyborgs, and Creativity." Open forums were held after the lectures.

The seminar was sponsored by the department of speech and dramatic arts.

Bonfanti said he got enthusiastic support from Senator Richard Frame of Franklin, who contacted Governor William Scranton.

"But the biggest thrill," Dick says, "was when Brigadier General Joe Stillwell contacted me. The younger General Stillwell is Chief of Special Forces throughout the world. That really put Clarion State College in the news."

The simple idea of wearing green berets on St. Patrick's Day in honor of U.S. military forces has received coverage by the major wire news services, and has brought enthusiastic reactions from many supporters.

Professor Reports Results of Study

Harold V. Hartley, Jr., associate professor of speech pathology and audiology at CSC, is senior author of an article entitled "Tongue-Thrust—A Case Study," appearing in the current issue of the Pennsylvania Speech and Hearing News Letter. Dr. Robert De Shong, Orthodontist of Oil City participated with Professor Hartley in the preparation of this report. Assisting Professor Hartley and Dr. DeShong in this case study were two former Clarion State College students, Athena Saludis Bober, Columbus, Ga., and William Brady, Speech Therapist, Lawrence County Schools.

This article reports the results of clinical research related to swallowing, orthodontic treatment and speech therapy carried out at the Speech and Hearing Clinic of Clarion State College. The study describes progress in orthodontic treatment following changes in swallowing patterns and speech patterns established in speech therapy at the CSC clinic.

Alpha Chi Rho Sponsors Conclave

A Scholarship Conclave, sponsored by the National Fraternity of Alpha Chi Rho was held at Clarion State College on March 5.

In attendance, besides the brothers and pledges of the host chapter, were brothers from other chapters in the area.

The sessions were conducted by Dr. A. B. Horlacher of Dickinson College who is National Scholarship Officer of Alpha Chi Rho. Mr. Charles Thomas, Dean of Men at Clarion, was also in attendance to welcome the visitors and to express his approval of such undertakings by fraternities. The sessions were also open to other students of the college.

The purpose of such conclaves, which are held annually, is "to make tangible to the men of Alpha Chi Rho, the fraternity world, the academic community and the public at large, the undeviating purpose of Alpha Chi Rho to encourage scholarship among its members and in the fraternity world generally." The problems of personal and chapter scholarship were discussed in so far as they are common to all groups or to individual chapters and students. Dr. Horlacher stressed that people will usually be as successful out of college as they are while they're in.

He spoke of the student as a part of society with an occupation like a plumber or doctor. As we expect craftsmen or professional men to be competent, so we should expect the student to put forth an effort to be a competent and successful student. Dr. Horlacher stressed that a student should put in at least 48 hours of study each week, including class time, and tests. As for studying itself, techniques of learning were discussed. Tutoring by brothers who do well in certain subjects, study and review sessions and many other methods were suggested to boost scholarship in the fraternities.

Arrangements for this Conclave were made by the host chapter, Mu Phi of Alpha Chi Rho, which last year was first in scholarship on Clarion's campus. Visiting brothers were provided with rooms in Balentine Hall and ate in the new dining hall. After everyone had arrived Friday night, a reception was held at the temporary home of the fraternity, so everyone could get acquainted. All expenses were met by the Alpha Chi Rho Education Foundation, which has been in existence since 1950.

Though there are about 10 semi-scholarship fraternities in the United States, Alpha Chi Rho is one of the few social fraternities which strives to put the necessary emphasis on scholarship and achieve a proper balance in the activities of its members. Students, whether members or not, are often granted loans for college from the fraternity's Education Foundation.

LEAD DANCERS Judy Tuminella and Dan Preuhs practice a routine for Kiss Me Kate.

Department to Present Musical, "Kiss Me Kate"

The department of speech and dramatic arts will present "Kiss Me Kate," a Broadway musical, on March 28 through April 2 in the Chapel.

The guest star will be Mr. Jack Eddleman. Jack Eddleman is a talented on-Broadway, off-Broadway, and period actor who will appear as Fred Graham in the coming production of "Kiss Me Kate." He graduated from Tulsa University in the Field of Theatre and immediately went to New York to begin working. On Broadway he appeared in "My Fair Lady," "Camelot," where he played opposite Robert Goulet and in the role of Madril the villain, "Fantastics," "Carousel," and numerous other shows—especially musical comedies.

Television has not overlooked Mr. Eddleman. He has appeared on "Naked City," "Dupont Show of the Month," and "Omnibus."

Jack Eddleman made further theatre history as one of the original actors of a New York repertory troupe, the Institution for Advanced Study in Theatre Arts (I.A.S.T.A.) which was founded in 1958. The purpose of IASTA is to bring foreign directors to the U.S. to direct plays which are indigenous to their own languages.

More of Jack Eddleman's work has been in the realm of summer stock theatre on Cape Cod and the West Coast. Last spring he was featured in Fortune Magazine with Carol Channing on a show of musical reviews.

Just before Jack flies into Clarion from Pittsburgh, he will conduct a one-man show, "An Evening of Musical Comedy," in Tulsa. The show is a history of musical comedy from the original opera of "Black Crook" (1876) to contemporary shows such as "Camelot," "Kiss Me Kate," and "My Fair Lady."

Mr. Jerry Abbott is the professional choreographer.

During his years in the service, he toured North Africa, Italy, Germany, and France, while a member of the "Mickey Rooney Jeep Shows." After his discharge, Mr. Abbott returned to New York, where he studied under the tutelage of "Igor Yoriskevitch" at Bal Arts and later the "American Theatre Ballet." Next Mr. Abbott spent two years with "Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo" and then was a member of the original companies of "Guys and Dolls" and "Gentlemen Prefer Blonds" on Broadway. As a member of the dance team billed as "Abbott and Wills" he toured the U.S. and Canada, appearing at the "Versailles" and the "Copacabana" in New York. Mr. Abbott has also appeared on major television shows: "The Robert Q. Lewis Show" and "The Hit Parade."

As choreographer he is teaching our 12 dancing students from the show, the dance routines for "Kiss Me Kate." The results of his work here will be seen when the curtain opens on March 28.

Judy Tuminella and Dan Preuhs are the lead dancers and will play Lois Lane and Bill Calhoun. Jill Ann Norris will play the role of Lilli Vanessi, opposite the guest star. Bob Miller will appear as Harry, and Bill Lee as Gremio. These performers will be backed by an additional cast of 42 students.

The story centers around a troupe of actors who are performing a Shakespearean play, "Taming of the Shrew." The set for "Kiss Me Kate" has been under construction since Christmas and was designed by Dr. Adam Weiss, technical producer.

Two Students Receive Grants

Two CSC students have been accepted for graduate study.

Nina (Becky) Stewart has won a $2,000 teaching grant in French at the University of Pittsburgh graduate school.

Nina's hometown is Harrisburg. She studied last year in Paris, France. She is majoring in French.

Roger Colucci has been accepted at Western Reserve for graduate studies in French.

Roger's hometown is Erie. He studied last year in Besancon, France. He is majoring in French and minoring in speech.

DR. DON DRAGOO, visiting scholar series speaker, and Dr. Gustav Konitzky, CSC archaeology professor, discuss the topic of Dr. Dragoo's March first lecture, "Archaeology of the Ohio."

The sessions were also open to other students of the college.

The purpose of such conclaves, which are held annually, is "to make tangible to the men of Alpha Chi Rho, the fraternity world, the academic community and the public at large, the undeviating purpose of Alpha Chi Rho to encourage scholarship among its members and in the fraternity world generally." The problems of personal and chapter scholarship were discussed in so far as they are common to all groups or to individual chapters and students. Dr. Horlacher stressed that people will usually be as successful out of college as they are while they're in.

He spoke of the student as a part of society with an occupation like a plumber or doctor. As we expect craftsmen or professional men to be competent, so we should expect the student to put forth an effort to be a competent and successful student. Dr. Horlacher stressed that a student should put in at least 48 hours of study each week, including class time, and tests. As for studying itself, techniques of learning were discussed. Tutoring by brothers who do well in certain subjects, study and review sessions and many other methods were suggested to boost scholarship in the fraternities.

Arrangements for this Conclave were made by the host chapter, Mu Phi of Alpha Chi Rho, which last year was first in scholarship on Clarion's campus. Visiting brothers were provided with rooms in Balentine Hall and ate in the new dining hall. After everyone had arrived Friday night, a reception was held at the temporary home of the fraternity, so everyone could get acquainted. All expenses were met by the Alpha Chi Rho Education Foundation, which has been in existence since 1950.

Though there are about 10 semi-scholarship fraternities in the United States, Alpha Chi Rho is one of the few social fraternities which strives to put the necessary emphasis on scholarship and achieve a proper balance in the activities of its members. Students, whether members or not, are often granted loans for college from the fraternity's Education Foundation.

LEAD DANCERS Judy Tuminella and Dan Preuhs practice a routine for Kiss Me Kate.

Department to Present Musical, "Kiss Me Kate"

The department of speech and dramatic arts will present "Kiss Me Kate," a Broadway musical, on March 28 through April 2 in the Chapel.

The guest star will be Mr. Jack Eddleman. Jack Eddleman is a talented on-Broadway, off-Broadway, and period actor who will appear as Fred Graham in the coming production of "Kiss Me Kate." He graduated from Tulsa University in the Field of Theatre and immediately went to New York to begin working. On Broadway he appeared in "My Fair Lady," "Camelot," where he played opposite Robert Goulet and in the role of Madrin the villain, "Fantasies," "Carousel," and numerous other shows—especially musical comedies.

Television has not overlooked Mr. Eddleman. He has appeared on "Naked City," "Dupont Show of the Month," and "Omnibus."

Jack Eddleman made further theatre history as one of the original actors of a New York repertory troupe, the Institution for Advanced Study in Theatre Arts (I.A.S.T.A.) which was founded in 1958. The purpose of IASTA is to bring foreign directors to the U.S. to direct plays which are indigenous to their own languages.

More of Jack Eddleman's work has been in the realm of summer stock theatre on Cape Cod and the West Coast. Last spring he was featured in Fortune Magazine with Carol Channing on a show of musical reviews.

Just before Jack flies into Clarion from Pittsburgh, he will conduct a one-man show, "An Evening of Musical Comedy," in Tulsa. The show is a history of musical comedy from the original opera of "Black Crook" (1876) to contemporary shows such as "Camelot," "Kiss Me Kate," and "My Fair Lady."

Mr. Jerry Abbott is the professional choreographer.

During his years in the service, he toured North Africa, Italy, Germany, and France, while a member of the "Mickey Rooney Jeep Shows." After his discharge, Mr. Abbott returned to New York, where he studied under the tutelage of "Igor Yoriskevitch" at Ballet Arts and later the "American Theatre Ballet." Next Mr. Abbott spent two years with "Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo" and then was a member of the original companies of "Guys and Dolls" and "Gentlemen Prefer Blonds" on Broadway. As a member of the dance team billed as "Abbott and Wills" he toured the U.S. and Canada, appearing at the "Versailles" and the "Copacabana" in New York. Mr. Abbott has also appeared on major television shows: "The Robert Q. Lewis Show" and "The Hit Parade."

As choreographer he is teaching our 12 dancing students from the show, the dance routines for "Kiss Me Kate." The results of his work here will be seen when the curtain opens on March 28.

Judy Tuminella and Dan Preuhs are the lead dancers and will play Lois Lane and Bill Calhoun. Jill Ann Norris will play the role of Lilli Vanessi, opposite the guest star. Bob Miller will appear as Harry, and Bill Lee as Gremio. These performers will be backed by an additional cast of 42 students.

The story centers around a troupe of actors who are performing a Shakespearean play, "Taming of the Shrew." The set for "Kiss Me Kate" has been under construction since Christmas and was designed by Dr. Adam Weiss, technical producer.

Editorially Speaking . . .

A Time to Demonstrate

Today much publicity is given to the activities of America's college students. One can pick up almost any newspaper or magazine and read about college movements advocating free speech or free love, movements protesting the policy of a college or university administration on any number of questions and, more recently, such movements involving such tactics as draft card burnings, teach-ins or demonstrations protesting the United States' involvement in Viet Nam. Up until several weeks ago, Clarion State had no cause to protest for, or against, but through the efforts of Richard Bonfanti, Clarion has become a school with a cause.

Rich Bonfanti conceived the idea of a Green Beret Day to be celebrated on March 17, a day on which the Irish traditionally celebrate by wearing green to honor St. Patrick. Green Beret Day was planned to honor the American Special Forces who wear the green berets and to honor all our fighting men in Viet Nam. The idea caught on and the whole town of Clarion became involved in plans for observing the event. The story was picked up by the Associated Press and United Press International wire services. The news spread throughout the United States and abroad. Letters and wires in support of the idea came from 22 states and several foreign countries. The director of the Special Forces, several legislators and government officials, a labor leader and the president of the student body of a well-known university wrote letters of support. The blossoming of the idea showed the nation that college students have the potential to do more than protest.

It's an established fact that in sporting events, the team with rooters cheering on the sidelines keeps a high morale and has a greater desire to win. Accordingly, putting all politics aside, since the United States has committed itself in Viet Nam, the American men who are fighting and dying there deserve to be saluted and encouraged. Green Beret Day served this purpose.

Grassroots Questions —

Faculty Member Asks:

Does a disciplinary committee or a facsimile thereof exist at the present time? If one exists, who are the members, and how is this committee handled?

Administrator Answers:

Yes, although "disciplinary" committee is not the preferred term, such an organ does exist. The members of the basic committee are the dean of students, the dean of men, the dean of women, and the assistant dean of students. Any other administrators, faculty members, and/or staff members who are directly related to any incident referred to the basic committee may be called upon to serve on the committee.

First and most important, the committee is to be a fact-finding group. When a decision on probation is made, the committee goes no further. If a decision of suspension for a student is passed, the committee makes a recommendation that the student be suspended to the president, who is the direct representative to the Board of Trustees.

At the time of a decision by the basic committee, the person appearing is informed of his rights. If the person involved is not satisfied, he may request a hearing or trial with counsel. In such instances, the president appoints, ad hoc, a new committee of faculty, administrators, students, and staff members.

Any student who feels that he has been mistreated concerning disciplinary matters is asked to see the dean of students.

Student Asks:

Why are cafeteria lunch rates for faculty members lower than rates for commuters?

Administrator Answers:

Both faculty members and commuters must pay 85 cents for a lunch. A news bulletin of special dining rates for staff members—resident staff members—was misinterpreted. As a result, during part of one week, faculty members were charged a reduced rate for lunches, but the error was corrected within a few days time.

Student Asks:

Who established the rule, and why are resident students required to eat in the college cafeteria?

Administrators Answer:

This rule was established long ago by administrative policy and is recorded in the official college catalog. Students cannot purchase a meal which is as well-balanced and inexpensive as those served in the dining hall at any restaurant in Clarion.

"The World of Chilli Wang," scheduled for the Chapel on Tuesday, March 22, 1966, has been cancelled.

BILL KAIL, new Student Senate president, shakes hands with Jerry Marterer, former president, as the Senate begins a new term.

Alumni Notes

One of the oldest practitioners of medicine in Pennsylvania lives and practices in Brookville, Pa. He is Dr. Arthur Clifton McKinley of the class of 1900 Clarion Normal School. Recently this writer visited Dr. McKinley and the thought occurred that present students at Clarion might be interested in his story.

Dr. McKinley was raised and received his common school education in and near Corsica. He attended the Corsica Academy and following his graduation there, he came to Clarion for a single term. He then took his teacher's examination and began teaching for $28 a month through a seven-month school term.

After his first year of teaching, he returned to Clarion and took the Junior examinations. Passing these he was admitted to his senior year. He graduated in 1900 and returned to school teaching. Along with teaching school, Dr. McKinley clerked in his father's store and worked on his brother's farm to earn sufficient money to return to school.

He received a B.S. degree from Grove City College and his M.D. from Western University of Pennsylvania, now the University of Pittsburgh. In 1908, he returned to Jefferson County with $100 in capital and became a horse and saddle doctor. Soon he could afford a buggy and how his eyes flash when he tells of driving a fast horse in that buggy.

Dr. A. C. McKinley has, in 58 years of practice, delivered over 6,000 babies. There are not that many living Alumni of Clarion State College. In earlier years he performed much simple surgery at the site, home, work, or wherever the injury took place. The people of the farms, mines, and industry of northern Jefferson County were his patients. He answered their calls day and night.

Dr. and Mrs. McKinley raised a family of four boys and three girls. Those four boys followed their father into medicine and returned to practice in their home town. A grandson is also studying medicine as is the husband of a granddaughter.

Today Dr. McKinley is still very much active in his profession. He keeps regular hours in his office and answers house calls. He remarks that young people do not want an "old" doctor, but one gets the feeling from talking to him that age is not important and that this doctor is still a top performer in the field of medicine.

Dr. A. C., as he is known in Brookville to separate him from the other Dr. McKinleys, has committed many fine poems to memory. He sat for a considerable time, at our visit, and repeated this poetry with all the skill of a seasoned entertainer. He recited poetry and we listened, bound by the spell cast by this alumnus.

Dr. McKinley credits E. E. Towson, a teacher in the Corsica Academy, with inspiring him to achieve his education. He has instilled in his sons the idea that an education is man's best investment. Dr. McKinley is proud of his association with Clarion State College and this college is proud of this distinguished Alumnus.

FORMER VARSITY C MAN

2nd Lieutenant Louis B. Jumbertotta USMC recently graduated from officers Candidate School and was assigned command of a 12 man rifle squad. Lou graduated in 1964. He will be remembered as a linebacker of the "Golden Eagles." He was a member of Varsity "C" and Alpha Gamma Phi.

Tony Gates, '61, will be teaching this fall at Edinboro State College. He recently received a Masters degree at West Virginia University. His major field is reading. Mrs. Gates, the former Patty Zaeheral, '62, just recently gave birth to a baby boy. Tony was a member of Sigma Tau Gamma.

Edward (Bus) Van Allen, '65, is teaching biology in Rockville, Maryland, and is doing graduate work at the University of Maryland. He was president of Theta Xi while at Clarion. He was married to a classmate, Diane Watson, in August. She teaches English in the same school system. Rockville is just outside Washington, D. C.

Alfred B. Charley

Dear Editor:

The distortion of St. Patrick's Day to "Green Beret Day" is a highly commercialized and gaudy emotional trap to catch those who know next-to-nothing of the background of Viet Nam. It is more than sad to see so many students taken in. The more informed are not eager to endorse our intervention in an essentially domestic civil war, where we, who are exterminating women and children with bombs and fire, are the only foreigners.

One might ask the following: 1. Why, if it is merely aggression and terror, did so many Americans press Diem for social and economic reforms to win the people from the Viet Cong? 2. Why did Johnson press Ky for such reforms at Honolulu? 3. If this is aggression, why are our allies so unconcerned, but so disturbed by our policy? 4. Is it aggression for both North and South Vietnamese to attempt to reunify their land in the same way as did Lincoln in 1861? 5. What kind of nation are we becoming to have our military in over two-thirds of the countries on the globe?

The following quotations are from an article by Sergeant Donald Duncan in February's Ramparts. Duncan was in Special Forces (berets) for six years including Viet Nam. The statement quoted fully reflect my views.

"We were told continuously 'You don't have to kill them (prisoners) yourself. Let your indigenous counterpart do that.' We were taught Soviet Security methods of torture to extract information.

"When teaching Special Forces how to set up guerrilla warfare in enemy country, killing unpopular officials is pointed out as one method of gaining friends among the populace. It is recommended that special ASSASSINATION teams be set up for this purpose.

"We have allowed the creation of a military monster that will lie to our elected officials; and that both of them will lie to the American people.

"When I returned from Viet Nam I was asked, 'Do you resent young people who have never been in Viet Nam, protesting it?' On the contrary, I am relieved. I think they should be commended. I had to wait until I was 35 years old, after spending 10 years in the Army and 18 months personally witnessing the stupidity of the war, before I could figure it out. That these young people were able to figure it out so quickly and so accurately is not only a credit to their intelligence but a great personal triumph over a lifetime of conditioning and indoctrination."

Sincerely,
K. F. EMERICK

Dear Editor:

The production of The Bald Soprano and the little essay on page one of Volume 37, No. 9 of the Clarion Call has inspired me also to write a play. My play will be a great play because that is the sort being written today.

What I want to show in my play is that when human beings get together, their getting together is a barrier to their getting together. Therefore, if a human being is unhappy, it's the fault of other human beings, since obviously happiness is something others are supposed to give you when you get together with them, except that you can't. Therefore, life is unhappy.

My play thus shows conclusively that whereas fleas, ants, apple trees, dogs, squid, hyenas, and pigs are admirably suited to life by virtue of their natures, man is not. A hog makes sense, but man, because he is man, does not. This is self-evident. Hence it is shown that if the world were devoid of human life, it would be a splendid place in which to live.

There is a tremendously exciting scene in my play illustrating the absurdity of playwrights who show the absurdity of men in a world where men are too absurd to grasp their absurdity—except for college professors who touchingly profess that the opinion of playwrights who say that college professors are absurd is an indisputable fact.

I also prove conclusively that man is unable to see because he has eyes, that he is unable to communicate because he has language, that he's unable to think because he has a mind, and that he's unable to live, because he is a man.

The climax of the play, I must admit, is a sensation. The cast leads the audience in a little anthem I've composed called "The Suicide Rag" at the end of which during the last, syncopated, downbeat, minor bar, everyone slits his throat. My producer thinks that this is too positive and that humans are not capable of such decisive action, but I am not so pessimistic.

The name of my play is "The Unhuman Noncondition," and I'd tell you more about it, but I don't want to give away the non-plot.

Yours for really great, soul-lifting art.

Debaters Have T. V. Engagement

Clarion State's debate team will appear on television on April 16, 1966, over WJAC-TV, Channel 6 from Johnstown, at 2 p.m., against debaters from the University of West Virginia.

Clarion will take the affirmative on the proposition "Resolved: That the United States should remove all barriers to non-military trade with communist nations."

Debating for Clarion will be two sophomores, John Mann and Twila Yates. Mann and Yates were teamed together for the Buffalo tournament on February 18 and 19 of this year, and were undefeated in five rounds. Mann was also on the Clarion team that took first place at St. John Fisher in Rochester, New York, on February 4 and 5. He debated in the Rochester tournament with freshman Mike Feri-anc.

The television debate will follow a modified cross examination format, with speeches cut down to fit the 30 minutes allotted to the program. The program will be taped on April 12, in Johnstown.

Other debates on the series will be St. Vincent's against West Virginia on March 12, at 2:30, and Penn State against West Virginia on May 15, at 3:30.

Forensic Frosh Take Honors In Three Debating Meets

The weekend of March 5, four Clarion freshmen took first place at the fourth annual State Colleges debate tournament, held this year at Clarion.

Judy Brandalick and Pat Dobson on the affirmative and Lee Calway and June Rudolph on the negative compiled a 6-2 record and a total of 30 quality points, which was good for first place. Kutztown took second place with a record of six wins, two losses, and 12 quality points. East Stroudsburg finished third with a record of five wins, three losses, and five quality points.

Brandalick and Dobson defeated California, East Stroudsburg, and Shippensburg, and lost in the fourth round to Mansfield. Calway and Rudolph defeated Edinboro, Shippensburg, and East Stroudsburg, and lost to Kutztown.

Three Clarion debaters also finished in the top five individual speakers. Lee Calway received an individual trophy as top speaker in the tournament, having compiled a total of 15 of a possible 16 quality points. Steve Heath of Mansfield was the second highest speaker in the tournament with 10 quality points. June Rudolph of Clarion finished third with eight points, Judy Brandalick of Clarion fourth with seven, and Mary Shomper of Kutztown was fifth with six.

Clarionites Attend P.S.E.A. Meet

Five students and a faculty adviser from the CSC student P.S.E.A. presented a program to the Allegheny-Clarion Valley High School on Wednesday, March 2. Those participating were: Beverly Rodemeyer, Pat Poliwczak, Donna Brown, Dete Anthoviak, Bill Amerman, and adviser Dr. Mildred S. Ross.

The program was presented to the P.F.T.A. group at Allegheny-Clarion in the form of a panel discussion which spotlighted academic and social life at CSC. Students talked about their experiences in classes and studies, their first impressions of Clarion when they were incoming freshmen, dormitory living, and the varied social calendar.

This is part of the student P.S.E.A.'s "Big Brother" Program, a service of the college group to the Future Teacher's groups, and it is a means for the student P.S.E.A. to continue its diversified activities.

ALPHA CHI RHO

Our Scholarship Conclave of two weeks ago kept us rather busy finding rooms for visiting brothers and National officers, and keeping them entertained. But when the confusion settled down and all was tallied up, we gave ourselves a good pat on the back, and feel all was successful. We're sure that anyone who heard Dr. Horiacher's inspiring talk was affected in some way.

Since this article is handed in early in the week and our Hootenanny was scheduled for Friday (last night), it's difficult to say much except a brief thank you to all the brothers and pledges who worked hard to make it go off, and a special thanks to all the groups who participated.

Alpha Chi Rho has finally found a place to call home, we are happy to announce. Next fall all brothers and pledges and a few interested men, will live together in what we can, for the first time, call a fraternity house. Needless to say, this is a big step forward for us and one on which we've been working for two years.

Alpha Chi Rho fraternity sponsored a scholarship conclave at CSC on March 5.

Three Students Receive Terms

Mr. Thaddeus P. Droast, CSC security officer, announced that the three former CSC students involved in the 1964-65 bookstore robbery, were sentenced by Judge Weaver on February 25, to serve not less than six months and not more than one year in the Clarion County Correctional Institution.

Dennis Galvin, Tim Erhard, and Ken Schuster made a payment of $1,400 in restitution to the Clarion Students' Association. They returned $800 in merchandise.

Throughout the hearing, the trio pleaded guilty; no reason for the robbery was given.

Venango Campus

New Resident Assumes Duties

The New Head Resident of Montgomery Hall, Venango Campus, is Mrs. Alice Ault, who hails from Bradford, Pa.

Mrs. Ault has been working as a head resident for over nine years. She held the position at Clarion State College from 1957 through 1959, after which she became a hostess at Penn State University. She then came back to Clarion State where she became the first woman resident to manage an entire hall. She found life at Jefferson pleasant, but soon wanted a change. The idea of a co-ed hall was just the type of change she thought would be challenging, so she decided to transfer to Montgomery Hall. She finds it a welcome one and is enjoying her work with the Campus students.

She has also taught school for 18 years before assuming the position of head resident.

Committees Plan Events

The various student committees of Venango Campus are currently preparing future activities for the students.

The athletic committee, under the chairmanship of Tom Swartz, is working on the expansion of the recreational programs at the Campus. The basketball schedule was expanded to 13 games, and next season should bring from 18 to 20 games.

The committee is also planning to present the Vulcans, coached by Clement Urban, with sweaters and letters. Due to the increased budget allotment, the athletic committee was able to purchase new basketball uniforms in addition to equipment for intramural baseball which will begin in the spring.

In addition, the committee also promotes the Venango Campus Judo Club under the direction of Andor S. P-Jobb.

The social committee, directed by Mrs. Mary Williams and headed by Jon Kallmyer, is now planning for the annual spring formal which will be held April 30, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Wanago Country Club.

The cultural committee is reviewing and selecting a number of films to be shown during the coming fall and spring semesters. Director for the committee is Mrs. Allene Masterson. It is headed by Terry Shaughnessy.

Philosophies Discuss Liberties

"The Philosophies" held a meeting Sunday, March 13, in the Venango Campus Student Lounge.

Professors Ronald C. Shumaker and Alastair Crawford were the faculty members who attended. The discussion concerned the Supreme Court and civil liberties. The death penalty was hotly debated as well as citizens' rights to protection against crime. The criminals' rights were covered and the new novel, "In Cold Blood," by Truman Capote was reviewed by Mr. Shumaker. The lively discussion was ended with divided opinions about the topic.

Delegate Picked

Miss Penny Umbriet, sophomore here at Venango Campus, has been chosen by the student body to represent the Campus at the annual Laurel Festival to be held April 13 and 14, in Brookville, Pa.

Miss Helen Jo Marschinke, sophomore at Clarion and a former Venango Campus student, was selected by the Oil City Chamber of Commerce to represent the city at the Festival.

The winner of the Laurel Festival will then be a candidate for the Miss America Contest to be held at a later date.

Students View Citizen Kane

On Sunday evening, March 6, Venango Campus students attended the film, "Citizen Kane," shown in the campus student lounge. The movie was based on the life of William Randolph Hearst, newspaper tycoon. Starring were Orson Welles, Joseph Cotton, and Agnes Moorhead.

On Sunday evening, March 20, the cultural committee will present another movie, "Cyrano De Bergerac."

RECORD HOP

On Friday evening, March 11, the Venango Campus social committee sponsored a dance in the student lounge. "The Reefers," rock and roll band from Clarion, provided the music for the evening. The theme for the dance was "Shamrock A Go-Go." Decorations, which were designed by Ginny Scalco, consisted of green shamrocks, hats, and white pipes.

During the evening, door prizes were awarded to Jane Stiglitz, Karen Kennelly, Pat Freeman, and Jim Cleary.

Chaperones for the evening were Mr. Ronald Shumaker and Mr. Olaf Malm.

The remaining part of the semester holds two more record hops and a spring formal. The formal, which will be held April 30, will be held at Wanago Country Club. Entertainment for the evening will be provided by Tommy Payne's Orchestra of Pittsburgh. The theme for the formal will be revealed at a later date.

Vulcans Defeat Edinboro Team

The Venango Campus Vulcans climaxed their 1965-66 cage season by rolling to an easy 76-52 victory over Warren Center of Edinboro. This win set the Vulcans' record at seven wins and six losses, fulfilling their bid for a season above the .500 percentage mark.

In the first half Venango's counter to Warren's offense was dominated by the man-for-man defense and an occasional drift into the man-for-man press. But in the last two minutes of the half, a 1-2 zone was deployed. The halftime score was Venango, 41, Warren, 24.

During the second half, both V.C.'s offense and defense were slowed down because of numerous injuries acquired in the two earlier quarters. Again the 1-2-2 was used by Coach Urban and his cagers throughout the half.

Although Warren outscored the Vulcans from the free-throw line, Venango's field goal attack completely overwhelmed their opponents.

Leading the Vulcans in the scoring columns were Dave Hensel, with 20 points, followed by Molhoek and Harlan, each with 15. Gallagher and Hannald set the pace for Warren with 18 and 16 points respectively.

Senate Notes

The term of the 1965-66 Clarion State College Student Senate has come to an end. Looking back on his term of office, former president Jerry Marterer comments, "Although the interests of some concerned left quite a bit to be desired, I feel that the efforts of the Senate in achieving a versatile instrument of student government were not in vain. We have come closer to achieving optimum organization through the establishment of written policies instead of handed down rules. I feel that the position we have taken will be upheld by the new Senate."

Asked about the new Senate, Jerry replies, "It seems that the students have chosen an upstanding group of representatives."

The officers for the year 1966-67 are as follows:

The new president who will preside over the Senate is Bill Kail, a junior from Pittsburgh; Thomas Hamilton, a junior from Los Angeles, Calif., who has previously served as a senator, will be the vice president. Judy Shrum, a sophomore from Beaver Falls, has been re-elected senator.

Other officers include: vice president, Sandra Scullo; membership chairman, Sharon Bayuk; secretary, Judi Darnofall; treasurer, Karen Skirpan; ritual, Karen Rebich, and historian, Kathy Glaser. The new executive board members are now having their training period under the guidance of the present officers. Congratulations and best of luck to each new officer! This summer Leanne and Sharon will be traveling by jet to Houston, Texas, for the Zeta Tau Alpha National Convention. At least two of our Zeta Sisters can plan a memorable summer, well in advance.

Our Province President, Mrs. Lore Ha Switzer made a four day visit to our Delta Iota chapter. Mrs. Switzer stayed at the Clarion Motor Lodge during her visit. She had a busy schedule of conferences with all officers and committee chairmen, and reviewed our chapter procedures, including an initiation ceremony. The Zetas held a party in her honor with the new pledges attending. Entertainment was provided by the "Zeta Six," a duet by Carla Burgason and Josie Marshall; monologues by Francine Rieckel and Janet Royer; and a solo by Laura Hettinger. A sincere thanks to our talented sisters for making Mrs. Switzer's party so successful.

The Zetas finally received their long-awaited sorority blankets.

ALPHA CHI RHO

Our Scholarship Conclave of two weeks age kept us rather busy finding rooms for visiting brothers and National officers, and keeping them entertained. But when the confusion settled down and all was tallied up, we gave ourselves a good pat on the back, and feel all was successful. We're sure that anyone who heard Dr. Horlacher's inspiring talk was affected in some way.

Since this article is handed in early in the week and our Hootenanny was scheduled for Friday (last night), it's difficult to say much except a brief thank you to all the brothers and pledges who worked hard to make it go off, and a special thanks to all the groups who participated.

Alpha Chi Rho has finally found a place to call home, we are happy to announce. Next fall all brothers and pledges and a few interested men, will live together in what we can, for the first time, call a fraternity house. Needless to say, this is a big step forward for us and one on which we've been working for two years.

Alpha Chi Rho fraternity sponsored a scholarship conclave at CSC on March 5.

The sisters are looking forward to our annual Dinner Dance which will be held on April 16, and to participation in Greek Weekend.

Pink roses and congratulations go to Elaine Daniels for representing Clarion in the Campus Cover Girl Contest in the Pittsburgh Press. We're all behind you Elaine—good luck!

The Deltas are really working hard on football practice for the games during Greek Weekend. Our coaches have advised us that we'd better eat, drink, and sleep football if we want to have a winning team. All of us are anxiously looking forward to Greek Weekend, so get out and practice girls!

Delta Zeta sorority sends pink roses and our thanks to Lois Evans for providing transportation in the dorm. You certainly make the trips to the lobby and study lounge easier Lois—once again we all thank you!

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

The brothers of Alpha Gamma Phi congratulate brothers Warnick, McCollim, Catanzano, and Jones on being elected student senators. We also congratulate brothers Warnick, for taking the state championship in the wrestling tournament, Kemp and McCollim for doing so well, and Coach Lignelli and his entire team for a fine season.

Good luck to Coach Ruslavage and the track team and also good luck to Coach Knowles and the baseball team this spring.

The Kinkers, consisting of brothers DeRiggi, Crystal, Vagani, Dellabetta, Finerty, Lowery, Tum-inella, Persi, Holleran, and Sacco are congratulated for taking second place.

When Our Gang and the Kinkers played each other in a recent game, it was good to see the sportsmanship and good conduct displayed by both teams. Thank you both for representing our fraternity so well.

Brother Dellapizza is handling the pledges very well this semester.

Brother R. J. Catrazz did a fine job in coaching the intramural team this year.

We are glad to see that brothers Dempster, Krieger, and Catanzano came back safe and sound on their good will trip to Wisconsin.

Three Students Receive Terms

Mr. Thaddeus P. Droast, CSC security officer, announced that the three former CSC students involved in the 1964-65 bookstore robbery, were sentenced by Judge Weaver on February 25, to serve not less than six months and not more than one year in the Clarion County Correctional Institution.

Dennis Galvin, Tim Erhard, and Ken Schuster made a payment of $1,400 in restitution to the Clarion Students' Association. They returned $800 in merchandise.

Throughout the hearing, the trio pleaded guilty; no reason for the robbery was given.

New Boiler plant addition is part of CSC expansion.

Clarion State Heating Plant Nearly Finished

Clarion State College will soon be operating at almost double its present heating capacity with the installation of a new water storage tank, softener and boiler plant addition.

According to the general contractors, Forest Builders, Inc., the new heating unit will add 500 additional horsepower to the present 750 horsepower output. This added heating power is necessary to accommodate the needs of the rapidly expanding building program now underway at CSC.

The heating plant, located behind Science Hall and the Chapel, has always been a "no man's land" to students. It is operated by a full-time crew. These men help in producing the heat and hot water used in the laundry and other buildings on campus. They are responsible for keeping the giant boilers fed with 24 tons of coal per day as well as watching many intricate safety devices which prevent the pressure from rising too high.

With the addition of this new heating unit, these men will be kept twice as busy supplying heat and hot water for the students of CSC. No longer will the girls in Ralston Hall have to take cold showers.

Nothing shows a man's character more than what he laughs at.

Ten Lettermen Return To Baseball Diamond

Clarion State's baseball coach, Mr. Joe Knowles, reports the return of 10 lettermen from last year's NAIA (National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics) regional championship team.

Although there are 10 lettermen returning, Coach Knowles lost three of his starting pitchers from last year: Fred Harkness, Mike Holmes, and Gene Floriani. If the team gets a few breaks, Coach Knowles feels he can repeat the feats of last year's squad.

Four veteran pitchers are expected to carry the load this year: Don Homan, Jim Hazlett, Joe Filipowski, and Tony Vincent. Three freshmen will also get a chance to show their talent: Dan Speal, Bill Kelly, and Fred Korman. In the catching department there is only one veteran, Micky Reed. He can expect some assistance from freshman John Lukac.

Two outfielders, Bill Muha and Jim Dumire, though not power hitters, are able to reach base a good percentage of the time. Denny Doyle will have the responsibility of covering first base this year.

The first game will be a double-header at Lock Haven on April 13. The first home game will be a double-header with California on April 16.

Eagles Plan

Spring Workouts

Candidates for the Clarion State Football team next fall will have spring practice starting March 28.

The reason for this "Spring Football" is to give Coach Jacks an idea of the potential for next year's squad. The boys will practice until May 4, which will give them time to study for their finals after spring ball is finished.

Coach Jacks has many lettermen returning in the fall. Offensively he has: center: Bill Elder, guards: Bob Butt, Lynn Armstrong, Chuck McKinney, Rich Snedbold, and hopefully, Dan Stellute, tackles: Jim Dobrancin, and Tom Hamilton, ends: Paul Horvath and Glenn Ridinger, wingbacks: Jim Miller and Tom Kurtz, quarterbacks: Mike Zaccari and John Kricer, and running back: Mick Catto.

The only offensive position without the benefit of some experience is fullback, Bill Wise, a freshman fullback last year, who will have first shot at this position in practice.

The defensive unit, minus allstate "Bo" Garritano, will also have many lettermen returning. These boys include: John "Hawk" DeRiggi, Bob Castagna, Bob Crystal, Tom Reiber, Fran Sirianni, Jim Levy, Al Prenovitz, Chuck Norris, and Denny Atkinson.

Clarion State's record last year was 6 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. Many of the boys feel that this record can be improved. Nine games are scheduled for this year.

Two transfer students are expected to give the team a boost next fall. Jim Alcorn, a transfer student from Pitt, will be fighting for the quarterback position with John Kricer and Mike Zaccari. Ralph Beck, a transfer student from Catawba College in North Carolina, will try to help the team out offensively at guard.

Coach Knowles has one big problem this season. The old field is being torn up for construction of the new science building and the new field is not completed. Thus, the baseball team will be competing in the baseball program this year without adequate playing facilities.

RIFLEMEN PLACE SECOND

The Clarion State College Rifle Team clinched second place in the Allegheny Intercollegiate Rifle League on Friday, March 4, by defeating Carnegie Tech 1406 to 1388 in a match fired on the Clarion range.

Both Tech and Clarion had lost three matches before the Friday night encounter. Clarion had beaten Allegheny College on Thursday night, March 3, on the home range, also. The win on Friday night left the local team with a record of nine wins and three losses for the season. The Clarion team also set a new record team score for a Clarion team in firing 1408 against Geneva on February 25.

This is a considerably better record than any previous record set by a Clarion team. The previous record was nine wins and nine losses set last year.

The highest individual average for a Clarion shooter in league competition was fired by Jack Parry with a 281.83 average for the year. David Slater with a season average of 279.17 and Alan Zepp with an average of 277.92 both had averages higher than the 277.91 posted, by David Phanco last year.

Tom Todd Out of NAIA

Clarion State College junior Tom Todd, the Pennsylvania State College wrestling champion in the 115 pound weight class, will be unable to participate in the NAIA this weekend held at St. Cloud, Minnesota, due to fractured ribs obtained while gaining the Pennsylvania title.

Coach Frank Lignelli will replace Todd with freshman Raymond Day. Others representing Clarion in NAIA are: Ken Warnick, Jerry Kemp, and Frank Grundler.

Becht Hall Girls Take Volleyball Championship

On February 24, the Becht Unknowns became the champions of the girls' intramural volleyball tournament for 1966.

The team went undefeated in Thursday night competition against nine other teams, and met the winners of Monday night's competition to decide the championship of the 22 registered teams. The Becht Unknowns, captained by Amy Woody, emerged the victors with a score of 21 to 12.

The highlight of winning the championship was the game played March 3 against the women faculty members. In a best out of three situation the Becht Unknowns once again continued in their championship style by winning the first two games.

The faculty team comprised of Miss Gloria Yough, Mrs. Betty Simpson, Miss Imogene Sumner, Mrs. Maryanne Garcia, Miss Francine Shope, Dr. Mildred Ross, and Miss Ritchey, made a good showing and at one point led the Becht Unknowns by 10 points.

The championship team is comprised of juniors Amy Woody, captain, Millie Homziak, Marcia Ferguson, Chris Kovecevik, and Sallie Nolf; sophomores Dawn Fedorka, Sheryl Smith, and Nancy Lehm; and freshmen Linda Sonnenfeld and Darlene Bock. Last year the Becht Unknowns finished second in the competition.

A traveling trophy with the team's name will be placed in Becht Hall for the ensuing year. Later this semester, each girl will receive a trophy for the team's accomplishment.

New Gym Will Enhance Intramurals

CSC's athletic program for the student body will probably be more advanced than ever expected when Clarion's new gymnasium is completed about two years hence.

As of now, only the major sports of football, soccer, bowling, volleyball, softball, and basketball, along with such minor sports as ping-pong, and horseshoes, are being offered at Clarion. However, upon the opening of the new gym, there will be added to this program such activities as: archery, swimming, squash, hand ball, gymnastics, and water polo.

According to intramural department head, Mr. Joseph Knowles, "The new gymnasium will provide us with more and better facilities and allow us to expand our intramural program." Coach Knowles has been working hard this year to make the student's athletic program a success, but he doesn't have the space or the equipment in many cases. Mr. Knowles had everything arranged this year to include archery in the men's intramural program, but there was no space available for the sport. Problems such as these will be more easily solved when the new gym is opened.

Coach Knowles also stated that he would like to have two leagues in the new intramural program, instead of the conventional one which is being used now. Under the new system, fraternities would all be in one league and would play each other, while the independent organizations would compete for a trophy in another league. When the season was over, the leader of each league would clash for the intramural championship. Mr. Knowles feels that this would bring added interest to the program and also give everybody a fair chance.

Clarion Singers Offer Concert

The Clarion State College Concert Choir and the Clarion Madrigal Singers under the direction of Olaf Malmin, will present the annual Spring Choral Concert, Tuesday evening, April 5. The event will be held at the Clarion Area High School Auditorium and will begin at 8 p.m.

The Madrigal Singers will open the concert with Factus Est Repente (Suddenly there was a sound from Heaven), a sixteenth motet by Gregor Aichinger. A series of both sacred and secular pieces including a spiritual, Ain'a That Good News, will follow. Madrigals from Germany, England and Italy as well as a contemporary American madrigal, Rise Up My Love, My Fair One by Donovan Fried, will be sung.

The first number presented by the Choir will be Johannes Brahms' Liebeslieder Waltzes, or "Love-song Waltzes." This nineteenth century work consists of a series of love poems taken from a cycle called "Polydora" by the German poet, Daumer, all set to music in waltz tempo of three-quarter time. Dr. Robert Van Meter of the Music Department and Mrs. Roberta Newton of Emlenton, will be the pianists for this work. Featured soloists will be Jill Ann Norris and Dick Slater.

In contrast to this work, the choir's second piece will be the cantata, Christ Lay in Death's Strong Hands by Johann Sebastian Bach. Each of the seven major sections is based on the Chorale tune and text, Christ lag in Todes- banden. Mrs. Newton will again serve as accompanist for the choir and soloists Jill Ann Norris and Dick Slater.

Members of the Madrigal Singers are: Mary Kirby, Martha McMinn, Kaye Mitchell, Sallie Nolf, Jill Norris, Sandra Strattan, Marilyn Studley, Patti Ferrari, Jackie Gerard, Jayne Logan, Lynne Mason.

And Jill Peirce, Sandra Schachter, Amy Woody, Connie Zahniser, Chris Daniels, Carl Glass, Dick Locke, Lec Mock, Dick Slater, Bill Demma, Dennis Huff, Don Kress, and Jack McGuire.

Clarion Hosts Teacher Meeting

The Clarion State College Student Pennsylvania State Education Association is hosting the Midwestern Region PSEA-PFTA Spring Convention on our campus today.

Among the 450 delegates are PSEA members from Grove City, Slippery Rock, Thiel, Geneva, and Westminister Colleges, and Future Teacher groups from Beaver, Butler, Clarion, Lawrence, and Mercer Counties.

The convention began with registration at 8:45 and a general session in the College Chapel. Greetings were brought to the group by President James Gemmell, and Dr. John Mellon gave the keynote address on the convention theme, "The Teacher of Today." The remainder of the convention consisted in discussion groups, an informal lunch, business meetings and election of regional officers.

Simone Szymkowiak and Julie Mijatov served as co-chairmen in planning this convention, with the aid of Dr. Mildred Ross, faculty advisor. The 14 FTA discussion groups led by our CSC students and faculty, cover such topics as "Educational Demands of Today's Teacher," "New Trends in Teaching," and "Sex Education in the Classroom."

Pat McQuiston, Carol Moore, Mr. Richard Skinner, Betsy McClure, Dr. William Page, Janey Detwiler, Joan Ferris, Kathy Lapcevic, Dan Stewart, Charlotte Tribble, Mrs. Gail Grejda, and Carla Naylor are discussion group leaders.

Others included are Priscilla Green, John Banks, James Crooks, Bill Ammermon, Jean Street, Priscilla Beblo, and Mr. Melvin Mitchell. Mr. Barton Blakeslee, executive director, Jefferson-Clarion County Economic Opportunity Association, and Mrs. Eleanor D. Moore will speak to the college PSEA groups.

The officers of PSEA, Robert A. Drescher president, and Midwest Region vice president, Ruth Pushkar, vice president, Simone Szymkowiak, treasurer, and Linda Dorn, secretary, consider this the largest project the chapter has undertaken this year. With the convention planning ended, the officers are looking forward to the State PSEA Convention to be held April 29 and 30 in Harrisburg, Pa. Chartering a bus with Indiana State University, the Clarion State PSEA chapter is sending 17 delegates and is sponsoring the campaign of our president, Bob Drescher, for the state office of vice president.

Faculty Trio Performing in April

The CSC Faculty Trio and Mr. Christian Bohlen will present a program on Monday, April 18, in the college Chapel.

The CSC Faculty Trio was founded in September 1965. Its members are Miss Helen Poulos, violin; Mr. Vahe Berberian, cello; and Robert Van Meter, piano. The trio will perform the intensive literature written for this combination of instruments by the world's finest composers. The trio has already performed for many high school audiences in Pennsylvania and for various civic and professional groups.

Christian Bohlen comes to this campus from Indiana University where he is a Doctoral Candidate. A native of The Netherlands, Mr. Bohlen has had wide experience as a member of the North Dutch Philharmonic Orchestra; graduate of Amsterdam Conservatory of Music; four years with the Dutch Broadcasting Company; member of the Royal Canadian Regiment Band; taught in the public school system for three years at Fort Wayne, Ind.; and is currently completing work on the Doctor of Music Degree in Performance at Indiana University. Mr. Bohlen will play the clarinet.

The program will include: Trio in C Major by Haydn, Concerto for Clarinet by Cimarosa, Fantasy Suite for Clarinet by Dunhill, Sonata for Clarinet and Piano by Poulenc, and Trio in D: Opus 70 by Beethoven.

Science Exhibit Day Draws Crowd of 500 To Clarion Campus

Mager Publishes Piece

Mr. John G. Mager, serials librarian at Clarion State College Library, recently had an article published in the March issue of Lutheran Education magazine. In this article, Mr. Mager describes and discusses the prospects of California Concordia College, California, where he was formerly an instructor and director of public relations.

Mr. Mager explained what California Concordia has to offer the student who is thinking about a church vocation. He believes the small enrollment of 200 "becomes an asset at Concordia, for the constant contact and close rapport between students and staff make possible a thoroughness of instruction which others may envy."

Mr. Mager will make the article available to anyone who would like to read it.

An estimated 500 persons attended the Clarion State College second annual Science Exhibit Day, Friday, March 25.

The day's events were produced by students and faculty members of the Physical Science, Geography, Biology and Anthropology departments, in order to illustrate equipment and projects being carried on by Clarion students.

Dr. Donald Pierce, head of the Physical Science Department, said, "This year's exhibition was a definite improvement over last year, in that a clear cut theme was carried out. The day went off without a hitch, thanks to the close cooperation of students and faculty members preparing the exhibits."

The aim of Science Exhibit Day at Clarion, according to Dr. Pierce, is to demonstrate for prospective students now in high school, the quality of the science program offered at Clarion. The recent program developed out of the former Science, which were mainly student exhibits. Rather than showing student work, the revised program stresses the use of equipment and processes being learned by students at Clarion.

The theme this year was measurement, and featured the measurement of light velocity, weights, spectroscopy. Other exhibits demonstrated chlorophyll extraction, Indian artifacts, biological specimens of the region museum piece, microscopes, and mineral displays.

OIR Plans For Unique Show

The night of April 27, 1966, will mark another unusual step from the ordinary by the Clarion State College Speech Department's and Oral Interpretive Reading Guild (O.I.R.).

The Guild, under the direction of Miss Amelia Hoover, will present Christopher Fry's A Sleep of Prisoners. Unusual is the word for an O.I.R. program because unlike theatre and drama, oral interpretive reading relies fully on the speech processes and the reader's interpretation of the material to express the emotion, meaning and ideas conceived by the author.

The cast of readers will be: Patricia McQuiston, Douglas Callen, Michael Ward, Donald King, and James Cignetti. Charles Titus will be the lighting director and Marcia Ferguson and Adele Lucci share production directing.

This year will make the third year of Miss Hoover's presence on the CSC faculty and also marks the third anniversary for O.I.R. programming. The performance is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the College Chapel. Tickets will be on sale April 12-26 in Room 81 of the Speech Building. Students and faculty will be admitted free of charge. General public admission will be $1.

Editorially Speaking

The students of Clarion State College who participated in the Broadway musicals presented in the College Chapel are to be commended. Along with the rigors of academic life, these students have contributed their time and talent to productions which were very enjoyable.

Musicals provide an opportunity for some of Clarion's students to exhibit their singing, dancing and acting talents. Judging from audience reaction, it seems safe to assume that the students enjoy the gaiety of a light, fast-moving musical more than a deep involved plot which is trying to convey some great moral message, but which frequently misses the mark. It's a pleasure to be able to sit in an audience and sway with the tunes, and not to ponder over what is supposed to be happening. It's also a pleasure to leave the theater with a gay, happy tune floating through the air, and not the heavy burden of figuring out the mystery with which the plot ended.

The musical productions presented at Clarion were well received, and most students would welcome more of the same. Clarion is a school of many talented students, and this seems an appropriate time to commend them and their faculty advisers for the sharing of their time and talent with others at CSC.

Another member of the class of '65 with summer marriage plans is Tom Mentecki. Tom is presently teaching Social Studies in Mount Lebanon schools. His wedding day is June 18. He was also a member of Theta Xi. The Mentecki's will continue to live in Dormont.

Sue Lindsay, '65, has just directed a very successful production of "Dream World" at the Sheffield Area High School. The dramatics club sponsored this production. Sue now has the senior class play in rehearsal. She has chosen "Tell It To Ethel," a comedy in three acts for this presentation. Sue is teaching English in the Sheffield School.

Another Sheffield teacher, James Goodman, was a classmate of Sue's. Jim was a member of Alpha Gamma Phi. He is married to the former Marilyn Vescomi. Mrs. Goodman is now doing her student teaching at Sheffield Area. They have a little girl. Besides his teaching duties, this first year teacher was an assistant football coach and is supervisor of intramural athletics.

Dave Lewis, '65, is an elementary teacher in Bridgeport, Pa. Dave was a member of Circle K and the college choir while on campus. He was originally from Shipperville and attended Keystone High School.

Michael D. Petrunak, '63, has started graduate work on a part time basis at Penn State. Mike is math teacher and Department Head at Huntingdon Junior High School. He was a member of Alpha Gamma Phi and the PSEA on campus. In June 1964 Mike married Patricia A. Panczek of Johnstown. The Petrunak's do not have any children.

Bill Atchison, '61, is nearing the completion of his academic work toward a Ph.D. in English at the University of Colorado at Denver. Bill is the son of Ross B. Atchison, Manager of the Student Association, here at CSC. He is married to the former Janet Decker, '60, of Clarion. Janet is a sister-in-law of Dr. Williams in the Biology Department. She is teaching high school science in Denver. The Atchison's have no children. Bill was a member of Sigma Tau Gamma and was active in dramatic productions on the campus. Janet was a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma. Many Clarion State College Alu-umni return to teach at their Alma Mater. At present 37 faculty members are Alumni. Many of these have been on the staff for some time. Dr. Samuel Wilhelm, now on sabbatical leave from the history department, has been here as a teacher for the longest period. Dr. Wilhelm began his tenure at CSC as a demonstration teacher assigned to the Main Street Junior High School. This building stood where the Texaco service station now stands. Sam moved to Senior High School and then full time to the campus in 1961.

Mrs. Pauline Wiberg, '44, first grade teacher in the training school was the next member of the Alumni to join the staff. She is married to an Alumnus, L. Robert Wiberg, '48, who is High School Principal in Clarion.

About 10 years ago, quite a number of grads returned to join the faculty. Ernest Aharrah, '49, Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association, returned as a demonstration teacher in high school science. Mrs. Aharrah is the former Peggy Behringer, '49.

Ernest Johnson, '47, became head football coach and baseball coach. Mr. Johnson had been a catcher on previous Clarion squads. He and Mrs. Johnson, the former Margery Lou Cook, '47, were one of the first couples to live in the Veteran's housing beside the chapel while they attended Clarion. Mrs. Johnson is now a member of the faculty as librarian in the Training School library.

Mrs. Eleanor DeWald Moore, '42, joined the library staff about the same time. She served as a librarian for some time later becoming a part of the Department of Library Science.

Dr. John Mellon, '50, originally joined the faculty as a professor of English in the middle 1950's, but left Clarion to complete his doctoral program. He served for a time on the faculty of the University of Pittsburgh. Dr. Mellon returned this year as Dean of Liberal Arts. Frank Lignelli, '50, Financial Aids Officer, joined the faculty as Wrestling Coach and assistant football coach. Frank was a little All-American center when he played football at Clarion. As a student at Clarion, he coached wrestling as well as participating. His teams made good showings then as they continue to do in the present. Mr. Lignelli is married to the former Joyce Simpson, '48, who is librarian at Clarion High School.

Another date we will complete our faculty Alumni when time and space permit.

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Editor:

Two faculty members, Werner Peterke and Kenneth F. Emerick, marched in the End the War in Viet Nam March before the Federal Building in Pittsburgh on Saturday. Mrs. Peterke also took part and said she would have pushed one of her children in a carriage had the weather been reasonable. Despite the rain and blustery cold they carried placards reading: "Viet Nam belongs to the Vietnamese —Bring our troops home," "Children are bleeding, too," and "Let Viet Nam live in peace, not rest in peace."

Mr. Emerick commented that the marchers represented many points of view. "Some marched because they are pacifists or oppose the immoralities of this particular war; others because it is outside traditional American ideals or is injurious to our own best interests. Some of us favor outright withdrawal; some want sincere and flexible positions in regard to negotiations."

"Nevertheless," he stated, "the news media insisted upon lumping us altogether as 'pacifists' in order to downgrade the great moral issues involved in Viet Nam. In addition the media reported the size of the group as 80-100, although Mr. Peterke counted more than 140 at one point. Generally speaking, they cited us as speakers, in the rally that followed, the poorest possible representatives."

Three Pitt students spoke as did Msgr. Charles Owen Rice of Holy Rosary Church in Homewood. Monsignor Rice asked why we could not, "sacrifice as much for peace as we do for war?"

The local group attempted to include CSC students, but their few posters were quickly torn down and efforts to secure a Daily Bulletin announcement were unsuccessful.

Mr. Emerick commented that "apathy and an attitude of non-involvement on this campus is both appalling and frightening." He added that, "after all, we are sincerely interested in saving lives, both American and Vietnamese as well as our position before the rest of mankind. Anyone with similar desires ought to be willing to face the catcalls, the rotten eggs, and the limited personal sacrifices. How else can one look his children in the eye?"

KENNETH EMERICK

Dear Editor:

I am gratified that the attempt to turn St. Patrick's Day into a "Day of the Green Beret" has not found as much support as one might have expected from the write ups in the Clarion newspaper. It is gratifying, indeed, to realize that the vast majority of our citizens have sense enough not to become jubilant over our involvement in a war, to realize that the sympathy we feel for our boys in Viet Nam does not require us to approve the policy of our President. I am convinced that we ought not to be fighting in Viet Nam, that this war, like others, will prove and settle nothing, except, that we have the capacity and willingness to devastate a whole country.

Because I am convinced that wars provide no answers to any problem, I am opposed to all war and the preparations for it. But I am especially opposed to the Viet Nam war because it seems to me to be against all of our American ideals and beliefs. We have been for non-intervention in the affairs of other nations, in principle at least, for a long time. We have been especially opposed to any intervention by European powers in the affairs of western hemisphere countries and said so in the Monroe doctrine. We have resorted to military force to prevent the southern states from leaving the Union and resented outside intervention in this conflict. Yet we are interfering in the internal affairs of a country almost half way around the globe. We believe also in the self determination of people and yet feel justified in demanding conditions which must be met before we will permit such self determination of Vietnamese affairs by the Vietnamese people.

We also hold other ideals, and to have and proclaim ideals is good, but not good enough by itself. To me, there is no excuse for acting against our ideals, for responding to the actions of others in ways which we would rightly abhor in them. The saying does certainly not mean that each individual citizen must blindly support all our government's actions, regardless of what they are.

In the Nuernberg trials after World War II, "I only acted under orders" was not allowed to stand as an excuse. The Nuernberg court insisted that individuals who carried out inhumane or criminal orders would have to stand trial as criminals, that they should have refused to obey such orders. I agree with this stand and because of this must demand that our government allow each individual to decide for himself what his stand on war in general or in a specific instance must be, and that it will accept his decision.

I have to take this stand because I feel that any order to shoot, to bomb, or to burn is immoral; that to prepare for war, to maintain the machinery of war is immoral. It is immoral because we are all members of the family of man and thus brothers. And in light of this fact the preparation for war is not only immoral but criminal. The willingness to wage war, to kill and to maim our brothers is criminal, too.

I know that other nations are not peaceful either and I regret this very much. But this cannot quiet my conscience, does not condone my idly watching us adding wrong to wrong. Our war in Viet Nam does not square with our professed ideals, therefore I am opposed to it. But I am also opposed to the use of war as a tool in international relations in any situation and for these reasons am very glad that the attempt to stir up an emotional enthusiasm for our involvement in Viet Nam was no more successful.

WERNER PETERKE

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter to you lest my having not appeared on campus on "Green Beret Day" in such attire be construed to mean that I stand with Mr. Emerick and those informed individuals who were not caught in this emotional trap. My apologies to those students and faculty (the uninformed) who wore the Green Beret. I should have been with you. You and Dick Bonfanti who originated the idea are to be commended for paying tribute to American men assigned to duty in Viet Nam.

Dick suggested that we wear the Green Beret in honor of these men and not necessarily in approval of their being in Viet Nam. Men who die in war deserve the respect of their countrymen. American fighting men in Viet Nam deserve the honors we can bestow upon them.

One can easily stand opposed to many actions of our Federal Government. Certainly not every action of that body is perfect. Freedom of speech to speak out does not mean that we should insult the intelligence of the individual whose opinions differ from ours.

Please, editor, may I be counted with the hundreds of uninformed Americans who respect the ability, emotional stability and the patriotism of our boys in Viet Nam. I did not wear the Green Beret. I am sorry. I have no intentions of masquerading as an informed individual.

Sincerely,
ERNEST C. AHARRAH

Biologist Takes Summer Job

Dr. John E. Williams, assistant professor, biological science, has been invited to teach this coming summer at the University of Illinois, Champaign—Urbana, Ill.

In addition to overseeing graduate students of Dr. S. Charles Kendeigh, Dr. Williams will continue his present research in avian (bird) physiology, using evening grossbeaks.

Dr. Kendeigh was a former major professor of Dr. Williams, and a well known animal ecologist. His book, Animal Ecology, is used as a text for the course in ecology offered at Clarion State College.

GRASSROOTS QUESTIONS

Student Asks:

Why must student teachers and commuting students pay the entire amount of $25 for activity fees for a semester when such persons are not on campus to participate in activities?

Administrators Answer:

The question of rates for activity fees for student teachers, commuting students, and all other students has been brought to the attention of the administration and the Student Senate many times. The mandatory fee of $25 cannot possibly be lowered in any instance. The amount was set by the Student Senate and the board of trustees of the college, and the Student Senate is responsible for deciding how much money is to be appropriated for each activity, publication, etc. The following items represent some of the items and areas which are financed by students' activity fees: theatre productions, including such things as set construction materials, costume rentals, lighting equipment, and printing costs for tickets and programs; debate team activities; oral interpretation activities; athletic activities, including transportation, and uniforms; movies, concert-lecture series, and dances; Student Senate station wagon; publications such as the college newspaper, the yearbook, the college handbook, and The Clarion and the various clubs on campus.

The government is not responsible for financing any of the items on the above list, and it would not be fair, or conducive to enhancing a broad education for our students, to eliminate these activities. The college does all in its power to assure equal opportunities for students to participate in and benefit from these activities.

Faculty Asks:

Concerning the college library, why are books listed in the card catalog not found on the shelves? Will the library be able to cope with the demands of a graduate program for Clarion?

Faculty Answers:

This situation is not peculiar to the Carlson Library. Various reasons can be given for a book being out of place. A recently used book may be on the sorting shelves until it can be returned to the stacks. Students or faculty who have been using a book in the library may return the book to an incorrect position on the shelf. Books which have been checked out are noted in the circulation file. Occasionally a book may be sent away for mending or is at the bindery, which condition is also noted by the book card's being filed in the circulation records. Some books which cannot be located on the shelves have been stolen.

Student assistants are assigned to read the shelves; that is, arrange the books neatly in proper order. But it is impossible, with so many persons using so many volumes, to keep all books in their exact order. The library regrets the inconvenience to the library user when a book is not immediately available. In such cases, faculty and students should leave the title, author, and call number on a slip of paper at the circulation desk, where some member of the library staff will search thoroughly for the book and will notify the person who has requested the book when the book is found. A graduate program will not usher in the millennium when every book will be available immediately, but the library staff will endeavor to provide books as needed.

Indian Camp Site of Dig

A student team under the direction of Dr. Gustav A. Konitzky, professor of Anthropology, began excavating an Indian camp in Richland Township, Clarion County. The site, known to archaeologists as 36-C1-22, is the 22nd prehistoric site investigated in Clarion County. Located near a spring, the sheltered spot served as a camping area for Indian hunting parties over a considerable span of time.

Shallow charcoal and ash deposits from surface camp fires indicate that the site was occupied during the warm weather season, while the profusion of chert and flint chips is evidence of tool making at this spot. The open air site, sheltered from the wind and exposed to the sun, demonstrates the care with which Indians selected their camps. From the variety of tool materials employed, the site must have seen a lot of different groups camping there, making an occasional tool from raw material carried in from as far as Ohio and New York state. The artifacts recovered so far will be analyzed in the Archaeological Laboratory at Clarion for a detailed interpretation of the site.

Dewey System Replaced

Books and other materials now added to the Rena Carlson Library at Clarion State College and the Venango Campus Library are being classified under the Library of Congress Classification System. The Dewey Decimal Classification System was formerly used. Dan Graves, Librarian, gave four reasons for the change in classification.

First, LC is more expansive, and is more flexible in accommodating new knowledge, particularly in the natural and social sciences. Second, it costs less to catalog new items, since the complete call numbers appear on printed cards purchased from the Library of Congress, and this increases the speed in getting them processed. Third, with the rapid developments and Library of Congress research in progress in automation, backed up by Congressional grants, and with more emphasis on centralized cataloging at the National Library, academic libraries with LC will be in a more advantageous position to become a part of these developments. Fourth, the present collection will have to be recataloged eventually to assign a unique call number to each volume. These volumes can be reclassified just as easily by a system oriented to academic libraries.

It will take several years to recatalog the present collection. Meanwhile, the Public Card Catalog will contain author, title, and subject cards in one arrangement for titles classed in both systems. The books, however, are separated into a DC collection and an LC collection. All books of the Dewey Classification are located on the second floor of the library. LC books are shelved on the first floor. The only exception to this is that both LC and DC books of the reference collection are located on the first floor.

Although the two classification systems may cause some inconvenience, since books will be in two places, it is believed that the advantages will make it worth the temporary inconveniences.

Editorially Speaking

The students of Clarion State College who participated in the Broadway musicals presented in the College Chapel are to be commended. Along with the rigors of academic life, these students have contributed their time and talent to productions which were very enjoyable.

Musicals provide an opportunity for some of Clarion's students to exhibit their singing, dancing and acting talents. Judging from audience reaction, it seems safe to assume that the students enjoy the gaiety of a light, fast-moving musical more than a deep involved plot which is trying to convey some great moral message, but which frequently misses the mark. It's a pleasure to be able to sit in an audience and sway with the tunes, and not to ponder over what is supposed to be happening. It's also a pleasure to leave the theater with a gay, happy tune floating through the air, and not the heavy burden of figuring out the mystery with which the plot ended.

The musical productions presented at Clarion were well received, and most students would welcome more of the same. Clarion is a school of many talented students, and this seems an appropriate time to commend them and their faculty advisers for the sharing of their time and talent with others at CSC.

Summer Job

Dr. John E. Williams, assistant professor, biological science, has been invited to teach this coming summer at the University of Illinois, Champaign—Urbana, Ill.

GRASSROOTS QUESTIONS

Student Asks:

Why must student teachers and commuting students pay the entire amount of $25 for activity fees for a semester when such persons are not on campus to participate in activities?

Administrators Answer:

The question of rates for activity fees for student teachers, commuting students, and all other students has been brought to the attention of the administration and the Student Senate many times. The mandatory fee of $25 cannot possibly be lowered in any instance. The amount was set by the Student Senate and the board of trustees of the college, and the Student Senate is responsible for deciding how much money is to be appropriated for each activity, publication, etc. The following items represent some of the items and areas which are financed by students' activity fees: theatre productions, including such things as set construction materials, costume rentals, lighting equipment, and printing costs for tickets and programs; debate team activities; oral interpretation activities; athletic activities, including transportation, and uniforms; movies, concert-lecture series, and dances; Student Senate station wagon; publications such as the college newspaper, the yearbook, the college handbook, and The Clarion and the various clubs on campus.

The government is not responsible for financing any of the items on the above list, and it would not be fair, or conducive to enhancing a broad education for our students, to eliminate these activities. The college does all in its power to assure equal opportunities for students to participate in and benefit from these activities.

Faculty Asks:

Concerning the college library, why are books listed in the card catalog not found on the shelves? Will the library be able to cope with the demands of a graduate program for Clarion?

Faculty Answers:

This situation is not peculiar to the Carlson Library. Various reasons can be given for a book being out of place. A recently used book may be on the sorting shelves until it can be returned to the stacks. Students or faculty who have been using a book in the library may return the book to an incorrect position on the shelf. Books which have been checked out are noted in the circulation file. Occasionally a book may be sent away for mending or is at the bindery, which condition is also noted by the book card's being filed in the circulation records. Some books which cannot be located on the shelves have been stolen.

Student assistants are assigned to read the shelves; that is, arrange the books neatly in proper order. But it is impossible, with so many persons using so many volumes, to keep all books in their exact order. The library regrets the inconvenience to the library user when a book is not immediately available. In such cases, faculty and students should leave the title, author, and call number on a slip of paper at the circulation desk, where some member of the library staff will search thoroughly for the book and will notify the person who has requested the book when the book is found. A graduate program will not usher in the millennium when every book will be available immediately, but the library staff will endeavor to provide books as needed.

Dewey System Replaced

Books and other materials now added to the Rena Carlson Library at Clarion State College and the Venango Campus Library are being classified under the Library of Congress Classification System. The Dewey Decimal Classification System was formerly used. Dan Graves, Librarian, gave four reasons for the change in classification.

First, LC is more expansive, and is more flexible in accommodating new knowledge, particularly in the natural and social sciences. Second, it costs less to catalog new items, since the complete call numbers appear on printed cards purchased from the Library of Congress, and this increases the speed in getting them processed. Third, with the rapid developments and Library of Congress research in progress in automation, backed up by Congressional grants, and with more emphasis on centralized cataloging at the National Library, academic libraries with LC will be in a more advantageous position to become a part of these developments. Fourth, the present collection will have to be recataloged eventually to assign a unique call number to each volume. These volumes can be reclassified just as easily by a system oriented to academic libraries.

It will take several years to recatalog the present collection. Meanwhile, the Public Card Catalog will contain author, title, and subject cards in one arrangement for titles classed in both systems. The books, however, are separated into a DC collection and an LC collection. All books of the Dewey Classification are located on the second floor of the library. LC books are shelved on the first floor. The only exception to this is that both LC and DC books of the reference collection are located on the first floor.

Although the two classification systems may cause some inconvenience, since books will be in two places, it is believed that the advantages will make it worth the temporary inconveniences.

ALPHA CHI RHO

This coming week we welcome our National Secretary, W. Henson Watchorn, to our campus. "Hense" visits us frequently to see how things are going and to offer advice. He will also be here as we initiate a few members of our Pledge Class into the Brotherhood. Needless to say, a National Officer's presence while we conduct the ritual has us a little apprehensive.

We were quite pleased with the turnout for our Hootenanny two weeks ago. We would also like to publicly thank Mrs. Kathy Keenan and Kelly Ammon for coming all the way up here to entertain. Kathy and Kelly are currently appearing at the Casbah in Pittsburgh and this was their first college appearance. They commented on the good manners of Clarion students, and expressed a desire to return.

Our congratulations to Brother Joe Eckhardt who recently received a Graduate Teaching Assistantship at Lehigh University for next fall. Congratulations also go to Pledge Carl Glass who performed in "Kiss Me, Kate" this week.

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

The brothers of Alpha Gamma Phi congratulate the pledges for completing their pledge period. The pledges are Bill Botti, Bill Maxwell, Paul Horvath, Matt "Pretty" Porter, Bob Fusco, and Blair Brant.

We were glad to welcome Mr. Humphron, a representative from Phi Lambda Chi fraternity from Oklahoma, to our campus. He was here representing his national and speaking to the Gammas about it. Brothers Persi, Tuminella, and Cutruzzola were in charge of escorting him around campus. These men are to be commended in doing such a fine job.

Brothers Wall and Sellari spent the weekend visiting the Maple Leaf Festival in Somerset County. They had many stories about the time they spent there and the exciting things they did. Brother Hohman recently took first place in a dancing contest that was held at one of the dances. Good work, Don.

Brothers DeRiggi and Crystol spent the weekend visiting the various fraternities at the Youngstown University campus. DeRiggi did well with the S.A.E.'s and Crystol with the Theta Xi's.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

The past two weeks have included many activities for our sisters. On Saturday, March 26, we had a party with our pledges and had the opportunity to see Donna Brown's slides of her visit this past year to France.

We also exchanged pledges with the Brothers of Theta Xi for two days. Everyone participating enjoyed the exchange and became better acquainted with the pledges. Congratulations to the Theta Xi pledge class for being such good sports.

Elections were held on Monday, March 28, and the officers for the coming year will be: Sharon Freed, president; Alice Capp, vice president; Joanne Henry, recording secretary; Patricia Hubler, corresponding secretary; Barbara Mahovlic, treasurer; Ruth Pushkar, historian; and Sharyn Yothers, editor. Yellow roses to those sisters who served as officers this year and to our new officers, along with the best of luck.

Installation for the new officers will be held on Monday, April 4, with a social hour afterwards. The social hour will honor our new patronesses who are: Mrs. Peter Chernicky, Mrs. Joseph Pontzer, Mrs. Charles R. Alexander, Mrs. L. Robert Varner, Mrs. Thomas D. Landi, and Mrs. M. C. Cargo. Dr. Betty Slater, our alumnae representative, will also be honored. We hope to get better acquainted with the ladies who have volunteered their time to help us in our many activities.

We congratulate Sigma Tau Gamma, our national brothers, on their fine pledge class.

DELTA ZETA

The sisters of Delta Zeta send pink roses and all our congratulations to Judy Tuminella for her wonderful performance in "Kiss Me, Kate." We'd also like to wish her, along with the other members of the cast, the best of luck in their final performances this evening. We're sure these last two shows will be great!

The officers of the spring pledge class have been elected this past week. They are: president, Connie Wirth; secretary, Becky Smith; treasurer, Lynn Campbell; and song-leader, Janet Karpach. Congratulations girls. We're sure you'll keep the high standards of Delta Zeta alive in your pledge class!

As their projects this semester, the pledges are ironing shirts—men's or women's—and selling roller bangs. We wish them luck in their endeavors.

All our wishes and good luck go to Elaine Daniels this weekend as she represents Theta Chi in their national "Dream Girl" competition. Elaine will go to Kent State University where she'll compete with "Dream Girls" from all over the nation. Every Delta Zeta and every Theta Chi is behind you, Elaine.

The Delta is now in the process of planning for our annual dinner dance to be held May 28 at the Holiday Inn, Parkway West, Pittsburgh. We're all looking forward to this event.

Pink roses also go to Patsy Piccadio for being chosen Sigma Tau Gamma Rose Queen. She will also go on to national competition. Congratulations and good luck, Patsy.

The Deltas are looking forward to the Bloodmobile competition. We are working with the Theta Xi's and we hope our team will be victorious—let's go guys!

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

Since the last article in the Call, the brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa have been very active. First we would like to announce the men of our spring pledge class. Pledges Tom Krupa and Frank O'Block began two weeks ago, while pledges Don Rehner, Jim Younkens, Sam Lucci, Ted Zeljac, Bob Lucas, and Jim Davison will soon be completing their pledging.

Our congratulations go also to brothers Jack Buzard, Bill Lyda, Tom Wilkinson, Larry Rager, and Gary Hutton for being initiated into the brotherhood several weeks ago at Penn State. We welcome them as our newest brothers.

On March 14, the brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa celebrated the anniversary of our national fraternity at a Founders' Day banquet at the Corners Restaurant. We would like to thank advisor Mr. John Joy, Dean Thomas, and Mr. Earl Zerfoss for being our guests and advisor Mr. Robert Pictor for his thoughtful telegram. Also, our thanks to brother Buzard for his fine job as master of ceremonies. On March 15, Founders' Day, the brothers were seen on campus wearing suits to celebrate the anniversary.

Our thanks go to the pledges for their planning of the pledge party and for their help in decorating for the Pajama Party. The P. J. Party was held last weekend and it was quite successful. Some of the P. J.'s worn were really original, but we doubt if they could really be slept in. It is hoped that this can be made an annual affair.

Clarion Colony was pleased last weekend by a visit from the vice president of our region, John Silinsh. He had several helpful comments for our colony and has enlightened our hopes of becoming a chapter in the near future.

Best of luck to Mr. Knowles for a successful baseball season and to Mr. Ruslavage with his first track team. Brothers John Boston and Bernie Roskov will be representing Phi Sigma Kappa on the track team and we wish them luck.

The Phi Sigma Kappa's are awaiting the return of spring so we can continue our full calendar of activities.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

Sigma Tau Gamma's third annual Beach Party will be held on Saturday, April 2, at the House. This particular party is the last evening of gala entertainment held by Sigma Tau Gamma prior to the White Rose Dinner Dance. Social Chairman John Papsun and his able assistant Harry Stephens have lined up another "big name band" and also provided an excellent part favor. Sigma Tau Gamma is happy to know that the social events are in such capable hands.

The pledge class recently defeated the Theta Chi pledges 48 to 29. Led by Mark Patterson, who displayed adept ball handling and shooting, the pledges won an easy victory.

Members of the team were Bill Kelly, Phil Pergola, Mike Dominick, Bob Schmidt, Fred Wickstrom, Chip Leslie, Bob Lang, Jim Manners, Don Morrison and Art Tregressar.

The pledges also went on their pledge trips to the various chapters in Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Maryland this past weekend. We will never forget this past series of trips and neither will the chapters they visited. Our pledges brought back many fond memories.

We also wish brothers Bill Muha, and Jim Dunmire, and pledge Bill Kelly much success during the coming baseball season. Brothers Dunmire and Muha are co-captains.

Sigma Tau Gamma was honored this past week with a visit from Dean Thomas for dinner. Dean Thomas thoroughly enjoyed his T-bone steak dinner. You have an open invitation at 630 Wood Street, Dean Thomas.

We wish Brother Barry Kotar a quick recovery. Barry has been a patient in Brookville Hospital this past week.

Also, another foul deed was committed this past weekend. Brother Rich Snebold suffered the loss of 12 pairs of his treasured black socks. The Clarion Police Department has been alerted. At a press conference held at the house the "Chief" promised a quick arrest.

Brother Snebold is also doing some super sleuthing on his own. We must warn the culprit, beware, a tricky, tricky Dick is after you.

A small party was held at the house on March 25. It did not seem like much of a party at first, but on March 28 we realized that it was a very fine party. Mr. Malmin wished he could have been at the party sooner but he was detained at the laundromat. But Mr. Malmin did put in an appearance.

One final note. Sigma Tau Gamma's Brother of the Month award for March goes to Brother Dennis Bauman. Brother Bauman has done more to promote his fraternity on campus than any other brother. He is a fine example of the principles upon which Sigma Tau Gamma is based. The Grand National President, in his letter to Brother Bauman, wished to express his thanks for promoting the cause of Sigma Tau Gamma. The brothers of Alpha Zeta Chapter congratulate you on your well deserved honor.

THETA CHI

This weekend many of the brothers are at Kent State University for the annual Corral.

The Theta Chi chapter of Kent State will host all of the chapters in this region for the entire weekend. The Chis at Kent State have been planning this "get-together" for nearly a year. If it is as successful as last year's Corral held in Pittsburgh, everyone should have a great time. Plans are also being made for the spring banquet to be held the first weekend in May.

Congratulations to Gerald Matson who became engaged to Sharon Anthony. Sharon is attending Allegheny General Hospital in Pittsburgh. Red carnations go to Aileen "Corky" Fuller who recently became pinned to brother Milton Anderson.

Best of luck to the brothers and pledges of Theta Chi who are trying to make the track, baseball and golf teams.

THETA XI

The men of Theta Xi would like to congratulate Brother Eric Blumensadt. He has been accepted for training as a candidate for Peace Corps Service. The training period begins June 25, 1966, and will end sometime in mid-September. Upon successful completion of this training, he will be assigned to the Philippines as a teacher in secondary English.

The basketball season has now concluded with the Theta Xi Team and the Omicrons finishing with identical records. Our men made a respectable showing in all their 22 games.

The college bowling team is section II champions and travels to Chicago April 1-2 for the National Bowling Tournament. We are proud to announce that three Theta Xi's are on the winning team. They are: Captain John Acklin, Bob Snyder, and Tom Phillips. Good luck in Chicago, men!

Theta Xi is in first place for the "All Sports Intramural Trophy" with 417 points. The closest team has only 200 points, so we are looking forward to capturing the championship, especially as we enter the three spring sports: golf, billiards, and softball.

Congratulations to the play cast for a job well done. Special congratulations to Brothers Jannone, Rupert, and Best for their parts in making the play a success.

This weekend there will be a "Roman Toga Party" at the Theta Xi house on Saturday night. Entertainment will be furnished by the "Reefers."

Students and faculty discussed the possibilities of birth control devices being introduced in poverty areas and how legalized abortion could affect society. The three-hour discussion proved to be one of the more interesting of the semester.

At their next meeting "The Philosophes" will feature two guest speakers who will debate the pros and cons of fluoridation.

They are: Professor Lloyd Bromley, instructor of physical science, and Professor John Cliff, instructor of mathematics.

"Where liberty dwells, there is my country"—Benjamin Franklin.

Senate Notes

The new Student Senate is now in the process of organizing.

Senators were appointed by President Kail to head various student-faculty committees. The senators and other students selected and approved by the Senate will work with faculty in arranging functions and deciding policy. The following are the standing committees and the Senators on them: Cultural Affairs Committee, Bill Muha; Social Committee, Ken Warnick; Karen Johnson; Financial Aid Committee, Don McCollim, Fred Jones; Housing Committee, Dan Bieller; Orientation Committee, Jo Marschink; Student Publications, Karen Johnson.

Senator Warnick raised a question on service in the Student Union and how it could be improved. Dr. Elliott said that he had already called a meeting of several campus leaders and invited any senator to attend it in his office. He cited the proposed New Student Center as one of the reasons for not spending a lot of the Student Association money on temporary quarters that could never be regained. Any student who has an idea how service to the students can be improved is urged to contact his Senator.

Dale Frye, president of the senior class, addressed the senators on three important matters he hopes can be improved. President Frye proposed that class elections for sophomores, juniors, and seniors be held in the spring and be under the direction of the Student Senate. The Senate could work through the class officers. Secondly he asked that there be provisions for the senior class to have funds to purchase a gift and if possible each class have a contingency fund. This could be arranged by designating so much per person. Thirdly, President Frye asked that money be set aside to pay or partially pay for a senior class banquet. Senator Marschink agreed to serve on a committee with Dale Frye and other class officers to iron out these and other problems that confront the officers and to present them to the Senate.

Senate Notes

The new Student Senate is now in the process of organizing.

Senators were appointed by President Kail to head various student-faculty committees. The senators and other students selected and approved by the Senate will work with faculty in arranging functions and deciding policy. The following are the standing committees and the Senators on them: Cultural Affairs Committee, Bill Muha; Social Committee, Ken Warnick; Karen Johnson; Financial Aid Committee, Don McCollim, Fred Jones; Housing Committee, Dan Bieller; Orientation Committee, Jo Marschink; Student Publications, Karen Johnson.

Senator Warnick raised a question on service in the Student Union and how it could be improved. Dr. Elliott said that he had already called a meeting of several campus leaders and invited any senator to attend it in his office. He cited the proposed New Student Center as one of the reasons for not spending a lot of the Student Association money on temporary quarters that could never be regained. Any student who has an idea how service to the students can be improved is urged to contact his Senator.

Dale Frye, president of the senior class, addressed the senators on three important matters he hopes can be improved. President Frye proposed that class elections for sophomores, juniors, and seniors be held in the spring and be under the direction of the Student Senate. The Senate could work through the class officers. Secondly he asked that there be provisions for the senior class to have funds to purchase a gift and if possible each class have a contingency fund. This could be arranged by designating so much per person. Thirdly, President Frye asked that money be set aside to pay or partially pay for a senior class banquet. Senator Marschink agreed to serve on a committee with Dale Frye and other class officers to iron out these and other problems that confront the officers and to present them to the Senate.

Varsity C Plans Honors Banquet

Members of the CSC Varsity C Club will honor the retiring athletic director, Mr. Waldo S. (Tip) Tippin at their annual banquet, Saturday, April 16.

Tippin, one of Western Pennsylvania's most prominent sports figures, will retire in June. He has been a teacher, coach and athletic director at Clarion State College since 1935.

A graduate of Geneva College in 1922 where he played basketball and football, Tippin began his coaching career at Rochester, Pa., High School. In 1925, Coach Tippin became coach at Meadville, Pa., High School where his football teams won four Northwestern Pennsylvania championships and his basketball teams won three district PIAA championships.

Tip, as he is called by his friends and associates, began his duties at CSC in 1935 as coach of football and basketball teams. Since then he has coached practically every sport at Clarion.

It is the hope of Mr. Frank Lignelli, wrestling coach and assistant dean of men, that "the athletes who participated during Mr. Tippin's career can return to participate in the testimonial to be given that evening."

A highlight of the program will be the unveiling of a bronze bust of Mr. Tippin recently created by Alfred B. Charley, assistant professor in the Art Department.

Speaker of the evening will be Lieutenant Governor Raymond Philip Shafer. Mr. Shafer participated in the basketball team coached by Mr. Tippin while he was a teacher and coach at Meadville High School. Shafer was one of the star players of Meadville.

Others expected to be present will be the athletic directors and coaches, former CSC athletes, present varsity teams of CSC.

Most outstanding athlete awards will also be presented.

Any tickets left over will go on sale after April 1.

Toastmaster for the evening will be Dr. Donald Pierce, head of the Department of Physical Science.

KENNETH WARNICK
Most Successful Wrestler

'King Pin' for Year

Throughout the existence of wrestling at Clarion State College, no individual wrestler has compiled as distinguished a record as Clarion's senior, Ken Warnick, of Blairsville, Pa.

Warnick, a transfer from Pitt University in his sophomore year, contributed to the Clarion team his superior wrestling abilities and became the "king pin" in Clarion's success to the first conference championship title in the Pennsylvania State College Wrestling Tournament ever won by Clarion State College or by any college in Western Pennsylvania.

Starting in the 1963-64 wrestling season, Warnick started to accumulate his outstanding college record by placing second in the PSCAC, losing to Powell of Lock Haven in the finals, 5-4.

In the 1964-65 wrestling season, Warnick, in the 137 pound weight class, won the PSCAC State Championship Title and went on to the NAIA to take second place in the nation losing in the finals by a score of 6-4.

During Warnick's three years of wrestling at Clarion, he remained undefeated in 27 consecutive dual meets with over 50 percent won on pins. A total of only five points were scored against Warnick in his 27 dual meets.

Although Warnick will attend Clarion in the 1966 fall semester, his wrestling eligibility, unfortunately for Clarion State College, has lapsed. Warnick will graduate in January 1967 and is seeking a position as a wrestling coach in some college or university.

Golfers Limber Up

Mr. Thomas Carnahan will head Clarion State College's 1966 golf season April 12, against Geneva for his fifth consecutive year as coach.

Since 1961 when Mr. Carnahan assumed the title of coach of the Clarion State College golfers, his team has compiled two Pennsylvania State Championship titles; one in 1963 and another in 1965. The State Championship title won by Coach Carnahan's golfers in 1963 was the first time that any sport at Clarion State College had ever won a Pennsylvania title since the State College Athletic Conference was started back in September of 1951. In 1962 Clarion took second place in the Conference getting edged out by Slippery Rock State.

Golf originated at Clarion as a non-varsity sport in 1946-47 but was not initiated to the varsity level in intercollegiate competition until 1958-59 when Mr. Tippin manned the helm.

Freshman tryouts that show potential are: Ed Malek, Bob Callan, Terry Fraunus, Nick Sica, Gary Budanka, Bob Craig, Mike Galek, and Bob Jackson.

Clarion's season record last year was six wins, five losses, and three ties.

Vol. 37, No. 13 Clarion State College, Clarion, Pennsylvania Sat., April 23, 1966

Clarion State Sends Eight To Capitol Model Legislature

Each year in March, all the colleges and universities in Pennsylvania hold a model legislature at the Capitol building in Harrisburg sponsored by the Secretary of Internal Affairs, Miss Genevieve Blatt. Clarion State was represented by a delegation.

The entire procedure of the convention is conducted exactly as the State House of Representatives according to Robert's Rules of Order.

Each college or university is set at a maximum of 25 delegates and is represented under one of the five regions of which the state is divided. Clarion falls under the Northwest region, with other schools being represented under the Southwest, Central, Northeast and Southeast regions.

Bills are presented to each region by individuals of each college with no limit set on the number to be presented. One stipulation must exist on all bills, and that is that all bills be drawn up according to the specifications of the State on introducing resolutions or amendments to the General Assembly.

Procedure

A bill properly introduced with sufficient number of copies must first go to the Rules Committee for proper direction to the committee involved, at which time the committee chairman divides the bills up into sub-committees to be accepted or rejected for committee vote. If accepted by the sub-committee without alterations, the bill comes to the committee to be rejected or passed by a majority vote. If passed by a majority, the bill once again goes to the Rules Committee for technical corrections and if correct will be passed on to the floor of the House to again be rejected or passed by a majority vote.

Representation

The passage or death of a bill in this entire process involves the bargaining of individual delegates to form coalitions with other delegates of other colleges and regions to gain a majority vote. Every committee is comprised of representatives from all colleges and all major offices are elected. Each region, prior to the convention at Harrisburg, elects one committee chairman and regional director. Seeing there are only five regions and a total of nine committees, the remaining committee chairmen are elected by the executive committee, comprised of the chairman of every college or university in the state. The committees are divided into such topics as, taxation, local government, state government, etc., and this is how the rules committee determines where, by the nature of the bill, all bills will be directed.

The main objective at this convention is to bargain, make deals, and form coalitions between regions, in order to have the majority vote in committees and on the floor, that is necessary to pass a bill. In other words, the success or failure of a bill is determined by the delegates' individual initiative and operating power, to talk other delegates into backing his bill with a promise to have your vote when needed. Honor and loyalty of a delegate to keep his promise or deal, is not only expected but respected by other delegations at this convention.

Clarion Delegates

Although Clarion was only represented by eight individuals out of a 2,800 student enrollment, the desire and opportunity to learn about our government by this eight-man delegation proved to be the motivating factor that helped bring back to Clarion a successful and winning delegation. The eight dedicated students, being in the minority, proved to be equal to law students of Temple University, Duquesne University, Penn State, and the University of Scranton, by being the major factor in forming a coalition between the Northwest region, Southeast region, and the Southwest region, which swept the entire convention by a majority vote. Without the Northwest region's bargaining power led by Clarion and backed 100 percent by Slippery Rock, the Clarion delegation, or the coalition of the three regions, would not have emerged victorious.

The Southwest region, led by Duquesne University and others, and the Southeast region, led by Temple University and others, having been highly impressed by the honor and loyalty of the Clarion delegation in remaining loyal to the coalition, promised in future years to always bargain with the Northwest region through the honesty and integrity of the Clarion delegation.

Participation

Anyone interested in participating in the Intercollegiate Conference on Government, regardless of your major field, contact the 1966-67 Chairman, Bob Tweedy or the Vice-Chairman, Bob Conroy, anytime starting in the fall semester.

Recognition should also be given, last but not least, to Mr. Van Bruggen and Mr. Khan, two faculty advisors of the ICG who supervised and trained the CSC participants on the methods of government, parliamentary procedure and politics.

The following are the 1965-66 delegation that represented Clarion at Harrisburg: Bob Tweedy, Bob Conroy, Ken Heilman, Donna Leonard, Dan Bailey, Terry Moore, Dennis Kinol, and Bill Neese.

CSC DELEGATION to the Intercollegiate Conference on Government was made up of: (bottom row) Dan Bailey, Terry Moore and Dennis Kinol; (top row) Bob Conroy, Donna Leonard, Bob Tweedy and Ken Heilman. Bill Neese and advisors Mr. Van Bruggen and Mr. Khan were absent.

MR. WALDO TIPPIN speaks at his testimonial dinner held April 20.

Lt. Governor Honors Tippin Testimonial

Mr. Waldo S. (Tip) Tippin, athletic director of CSC, will retire June 1 after more than 30 years as teacher, coach and athletic director at CSC.

As athletic director since he came to Clarion, Mr. Tippin has been the major factor in the athletic rise of the college. He coached practically every sport at the school before relinquishing his last coaching post in golf in 1961.

Starting with two sports, football and basketball, Tippin built the college program until it now includes baseball, tennis, golf, rifle and wrestling. He has also guided the intramural program since its inception.

Tippin graduated from Marion Center, Kan., in 1918, and received his degree from Geneva College, where he played football and basketball, in 1922.

He began his coaching career at Rochester High School and in 1925 became coach at Meadville High School, where his football teams won four northwestern Pennsylvania championships and his basketball teams took three district titles.

In 1932, he was appointed coach at Allegheny College and after graduate work, he received a master's degree at Columbia University in 1934.

"Waldo Tippin is held in great affection and esteem by all who know him," Lt. Gov. Raymond Shafer told over 500 persons Saturday night, April 20.

Speaking at the testimonial dinner for Tippin in the new CSC dining hall, Shafer said: "I've been singly honored in being asked to be here tonight."

Mr. Tippin was the former coach of Lt. Gov. Shafer at Allegheny College.

Mr. Tippin spoke just prior to the principal address by Shafer.

Dr. Donald Pierce, a long-time friend of the honored guest, served as master of ceremonies for the event. Other speakers included Dr. James Gemmell, Mr. Lignelli, E. Clinton Stitt, chairman of the college board of trustees, and John Kricer, vice president of the Varsity "C" Club.

During the evening, a bronze bust of Mr. Tippin, the work of Al Charley of the art department, was unveiled.

Among those attending the dinner were the members of various teams Mr. Tippin coached over the years, including his championship football teams of 1927 at Meadville High School and 1952 at CSC.

Mr. Frank Lignelli, associate dean of students, has been appointed as athletic director.

MR. VAHE BERBERIAN

Cagers End Year With Good Season

Coach John Joy's Clarion State College Cagers wrapped up their 1966 basketball season with a commendable record of 15 wins and five losses.

Coach Joy not only improves his team each year but has landed many outstanding players on the PSCAC honors-lists. Jack Derlink and Blaine Pendleton were named to the Western Division all-star first team in the PSCAC and were also given honorable mentions on the 65-66 associated Press All-Pennsylvania team.

Dave Griffin was named to the second team in the Western Division PSCAC all-stars. Jack Derlink was also voted as its most valuable player by the CSC team. Derlink was also placed number 47 in the nation on points scored, with an average of 24 points per game.

The Golden Eagles produced a tremendous 12-game winning streak this season after losing their second, third, and fourth games of the season to Geneva, 93-63; to California, 90-89, and to Edinboro, 80-71. Grove City then snapped Clarion's winning streak by a score of 68-67, the second game of the season that Clarion was edged out of by just one point.

With the last game on the horizon and Clarion in the number one slot in the Western Division, the Golden Eagles' entire season and the Western Division championship were at stake. Edinboro defeated Clarion 83-79 and eliminated the Golden Eagles from consideration for the PSCAC title.

Clarion State College was then invited to compete in the NAIA competition on the basis of Clarion's 15-5 season record. Clarion was eliminated in the first round of play in the district 18 NAIA tournament held at Westminster College at New Wilmington, losing to California, 67-66. This was the third time this season that Clarion was edged out by one point.

Clarion State College can show five outstanding athletes who contributed to a fine 1965-66 basketball season. They are: Captain Jack Derlink, Blaine Pendleton, Dave Griffin, Earl Highlands, and Rick Canterna.

Dr. Robert Van Meter, associate professor and acting head of the Department of Music at CSC, received his BS and MS in music at the Juilliard School of Music where he was a student of Lonny Epstein and Carl Friedburg. He was awarded his Doctor of Music degree in Performance at the University of Indiana, Bloomington, Indiana where he studied with the noted Hungarian pianist Bela Bosyormenyi-Nagy.

The program will include: Sonata In A For Cello and Piano by Boccherini, famous virtuoso cellist and prolific composer of chamber music of the eighteenth century. This is the last of his six sonatas for cello; Bach's Suite in C Minor also called The discordant which is the fifth of his six suites for unaccompanied cello which he wrote while at the service of Prince Leopold of Anhalt at Cothen 1717-1723; Beethoven's A Major Sonata which is one of the more serene and lyrical works of Beethoven's generally stormy "Middle Period" and is the only one of the five which contains a scherzo movement.

Cagers End Year With Good Season

Coach John Joy's Clarion State College Cagers wrapped up their 1966 basketball season with a commendable record of 15 wins and five losses

Coach Joy not only improves his team each year but has landed many outstanding players on the PSCAC honors-lists. Jack Derlink and Blaine Pendleton were named to the Western Division all-star first team in the PSCAC and were also given honorable mentions on the 65-66 associated Press All-Pennsylvania team.

Dave Griffin was named to the second team in the Western Division PSCAC all-stars. Jack Derlink was also voted as its most valuable player by the CSC team. Derlink was also placed number 47 in the nation on points scored, with an average of 24 points per game.

The Golden Eagles produced a tremendous 12-game winning streak this season after losing their second, third, and fourth games of the season to Geneva, 93-63; to California, 90-89, and to Edinboro, 80-71. Grove City then snapped Clarion's winning streak by a score of 68-67, the second game of the season that Clarion was edged out of by just one point.

With the last game on the horizon and Clarion in the number one slot in the Western Division, the Golden Eagles' entire season and the Western Division championship were at stake. Edinboro defeated Clarion 83-79 and eliminated the Golden Eagles from consideration for the PSCAC title.

Clarion State College was then invited to compete in the NAIA competition on the basis of Clarion's 15-5 season record. Clarion was eliminated in the first round of play in the district 18 NAIA tournament held at Westminster College at New Wilmington, losing to California, 67-66. This was the third time this season that Clarion was edged out by one point.

Clarion State College can show five outstanding athletes who contributed to a fine 1965-66 basketball season. They are: Captain Jack Derlink, Blaine Pendleton, Dave Griffin, Earl Highlands, and Rick Canterna.

Squaring With Catalog

In the words of the 1965-66 College Catalog, "Clarion provides not only for the academic training of young men and women, but also for their all-around development as mature, self-confident, socially competent individuals." Is this the case at Clarion? With the enforcement of so many regulations placed upon the student, individuality and maturity are severely stunted. Students cannot become individuals unless they are granted the right to think and make decisions for themselves. Let's face it. We are in a state of an advanced "high school." The main difference is that this school is based on a twenty-four hour day instead of an eight-hour day. All women have hours and freshmen may receive them next semester. Dress regulations are set up for classes and dining hall. The number of class cuts is regulated.

Students must comply with these "rules" or suffer the consequences. Do these regulations help us to become "socially competent individuals"? On the contrary, they limit growth and defeat their ostensible purpose. For example, what does a sport jacket and tie do for a man who is unshaven or who is wearing a plaid shirt or jeans or sneakers? It is obvious that these dress regulations are not accomplishing what they are intended to do. If a student cuts class excessively, his test scores should lower his grade sufficiently to make him attend classes. If a student is going to "get into trouble," confining him (or her) to the dormitory after a certain hour is not going to eliminate the problem. This has been evidenced this present semester at Venango Campus. By telling someone he can't have or do something, it makes the having or doing more desirable.

We have a real and significant problem on our hands, and we should analyze the present methods used to cope with it. All of us, as members of the student body, faculty, or administration, have an important part in making this a better, progressive college. Is the present system really succeeding in making the students "mature, self-confident, socially competent individuals"?

Clarion Hosts Reading Conclave

Twenty Clarion State College faculty members will participate in positions of leadership at the Reading Conference, April 23, today, featuring Dr. Helen Kyle, nationally known educational consultant and reading specialist.

Chairmen for content groups for junior and senior high school teachers include: science and mathematics, Dr. Donald D. Peirce, head of physical science; social studies, professor Frank M. Campbell; English and Foreign Language, Dean Dana Still. Dr. John McLain, coordinator of curriculum development and the research center, will be chairman of the administrators session.

Dear Editor:

Honorable Sir! Your timely invitation to expatiate upon that deplorable Quarrel in Viet Nam does you credit, though to speak with habitual Honesty I have not met with the rare good Fortune to have encountered one well-informed acquaintance, in this Matter, and find myself, thus, bankrupt upon this Topic. However, my Friends have urged me to offer, for the Benefit of Mankind and the Welfare of the Nation, whatever Niceties and Refinements I might have hit upon in my Studies. Regretably most of my Reading and Business has been occupied with an obscure Sect known to the World as Cucurbites, whose Leader I have recently had the grand Privilege of interviewing, but who are Nothing to the Point, that is, beyond certain administrative Functions in strategic hamlets, where I am informed by Native informants they are called Lianas (spelled Lama or Blama in the Himalayan tongue, Llama in the Andian, not to be confused with the Lapland Liano, but these support only themselves on the Arms of others, and in their own Region are considered to be of little Account in Battle.

Having surveyed the Matter available to me concerning Viet Nam, I find I must for once fall back upon Native Intelligence, which, as I am told by an eminent Colleague, is without Doubt the most hazardous Course of all to follow. Yet, I must report that just yesterday I encountered a Professor, on this very Campus, who said he believed in God, and who further, to my Astonishment (and in reply to my desperate inquiry), suggested that Viet Nam might have something to do with Him! Pursuing this shocking proposal, I discovered to my Disappointment Nothing to my Purpose, for this same Professor argued cogently that the Soul of our Nation was on trial, that it must fight aggressive Communism in the Name of God or fall itself condemned for moral Cowardice. I soon, however, shook this Fellow off, because I knew his Theories would never succeed here.

Hearing that Pacifist Surrender was rather popular, I tried to locate its chief Advocates, but failing this, I was left once again without Matter for this Topic. I understand, however, that this School of Experts holds that Force has never accomplished any worthwhile Results in and among Countries. I agree, and offer to their Assistance the examples of Hitler's Rape of Europe and also the Case of Japanese Militarism, both of which were successfully checked by peaceful diplomatic missions, with a minimal use of Force to be sure.

This leaves me with little Matter, still, upon this Subject. Yet I have experienced a stroke of Good Fortune, for it occurred to me that many Penceeniks go about unshaven. Just yesterday I was reading the Report of the Fourth Council of Carthage (which some say was never held, but I urge the contrary), in which I found the statement: CLERICUS NEC COMAM NUTRIAT NEC BARBAM RADAT* This, to me, proves without doubt that there might be some religious Significance after all to this Quarrel in Viet Nam, for why otherwise would so many Pacifists and Peaceeniks conform to this early regulation? And one frowned upon by the Primitive Cucurbites? With this serious question, I leave the Reader.

Your Humble and Obedient Servant, MR. RAYMOND TRIPP

Dear Editor:

I would like to make it clear that I am as much in favor of world peace as anyone else. Bombs kill hawks as well as doves. The use of violence is not the ideal solution to any problem. But this is not an ideal world.

I reject the thesis of pacifism, because it is incapable of preserving human justice, domestic or international. I reject it further, because it betrays the very goal of world peace which its followers seek to achieve.

Can we achieve the rule of law without enforcement? Visualize, if you dare, the state of this country if our only means of preventing murder, rape, kidnapping, extortion, etc., were nonviolent appeals to the conscience of would-be perpetrators. I don't think that international pacifism makes any more sense.

Where peace and security exist today, they have not come about by a policy of weakness. In Europe, the United States has made unequivocal guarantees. It has made clear its willingness to face nuclear war if necessary to maintain them. There have been threats and counter threats, but no war.

Moreover, at several points where our determination to make similar commitments was questionable, war has broken out. I refer to Korea, Laos, and Viet Nam.

Modern techniques of warfare have made national security more dependent than ever on the safety of distant nations. In an age when a missile can travel 10 thousand miles in twenty minutes, there is good reason to be concerned about the safety of states ten thousand miles remote.

As I see it, world peace cannot be achieved without a concerted defense against invasion and subversion. Many countries can contribute to this defense, but only one has the military and economic power decisive to this purpose. I cannot, in good conscience, remain silent while the provision of this aid is disapproved.

WALTER E. LOCKHART

Dear Seniors,

It has been the custom of the Senior Class to present Clarion State College with a gift. The Class of 1966 is striving to carry on this time-honored tradition.

Participation in this project will assure not only that a gift but also that a lasting memento will be left as a tribute to our success.

DALE FRYE
Senior Class President

Dear Editor:

We students are required to dress for our evening meal as we would when going to a nice restaurant. That is good. It is definitely more pleasing to see my fellow students in more formal attire than jeans and sweatshirts. Their posture and manners are improved, which adds atmosphere to the dining hall, which adds enjoyment to my meal.

However, the sounds which are broadcast through the hall are comparable to those of a high school swing party. No self-respecting restaurant would burden its patrons with such noise, for its patrons would soon become postureless, mannerless, uncombed slob. The restaurant would lose its atmosphere of good taste with its patrons of good taste. As, I think, the dining hall would lose what atmosphere it has, if we students' patronage, formality, and ears were not captive.

I don't like others to dictate what I shall hear, but I apparently have no choice. I am therefore suggesting, to whoever is in charge, that more soothing music be played. If this is for some reason impossible, I, and a few others I've talked to, would certainly prefer silence.

FLORENCE SKUBEL

Dear Editor:

Yes, lovers do spoon on clear nights down by the Venango Campus pond. They can wander back into the woods softly lit by gas lamps and sit on rustic log benches scattered about the area. It must be noted, however, that all of these benches are now floating in the pond along with other choice items including a rubber tire.

The Venango Campus sign is now probably lazily floating down the Allegheny River toward Pittsburgh as the students have nothing better to do than destroy college property. Students also find amusement in stealing the ground lights that illuminate the main building here at the campus.

Rumor has it that bottles of "joy" are stashed away in the woods for various picnics held at night.

I believe that the students who engage in this type of "activity" do it solely for the pleasure of knowing that they probably will not be caught. They don't seem to realize that they are ruining the area for other students as well as for the community. But what do they care? They aren't coming back next semester anyway.

Four Young Men With a Flair For Latin Jazz

Silhouettes to Appear as Part Of Clarion's 'Spring Weekend'

Four young men with a flair for Latin Jazz have played a major part of the Jazz revival that has dominated the Pittsburgh music scene. They call themselves the Silhouettes and they will appear in the Chapel at 2 p.m. Sunday, May 1. Although most of their work has been confined to night spots such as the Hilton Hotel, the Escapade, and the Encore, they have been a part of several jazz festivals and have been invited to participate in the Three Rivers Art Festival this summer. Most recently, they led a jazz workshop before a capacity house at the Redwood Inn; also they played the background music for an original television feature length film called "Ofoti." A jazz oriented score with the original music written by Joe Negri, it has been purchased by the National Education Television Network for showing on all their affiliated stations.

The Silhouettes are composed of Al Secen, probably the outstanding vibre player in Pittsburgh, George Bacasa on flute, tenor and baritone sax, Ron Thomas on bass and Joe Richetti on drums.

Greek Day

See the Greeks pitted against each other in exciting contests of fortitude and skill! Cheer your favorites on to victory! When? On Saturday, April 30, Greek Day.

Greek Olympics will begin at one o'clock on the field adjoining the new dining hall. The first exciting event will be an all sorority football game coached by Alpha Gamma Phi. Pyramid building, judged upon appearance and height, for sororities and fraternities, will follow. A rope pull for the men over a huge nud puddle will be next. See the various fraternities try to catch and rope a 150 pound sow in the greased pig contest. The girls have their chance next as they chase and rope a fraternity man. The final Olympic event is a water balloon contest involving both the girls and guys. The events will be judged upon a point basis, the award to be given at Greek Sing.

The singing voices of the Greeks will be in competition at 8 p.m. at the high school. Each Greek organization will sing two songs of their own choice. The presentation of Scholarship, Greek Sing, and Greek Olympic awards will close a day of thrilling, competitive events.

Language Fraternity To Hold Initiation

The initiation tea for the newly organized Alpha Mu Gamma, honorary language society, will be held on April 27, 1966, at 7 p.m. in the cafeteria.

The membership is made up of students from Spanish, French, German, and Russian language classes and was formed under the sponsorship of Dr. Robert Bays.

A requirement for membership was the attainment of two "A" grades and one "B" grade in the language of their choice. The foreign language teachers have also been invited to be members of the society. The following students have been elected as officers: president, Nina Whitaker; vice president, Marian Todd; treasurer, Ken Wilson; secretary, Kathy Glaser; and historian, Susar Oswald.

Clarion State College has been designated as the Delta Lambda chapter of the national society. The closest chapter to it is Alliance College, Ohio.

Spring Dance Is Scheduled

The final dance of the semester, the Spring Formal, will be held Saturday evening, April 30, at the Vanango Country Club.

The dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Music for the event will be provided by Tommy Payne and his orchestra from Pittsburgh.

The theme is "Moonlight and Roses." The club will be transformed into a garden setting with red, white and pink as the basic color scheme. At 11 p.m. the queen will be crowned by Miss Penny Umbreit, last year's queen. The candidates for this year's queen include: Linda Allshouse, Anna Marie Chirillo, Janice Day, Nancy Hoover and Jayne Milbrant.

The event is sponsored by the social committee under the direction of Mrs. Mary E. Williams.

Six enjoy a game for two in the Venango Student Lounge

Coming soon is the movie based on one of John Steinbeck's greatest novels, "The Grapes of Wrath." A large audience is expected because many students are studying this novel in English Novels from 1870.

Skunk Frowns

A new column in this issue is a social commentary entitled the "Skunk." It will reveal various happenings at Venango Campus. To escape any possible persecution, the writer will remain anonymous. "Love is blind"—but the rest of the students at Venango Campus aren't. First of all I must state that I am all in favor of love—especially between boys and girls. I am fully aware of all basic biological drives and am cognizant of the fact that they must be satisfied. However, I do not feel that they should be satisfied in the locker room.

I realize that it will never be possible to halt the thousands of "little kisses" which are awarded each day in this room. It is only natural that a fairly dark, often vacant, and rather warm area will be a haven for this type of activity. But lately these activities have amounted to more than just hand holding

Movie Viewed

On March 20, approximately 40 Campus students viewed the movie, Cyrano De Bergerac, in the Campus Student Lounge.

The play was written at the peak of the Romantic Era in the eighteenth century. It was concerned with chivalry, heroic deeds, and the courtly love tradition.

Drama Group Rejuvenated

After several inactive semesters, the Alpha Upsilon chapter of Alpha Psi Omega is being re-organized under the auspices of Bob H. Copeland.

Alpha Psi was organized as an honorary dramatic fraternity for the purpose of providing an honor society for those doing a high standard of work in dramatics and through the expansion of Alpha Psi Omega among the colleges of the United States and Canada, provide a wider fellowship for those interested in the college theatre.

The fraternity is not intended to take the place of the regular dramatic club or other producing groups, but as students qualify, they are rewarded by election to membership into this society. The spring pledge class consists of: Clinton F. Best, Robert L. Bickart, Nerissa Broad, David C. Caldwell, Richard A. Locke, Robert J. Miller, Naomi Schaltenbrand, Joseph C. Thomas, Charles E. Titus, and Jac Williams.

Christina Cornely, a senior student in Speech Pathology and Audiology at Clarion State College, will deliver a paper at the Annual Convention of the Pennsylvania Speech and Hearing Association in Philadelphia, on April 23, 1966.

The title of her paper will be "Relationships Between Selected Audiological Tests and Hearing Handicap." This paper reports the results of research carried out at the Speech and Hearing Clinic under the direction of Harold V. Hartley, Jr., Associate Professor Special Education. The research project was designed to identify certain audiological tests that would be appropriate in determining degree of hearing handicap.

At present Miss Cornely is student teaching in the Sharon Public Schools.

CSC String Group Gives Spring Concert

The Clarion State College Trio presented a concert program on April 18 in the Chapel.

Its members, Miss Helen Poulos, violinist, Mr. Vahe Berberian, cellist, and Dr. Robert Van Meter, pianist, performed literature written for this combination of instruments by many of the world's finest composers.

The trio has previously performed for many Pennsylvania high school audiences in addition to civic and professional groups.

Appearing with the trio was Christian Bohlen, clarinetist, and associate professor of Indiana University.

Mr. Vahe Berberian, associate professor of music of the music faculty at CSC, is holder of the Diploma of Music in Violoncello from the Lebanese Academy of Fine Arts in Beirut, Lebanon. He is a doctoral candidate in performance at Indiana University.

Miss Helen Poulos, an instructor of music at Clarion State College, is a native of Philadelphia. She is a graduate of Philadelphia Academy of Music, and is doctoral candidate in performance at Indiana University, where she is a student of Josef Gingold.

Dr. Van Meter, associate professor and acting head of the Department of Music, CSC, received his B.S. and M.S. in music at the Juillard School of Music in New York where he was a student of Lonny Epstein and Carl Friedburg. He received his doctor of music degree in performance at Indiana University where he studied with the noted Hungarian Bela Boszormenyi Nagy. Dr. Van Meter taught at Hastings College in Nebraska and Central Michigan University before coming to Clarion.

Before you criticize the old folks, remember that even though a clock is run down, it's right twice a day.

A PEEK AT GREEKS

ALPHA CHI RHO

Just before Easter vacation, our Chapter was honored by a visit from two of our National Officers: Mr. Henson Watchorn and Mr. Chris Seidel. It was an opportunity for the new Brothers to become acquainted with the operation of a National Fraternity and their visit was appreciated by all.

In the past few weeks, five new Brothers have been initiated into the order. They are: Brothers Jim Rhodes, Cal Hale, Jeff Wildman, Dave Arendas, and Carl Glass. We are pleased to welcome these men into our Fraternity and look forward to a fruitful association with them.

We wish to thank all those who contributed money to the Red Cross when the Brothers were collecting for it before Easter. We would also like to thank Mr. Rhoades of the Department of Mathematics for providing us with this opportunity to help.

On May 7, the National Fraternity of Alpha Chi Rho will institute a new Chapter at Hartwick College, Oneonta, N. Y. Many of the Brothers of our Chapter are planning to attend and welcome a new Chapter into the Brotherhood.

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

The Brothers of Alpha Gamma Phi extend our deepest gratitude to those Deans and faculty members who voted for our removal from social probation. We are going to try our very best to maintain our new status and show you all that your trust in us will not be in vain. Thank you all very much.

The Brothers are all busy preparing for the spring formal and for the Greek Weekend. We are anxiously awaiting these upcoming events.

Welcome back brothers DeRiggi and Cut from your trip to Florida. Sigma Alpha Epsilon national fraternity is very interested in the Gammas.

Brother Catz gave a party for all the brothers over Easter vacation at his father's supper club. Everyone had a good time and we are all looking forward to a return visit.

Good luck to the softball and golf intramural teams this spring.

Brother Sellari recently competed in a Tri-State motorcycle scramble meet. Congratulations on the trophy you won.

Brother Thomas has just accepted a bid to study French this summer at the University of Versailles in Paris. Good luck, Bob.

BETA CHI UPSILON

Our informal pledging party will be held on Saturday, April 22, at the home of Mrs. Penny, our patroness. The sisters are anticipating an enjoyable afternoon with our pledges.

Red roses were sent to our sister, Joan Moody, on her engagement.

All the sisters are working on the songs for Greek Sing. We are also looking forward to participating in Spring Weekend.

The sisters urge their teammates, the brothers of Theta Chi, Alpha Chi Rho, and Phi Sigma Kappa, to participate in the blood-mobile contest.

Our sister, Marlene Eaton, was a delegate to Newman Club convention which was held in Virginia on the weekend of April 14.

We are anticipating the removal of sister Alana Gazetki's cast which has plagued her since December.

Future events include formal initiations, installation of officers, and mother's day tea.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

Following the Easter vacation, the Phi Sigma Kappa's have been busy preparing for the last frantic weeks of the semester. Last weekend we held a "Hell's Angels" party. This unusual party proved to be interesting and quite different. The Redeemers provided the music and everyone had a good time.

Congratulations go to brother Larry Martin on becoming a member of Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary journalism fraternity.

The brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa have begun practice for Greek Sing and the house is nightly filled with melodious strains. We are preparing our songs under capable leadership and hope to do an outstanding job. One more week should see us adequately prepared to meet the competition. Also, the Phi Sigma Kappa's are preparing for participation in the Greek Day activities.

This evening Phi Sigma Kappa will hold a semi-formal "Paris Party." Plans have been made and we expect a very nice party.

Also, the brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa would like to wish everyone a happy spring.

THETA XI

On April 12, new officers for next semester were elected. They are: president, Rich Zabrowski; vice president, Harry Whyson; treasurer, Bob Peters; corresponding secretary, Gabe Kissell; house manager, Dave Swaney; pledge master, Bill Rudesill; scholastic chairman, Terry Moore. These officers were installed on Monday, April 18. Congratulations men and good luck during your term of office.

The social committee is pleased with the results of our last few parties which include the Roman toga party and the play pen party. We are sure that the remaining parties planned for this semester will be equally successful. On April 23, we are holding a barn party, and on May 8, after the formal, there will be a picnic for the Brothers and their dates.

Pledge master Bill Rudesill announces the pledging of two more men. They are Rich Mahalic and John Highhouse. Under the new open rush program, these men will complete their pledge period next fall.

The Brothers of Theta Xi would like to congratulate Miss "Jo" Marchinke on winning first place in the Laurel Festival at Brookville. We wish her the best of luck in the Miss Pennsylvania contest.

We thank Mr. P-Jobb for the fine program which he presented on Tuesday evening, April 19, in the party room of the Theta Xi house. He showed films of the Hungarian revolution and also gave a short talk to the Brothers of Theta Xi and the Sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau.

THETA CHI

Corral, held at Kent State, is over, but it will not be forgotten.

We would like to thank Elaine Daniels for accompanying us and representing Epsilon Xi chapter in the Dream Girl Contest. Milt Anderson and John Close had an exceptionally good time at corral and although Milt may never be an astronaut, his moon shots are something else.

Congratulations to the "Surfer" for winning the gift certificate sponsored by our pledge class.

Spring Weekend is next week. The dance on Friday night is going to have a popular group and Greek Day has a lot to offer, ending with Greek Sing. Best of luck to the brothers who will be singing this year. They will be defending the title for the fourth straight year.

May 7 is the date for our Annual Spring Banquet. Last year's banquet was something to remember. This year's Spring Banquet should be even better.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

The sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma have been busy practicing these past few weeks for Greek Sing. Things are beginning to look up and everyone is looking forward to a great weekend.

The shaker sweaters have arrived and can be picked up anytime in the Tri-Sigma suite.

We're glad to announce that all the pledges have survived Pledge Week. The prize for the best pledge box went to Ginny Scott. Even though the garters shut off the circulation and the boxes were a little heavy, the week was enjoyed by all.

Purple Violets go to Jo Marschinke who was named "Miss Northwestern Pennsylvania" at the Laurel Festival held in Oil City, Saturday, April 16. Jo put on a fine Sigma show and we are all very proud of her. She will appear in the Miss Pennsylvania contest in July. Best of Luck, Jo—we're all behind you!

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Officer installation was held April 4. At this time Zetas would like to express their gratitude to the past officers, who did such a tremendous job. Our sincere thanks to the past Executive Board: president, Patty Palmer; vice president, Peggy Brammer; member, Sandy Carlin; secretary, Barb Townsend; treasurer, Sherry Ellis; ritual, Maureen Bojalad; and historian, Lee Geller. An added thanks to the past committee heads, who gave the executive such fine support: activities, Peggy Lou Norris; corresponding secretary, Barb Koch; music, Patty Blain (now student teaching); service, Kathy Loop; scholarship, Chris Stevens; standards, Peggy Martin; social, Janet Royer; and parliamentarian, Carolyn Youngs.

Spring Dance Is Scheduled

The final dance of the semester, the Spring Formal, will be held Saturday evening, April 30, at the Venango Country Club.

The dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Music for the event will be provided by Tommy Payne and his orchestra from Pittsburgh.

The theme is "Moonlight and Roses." The club will be transformed into a garden setting with red, white and pink as the basic color scheme. At 11 p.m. the queen will be crowned by Miss Penny Umbreit, last year's queen. The candidates for this year's queen include: Linda Allshouse, Anna Marie Chirillo, Janice Day, Nancy Hoover and Jayne Milbrant.

The event is sponsored by the social committee under the direction of Mrs. Mary E. Williams.

Six enjoy a game for two in the Venango Student Lounge

Coming soon is the movie based on one of John Steinbeck's greatest novels, "The Grapes of Wrath." A large audience is expected because many students are studying this novel in English Novels from 1870.

Skunk Frowns

A new column in this issue is a social commentary entitled the "Skunk." It will reveal various happenings at Venango Campus. To escape any possible persecution, the writer will remain anonymous.

"Love is blind"—but the rest of the students at Venango Campus aren't. First of all I must state that I am all in favor of love—especially between boys and girls. I am fully aware of all basic biological drives and am cognizant of the fact that they must be satisfied. However, I do not feel that they should be satisfied in the locker room.

I realize that it will never be possible to halt the thousands of "little kisses" which are awarded each day in this room. It is only natural that a fairly dark, often vacant, and rather warm area will be a haven for this type of activity. But lately these activities have amounted to more than just hand holding or little kisses. It has been embarrassing and quite disgusting for a vast number of our students. Let it be known that "The Skunk" hereby defies any Venango Campus student to support these actions in the locker room. I would especially enjoy hearing from those students who are the habitual offenders, they know who they are.

Umbreit Places

Miss Penny Umbreit, sophomore at Venango Campus, was second runner-up in the Miss Laurel Festival Contest recently held in Brookville, Pa.

Miss Helen Jo Marschinke, sophomore at the main campus and former Venango Campus student, was crowned queen of this festival. She will now be eligible to compete in the contest for Miss Pennsylvania to be held at a later date.

If you can't get behind a movement for the good of the community, the least you can do is get out from in front of it.

ALPHA CHI RHO

Just before Easter vacation, our Chapter was honored by a visit from two of our National Officers: Mr. Henson Watchorn and Mr. Chris Seidel. It was an opportunity for the new Brothers to become acquainted with the operation of a National Fraternity and their visit was appreciated by all.

In the past few weeks, five new Brothers have been initiated into the order. They are: Brothers Jim Rhodes, Cal Hale, Jeff Wildman, Dave Arendas, and Carl Glass. We are pleased to welcome these men into our Fraternity and look forward to a fruitful association with them.

We wish to thank all those who contributed money to the Red Cross when the Brothers were collecting for it before Easter. We would also like to thank Mr. Rhoades of the Department of Mathematics for providing us with this opportunity to help.

On May 7, the National Fraternity of Alpha Chi Rho will institute a new Chapter at Hartwick College, Oneonta, N. Y. Many of the Brothers of our Chapter are planning to attend and welcome a new Chapter into the Brotherhood.

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

The Brothers of Alpha Gamma Phi extend our deepest gratitude to those Deans and faculty members who voted for our removal from social probation. We are going to try our very best to maintain our new status and show you all that your trust in us will not be in vain. Thank you all very much.

The Brothers are all busy preparing for the spring formal and for the Greek Weekend. We are anxiously awaiting these upcoming events.

Welcome back brothers DeRiggi and Cut from your trip to Florida. Sigma Alpha Epsilon national fraternity is very interested in the Gammas.

Brother Catz gave a party for all the brothers over Easter vacation at his father's supper club. Everyone had a good time and we are all looking forward to a return visit.

Good luck to the softball and golf intramural teams this spring.

Brother Sellari recently competed in a Tri-State motorcycle scramble meet. Congratulations on the trophy you won.

Brother Thomas has just accepted a bid to study French this summer at the University of Versailles in Paris. Good luck, Bob.

BETA CHI UPSILON

Our informal pledging party will be held on Saturday, April 22, at the home of Mrs. Penny, our patroness. The sisters are anticipating an enjoyable afternoon with our pledges.

Red roses were sent to our sister, Joan Moody, on her engagement.

All the sisters are working on the songs for Greek Sing. We are also looking forward to participating in Spring Weekend.

The sisters urge their teammates, the brothers of Theta Chi, Alpha Chi Rho, and Phi Sigma Kappa, to participate in the bloodmobile contest.

Our sister, Marlene Eaton, was a delegate to Newman Club convention which was held in Virginia on the weekend of April 14.

We are anticipating the removal of sister Alana Gazetki's cast which has plagued her since December.

Future events include formal initiations, installation of officers, and mother's day tea.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

Following the Easter vacation, the Phi Sigma Kappa's have been busy preparing for the last frantic weeks of the semester. Last weekend we held a "Hell's Angel's" party. This unusual party proved to be interesting and quite different. The Redeemers provided the music and everyone had a good time.

Congratulations go to brother Larry Martin on becoming a member of Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary journalism fraternity.

The brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa have begun practice for Greek Sing and the house is nightly filled with melodious strains. We are preparing our songs under capable leadership and hope to do an outstanding job. One more week should see us adequately prepared to meet the competition. Also, the Phi Sigma Kappa's are preparing for participation in the Greek Day activities.

This evening Phi Sigma Kappa will hold a semi-formal "Paris Party." Plans have been made and we expect a very nice party.

Also, the brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa would like to wish everyone a happy spring.

THETA XI

On April 12, new officers for next semester were elected. They are: president, Rich Zabrowski; vice president, Harry Whyson; treasurer, Bob Peters; corresponding secretary, Gabe Kissell; house manager, Dave Swaney; pledgemaster, Bill Rudesill; scholastic chairman, Terry Moore. These officers were installed on Monday, April 18. Congratulations men and good luck during your term of office.

The social committee is pleased with the results of our last few parties which include the Roman toga party and the play pen party. We are sure that the remaining parties planned for this semester will be equally successful. On April 23, we are holding a barn party, and on May 8, after the formal, there will be a picnic for the Brothers and their dates.

Pledgemaster Bill Rudesill announces the pledging of two more men. They are Rich Mahalic and John Highhouse. Under the new open rush program, these men will complete their pledge period next fall.

The Brothers of Theta Xi would like to congratulate Miss "Jo" Marschinke on winning first place in the Laurel Festival at Brookville. We wish her the best of luck in the Miss Pennsylvania contest.

We thank Mr. P-Jobb for the fine program which he presented on Tuesday evening, April 19, in the party room of the Theta Xi house. He showed films of the Hungarian revolution and also gave a short talk to the Brothers of Theta Xi and the Sisters of Alpha Sigma Tau.

THIETA CHI

Corral, held at Kent State, is over, but it will not be forgotten.

We would like to thank Elaine Daniels for accompanying us and representing Epsilon Xi chapter in the Dream Girl Contest. Milt Anderson and John Close had an exceptionally good time at corral and although Milt may never be an astronaut, his moon shots are something else.

Congratulations to the "Surfer" for winning the gift certificate sponsored by our pledge class.

Spring Weekend is next week. The dance on Friday night is going to have a popular group and Greek Day has a lot to offer, ending with Greek Sing. Best of luck to the brothers who will be singing this year. They will be defending the title for the fourth straight year.

May 7 is the date for our Annual Spring Banquet. Last year's banquet was something to remember. This year's Spring Banquet should be even better.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

The sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma have been busy practicing these past few weeks for Greek Sing. Things are beginning to look up and everyone is looking forward to a great weekend.

The shaker sweaters have arrived and can be picked up anytime in the Tri-Sigma suite.

We're glad to announce that all the pledges have survived Pledge Week. The prize for the best pledge box went to Ginny Scott. Even though the garters shut off the circulation and the boxes were a little heavy, the week was enjoyed by all.

Purple Violets go to Jo Marschinke who was named "Miss Northwestern Pennsylvania" at the Laurel Festival held in Oil City, Saturday, April 16. Jo put on a fine Sigma show and we are all very proud of her. She will appear in the Miss Pennsylvania contest in July. Best of Luck, Jo—we're all behind you!

Students Probe Death Penalty

On Monday evening, March 21, the Venango Campus discussion group held an open meeting on "the death penalty." The Philosophes were joined by 15 interested students for a lively and somewhat heated debate.

Many interesting points were brought up, such as: What could be used to replace the death penalty? Does the death penalty deter the criminal? Does society have the right to take a life? Although no conclusion was reached, many persons were intellectually stimulated and challenged.

Movie Viewed

On March 20, approximately 40 Campus students viewed the movie, Cyano DeBergerac, in the Campus Student Lounge.

The play was written at the peak of the Romantic Era in the eighteenth century. It was concerned with chivalry, heroic deeds, and the courtly love tradition.

Drama Group Rejuvenated

After several inactive semesters, the Alpha Upsilon chapter of Alpha Psi Omega is being re-organized under the auspices of Bob H. Copeland.

Alpha Psi was organized as an honorary dramatic fraternity for the purpose of providing an honor society for those doing a high standard of work in dramatics and through the expansion of Alpha Psi Omega among the colleges of the United States and Canada, provide a wider fellowship for those interested in the college theatre.

The fraternity is not intended to take the place of the regular dramatic club or other producing groups, but as students qualify, they are rewarded by election to membership into this society. The spring pledge class consists of: Clinton F. Best, Robert L. Bickart, Nerissa Broad, David C. Caldwell, Richard A. Locke, Robert J. Miller, Naomi Schaltenbrand, Joseph C. Thomas, Charles E. Titus, and Jac Williams.

Student Delivers Paper

Christina Cornely, a senior student in Speech Pathology and Audiology at Clarion State College, will deliver a paper at the Annual Convention of the Pennsylvania Speech and Hearing Association in Philadelphia, on April 23, 1966.

The title of her paper will be "Relationships Between Selected Audiological Tests and Hearing Handicap." This paper reports the results of research carried out at the Speech and Hearing Clinic under the direction of Harold V. Hartley, Jr., Associate Professor Special Education. The research project was designed to identify certain audiological tests that would be appropriate in determining degree of hearing handicap.

At present Miss Cornely is student teaching in the Sharon Public Schools.

Clarion Racers Pitted Against Slippery Rock

Coach Joy to Direct Summer Ball Camp

John A. Joy, basketball coach at CSC, has been named as director of the staff of the Allegheny Mountain Basketball Camp for Boys for the fourth season.

Working with Coach Joy will be Charles "Buzz" Ridl, basketball coach at Westminster College, and internationally famous basketball official Zigmund J. "Red" Mihlik.

John A. Joy, assistant professor of health and physical education at CSC, and varsity coach of the Golden Eagles, has a five year college coaching record of 56 won and 38 lost. In 1965-66 his team won 15 and lost 6, and was picked to play in District 18 NAIA playoffs. It won second place in Western Division of the State College Conference and made the second best record in District 18 NAIA.

Joy coached high school 23 years at Jeannette High School, Jeannette, Pa., winning 346 and losing 129 games. In this time his teams won 11 sectional championships and four district championships.

WADE CRIBBS hurls the shot put 38 feet and 7 3/4 inches to take third place in the Slippery Rock-Clarion track meet. Clarion lost 31-112.

Debaters Finish Well

University Of West Virginia

Clarion's debaters finished the season very strongly March 16 at the University of West Virginia, where two Clarion teams tied for second in a field of 34 teams from 15 states.

Barbara Artuso of Arnold teamed with freshman Pat Dobson of Verona to compile a 5-1 record, and Jean Elliott of Knox teamed with freshman June Rudolph of Gibsonsia for another 5-1 record for Clarion. The only undefeated team in the tournament was Wayne State. Clarion's 5-1 records placed them in a tie with last year's Pennsylvania champions from Duquesne, Michigan State, University of North Carolina, Western Reserve, and Southern Connecticut.

Jean Elliott was awarded an individual speaking trophy as one of the top 10 debaters in the tournament.

Pennsylvania State Tournament

Sophomore John Mann won the third place oratory trophy on April 2 at the Pennsylvania State Tournament, held at St. Vincent's College in Latrobe. First place was taken by Mahmood Mandani of Pitt, a foreign exchange student from India who also won the state championship last year.

Clarion's debaters finished in a tie for sixth place, with a 6-4 record. The State Championship in debate was won by LaSalle, and Duquesne, last year's champions, finished second.

Twila Yates and Barbara Artuso compiled a 4-1 record on the affirmative. John Mann and Marilyn Naugle had a 2-3 record on the negative. Clarion was in second place behind St. Vincent's going into the final round of the tournament, but both Clarion and St. Vincent's were eliminated from the semi-finals when they lost both debates in the fifth round of the tournament.

Two teams of Clarion freshmen competed for the National Novice Championship the same weekend at Bellarmine College in Louisville, Ky.

Judy Brandalick and Pat Dobson had the best record for Clarion with five wins and three losses.

June Rudolph and Lee Calway had a 4-4 record.

Lakes Tournament

Over Easter vacation Clarion debaters Cathy Edner and Nancy Caldwell took second place in the open division of debate at the Pi Kappa Delta Province of the Lakes Tournament, held this year at the University of Norwich in Northfield, Vt.

The province of the Lakes includes all Pi Kappa Delta members from Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New York and New England. Edner and Caldwell had a 3-1 record. Norwich placed first in the division, with an identical win-loss record with Clarion, and three more speaker points. Edner and Caldwell both received medals for the second place finish.

Clarion's men's team of freshmen Mike Ferianc and sophomore John Mann finished in a tie for third in the men's division.

Nancy Caldwell also won another medal by placing third in women's oratory. John Mann finished fourth among all contestants in men's oratory. Judy Brandalick of Bethel Park finished fifth in Pitt after dinner speaking when her tie for fourth place with Polasky of Youngstown was broken on points. Polasky took second in the finals, which were presented at the tournament banquet.

It was the final tournament of the year for the Clarion debaters competing at Norwich.

Open House Scheduled For Sunday Afternoon

An open house of the new Dining Hall will be conducted for the community of Clarion and parents of Clarion State College students on Sunday, May 8.

The recently completed $2,000,000 building will be open for public inspection from 1 to 6 p.m. Mother's Day afternoon.

Open to inspection will be the giant modern kitchen, bakery, food storage areas and serving lines. Visitors will also have an opportunity to visit the lounges, and faculty dining areas.

The public will be taken in groups of 12 on guided tours through the entire facility, and guests are invited to enjoy refreshments at their leisure during the open house hours.

During the day, campus visitors will be invited to stroll around the campus to acquaint themselves with other buildings, the new construction and to enjoy the gardens and plantings.

CSC students may invite parents to a Mother's Day turkey dinner at $1.25 per person.

The architect for the Dining Hall,

During its operation since January 23, the new Dining Hall has provided a greatly increased quality of food service for nearly 1,500 students daily. With a seating capacity of 1,000 in two large dining rooms and four efficient serving lines, the facility can serve a maximum of 3,000 persons in the two hour periods normally allotted for meal service.

Some of the kitchen equipment items are two dish washers with automatic conveyor capable of handling 7,000 pieces per hour, six 60 gallon steam kettles, two large rotary ovens, the largest of which will take 75 turkeys at once, and 12 high pressure steamers of 30 pounds capacity each for vegetable cooking. There is a fully equipped bakery and food storage plant in the basement, including six walk-in refrigerators and two walk-in freezers.

Clarion Racers Pitted Against Slippery Rock

Coach Joy to Direct Summer Ball Camp

John A. Joy, basketball coach at CSC, has been named as director of the staff of the Allegheny Mountain Basketball Camp for Boys for the fourth season.

Working with Coach Joy will be Charles "Buzz" Ridd, basketball coach at Westminster College, and internationally famous basketball official Zigmund J. "Red" Mihlik.

John A. Joy, assistant professor of health and physical education at CSC, and varsity coach of the Golden Eagles, has a five year college coaching record of 56 won and 38 lost. In 1965-66 his team won 15 and lost 6, and was picked to play in District 18 NAIA playoffs. It won second place in Western Division of the State College Conference and made the second best record in District 18 NAIA.

Joy coached high school 23 years at Jeannette High School, Jeannette, Pa., winning 346 and losing 129 games. In this time his teams won 11 sectional championships and four district championships.

WADE CRIBBS hurls the shot put 38 feet and 7 3/4 inches to take third place in the Slippery Rock-Clarion track meet. Clarion lost 31-112.

Debaters Finish Well

University Of West Virginia

Clarion's debaters finished the season very strongly March 16 at the University of West Virginia, where two Clarion teams tied for second in a field of 34 teams from 15 states.

Barbara Artuso of Arnold teamed with freshman Pat Dobson of Verona to compile a 5-1 record, and Jean Elliott of Knox teamed with freshman June Rudolph of Gibsonia for another 5-1 record for Clarion. The only undefeated team in the tournament was Wayne State. Clarion's 5-1 records placed them in a tie with last year's Pennsylvania champions from Duquesne, Michigan State, University of North Carolina, Western Reserve, and Southern Connecticut.

Jean Elliott was awarded an individual speaking trophy as one of the top 10 debaters in the tournament.

Pennsylvania State Tournament

Sophomore John Mann won the third place oratory trophy on April 2 at the Pennsylvania State Tournament, held at St. Vincent's College in Latrobe. First place was taken by Mahmood Mandani of Pitt, a foreign exchange student from India who also won the state championship last year.

Clarion's debaters finished in a tie for sixth place, with a 6-4 record. The State Championship in debate was won by LaSalle, and Duquesne, last year's champions, finished second.

Twila Yates and Barbara Artuso compiled a 4-1 record on the affirmative. John Mann and Marilyn Naugle had a 2-3 record on the negative. Clarion was in second place behind St. Vincent's going into the final round of the tournament, but both Clarion and St. Vincent's were eliminated from the semi-finals when they lost both debates in the fifth round of the tournament.

Two teams of Clarion freshmen competed for the National Weekend Championship the same weekend at Bellarmine College in Louisville, Ky.

Judy Brandalick and Pat Dobson had the best record for Clarion with five wins and three losses.

June Rudolph and Lee Calway had a 4-4 record.

Lakes Tournament

Over Easter vacation Clarion debaters Cathy Edner and Nancy Caldwell took second place in the open division of debate at the Pi Kappa Delta Province of the Lakes Tournament, held this year at the University of Norwich in Northfield, Vt.

The province of the Lakes includes all Pi Kappa Delta members from Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, New York and New England. Edner and Caldwell had a 3-1 record. Norwich placed first in the division, with an identical win-loss record with Clarion, and three more speaker points. Edner and Caldwell both received medals for the second place finish.

Clarion's men's team of freshmen Mike Feriane and sophomore John Mann finished in a tie for third in the men's division.

Nancy Caldwell also won another medal by placing third in women's oratory. John Mann finished fourth among all contestants in men's oratory. Judy Brandalick of Bethel Park finished fifth in after dinner speaking when her tie for fourth place with Polasky of Youngstown was broken on points. Polasky took second in the finals, which were presented at the tournament banquet.

It was the final tournament of the year for the Clarion debaters competing at Norwich.

With U. of Pitt

A cooperative program for the training of University of Pittsburgh doctoral candidates is soon to be initiated at Clarion State College.

Dr. J. Robert Moore, CSC alumnus and now associate professor of biology at Clarion, who received his Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh, will be working as a special counselor with Thomas Waring, a Clarion State College student who will graduate in May 1966.

Dr. Moore and Mr. Waring will work during the summer at the Pymatuning Laboratory field station operated by the University of Pittsburgh, doing biological field research in plant physiology.

The plan is that Waring will come to CSC as an instructor when he has completed the academic portion of his doctoral studies. He plans to write his dissertation while working at Clarion in about three years. Clarion State College was invited by the University of Pittsburgh to participate in the project which is sponsored by the National Institute of Health.

Open House Scheduled For Sunday Afternoon

An open house of the new Dining Hall will be conducted for the community of Clarion and parents of Clarion State College students on Sunday, May 8.

The recently completed $2,000,000 building will be open for public inspection from 1 to 6 p.m. Mother's Day afternoon.

Open to inspection will be the giant modern kitchen, bakery, food storage areas and serving lines. Visitors will also have an opportunity to visit the lounges, and faculty dining areas.

The public will be taken in groups of 12 on guided tours through the entire facility, and guests are invited to enjoy refreshments at their leisure during the open house hours.

During the day, campus visitors will be invited to stroll around the campus to acquaint themselves with other buildings, the new construction and to enjoy the gardens and plantings.

CSC students may invite parents to a Mother's Day turkey dinner at $1.25 per person.

The architect for the Dining Hall,

Joseph Bontempo and Associates of Rochester, Pa., is also the designer of the new Science Building and Gymnasium now being erected on the southern portion of the campus.

During its operation since January 23, the new Dining Hall has provided a greatly increased quality of food service for nearly 1,500 students daily. Editorially Speaking . . .

Dress Still at Issue

On Tuesday, April 26, the Student Senate was presented with a petition for a reconsideration of the cafeteria dress standard. The committee led by Bob Gray and Wayne Downs presented the Student Senate with a petition containing 818 names in compliance with the Constitution's 20 per cent requirement.

This committee asked that the regulation that now insists on sports coats for men at evening meals Monday through Thursday be changed to read that a sport shirt that buttons down the front and that has either long or short sleeves, not frayed or cut may be substituted for the jacket.

Dr. Elliott said that he would be very disappointed in the Senate if it accepted this piece of shoddy and slovenly done work. Dr. Elliott feels it could have been worded better; perhaps it could have been. The Senators' acceptance of this petition would not be what he would expect from a group of students that he was "real proud of" in how "they conducted themselves" at the convention in Shippensburg the weekend before—something entirely irrelevant and very familiar to the elementary student returning from a field trip.

In the following discussion both the student committee and the Senate brought up at least two reasons for the proposed changes: 1.) the distance from Elk and McKean Halls; 2.) that many students are flouting the rules; 3.) the expenses and upkeep that constant wear entails on dress clothes.

Elk Hall is situated approximately three-fourths mile from the center of the campus. This short walk for students having a 10th, 9th, or 9th and 10th period presents a problem. No one wants to dash down to the dorm, change clothes, hurry back to campus, eat dinner, go back to the dorm, change clothes again, and return to campus to use the library. Senator Jones, a student resident at Elk, supported this view. The conditions for those living in McKean are not much better.

Everyone agrees that there is nothing more attractive than gym shoes (sockless, of course), wheat jeans, a red plaid shirt, and a nicely figured tie, with a blue madras sports jacket. This is the height of fashion and several of our male students do not want to be left behind. These men are not violating any section of the rules, they are wearing sport coats. Would not a clean, good looking sports shirt look better and make a better impression on visitors?

Thirdly, there is a definite burden placed on the male student's finances. A male student must own more than one sport jacket if he must wear one to dinner four nights a week, not for his fashion conscience but because of the strain placed on a garment from constant wearing. Are Crooks having a sale on men's sport jackets for $10 this week? Perhaps part of the NDEA Loans could be used for outfitting the male students who must eat in the cafeteria.

Dr. Elliott also felt that too many women had signed the petitions: they are not involved. They are certainly concerned, they are members of the student body. The women understand the pressures of time and work; they realize the expense and the inconvenience.

These students were not pressuring the Senators (only Dr. Elliott seemed to believe this) into sticking their necks out before the Board of Trustees, but only to present their feelings to the Board. The Senators were elected to represent the student body and one-third is one-third, no matter how few of them originally voted for the Senators.

Senators Warnick, Jones, and Catanzano must be commended for their courageous stand to Dr. Elliott's "Advising."

The Senate has appointed a committee to do a further study on this problem. One part will include a survey in the cafeteria. They also promised to act on the results.

Let's face it, this is a show of school spirit—something the administration has decried the lack of. Next year the college will celebrate its centennial. It seems to have managed through all those years without the present "control everything" policy. Students, remember George Orwell (student number 1984) said that "orthodoxy is unconsciousness." Don't take on responsibility while on campus; when you graduate, a booklet, "How to Handle Responsibility," is given with each diploma.

LETTERS . . .

Dear Editor:

I offer this letter in reply to a letter from Miss Concerned in your April 23, 1966, issue.

Miss Concerned, you openly accuse the Venango Campus students of a number of obvious rash and immature actions i.e. destruction of property on several occasions. You also have brought to light a rumor about alcoholic beverages being hidden in the woods for implied drunken picnics. In no case has a student from this campus been found guilty of destroying campus property in the incidents you relate to us in your letter. That is a fact.

It is obvious that you never intended to deal with fact or truth. I for one am tired of people like you giving Venango Campus student body's reputation a black smear with your pen. If you have some facts that might identify the guilty parties, why don't you bring them into the open and have the offenders punished? You seem to reflect the college administration's policy of convicting a person and then looking for evidence.

It must be noted that all of the "rustic" benches are not floating in the pond. As a matter of fact, none of them at all. It must also be noted that the tires floating in the pond, the stolen Venango Campus sign, and the stolen ground lights may not be caused by students from this school at all. By stating as a fact that "the students," rather than "some students," are doing the damage and then by narrowing the field down to a specific group (the students not coming back next semester), you have come pretty close to libel. You demonstrate to all of your readers exactly what kind of a person you are when you proudly tell us of a rumor that you heard. Spreading rumors of a derogatory nature is one of the most insidious acts a person can perform. It makes me sick to think that a supposedly intelligent student, attending that same school as we do, would be willing to cheat us of any respect that we deserve by spreading rumors that have no foundation of truth to support them.

Obviously, Miss Concerned, you have protected yourself from any of the consequences of your dirt-spreading by refusing to print your name.

How, if I may ask, Miss Concerned, are we to recover the respect, integrity, and pride that your pen of destruction has lost for us?

GEORGE OLIVER
PICKERING, JR.

Dear Mr. Pickering:

Your letter is nothing more than an attack on the writer, Miss Concerned. Unless you can disprove her accusations, you have no right to attack them or call her a liar. If I were you, I would check the Campus pond and the wooded area behind it. Also I would question the security guards of the Campus about the missing sign and the broken lights.

KAREN KENNELLY

Dear Editor:

My thanks go to the many students, faculty members and friends who donated blood for my future use. My thanks also go to the nurses, grey ladies, volunteer workers, and to the excellent promotional service of the Alpha Gamma Phi Fraternity who helped to make all of this possible. I am most appreciative of your efforts.

Thank you everyone.

RAY GIERING

Dear Editor:

Last weekend on April 29, Clarion State College held its annual Spring Formal Dance. The affair was an obvious success, owing to fine co-ordination by the social chairman, and borne out in large attendance figures.

The locale, setting, and atmosphere of the affair were quite pleasing and the professional entertainment was quite suitable for the situation. It was the Students' pleasure to play host to the professional night club act, Joni Wilson and the Debonaires. These men are by no means neophytes in their particular brand of entertaining, and produced fine music and a good floor show.

It was nearing midnight, and the majority of students were enjoying themselves to say the least. The Debonaires were in the midst of their club act, and then—WACKO—the lights went out. The professionals were playing to a dead floor and a house concealed in darkness. Why? The attending Clarion State College Rulers, in fine classical tradition pronounced "thumbs down" upon Joni Wilson, and the darkness ate him up like a lion.

This administrative action brings up many pertinent questions and problems, which must be considered for the good of Clarion State. First, there is no doubt in anyone's mind that the forced blackout was in poor taste. No matter what type of entertainment is considered, this action is unforgivable. Another problem arises. Due to lack of facilities, the Debonaires resided much of the time at the Phi Sigma Epsilon House. Here the entertainers remarked, before the show, upon the widespread reputation Clarion State has as an ultra-conservative school. After the show, these men seemed to think that no matter what, this school was going to have a tough time getting a lot of entertainment, if we ever looked for it again.

At the rate Clarion State is growing, there is no doubt that this school will need entertainment at some time. This growth in itself is a problem. Figures, acres, and numbers of buildings aren't much, from the Students' point of view, when you're talking about spirit. The Students are constantly attacked for lack of spirit, but this can't be solely their responsibility. The popular consensus is that there was more spirit at the Formal this year than has been shown anywhere in quite a while. And what happened?

Tampering with the Students' spirit, or welfare as you have it, poses another serious problem. How far can the administration go in passing judgment on what is good and bad for the student? Exactly what conception does the administration have of the student? And, if this conception falls short of our conception of ourselves, then the administration has no right to demand great things of us for their own advantage. If we see something to our advantage, we are robbed of it.

There is even a broader question to consider. What can the college demand of us as Students? What can we demand of the college as students spending great amounts of time, money, and energy every year? No answer can be set forth here. But an evaluation of student relationship to the administration must be made. This is for the benefit of Clarion State College, in every conceivable way.

Those submitting this letter wish to express their disappointment at the action taken on Friday night. We consider this an insult to the name of Clarion State College. We also take this action as a personal insult in questioning our character. If the Debonaires are acknowledged as "men unfit for society," and we enjoy their performance, what does that make us?

If there is ever to be a healthy, spirited bond between Clarion State College and its lifeblood, the students, the gaps that exist now must be evaluated and bridged.

We would like to stress one point. We believe the Formal Dance to have been a success, primarily because of the Debonaires. And, we have faith in ourselves as responsible, maturing adults.

BROTHERS OF PHI SIGMA EPSILON who attended the Spring Formal on April 29.

Dear Editor:

I was glad to see that some students are concerned about the governing of student affairs. I am referring to the editorial that appeared in the last Call issue. Though the editorial was directed toward present dress regulations in the cafeteria, I feel that its writer was dealing with a subject of far greater importance. The real thing at issue is the lack of adequate self-government that prevails on this campus. Of course there is the Student Senate, but I do not feel that all of the standards set up by the Senate adequately reflect the designs of the students they represent.

There are several factors which hamper the Senate's effectiveness. First on the list is the apparent apathy and lack of concern exhibited by many of the school's students. A second factor is the actual selection of the Senators. Though many of our Senators are probably quite capable, the fact remains that most are elected on the basis of popularity and fraternity or sorority influence. If popularity is the best measure of self-governing abilities and intelligent leadership qualities, then I stand corrected.

Administrative influence is of no little importance in establishing regulations and controls. With all of these shackles how can we expect our Senators to function in accord with the wants and needs of the students. As far as I am concerned, there are far too many "don'ts" to allow for the maximum or even adequate development of creative abilities, independence, and a mature attitude toward responsibility.

Dear Editor:

The students of Clarion State College should be ashamed of themselves. In a college of this size, the lack of cultural interest is appalling. The Spring Festival sponsored by the Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts and the Department of Music was so poorly attended that the majority of empty seats was an insult to the performers and to the countless hours spent in preparation for the program. Not only was the audience small, but some of the people showed no consideration for the presentation. At least four persons actually got up and walked out while Dr. Van Meter was speaking. What has happened to common courtesy and good manners?

A wrestling match draws a larger and more enthusiastic crowd than does an oral interpretative reading or a music recital. On a campus of higher education this is disgusting. I have seen a better response at a high school musical. A little refinement never hurt anyone and the students of Clarion certainly could stand a healthy dose. Bad manners are evident not

Bloodmobile

A new all-time record for blood donations in Clarion County—and probably within this entire area of Pennsylvania—was set at Clarion State College on Tuesday when the Red Cross Bloodmobile's visit to the local campus resulted in donation of 259 pints.

The tremendous response more than doubled the previous blood-donor record set several months ago by employees of the Owens-Illinois glass plant here.

The college quota, a Red Cross spokesman said, had been set at 90 pints—the same quota as that assigned to Owens-Illinois for the Bloodmobile's semi-annual visits during several years past.

A major factor in the record-breaking response of the CSC students lies in the fact that Ray Giering, a member of the college's faculty and the college's assistant director of placement, is scheduled to undergo heart surgery in St. Francis Hospital, Pittsburgh, next month. Of the approximately 300 individuals who registered to give blood, 81 indicated that they were making their one-pint contributions in Mr. Giering's behalf.

The Red Cross blood collection unit was set up in Harvey Gymnasium.

Instrumental in obtaining the record number of registrants and ultimate donors were the brothers of Alpha Gamma Phi fraternity, who served as sponsors of the blood collection and donated 66 pints. A large part of the advance work was done, a Red Cross spokesman said, by Ken Warnick, a member of the sponsoring fraternity and All-State wrestling champion.

Ballentine Hall donated 22 pints.

Donations above the college's 90-pint quota, and in excess of those required by faculty-member Giering at the time of his impending heart surgery, will be assigned to the U.S. Department of Defense, and some of the whole blood contributed here will, in other forms, find its way to Viet Nam where it will help to save the lives of American servicemen.

ALPHA GAMMA PHI

We are proud of our success in the recent bloodmobile. Special thanks go to Brother Ken Warnick for his valiant effort. Special thanks are extended to the Sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha for their winning effort. We would like to thank the entire school for their contribution.

The brothers are to be congratulated for winning Greek Day. One hundred percent participation by all the brothers was the key to our success. Although our pyramid reached the zenith of perfection, several unmentionable factors prevented the brothers from taking first place in this event. Congratulations are extended to brothers Sellari, Zaccari, and Armstrong on their team's winning the sorority football game. Red and Black orchids go to the 10 strongest men of the college campus for literally pulling the other fraternities into oblivion in the tug-of-war contest. Congratulations to brother Castagna for his ability to elude the sisters of Delta Zeta.

Congratulations to Brother Cutruzzola for taking the place of the president of the college at the Greek Sing, and for representing some 80-odd parents in the recent bloodmobile. Special attention was also given to Ralph at the Spring Formal for his speech that enabled the show to go on.

On the international scene—brother Bob Thomas will represent Alpha Gamma Phi in a world-wide plea for peace at the United Nations early in June.

The brothers enjoyed the music and floor show of Joni Wilson and the Debonaires. We would like to see more of this professional entertainment at the college.

Brother Sellari recently attended a conference with the joint chiefs of staff at the Ho-Chi Men trial to discuss escalating the war effort in Viet Nam. Following the conference he immediately flew to Washington to confer with L. B. J. and other high defense officials.

Due to the fact that the brothers were just recently lifted from probation, not enough time was allotted them to practice for Greek Sing or truly Greek weekend would have been a complete walk-away for Alpha Gamma Phi.

ALPHA SIGMA TAU

Clarion's first Greek Weekend proved to be an exciting and a memorable one for Alpha Sigma Tau. Alpha Tau placed third in the Greek Olympics, first runner-up in the Greek Sing and received the sorority Scholastic Award. It was also, "A Good Day" for the Zeta Tau Alphas and the "Stout Hearted Men" of Sigma Tau Gamma—congratulations on winning first prize in Greek Sing.

Congratulations to the brothers of Theta Xi for winning the Scholastic Award in the fraternity division. The sisters of AT really enjoyed Greek Weekend and are looking forward to the tradition in the years to come.

Yellow roses go to a "Dear Heart," Helen Hastings, our song leader, for all her hard work and patience. Thanks a million, Helen! Yellow roses also go to Ruth Pushkar, who was recently elected president of PSEA.

Informal initiation was held in the suite April 29. Formal initiation was held May 2 followed by a big sister-little sister party at the Clarion Restaurant. Alpha Sigma Tau is pleased to welcome to its sisterhood its newly initiated members: Chris Carlson, Anna Mae Deemer, Tana Fairfax, Nancy Glass, Pat Joseph, Amy McWhirter, Carol Palinkas, Carol Peters, Pat Poliwczak, Barb Samuels, Laura Williams, and Barb Smith.

The sisters were entertained by Mrs. Chernicky and Mrs. Landi, in the Chernicky home after Greek Sing practice. A big AT thank you goes to Mrs. Landi and Mrs. Chernicky, our patronesses, for their thoughtfulness.

On April 23, it was the honor of Alpha Omicron chapter to help install 26 new sisters of the Alpha Pi chapter at Slippery Rock State College. It was a pleasure to take part in the ceremony and we look forward to getting to know our new sisters better.

The members of Alpha Omicron chapter are busily planning for the 16th National Convention of Alpha Sigma Tau at the Terrace Hilton in Cincinnati, Ohio. President Sharon Freed will serve as Clarion's first Alpha Tau delegate to the National Convention August 22-25.

The members of Alpha Sigma Tau wish everyone a long and fun-filled summer.

BETA CHI UPSILON

Beta Chi Upsilon thanks Mrs. Penny, our patroness, for the delicious lunch after the informal initiation. The Smarty team and the pledges had a good time in participating in the activities that were provided by the rest of the sorority.

Formal initiation was held on April 25. The Beta Chi Upsilon Sorority is proud to announce that Laurel King and Ellen Vaile have become sisters. After the ceremony, there was a party in honor of our new sisters.

The sisters congratulate Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority and Sigma Tau Gamma Fraternity for winning the first place in Greek Sing.

Peppermint carnations were sent to Eddie Coughlan for doing such a great job as song leader for Greek Sing.

We would like to congratulate all the "Greeks" for participating in the Bloodmobile and making it the most successful one yet at Clarion. Congratulations to Alpha Gamma Phi Fraternity on their organization and promotion of the bloodmobile.

Congratulations to Sharon Walsch for being lavaliered to Rick Hoffman, Theta Xi at Slippery Rock State College.

The sisters extend their best wishes to Linda Lasik, Carol Rogers, and Joan Moody on their upcoming graduation.

The sisters of Beta Chi Upsilon Sorority will miss Mrs. Robinson, patroness and sister, who will be retiring at the end of this school year. We wish to thank her for all the help and consideration throughout the years. We wish her the best and will never forget her.

The sisters are busy preparing for their annual Mother's Day Tea which will be held on May 8.

Good luck to the student body on their finals. Have a nice summer vacation!

THETA XI

Saturday, April 23, 1966, was an important day on campus for Beta Omicron Chapter of Theta Xi. Delegates from six Theta Xi Chapters converged at the local Chapter House on Greenville Avenue for an all-day conference on fraternity affairs.

Arrangements for this conclave were under the direction of Mr. Eugene A. Seelye, newly appointed Regional Director of Theta Xi, and Ronald Rupert, General Chairman. Region three chapters participating were Kappa Mu from Rochester Institute of Technology, Beta Sigma from California State College, Kappa Alpha from Youngstown University, Lambda from the Pennsylvania State University, and Beta Omicron from Clarion State College. Guests of the conference were the officers from the Omega Xi Social Club at Slippery Rock State College. In May this club will be initiated and installed as a Theta Xi Chapter.

Welcoming the delegates to the campus of Clarion State College was Dr. Charles Thomas, Dean of Mean. Mr. Richard Zabrowski, the president of the local chapter, also greeted the delegates and welcomed them to the Beta Omicron House.

The main purpose of the conference was to acquaint the chapters in this area with each other, to discuss common goals and problems, and to exchange ideas and programs which might be beneficial to the respective chapters.

With this in mind, the delegates discussed such things as rushing, pledging, pledge education, and membership. House management and managers, finances, and duties of officers were also topics of interest.

At a luncheon at the Modern Diner, Mr. Clair Kime from the Clarion County Agricultural Extension Office addressed the delegates concerning the role of the fraternity in the community.

With some of Mr. Kime's remarks for a starter, the afternoon sessions dealt with fraternity relationships with advisors, the community, college administrators, alumni, and other Greek campus organizations.

Climaxing the conference was the evening banquet in the private dining room of the new Dining Hall at which time Dr. Dana Still, Assistant Dean of Academic Affairs, brought to the group some ideas on the goals of education today.

After a day of intensive discussions and meetings, the delegates were treated to a Barn Party dance (complete with bales of hay) in the party room of the Xi house.

Mr. Elmer Blumenkamp, Executive Secretary of Theta Xi, participated in the activities of the day and with the delegates pronounced the conference a success. It is hoped these meetings will become annual affairs for Theta Xi Chapters in this region.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

On April 20, the Tri Sigmas held their Founder's Day Banquet at Johnny Garneau's Restaurant. The banquet was in honor of the 68th birthday of Sigma Sigma Sigma.

On May 3 we are having a tea in honor of our patronesses. We thank our patronesses and especially Miss Irwin and Miss Wiant, our sponsors, for all the help they have given us during this year.

The Tri Sigmas are having a tea for their mothers on May 8. The tea will be held in the sorority room with refreshments and entertainment.

Congratulations to Philomena Gallek and Eddie Bialik on being initiated into Alpha Mu Gamma, the National Collegiate Foreign Language Honor Society.

Best wishes to Eddie Bialik on her visit this summer to Mexico. Eddie will be studying at the Inter-American University at Satillo.

Purple violets go to Marti Henna on her recent engagement to Sam Caryl of the United States Army.

Congratulations to Zeta Tau Alpha and Alpha Gamma Phi on winning first place at the Greek Olympics. We are sure that everyone had an enjoyable day.

Congratulations to Sigma Tau Gamma and Zeta Tau Alpha on winning Greek Sing.

We thank our sisters who participated in the Greek Olympics, helping us win second place in the day's activities.

The sisters of Sigma Sigma Sigma wish the students and professors a happy and safe summer. We will see you next September. HAVE FUN!

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

Two weeks go the Phi Sigma Kappa's held their first semi-formal dance and party in our new house. The Reckers provided the music and through special arrangements, several French waiters, doormen, etc. added to the effect of our "Paris Party." Everyone agreed that the party was a huge success and we thank everyone who had a part in its planning and presentation.

Congratulations go to Brother Larry Rager for being elected secretary-treasurer of the Interfraternity Council.

Spring Weekend proved to be a big success for the brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa. For the entire Greek Day activities, we provided stiff competition. Under the direction of Tom Kudes, we developed a prize winning pyramid and took third place in that contest. Greek Sing proved another surprise for the Phi Sigma Kappa's, who with our bright red vests, were first runner-up in the fraternity division of the Greek Sing competition. Although among the smaller (but the mightier) fraternities on the Clarion campus, Phi Sigma Kappa was well represented during Spring Weekend. Our Congratulations go to Alpha Gamma Phi and Zeta Tau Alpha for winning Greek Olympics and to Sigma Tau Gamma, Zeta Tau Alpha, and Alpha Sigma Tau for their achievements at Greek Sing.

Last Monday Phi Sigma Kappa of Clarion Colony elected its officers for the fall term. They are: Tom Wilkinson, president; Larry Rager, vice president; Bob Griffin, secretary; Jim Davison, corresponding secretary; Keith McKinney, treasurer; Don Bailey, inductor; Larry Martin, sentinel; Charlie Ball, pledgemaster; Lynn Barton, house manager; and Tom Kudes, social chairman.

Finally all the brothers of Phi Sigma Kappa would like to wish Mary Kulbenietz a very happy birthday.

THETA CHI

Anyone who attended Greek Olympics at Ralston field this past Saturday can appreciate the football potential that is hidden among the sororities. The Chi's would like to congratulate everyone that participated in Greek Day to make it the success that it was. The girls put a lot of work and effort into the football game to make it the social event of the year at Clarion.

Theta Chi congratulates the Sig Taus and the Zetas for their first place performances at Greek Sing.

Good luck to all of the brothers and their overland excursion this weekend and to Aunt Mary who celebrated her birthday on Wednesday.

Brothers Bob Austen and Tom Tessena placed in the track meet last weekend. Austen is having a good season in track. We hope that he keeps up the pace until the end of the season.

Best of luck to brothers Dee Albert, Dennis Clinton, Dennis Fisher, Ray Forquer, Gerald Matson, Darryl Newell, Thomas Panek, Rich Sheffer and John Sproull who will graduate this May.

The end of another school year is here. Theta Chi extends good luck to everyone during finals and hopes that everyone has a great summer.

Alumni Notes

The activities of Alumni who are making outstanding contributions in their field are important to college students. Certain Alumni add prestige to their Alma Mater, thereby adding distinction to the diploma present students will soon receive. One such alumnus is Harold W. Ferguson '47.

Harold Ferguson was named as an outstanding chemistry teacher in eastern Pennsylvania last week. He was presented with a cash award and a medal struck in his honor. The awards were made by the Chemical Industry Council of Eastern Pennsylvania and the Manufacturing Chemists' Association.

In 1964 Ferguson served as a consultant for a curriculum writing conference at the University of Ibadan in Western Nigeria and in 1965 conducted an institute at the University of Panjab, Chandigarh, India. He will return to India again this summer.

Other awards received by Ferguson include the Pennsylvania Science Teachers' Award and the D. P. I. Distinguished Service Award. Fergie, as his friends know him, has majors in English, Social Studies, Physical Science and in Elementary Education from Clarion State College. While a student here he was a member of the varsity football and wrestling teams. He recently returned to the campus for the Tiffin testimonial dinner. His wife, Jean Blake Ferguson, graduated in 1960 with a major in Library Science. The Fergusons have three children.

Linda Thomas '65 was married on October 1, 1965, to H. W. Wiedner, a Bucknell graduate. Linda is teaching first grade in the Washington City Schools, Washington, Pa. Mr. Wiedner is Director of Development at Washington and Jefferson College.

The present Senior Class, the class of '66, is soliciting funds from the members for a class gift to the College. The class has been responding well and President Dale Frye urges those who have not sent their contributions to do so.

Carrie Danvir '65 is now teaching in the Cleveland City School System. She is teaching senior high English and Speech, and has just finished directing a play entitled "My Three Angels." Carrie plans to work towards her Master's Degree this summer at Penn State University in the field of English. Barbara Danvir, presently the president of Sigma Sigma Sigma, is a sister of Carrie. Barbara is also a student secretary in the Alumni office.

Betty Lou Cherepko '64 is teaching in the Cleveland City System. She is teaching first grade. Betty Lou and Carrie share an apartment in Cleveland.

John Daniel Miller '65 is teaching at Oil City Elementary School. He was one of the dancers in the recent production at Clarion in "Kiss Me Kate." Danny was a member of Theta Chi Fraternity while at Clarion and plans to do graduate work this summer at Colorado University.

Mary Lou Crittenden, a January graduate of Clarion, is now teaching at Phillipsburg High School. She is specializing in the field of Mental Retardation. At Clarion, Mary Lou was a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority.

Alumni Day activities are planned for May 21. Five year classes will have reunions on that day. Each of these classes plans a full day of activities in addition to those planned by the Association. We expect possibly 1,000 Alumni for one or more parts of these activities.

Pat Smith, Sharon Bradford, Bonnie Bloom, and Ann Schreffler helped in folding and stuffing materials for the mailing to Alumni concerning Alumni Day.

Grass Roots Questions

Students Ask:

What is the college policy in the selection and presentation of lecturers or speakers on campus?

From policy passed by Board of Trustees:

Persons who are recognized authorities in specific fields and who can and will present varying, and perhaps conflicting viewpoints covering a vast array of subjects are to be selected.

Faculty members and/or faculty sponsored student groups shall guide and direct the selection of and presentation of speakers or other programs on campus.

In all campus affairs, the college will insist that the basic freedom of speech assured in the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the U.S. not be abridged, and that the opportunities of students at CSC to know and evaluate conflicting opinions not be diluted under any circumstances. Although individuals or groups on campus or elsewhere may object to the views of a speaker, or even to his appearance on campus, such objections cannot be allowed to interfere with the College's program of an intellectually honest and frank exposition of ideas and viewpoints.

Students Ask:

What are the advantages of stealing books from the college library? Faculty and Logic Answer:

The person free of self-respect to the extent that he can steal a book will have a chance to win the Dickinson Annual Award for the largest personal library owned by a college student. If such contests do not interest the book thief, he might sell the stolen merchandise to a Frosh who enjoys building book-bridges or pressing flowers. Certainly the criminal has a definite advantage in competing for grades during term-paper season.

Spring Formal

The spring formal, "Moonlight and Roses," was held Saturday evening, April 30, at the Venango Country Club. The club was transformed into a garden effect with rose trellises and a wishing well.

The basic color theme was red, pink, and white. Over 200 students and guests danced to the music of the Tommy Payne orchestra from Pittsburgh.

One of the highlights of the evening was the coronation ceremony for our new queen, Janice Day, from New Castle who was escorted by Ron Dalby from Carnegie.

Members of her majesty's court included: Nancy Hoover, Sophomore, escorted by Terry Shaughnessy; Anne Marie Chirillo, escorted by Ray Mohammed; Jayne Milbrant, escorted by Tom Swartz; and Linda Allhouse, escorted by Larry Schwabenbauer.

Last year's queen, Penny Umbreit, escorted by Dr. Russell L. V. Morgan, crowned Miss Day during the elaborate ceremony. Master of ceremonies for the event was Jon Kallmyer, Student Senate president.

The formal was sponsored by the Social Committee under the direction of its advisors, Mrs. Mary Williams and Mr. Alastair Crawford.

Count Those

Many Blessings

"Something stinks," said the Skunk. When asked what he was referring to, he said it was the attitude of the Students at Venango Campus.

The Skunk realizes that Venango Campus is not the Palace of Versailles or Rutgers, but it does have many good aspects. All of the students who are criticizing this campus are being far too harsh. Venango Campus has activities which are of interest to all types of students—the Sunday night movies, record hops, discussion group, semi-formal and formal dances, a budding Student Union, and a closeness unheard of in larger schools. One major gripe of the students who are here and don't like it are the lack of activities—this list should be sufficient to counteract these complaints. Also, transportation was provided to all of Clarion's home football games, to all of Venango Campus' basketball games both home and away, and many of our students have been able to attend some of the concerts and plays at Clarion.

The Skunk understands how the Students feel about the Student Union—true it has no snack bar, but it does have a juke box, ping pong, and provides a good place to go every night of the week. Up until this year there was no Student Union, but no one ever complained—so when we were able to get a Student Union started, we felt it was better than nothing.

I don't know if the students of Venango Campus understand what the Skunk is trying to say but I think if they were to question themselves as individuals and not as a flock of sheep, they would be happy here.

There are numerous colleges in the United States—these students who are such experts on college life should seek out another school for I'm sure they would have no problems getting in or would they?

I do not know if the Skunk will appear next year—it's doubtful—the truth hurts and too many people are afraid of the truth.

Dr. James Gemmell Accepts Senior Gift for College

DALE FRYE presents Senior Class gift to Dr. James Gemmell. Also shown are Walt Daum and Carole Kourkoulis.

The Senior class is raising money to purchase a class gift for the college. The money is being raised by two sources. (1) The Student Senate has allocated the Senior Class $150 to be used for this purpose and (2) Each of the seniors were contacted, by mail, asking for a contribution. The letter was sent to the Seniors' home address.

The contributions are coming in very well and the average amount to date is $3 per senior. Mr. Ernest Aharrah, Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association, is collecting the contributions. Any amount is acceptable.

The money is going to be placed into the Clarion State College Re-development Fund and then a gift will be bought, depending on the magnitude of the contributions.

This Gift Project is being sponsored by Mr. Vayda, Senior Class Sponsor, and the Senior Class officers, Dale Frye—president, Walt Daum—vice president, Carole Kourkoulis—secretary, and Andy Yanschak—treasurer.

Eagles Close Track Gap

Clarion 59—Geneva 80

Clarion State College travelled to Geneva College at Beaver Falls, Pa., April 30, and fought through mud and rain to obtain their closest margin of defeat since Coach Ruslavage reactivated track at Clarion this season.

The Golden Eagles earned seven first place, six second place, and six third place titles.

In the events, three men from each college compete and there are 16 events with only the first three ranked contestants contributing to the score.

Four Golden Eagles should be recognized as gaining impressive victories: Valasek captured the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash, being the only Clarion contestant with two wins; Floyd, captured the two mile run and placed second in the one mile run; Holly captured the triple jump event and placed second in the broad jump; and Wayne Cribbs emerged victorious with the javelin and placed second in the shot put.

Clarion College Players Take the Stage

The five plays scheduled for presentation by The College Players represents a wide variety and unique selection of materials for the summer theatre season. A series of three one-act plays were performed July 6-9. Edna St. Vincent Millay's Aria da Capo, Richard Greene's, Eliza and the Lexicon, and A. A. Milne's, The Man in the Bowler Hat were presented under the direction of Professor Alan Moore and Regina Wierzchowski. Ira Wallace's play, The Absence of a Cello, was performed July 13-16. The play involved a college professor who is deeply in debt. In an effort to find a higher paying job he turns to the business world and attempts to remold himself into what is commonly called the "organization man."

The cast included Anna Jo Montana, Stan Zogas, Jr., E. Jane Walker, Cathryn Jean Elliott, Naomi "Shultz" Schaltenbrand, John Neely, and Jack Conflenti. Under the Yum Yum Tree, a three-act play by Lawrence Roman, is scheduled for the week of July 20-23. The play is centered around a young college coed and the entanglements which arise when she tries to determine the strength of love by placing it in a domestic atmosphere. Those in the cast are Patti Grossi, Jack Conflenti, Dr. Roger Hufford, Jane Walker, William Sike, and Tony Treonze.

James Leo Herlihy and William Noble's play, Blue Denim, is scheduled for July 27-30. The play is based upon the conflict between teen-age morality and parental understanding. Bob Bickart, Bill Sacco, Naomi Schaltenbrand, Carl Glass, and Anna Jo Montana make-up the cast.

The final presentation is a musical review entitled, The Best of Broadway, and will be presented August 3-5. As yet a cast has not been chosen. For all those interested in the review, open tryouts will be held sometime during the week of July 18.

This year's summer theatre is under the direction of Professor Alan B. Moore; Dr. Adam F. Wise is the set designer. Along with the Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts, the plays are being presented in accordance with the six weeks Summer Drama Workshop class. Professor Moore stated that the object of the drama course is, "to give people experience in all aspects of the theatre. It is educational theatre. Although the goal is to produce a play, the play itself is simply the vehicle through which the fundamentals of theatre are taught." Each play is prepared for presentation within one week and there are open tryouts for all students, but most of the casts have come from within the summer workshop class. Usually practice for a play will begin about a week before its scheduled performance, while another play is being presented. The cast will start working on a play on Wednesday or Thursday night. On Saturday night, after the last performance of a play, the set is taken down, and on Sunday morning the new set is put up.

Tickets for the performances are available in the chapel lobby.

Women's Housing Poses Problems

Women's housing assignments for the coming fall semester have been almost completed, but not without some frustration.

Fritzie Gareis, Dean of Women, said today that all upperclasswomen resident students have been placed, but the placement of the 224 freshman women coming in has not yet been completed. She gave the following approximate numbers of the women who will be living in each dormitory: Becht Hall, 200; Given Hall, 253; Jefferson Hall, 250; McKean Hall, 143; and Ralston Hall, 208.

However neat this computation looks, it did not come about smoothly. During the course of shuffling girls, room numbers and dormitories, Dean Gareis received many letters and pleas from upperclasswomen of "Why can't you put me in Given or Ralston Hall?" The answer is a simple one. These two dormitories were filled almost immediately. There are several reasons for this.

First, as a rule, housing assignments are carried out on the basis of the preference of some women to keep their own rooms. This, in itself, kept a sizable number of rooms in Given and Ralston from the available list. Second, Given Hall, which had three women per room last semester, in the fall, will have only two women per room. Again this lessened the number of spaces. Those rooms remaining were assigned on the basis of seniority.

All available space in Given and Ralston was given to upperclasswomen. No new freshmen women will be living in either of the two residence halls.

Nevertheless, the fact remains that it was impossible to give some of the upperclasswomen their preference for a room in Given or Ralston. Dean Gareis regrets the disappointment of so many girls, but she hopes they will understand the circumstances.

books selected to provide pictures and texts on the same and similar interest areas. Such experiences, or their lack, all affect reading ability, Dr. Chamberlain points out. The same is true of swimming, fishing, boating and sports. Through natural conversational opportunities being generated, a high interest in further reading can often be generated. And some of the children in addition to having fresh experiences, are learning to live away from home. For many it is the first extended period away from home.

A search was even made to help two non-reading boys to find materials they were interested in. The directors of the reading program discovered that they liked model airplanes and drag racing. So a special purchase was made of magazines in these fields, which the boys have read with eager interest.

Practical Experiences With Money
Arithmetic in an informal way is also part of the camp. A situation has been created where each child has to use arithmetic. He is given a check book usable only at camp, and a $3 allowance each week. He is not allowed to use any cash, in fact, children are discouraged from bringing spending money to the camp. Instead, they are taught how to write checks against their allowance, and some of them after overdrawing their account one week have had to learn what it is to be pinched the next week. They receive actual bank statements, and have their stubs checked over by the camp counsellors, to be sure that they have kept proper balances.

One of the most important lessons, one taught in every camp activity from the classes in sculpture to camp clean-up periods, is that privilege entails responsibility.

Even before the actual opening of the camp at Canandota, officials of OEO and the Jefferson-Clarion County Community Action Agency expressed strong approval of the concept of the camp. In a sense this is an experimental camp. It is the first of its kind in Pennsylvania, Dr. McLain says.
